Two Greenbelt Candidates, Castaldi And Plogman, Draw Voter Interest

by Mavis Fletcher and Elaine Skolnik

In the upcoming general election on Tuesday, November 4, Greenbelt voters will help to elect a U.S. Senator, a congressman, a county council member and a long list of other state and county officials. In Prince Georges County Democrats outnumber Republicans more than three to one. The ratio in Greenbelt is slightly less than that. The city's non-affiliated voter population comprises 14% of the voters who registered for the election (see box).

Local interest centers on native son Richard J. Castaldi in his bid for reelection to the Prince Georges County Council. Unlike the hot primary race in 1982, Castaldi was unopposed in this year's September primary election. Political pundits predict an easy victory for him over his Republican challenger, James E. Graves. It also looks like clear sailing for William Donald Schaeffer over Republican Thomas J. Mooney for the governorship.

In a hot face-off for the United State's Senate seat left vacant by the retiring Charles McM. Mathias, are Democratic candidate Barbara A. Mikulski, a member of the House of Representatives from Baltimore, and Republican Linda Chavez, a former high-ranking White House aide. Mikulski is leading in the polls but out in the hustings for Chavez is President Ronald Reagan.

An interesting contest on the county level is between Democrat Alex Williams, who defeated long-time State's Attorney Arthur Marshall in the Democratic primary, and David M. Simpson, a senior attorney on the Criminal Trial Division of the State's Attorney office. Williams has the support of the many elements of the Democratic party; on the other hand, Marshall has endorsed the Republican candidate.

The Republican party, however badly outnumbered, has managed to field credible candidates for most state and county offices in this election. R. Dan Ritchie, probably the best known of the Republican candidates, opposes Democratic incumbent Parris N. Glendening for county executive. Incumbent Fifth District Congressman Steny H. Hoyer is being challenged by Republican John E. Sellner, and Democratic incumbent Leo E. Green is facing Republican Michael B. Twigg in the contest for the state senate seat.

Mark D. Knestout, the lone Republican candidate for the Maryland House of Delegates from the 23rd District, is competing for one of the three seats now held by Democrats Mary A. Conroy, Joan B. Pitkin, and Charles J. Ryan.

In other contested races, Democratic incumbent Norman L. Pritchett and Republican Antoinette M. Jarboe are competing for the post of Clerk of the Circuit Court. For Register of Wills, Democratic incumbent Callie M.

Heffron is facing a challenge from Republican James E. House. The race for sheriff is between Democratic incumbent James V. Aluisi and Republican challenger, Clifford C. Blend.

One Republican candidate, George L. Trees, is running in the race for the three places as Judge of the Orphans Court; the three Democratic incumbents seeking reelection are Albert W. Northrop, David M. Valderrama and Lucy B. Warr.

Democrat Louis L. Goldstein is unopposed for the post of state comptroller, the office he now holds. Democrat J. Joseph Curran, Jr. is also unopposed for the office of Maryland Attorney General.

In the non-partisan elections, four candidates are seeking election to the four judgeships of the Circuit Court: they are Joseph S. Casula, William H. McCullough, Darlene G. Perry, and James H. Taylor. Robert L. Karwacki, Judge of the Court of Special Appeals, is seeking confirmation for a continuance in office.

Registration Figures

13 Questions

by Mavis Fletcher and Elaine Skolnik

In next Tuesday's election, Greenbelt voters will help decide 13 "questions" which deal with state and county matters. Four of the questions are proposed amendments to the Maryland constitution; three are proposed county charter amendments and the last six are bond authorization proposals.

The four proposed state constitutional amendments are:

Question 1—To clear up an ambiguity in Maryland law about which party gets to appoint a replacement to the state legislature when the incumbent who is vacating the seat has switched parties since being elected. A vote "For" the amendment would allow the party to which the departing member belonged when last elected to appoint the replacement.

Question 2—To change the charter of Harford County to provide for the election of county council members in Harford County by voters of the entire county. A "For" vote would favor the change.

