Council Dodges Election Date Issue Makes One-Time-Only Change for '85

by Sandra Barnes

Procedures for city elections were the subject of some controversy at the January 7 meeting of the Greenbelt city council. The council's appointed Board of Elections had met to consider the request by council members Toni Bram and Ed Putens and Mayor Gil Weidenfeld to change the date of the city election to what they viewed as a more favorable time of the year -October. This would enable them to campaign in cooler weather and avoid conflicts with summer vacations. However, council members Tom White and Mayor Protem Richard Pilski saw no need to tamper with the tra-ditional third Tuesday in September date. The proposed change to the third Tuesday in October, would have required a change in the city's charter as well.

While the Board of Elections met to discuss that issue, they also discussed other problems. Chief among these was the problem of counting votes in the council chambers after the polls close. This room h as traditionally served as both a regular voting place and as a gathering place for the public and press. The Board recommended the polling place be closed at 8 p.m. and that only nominated candidates or their designated alternates be present while votes are being counted. The press and the public should be barred, the Board stated.

Although members of the Board of Elections were not present at the council meeting to explain their recommendation, council debated the issue. They agreed that the polling place should not be used as campaign headquarters for candidates and the general public. White sug-gested that the Fire House, candidates traditionally where hold a joint victory celebration, be used as a headquarters to receive the final vote count and that the polling place be barred to the general public.

Most council members did not agree with the board on barring the press. A member of the press also expressed to council disagreement with the board.

Mayor Weidenfeld suggested that Center School be used for the election instead of the city council chambers and that the council chambers remain the headquarters. Final results from the three precincts could be phoned in and the votes tallied with the public and press not excluded. The Youth Center was also considered. The city manager was directed to look into alternate sites for the coming election. On the issue of the date for the city election, Jordan Choper sent a letter to council informing them that the 1985 elections would conflict with the Jewish holidays of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Since the city's charter states that elections should be held between the third Tuesday of September and the last day of September, the council unanimously agreed to prepare a resolution to have the election date changed for this year only to September 30, the last Monday of the month. Thus, the sticky issue of a permanent date change was avoided for this year, perhaps to resurface again within two years. The Board of Elections had seen no compelling reasons for changing the election date. The Board had, however, requested the opinions of the City Solicitor

City Honors Doornekamp

After 13 years as the City's P arks Superintendent, Dennis Doornekamp will retire at the end of this month. To honor Doornekamp, the city will hold a retirement ceremony in the council room of the Municipal Building at 3 p.m., Thursday, January 31. All citizens are invited.

During his service to the city, Doornekamp has received a number of awards from professional associations for his outstanding contributions in beautifying the city. Among these are the 1973 Professional Grounds Maintenance Association Honor Award presented by the Professional Grounds Maintenance Association and the magazine, Grounds Maintenance, for the "best maintained median or roadway in the United States" for the landscaping of Southway Road. The purpose of this award was to bring recognition to individual professional accomplishments and was designed to encourage and recognize wellkept landscapes throughout the country. In September, 1978 Doornekamp received the "Member of the Month" award of PGMA. In presenting this award, PGMA noted his previous Honor Award, as well as the many other achievements in landscaping and parks beautification which accomplished. 1964 Doornekamp became National Association of Gardeners Vice Chairman and President in 1965. He also served as trustee and Director of the N.A.G. until 1975.

Local civic organizations have also recognized Doornekamp's expertise and generosity of time in assisting the various subdivisions throughout the city with their landscaping needs. Residents of Greenbriar have expressed particular pleasure at the appearance of their roadsides and flower beds. on the supervisory powers of the Board on election day. The Board members apparently felt that they could request chief election judges to make changes in procedures as the Board deemed necessary.

The City Solicitor, Emmett Nanna, was emphatic in declaring that the Board does not supervise the elections. Nanna stated that the charter is very clear that the Board of Elections determines the precincts and appoints the judges, certifies the results of elections, and reviews city election procedures. The Board does not control what occurs at the polling place, which is solely under the jurisdiction of the chief judge. The Board can, however, recommend the removal of a judge who may be flagrantly violating an established

Council Takes Plunge, Approves Cablecasts

by Andrea Edie

After months of debate the Greenbelt City Council voted four-to-one at their January 7 meeting, on a motion to cablecast all city council meetings.

Mayor Pro-Tem Richard Pilski said, "It is important for all meetings to be telecast. We have nothing to fear that we're doing anything improperly."