Question 3—To repeal the state constitutional requirement that county commissioners and county councilmen be elected at large. (Prince Georges county and four other jurisdictions are already exempt from this provision.) A "For" vote would favor allowing the election of these county officials by district, at large, or by a combination of the two methods. The exact method would be prescribed by each county charter. Greenbelters Saddened and Shocked By Death of Stephen Polaschik

Stephen Polaschik, 63, of 65 Ridge Road, a Greenbelt activist, died suddenly of a heart attack on Tuesday, October 21.

Born in Freeland, Pennsylvania, Steve had been a resident of the Washington area since November, 1941 when he came to work with the Lend-Lease Administration. He was a graduate of MMI Preparatory School of Freeland, the McCann School of Business in Hazleton, Pennsylvania and earned a Bachelor's Degree and a Master's Degree in Business Administration from George Washington University.

Except for three years of military service with the Infantry and the Air Force, Polaschik had worked for a number of federal agencies including State Department, Commerce, U.S. Public Health Service, Civil Service Commission, Environmental Protection Agency, and the Health Care Financing Administration in budget and administrative management positions. After retiring from federal service in 1979, he reentered the work force in 1980 as business manager in Central Administration at the University of Maryland.

Steve had lived in Greenbelt since 1948. Activities with Greenbelt organizations included membership on various city and community committees, including Chairman of Greenbelt's Bicentennial Committee in 1976. He was a charter member of the Citizens for Greenbelt and served as secretary of that group for several years. Steve was also instrumental in setting up Greenbelt Day which is celebrated on the first Sunday in June.

He was also active with District 36 Toastmasters International activities and a life member of Alpha Kappa Psi, National Professional Business Fraternity. Steve was a member of Greenbelt Post No. 136 of the American Legion and the staff of the Greenbelt News Review.

Survivors include his wife of 42 years, Betty Martonis (Polly) Polaschik, daughters, Betty Ann Smith of Olney, Rita J.P. Williams of Olney and three grandchildren, Milisa and Kristopher Smith and Kevin P.G. Williams; brothers Andrew J., Williamsburg, Virginia; and John, Alexandria; sister Margaret Dulina, Middle River, Maryland; 3 nephews and 2 nieces.

Funeral services were held at St. Bernard's Catholic Church in Riverdale followed by interment at the Greenbelt Cemetery with full military honors.

City Council to Decide on Purchase Of House for Museum Wednesday

by Mary Lou Williamson

The City Council is expected to decide next week whether or not to purchase a home for the Greenbelt Museum. Council has called a special meeting for November 5 to consider two items: the "purchase of 10-B Crescent Road for a city museum" and an agreement between the city and Friends of the Greenbelt Museum (FOGM) concerning the division of responsibilities for the purchase and operation of the museum. Council chose not to wait until the next regular council meeting to make these decisions, in order to accommodate the seller. No other items of city business are on the agenda.

The owner of the 10-B Crescent Road home, Sue Cornelius, is asking slightly below the appraised price, for there will be no sales commission and no points paid to obtain financing. According to a memorandum by the City Manager James K. Giese, if the council approves the purchase, it would be made with "funds on hand not required for current expenditure needs." The purchase cost is estimated at $55,000 including the settlement costs and repayment of the rehabilitation loan. The total amount would be spread over the next five years.

Additional costs include, for the city, payment of a portion of the monthly charges to cover maintenance of the building and common grounds, currently $706 a year. The city will cut the grass and make some interior improvements to "protect and improve the value of the property." The budgeted amount for the current year ($4,900) would cover painting, repair of mildewed ceilings, removal of tiles and restoration of floors, adding smoke detectors and a security alarm system, and payment for insurance on the contents of the house.

The total expenditure (purchase and maintenance of the property) is budgeted at $20,400 for the current fiscal year or 0.3% of the total budget, says Giese.

Preliminary budgets for the next four years vary according to maintenance projects to be undertaken. Fiscal year 1990 shows a total expenditure of $15,555.

FOGM's own budget over the next four years ranges from $5,800 for this year to $7,373 for fiscal year 1989. Budget items for the first year are utilities—$5520, telephone (including $70 installation) — $200, answering machine—$200, dehumidifiers — $300, psychometer—$30, books and reference materials $200, printing and postage for fund-raising—$2,000, office equipment

Charles J. Beirn, S.J.

"The Church and Politics in Salvador and Nicaragua"

November 18 7:30 p.m.

All are invited.

An Audacious Request

Perhaps the objective of my outspoken comments on North End School are still not clear to many people in Greenbelt. If that is the case, please let me summarize in one sentence and offer a small explanation.

The City of Greenbelt simply cannot afford to rehabilitate and operate the North End School.

Most, if not all, of the proposed uses must be paid for by tax money from one government agency or another, and many of the users are unwilling or unable to provide the day-to-day care for the building. Even though the city has levied a tax in order to fund the building, after two and a half to three years there is just enough money set aside to match the high estimate of a year's operating cost.

To make these costs more easily understood, let us look at the figures in terms of monthly payments such as every family must meet instead of the yearly projected costs used currently. The low estimate for operating cost for one year is $150,000.00. In terms of monthly payments, that is $12,500.00 per month! The high estimate is $250,000 per year or $20,833.33 per month! Citizens of Greenbelt, that would be due every month for as many years as the building was operated on tax money (yours).

Addressing the Citizens of Greenbelt, I do not limit my message only to those living in the original planned community (GHI), but to those living from Springhill Lake to Glen Oaks and from Greenbriar to Boxwood, many of whom haven't ever seen the North End School, let alone want to pay for it. Let our City Council Members recognize that fact before they commit any further tax money to the plans of small, special-interest groups.

Since the school building was transferred to the city with the provision that it must be used for a public and non profit function and since due to its planned nature, Greenbelt is already endowed with school and recreational facilities, there are only two viable choices. (1) Give the school back to the county who can then offer it to a paying operator hopefully as a school or (2) demolish the structure so that it doesn't incur further costs to the City. The demolition estimate fits almost exactly the amount collected in tax money already earmarked for North End School.

I believe it is nothing short of audacious that certain groups want our citizens to pay over one and a quarter million in rehabilitation costs plus from $12,500. to $20,833 per month for the benefit of only a small segment of the city's population. Knowing the magnitude of the tax burden imposed by this project, I am sure that Greenbelt's citizens would vote a resounding "No" to continuing such a drain on the City's treasury. Let us stop living in dream time and do with the building what we must.

Dog Piles

I have lived here in Greenbelt all my life. As a small girl I'll always remember the days spent at the playground near our house and picnics with our dolls under the trees.

Now I have a little girl of my own and we enjoy the playgrounds, the shade of the trees, and many walks through Greenbelt. Now those playgrounds, trees, and sidewalks all have numerous piles of dog feces in their midst. Here my child is, five years old, and it is a regular habit that she watch her step for dog piles.

We frequently follow the sidewalk that runs next to Ridge Road up to Plateau Place, where we reside. Apparently so do many dog owners. Although the problem is very evident at our end of town, I'm sure it exists in other parts of the City.

There is an ordinance in Greenbelt which states, "Any person having custody or control of an animal which leaves excrement . . . shall cause the excrement to be removed immediately." We want you people to start removing! We're tired of it on our shoes. It is disgusting, unhealthy and purely ignorant on the part of you dog owners.

Join, Save at Co-op!

"Your Co-op is in good hands." This could well summarize the October 25 membership meeting. It was refreshing to hear reports of profits, satisfied employees and a cautiously optimistic future from the managers of both the Supermarket and Service Station (after these important local businesses had been seriously threatened with closure just a few years ago).

You, the people of Greenbelt, can help to continue this encouraging trend by

- 1) Buy at the Supermarket and service Station, and
- 2) Become a Co-op member. $10 entitles you to an annual patronage refund (3.58 percent of your purchases). If you buy just $300 worth of groceries or service station products or maintenance, you can get back your $10 (plus a profit!) that first year. And there's no expiration date. Both managers encouraged more people to become members and thereby "keep your money in the community." This is obviously helpful to us all.

Thanks to all who planned and conducted this interesting session. The hot coffee, fresh orange juice and frosted donuts also added to the enjoyment of all present and were appreciated.

A Trip to the Center . . .