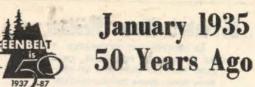

Council Member Toni Bram voted against cablecasting every meeting, believing that the public would not be interested in some of the "boring" meetings. She expressed the fear also that some members may use the cablecast for their own political advantage, while lengthening meetings and accomplishing less. Although limiting the cablecasting of meetings suggests censorship, Bram pointed out, "All our meetings are open to the public anyway."

Anxious to get on the air, Pilski suggested that cablecasting begin in February with or without all the proper equipment.

The city staff said they could acquire and test the equipment and hire camera operators by the first council meeting in March, provided nothing goes wrong. Council Member Thomas White did not want to set a defirite date to begin cablecasting meetings in case of a lack of equipment or inadequate staff.

Although equipment is available from Storer, staff suggested that the city purchase its own equipment to ensure availability and to foster familiarity. $5,000 was included in the fiscal year 19°4 85 budget.

Costs for the cablecasting equipment, which include one camera and accessories, are es-"mated at $4,000. There is also a need for better lighting and microphones to upgrade the quality of transmission.

In January 1935 the Roosevelt administration had been in office for almost two years and had made only modest progress in dealing with the nation's problems and in putting people back to work. But during 1935 many things which had been under discussion for years began to take shape and became reality. The year 1935 would prove to be a year of frenzied activity and considerable accomplishment.

Many in the administration, including President Roosevelt and his advisor Rexford Tugwell, felt it would be necessary to come up with programs to provide adequate housing for the American people. They were familiar with the idea of building new towns on the edge of major urban areas, as expressed by Ebenezer Howard and others in Europe and the U. S. But as of January, 1935 no definite plans had been formulated, no government agency was charged with this responsibility, and no funds were available to do the job.

On January 4, in his annual message to Congress, Franklin Roosevelt requested that the legislators pass his proposed Emergency Relief Appropriations Act, which would provide money for a number of programs to get the country moving again. After months of deliberation, Congress would authorize the money to fund these programs. From these funds a very small part of the total — would come the money to construct the town of Greenbelt and its sister communities.

Co-op Gasoline Station Changes Hands; GCC Assumes Operation

by Gail Drake

Greenbelt's newest cooperative effort is succeeding according to its operating managers. "All in all I'm satisfied with our first half year of operation," grocery store manager Bob Davis reported to the Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative Board of Directors at their January 18 meeting.

The same tone of success was echoed by Dave Meadows, manager of the newly acquired Southway service station, as he summarized the events of his first week of business for GCC. "I'm happy with the way things are going," he concluded. The Cooperative's board members are looking forward to final reports from their first audit later this month as hard evidence for the viability of Co-op services in Greenbelt.

GCC officially took over operation of the service station on January 9, with Meadows opening for business within one hour after the signing of the 10-year lease. GCC was awarded the lease after Challengers, original winners of the bidding for the service station contract, withdrew their offer.

GCC is particularly pleased that Dave Meadows will remain as manager. Board members were impressed with the low prices Meadows plans for gasoline and Dunlop tires. "I'm there to look out after the people of Greenbelt," Meadows responded. He said he has not completed staffing of the station because he is being very particular.

The present challenge for GCC is finding a way to build member patronage. IRS regulations require that 50% of a Coop's sales be made to members before the tax advantages for cooperatives can be realized. All GCC members are requested to be sure their membership numbers are recorded by the cashier when making purchases from the grocery store and service station. Purchases by members substantially reduce the income taxes GCC must pay.

The Annual Membership Meeting is planned for March 30.

Hoyer to Be in Greenbelt

Congressman Steny Hoyer, representative of the 5th District of Maryland, will be in Greenbelt on January 29 to conduct a Town Meeting. The meeting will be held in the council meeting room in the City Hall from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Tax Credit Information

For Homeowners/Renters

The Maryland Department of Assessments and Taxation wants to inform area residents that the new 1985 applications for the Homeowners' Tax Credit Program and the Renters' Tax Credit Program now can be obtained the local Assessment office, at public library, Area Office on Aging or by telephoning the public information telephone service of the Department at 1-800-492-3790 (toll-free). In addition to these locations, the Homeowners' Tax Credit application form is also found at the back of the 1984 Maryland income tax booklet.

The Homeowner's Tax Credit Program provides a property tax credit of up to $1,200 a year to homeowners of all ages who qualify on the basis of their income. The Renter's Tax Credit Program is available only to persons age 60 and over or those 100% disabled as of December 31, 1984. This program provides a tax credit or direct payment of up to $450 a year based upon a comparison of the applicant's income and the amount of "assumed" property taxes in the person's monthly rent.