I've been a resident of Greenbelt for nine years (and proud of it) but for some time now a trip to the Center has become a trip I dread, especially in the late afternoon and night. I don't know what goes on up there after High's closes, but the teenagers and others that hang out there during these hours . . . The filthy language, loud talk, and yes even drinking here is enough to disgust anyone, especially one who has known the pleasure of the Center in its better days. What happened to the 10 o'clock curfew for the teenagers? Why not also get police on foot patrol to get those undesirables out of our nice Roosevelt Center and make it once more a place one can feel safe to stop by at High's late. If I had a young daughter I could not allow her to work in a store in the Center where she would be exposed to the drinking and filthy talk that goes on in and near the store.

I understand our ex-Chief of Police did not believe in foot patrol but now that he is going to Florida, maybe the new Chief of Police can see his way clear to cleaning out the Center of its many undesirables. Let's hope so!

Three cheers for Realty One office in the old barber shop building. What a great improvement you have made in our Center. Now let's hope someone will do something about the deplorable looking condition of the variety store, theater, and beauty shop. Let's make our Center something to be proud of again. Thanks again Realty One — here's one resident who really appreciates you.

Improving Country Roads?

Question G, the road bond issue on next week's ballot is promoted as a road improvement measure. Unfortunately, a large part of this very expensive plan (over $80 million) would be used to facilitate development projects which would actually aggravate traffic problems that are already causing headaches in Greenbelt.

Although supporters claim the purpose of the issue is to alleviate existing problems, many of the roads near Greenbelt which are to be "improved" are quiet country lanes with almost no traffic. Virginia Manor Road is a nearby road which is to be widened into a multi-lane highway. Why is this peaceful neighborhood to be disrupted? The only explanation is to ease plans for the massive Konterra project, which will multiply the traffic through the entire area. It is not in the interest of Greenbelters to vote for the privilege of paying for projects which will benefit only the developers, while causing harm to the quality of our lives. Question G should be rejected.

Jeffrey Jones

The Time Is Right

When the idea of a museum for Greenbelt was expressed, we expected the usual Greenbelt-type debate — lively and useful. We thought that people might disagree on what the collection should be, how the museum should be organized, where it should be located or who would operate it. We did not anticipate a debate on whether or not there should be a museum. It seems like a natural outgrowth of the 50th anniversary celebration of the city and its people and such a wonderful resource, not only for all of us today but for future citizens of Greenbelt. We thought everyone would support the museum.

We believe the majority of the residents do. The cost for a Greenbelt museum would be minimal, an active committee which has donated many hours of work is in place, and the time is right to move ahead with the museum. Greenbelt is growing and changing and it's important that a museum be established now to record the past and to be ready to incorporate the future.

Sandy and Ray Simth

Support for Museum

We would like to support the proposal for a museum using a GHI home.

GHI has a long and interesting history and this history is of interest to many people both inside and outside of Greenbelt.

These homes are unique and using one to house the original furniture is a very suitable way to welcome visitors.

We hope city council goes forward with these plans.

Work at I-95 and I-295 May Interrupt Traffic

Motorists are advised to expect interruptions to traffic on I-95 at its interchange with I-295 beginning Wednesday, October 29, because of construction. The work involves setting steel on new I-295 bridges and will take place only during late evening hours, Monday through Saturday, over the next few weeks.

Different Priorities

It is sad that it is necessary to point out that citizens who have the right to vote are adults, perfectly capable of setting their own priorities.

However, listening to members of FOGM and reading their letters to the editor one cannot escape the impression that from their point of view only they are adults. Those of us who have different value systems seem to be judged as incapable and in dire need of their guidance.

The patronizing and the condescension of their tone comes across as a lack of respect for those of their fellow citizens who have different sets of priorities.

The reality is that large groups of adults have arrived at opposing views regarding the desirability of city involvement with a museum. This being the case, one group should not try to force others to participate in their goals. FOGM should "do their own thing" and leave the rest of us adults alone.

FOGM'S FUNDRAISING PLAN

In addition to the day-to-day operation of the Greenbelt Museum, the non-profit organization Friends of the Greenbelt Museum (FOGM) plans to conduct major fundraising drives and activities to sustain the museum. FOGM presented its fundraising plans to the City Council as part of its plan to operate the museum. According to FOGM, major expenses of the first year are projected to be payment of all utilities including telephone, purchase of dehumidifiers necessary to preserve delicate artifacts, repairs to the furniture, purchase of office equipment and supplies. The greatest expense anticipated in the first year is the $2,000 cost of printing and postage to cover fundraising mailings.

Although FOGM members expressed their hopes of eventually having a part-time curator, FOGM expects to operate the Museum with volunteers for the first three to five years.

During its first year, 1985-86, FOGM raised the majority of its funds — over $7,000 — through a mail campaign to residents in the core city of Greenbelt and through ads in the News Review. FOGM has 212 paid members. Close to 40 percent of the members are individuals, contributing $15. Nearly one fourth of the members, 23 percent, are patrons contributing between $51 and $100. Families, sponsors, and institutions comprise the remaining 37 percent, contributing $25 to $500.

Fundraising for 1986-87 will focus on membership renewals, an expanded mailing to all residents of the city, mailings to interest-related professionals such as architects and planners, and solicitation of businesses and corporations.

FOGM also plans to conduct special fundraising events. Although the FOGM board has not yet decided on the events for the coming year, suggestions have included a Mother's Day brunch, Monte Carlo nights, and an art auction, among others. The group's goal is to steadily increase its membership from the current 212, to raise $22,500 over the next two years and eventually to establish an endowment fund to ensure the continued financial stability of the museum. FOGM members stated that grant funds will become more readily available from foundations and arts/humanities organizations in about five years, once the museum has demonstrated its viability. Committee members are currently compiling a list of potential grant funding agencies.

Epilepsy Support Group Meets in Greenbelt Area

On the first and third Monday of November an epilepsy support group will be held in the Greenbelt area. Subjects will include medical, physical, emotional, and employment problems epileptics face every day. Other problems also include prejudice and public ignorance about epilepsy. Information and/or rides may be obtained by calling 474-5156. Privacy will be respected at all times.

Museum Proposal Discussed In City Council Worksession

by Laurie Peck

On Tuesday, Oct. 14, a work session was held to discuss various details of the proposed Greenbelt Museum. Members of the Friends of the Greenbelt Museum (FOGM) and the Museum Subcommittee of the 50th Anniversary Committee, the city council and the general public were in attendance.

The current plan for the Museum is for the city to purchase the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) house at 10-B Crescent Road, FOGM would raise the funds toward the daily expenses of the museum. The city would own the building's content, FOGM would maintain the furnishings and set up exhibits.

Council member Antoinette Bram pointed out that the GHI monthly fee covers structural maintenance of the house as well as fire insurance. The city would insure the contents.

Bram said the purchase of the house is a good investment. If the museum proves to be unsuccessful or FOGM cannot support the museum, the city could sell the property.

Eunice Coxon, who opposes purchase of a GHI house for a museum said there are loose ends in the purchase plan and that she does not think the city should enter into this purchase right now.

Elizabeth Maffay said that 200 citizens signed an ad (later printed in this newspaper) opposing the purchase of 10-B Crescent for a museum.

According to FOGM board member Janie Mutchler, museums usually need to be in existence for three to five years before they can receive financial assistance from foundations. Museums must establish a successful track record before grants become available.

Council member Joseph Isaacs questioned the hours of the museum. Mary Linstrom, museum committee co-chairperson, said that in the first year of operation the museum would be open one day a week and also by appointment.

FOGM hopes to hire a curator through establishment of an endowment fund. However, funds for this position will not be available for several years.

Sandra Barnes, chairperson of the 50th Anniversary Committee and president of the FOGM board, said there are many people who have committed themselves to helping the museum. FOGM has 11 board members and 212 paid memberships. She said many people are interested and there isn't even a museum yet.

Museum Committee co-chairperson Linstrom said the building will be restored to look as much like the original 1937 house as possible. She commented that airconditioners or electric heaters can be successfully hidden. FOGM does not want to make the building less marketable in any way.

Much of the furniture for the museum has been donated. The city will install a security system to protect the valuables in the house.

There was a city council work session on Oct. 22 to continue discussion about the museum and decide on the strategy for potential purchase of the house. Participants included the city council, Robert Manzi, the city solicitor, Barnes and Linda Warner, co-chair of the museum committee.

At this meeting, the city council decided to hold a special meeting on Nov. 5 to discuss the purchase of the house. The owner of 10-B Crescent, Sue Cornelius, wants a decision by the city as soon as possible because she has a contract to buy another house.