"One of the Highlights"

To the Editor:

This is my reply to the recent attack on the landscape project at the entrance to Buddy Attick Park While I do not agree with Lowell Owens, the publicity it received was terrific. Everyonego see it. It is beautiful. I was ecstatic when I first saw what was being accomplished and would drive out of my way to watch the progress. To me and for me it will become even more beautiful in the years to come.

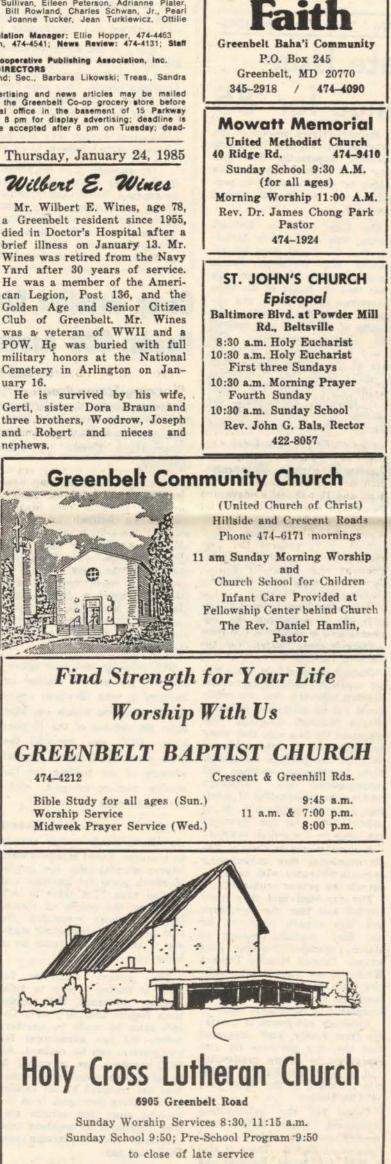

This was an extensive project and I know Mr. Doornekamp gave much time, thought and planning to this project prior to presenting it to Mr. Giese for approval. I believe he has done a tremendous job as it really does enhance the entrance to the park. When you plan a project of this magnitude, you must have the foresight to visualize what it will look like when the trees and bushes are full grown. We cannot have instant growth as Mother Nature does not work that way. In a few years the boulders will blend into the background as the plants mature and surround the boulders. Then, the boulders will show up as accents. In fact, the design could serve as a model for future projects, large and small.

I congratulate you, Mr. Doornekamp. You will retire from Greenbelt in a "Blaze of Glory." I thank the members of Council, and Mr. Giese for approving this project. It is one of the highlights for the City of Greenbelt, and not one boulder should be moved, and not one bush touched!! Helen C. Shropshire

Heartiest double congratulations to Joyce Ann Keith and Thomas O'Donnell Foerter, Ridge Rd., who were married on November 29, 1984, at 11:42 a.m. at the courthouse in Upper Marlboro. Their baby girl, Kristel Kellie Keith Foerter, was born on the same day at 1:30 p.m. at the University of Maryland Hospital in Baltimore. She weighed in at 4 lbs., 12 oz.

Happy birthday to Harry G. (Hank) Irving, Greenbelt Recreation Department Director, on reaching "the big 40" on January 4.

December 7 was a special day for Lakeside residents Eileen and Pete Labukas. Their granddaughter, Kristin Merricks, was born to James and Lynn Labukas Merricks of Lehigh Acres, Fla. She joins brother Bobby who is almost two. Jim's mother is Jean Merricks, former Greenbelter now living in Florida. Jim teaches junior high school classes, and Lynn is a nuclear medicine technician.

It's a boy for Leslie and Michael McLaughlin of Windsor Green. Matthew Thomas was born on January 16 and tipped the scales at 9 lbs. 15 oz. Matthew's dad is administrative assistant to City Manager James K. Giese.

A correction: recently we congratulated Ray and Shirley Hibbs on the birth of their first grandson. For the record, their first grandson is Christopher, son of Navy Lt, and Mrs. Steve Hibbs, who will celebrate his first birthday on January 19.

Congratulations to Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, who was elected Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments.

County Leaders to Speak On Future of P.G. Schools

Prince Georges County Executive Parris Glendening, Superintendent of Schools John A. Murphy, and School Board Chair Angelo Castelli will be featured speakers at a program on "The Future of Prince Georges County's Public Schools" next Tuesday, January 29, at 8 p.m. at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. The program is sponsored by the school's Parent-Teacher-Student Association.

The three will discuss both long- and short-term prospects for the system, which in recent years has experienced significant enrollment declines, severe budget strictures, a changing student population, and numerous school closings.