Manzi was instructed to draw up a contract for the purchase of the house and for the lease agreement between the FOGM and the city.

CHRONOLOGY

The city was offered the one and a half bedroom, cinderblock, Greenbelt Homes, Inc. unit at 10-B Crescent Road last March in response to a general appeal by the Museum Committee currently chaired by Mary Linstrom. Her committee's recommendation to purchase the unit, largely based on its central location, set in motion a series of decisions by Greenbelt Homes and the city culminating in this Wednesday's meeting of the council. A decision by the council to purchase the unit for a museum would be the first concrete step in providing for a Greenbelt Museum, which FOGM would then open during 1987, the city's fiftieth anniversary year.

At the annual meeting in May, members of GHI approved the use of one or two of their residential units for a museum.

In July, the city council held a public hearing. More than 50 Greenbelters turned out to speak to council about the museum. They were pretty evenly divided, for and against. Those against the project primarily foresaw problems with sustaining adequate fundraising. The committee responded that the first year's membership and fund drive, which netted 200 members and $7,500, was a good beginning. Use of an original home, the committee said, is preferable to in the museum.

—Restore the unit to its original condition to the extent feasible, maintaining the architectural integrity of the building. All changes are to be approved first by the city.

—Perform housekeeping functions.

—Submit a yearly budget to the city a location in the North End School, as others had proposed, because "only a GHI home would provide an authentic setting."

The Museum Committee responded to the specific questions raised by council and others at the public hearing in a report to council dated September 10. The committee proposed a division of responsibilities between the city and FOGM with the city's responsibilities designed to assure maintaining the value of the unit. FOGM would provide for all operations, staffing the museum, and fund raising.

At a September 15 city council meeting, FOGM requested that council enter into preliminary negotiations with the owner, Sue Cornelius, Council agreed and scheduled a work session on October 14 to discuss FOGM's 17-page report. (See separate story.) When much of the evening turned into a second public hearing by citizens opposed to the museum, a second work session was held the following week to complete the discussions.

Cornelius, who now has signed a contract on a house she would like to purchase, needs an immediate answer from the city on her offer.

FOGM Friends of the Greenbelt Museum

urges the Greenbelt City Council to Approve the Purchase of 10-B Crescent Road to Establish the Greenbelt Museum at a Special Meeting, Wednesday, November 5, 8 p.m. in the City Council Chambers. Museum supporters are urged to attend.

Facts you should know:

- Who will visit the Museum? GREENBELTERS AND THE REST OF THE WORLD. School children throughout the metro area, residents eager to learn about their past, former residents recapturing their roots, city planners from around the world, history buffs interested in the New Deal era, architects interested in Greenbelt as a model for new planned communities, writers interested in how the planned community has fared over the years, artists interested in fine examples of Art Deco.
- What events are planned for the Museum? CHANGING DISPLAYS WILL FOCUS ON DIFFERENT ASPECTS OF COMMUNITY LIFE. These include the arts, clubs and organizations, municipal government, the influence of the federal government, politics, recreation; the New Deal era itself including books, clothing, home furnishings; current events of the time. The list is endless.
- Why does Greenbelt need a Museum? GREENBELT IS SPECIAL AND THE QUALITY OF LIFE HERE IS UNIQUE. The people, the cooperative institutions, the city government, city planning features, schools, and organizations are all not found elsewhere.
- Who will staff the Museum? VOLUNTEERS. Greenbelters have proven their dedication to community organizations. Volunteers have staffed the Greenbelt News Review for nearly 50 years and the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival Committee for nearly 30 years.
- Why should city tax dollars purchase the house? THIS WILL BE A CITY MUSEUM. Greenbelt has a history of providing its citizens with special services, including tennis courts and a swimming pool in 1939 when such facilities were considered luxuries in those post-Depression days. The museum has the potential for attracting future residents who will appreciate amenities in Greenbelt not found in other communities. The building will be an asset to the city, appreciating in value. It will be an asset to current and future generations of Greenbelters.
- What will it cost the taxpayer? THIS YEAR, IT WILL BE THREE TENTHS OF ONE PERCENT. (0.3%) of the total city budget of $6,605,400. This means, each year for the next five years, $1.53 for Boxwood, $1.12 for Lakewood, $1.34 for Windsor Green, 56c for GHI 2-bedroom frame and 94c for GHI 3-bedroom brick.
- Who will pay the costs of running the Museum? FOGM WILL PAY THE DAY-TO-DAY COSTS including cleaning, repairing furniture, setting up exhibits, paying utilities and the costs involved in fundraising campaigns. The city will pay the GHI monthly charges and will maintain the exterior of the building and grounds.
- How will FOGM raise funds to sustain the Museum over the years? THROUGH CONTRIBUTIONS FROM MEMBERS. 212 members joined FOGM in its first year. Business and corporate sponsors will be sought once the building is acquired. Grants will also be sought once the Museum is established. PAID AD