David Merkowitz, Roosevelt's PTSA president, stated that "the program provides an excellent opportunity for our county's top officials to outline the direction in which the school system is headed, especially with the fiscal 1986 budget under consideration." That budget will be the first since county voters modified the TRIM amendment, which had frozen property tax revenues and resulted in major cuts in education and other public services.

Merkowitz also noted that several recent decisions — particularly those by the County Council to approve large new developments in the northern and southern portions of the county and by the federal government to locate a major computer facility in Bowie — will influence demographic patterns in Prince Georges and result in additional demands and stresses on the school system.

"In light of the problems our schools have encountered recently, these developments present both a danger and an opportunity," Merkowitz said. "Meeting these challenges will require new sources of funding and more innovative programs."

Eleanor Roosevelt is one of two county high schools with selective science and technology programs operating alongside the normal comprehensive curriculum. The school has achieved nationwide recognition, and last year its students registered the highest scores on the College Entrance Examination Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test of any public high school in the Washington, D.C. area.

Tuesday's program will be held in the school auditorium. It is free and open to the public. COUNCIL, Cont fr. page 1 procedure. The board "is not a rulemaking body," Nanna declared.

In view of the recommendations of the Board and the Board's apparent confusion over its powers, council agreed to hold a work session with the Board of Elections to develop a more coherent position.

Vandalism at the Center

Council heard two complaints about persistent and annoying acts of vandalism at the Roose-Center. Konrad Herling, velt president of the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center, said that on several occasions over the years, the cast and crew members appearing in productions at the Utopia Theater have been harassed. In November, a rock was thrown through the window, narrowly missing an actress' head. The door to the Utopia Theater was vandalized recently.

A letter was read from Dr. Leo Walder of Behavior Services Consultants, Inc., who reiterated the complaints of harassment, loud noises and breaking and enterings by individuals who loiter in the Center Mall area.

City Manager James Giese stated that loitering by juveniles and young adults in shopping center areas is a common problem, which larger shopping centers control somewhat by security guards. This is not economically feasible in the Roosevelt Mall, however, Giese said.

Greenbelt Police Chief Francis T. Hutson, who was present, stated that the police could not do anything unless charges were preferred a gainst individuals. Herling asked that police protection be increased between 10:30 p.m. and 11 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays when performances let out. The chief made no commitment, and Giese added, "Staff . . endorse the percannot manent placement of a police officer at the Roosevelt Center, as the demands upon the police department for other types of law enforcement are too great."

It was suggested that the merchants or a volunteer group from a neighborhood watch for the Center. Council asked that the matter be referred to the city's Crime Prevention Committee for recommendations.

50th Anniversary

The budget request of $2,000 by the 50th Anniversary Comwas unanimously apmittee proved. Council also requested that the committee look into placing commemorative plaques on the Center Mall statue and at the bas reliefs on the Center School containing the name of the sculptress, Leonore Thomas. The Woman's Club of Greenbelt requested the city to refurbish the statue and make necessary repairs as part of the 50th anniversary celebration.

Greenbelt Lake

Ice Skating Policy

The Greenbelt Lake is open for ice skating when weather conditions are favorable. In order to provide a wholesome, safe activity, the city has developed certain guidelines that should be followed. During cold weather, persons interested in learning the conditions of the ice at the lake should call the Greenbelt Police Department, 474-7200. It is impossible to test ice thickness continually over all areas of the lake, so skating will always be at the risk of the participant. Recommended areas of skating are near the shore lines and in the bay around the peninsula. A green flag will be displayed on the bandstand flagpole to indicate Skating at Your Own Risk. The lake area around the and spillway should be dam avoided, as open water is usually found in these areas. Parents should accompany young children. Skaters should also avoid gathering in groups on the ice.

The city's guide to ice conditions is as follows:

Young or black ice-21/2 inches uniform; safe if cautious and no congregating. Four inches will support the weight of skaters. Skate at Your Own Risk.

Layered or white ice-One foot of this kind will support the weight of skaters. Skate at Your Own Risk.

Old or rotten ice-Thickness is under the above conditions. Absolutely No Skating.

A green flag will be displayed on the bandstand flagpole to indicate Skating at Your Own Risk.

The Recreation Department will attempt to provide assistance. at the lake during week days from 4 p.m. until dark and on holidays, Saturdays and Sundays from 9 a.m. to dark. No skating will be allowed on the lake after dark. No fires will be allowed at the lake except those provided by the city due to the scarcity of firewood and danger from brush fires.

All skaters and parents should keep in mind the dangers involved in ice sports. A person who falls through the ice is in danger of drowning and freezing if he or she is not cared for immediately. Alertness to emergency and readiness to help other participants is stressed in such situations. A public telephone is located at the entrance to the Lake Park. For assistance, call 474-7200 for police; 911 for ambulance.

Utopia's Romantic Comedy

The footlights at the Utopia Theater go up again this weekend, as "Romantic Comedy" resumes its run Friday and Saturday nights at 8:15 p.m.

Under the direction of Lori Hopson Paul, the weekend opens with a special feature: Friday night, an interpreter will sit at the front right to aid hearingimpaired patrons attending the show. Lori Paul taught for four years at the Maryland School for the Deaf, and she introduced interpreting of the Greenbelt Players presentations during the last play season. As the director of "Comedy." she will bring a special talent to her interpreting this Friday. While those without any hearing impairment can watch and listen to the characters on stage and ignore the interpreter sitting off to the side of the auditorium, many people have commented that they enjoyed being able to glance over at the interpreter to see how the spoken words are translated into hand signs, tion, Lakeside Citizens Association and the Greenbelt Nursery School have added their names to the list of community groups that will have tables at the February 9 "mid-winter, spirit-raising sale" in the Youth Center.

Ann Pisano, organizer of the event, urges any organization that wants to have a table space to call her at 474-7841. So far, 13 groups have reserved places. The sale will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Used and new items of all types as well as various kinds of baked goods will be on sale. Residents are encouraged to circle that date on their calendar, says Pisano.

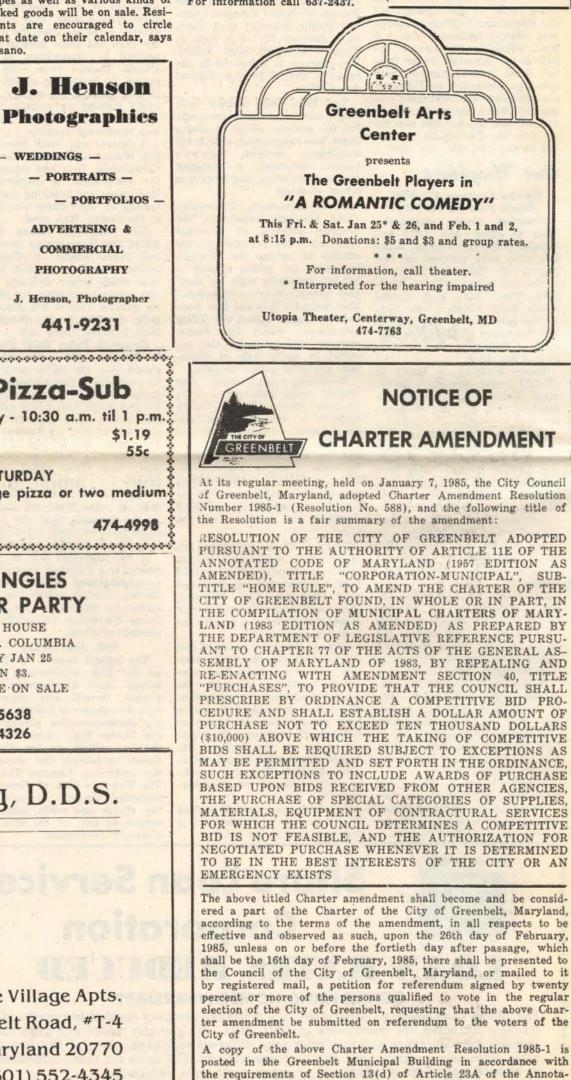

Metrobus Routes Change

Many of the bus routes that operate near Red Line Metrorail stations will change starting Sunday, January 27. The only bus serving Greenbelt that will change is the C-2. The C-2 route now runs from Beltway Plaza to Montgomery Mall and will change to run from Beltway Plaza to Twinbrook Metro station.

A new 89 bus will begin on January 28. It will run between Rhode Island Avenue metro station and Laurel.

New timetables are available. For information call 637-2437.

Police Blotter

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

On January 6, Greenbelt officers were involved in three highspeed chases. At about 2:30 a.m. in the Mandan Road area, officers chased suspects until the suspects' car was involved in an accident. The chase then continued on foot. The suspects were arrested and the car was found to have been stolen. About 4:30 a.m. one suspect was arrested after another chase in the area of Goddard Space Village. At about 5:40 a.m. a stolen auto was chased to the 7000 block of Mandan Road, where the suspects abandoned the auto. Two suspects were arrested at the scene; another was later found by Prince Georges' K9 dogs.