After Years of Service to Greenbelt Community, Katherine Keene Goes West

by Eileen Peterson

Katherine Keene, one of Greenbelt's incomparable citizens for 27 years, is driving off into the sunset this week—going home—to a Seattle bungalow with a picture window facing Mt. Rainier.

A houseful—and more—of friends came to a party at the Northway home of Lowell and Marj Owens on Sunday, Oct. 19. A proclamation from Greenbelt's Mayor, Gil Weidenfeld, expressed appreciation for the many services Katherine has given Greenbelt. The Paint Branch Unitarian Church choir sang for her (Katherine has been a strong supporter there for many years), and staff from Greenbelt Homes, Inc., paid her tribute.

Besides serving on the GHI Board of Directors for six years, Katherine has been on many committees, most recently the audit committee. "She truly believes in the cooperative ideals that people should serve and behave to benefit each other," comments Joan Freeman. Leta Mach and Freeman prepared a scrapbook reflecting Katherine's GHI service. There was also a humorous proclamation from GHI citing her contributions.

Purely objective accomplishments are easy to list: B.A., University of Washington; M.A., Columbia University; six years teaching English and History in Washington state.

The Teacher

Taking a position at High Point High School (Beltsville) in 1959, she found Greenbelt "by accident" — her principal lived where she does now in 6 Court Hillside. At High Point she required a lot of her students "with integrity and a sense of humor," recalls Barbara Simon, a former student. She spent her summers travelling—Greece, Rome, Africa, Europe and then Japan and China. Many of these trips were repeated after she retired.

When Eleanor Roosevelt High School opened in 1976, Katherine was there. Robert Ogden, ERHS principal until recently, recalls that she came in for her interview wearing a coolie hat—she was going to China. "She gave me some of her sage wisdom," he recalls, "and she was a continual inspiration. She was always doing things for people. There was a blank wall in the teacher's lunch room. 'I'll brighten it up,' she said, and painted a mural of her cats across the wall."

In 1979, Katherine Keene was chosen as the Outstanding History Teacher of the Year for Prince Georges County. Katherine always stressed excellence in both the learning and the written expression of that work by her students. Many came back later to tell her how much that training had meant later on in college or other work.

She brought back slides and other materials from her many trips and taught her students about the art and archeology of these countries. She was not a mere tourist, for in 1972 she was the first social studies teacher to be accepted at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens, and she studied Japanese art at a university in Tokyo one summer.

A member of the Office of Strategic Services in England and Germany for three years during World War II, she lived events first-hand and brought that immediacy home to her European history class by showing up in her WAC uniform when teaching about that period.

The Helpful Hand

"She has a great talent for making and keeping friends," says Dorothy McGee, 7 Court Hillside. They first met in a book discussion group soon after Katherine's arrival here. Time and time again, in talking to people about Katherine Keene, this point is made: she puts effort into keeping and helping her friends. Ogden recalls that he admired her bulky sweaters: she knitted him a fisherman's sweater which he treasures. She keeps in touch with many of her OSS friends and attends reunions of the group.

Teacher becomes pupil and accepts role reversal easily: Cromwell Chan, a former student at ERHS, met Katherine on the University of Maryland campus where she has been taking classes ever since retirement from teaching in 1981. He mentioned that he had recently taken the class in which she had just enrolled. He outlined the teacher's technique and various points of the course and she listened attentively.

It would take a whole News Review to list all the anecdotes available about Katherine Keene. Here are a few vignettes: February 11, 1983, the Big Snow and roads closed, a figure comes out to the street with loaves of freshly baked bread in a knapsack on her back. Katherine had promised the bread for the Greenbelt Arts Center's Bake Sale in the Center, and the bread would get there. (She baked and donated continuously for over three years' worth of sales.) Tuesday night, and Katherine is typing news stories at the News Review. When queried about her considerable talents (she has written stories and play reviews) being wasted on typing, she replies, "it needs to be done." And at the very end, when cleaning out 27 years of living on Hillside, she remembers that the Arts Center is having a rummage sale and donates almost a whole sale's worth.

One mustn't forget her cats: Amity, Ben-Ben, Tiny Tim, Susan and Elizabeth. Susan was given, as a kitten, to Professor Charles Mish at a surprise retirement party planned by the University of Maryland English class Katherine was attending. When Dr. Mish became ill and couldn't keep the kitten, Katherine adopted her. Katherine paints watercolors, designs her own holiday cards (with cats in them), and always seems to be around when some person or some cause needs a helping hand. When a friend got the flu and was feeling miserable, Katherine baked and brought over one of her loaves of dill bread—and the patient quickly got well.

One gift to her friends is the contentment in which Katherine Keene is spending her years of retirement. While sad to see her leave Greenbelt, many have commented on the joy and enthusiasm in her plans for both the trip across the country by car (stopping to see friends and former colleagues along the way) and her life in Seattle. Her small house with a slightly Japanese flavor to the design sits on one of the highest points overlooking the city. Cousins live in the area, and there is a back garden waiting to be filled with plants and "sweet peas along the fence" and maybe a fish pond (like the one on Hillside) and — who knows?—maybe even a Roman-style fountain, she muses.

In an article on Katherine in this paper in 1981, former student Alan Amberg said that "the amazing thing I find about her is her eyes. You know by her eyes she loves teaching more than anything."

As she sat among boxes and talked about trip, house and years ahead, Katherine Keene — often called activist, teacher, feminist — smiled and lifted eyes aglow with excitement. Add another adjective: adventurer.

(Ed. Note: Thanks to Rose-Anne Lenchek and Linda Orenstein for material used from earlier stories. Katherine Keene's new address: 8223-15th N.E., Seattle, Washington 98115.)

QUESTIONS

Many of 13 County and State Issues Confront Voters in Tuesday Election

ter or (where there is no charter) by the General Assembly.

Question 4—To fund the offices of the clerk of the court from the state budget and to end the funding of each office by revenues collected by that office. Since the amount of revenue collected varies widely from one office to another, some offices operate at a deficit. A "For" vote would favor state funding of these offices, a change which would give the governor and the legislature greater control over the budgets of each clerk's office.

County Charter

The three proposed Prince Georges County charter amendments are:

Question A—To allow the county to waive its immunity from liability only in cases where its officers and employees are liable. A "For" vote would make it more difficult to win a civil suit against the county because the county would give up its immunity from civil damages only if a county official were found to be at fault.

Question B—To give a raise to members of the county council. A "For" vote would favor raising the current council salary of $31,953 per year by about 8,000 to $40,000.

Question C—To remove the dollar lid on county expenditures which can be made without getting competitive bids. Under the present dollar limit set in 1971, any expenditure greater than $5,000 must go through a competitive bid procedure. A "For" vote would favor removing the lid entirely and allowing the council to set its own limit.

The six bond authorization proposals are:

Question D—A "For" vote would support the issuance of bonds in the amount of $6,127,000 for fire department projects. Although no funds are slated for Greenbelt, both Berwyn Heights and Branchville are on the list of departments which would benefit.

Question E—A "For" vote would support the issuance of $25,000,000 in bonds for the design and construction of a criminal court complex in Upper Marlboro. The money would be used to build a new 120,000 square foot circuit court building with a parking structure for about 1,000 cars. The existing building would remain.

Question F—A "For" vote would support the issuance of $3,576,000 in bonds to construct a library in the Largo-Kettering area and build improvements to the Laurel library.

Roads Projects

Voters will be asked on November 4 to vote for or against Question G, which deals with the county's borrowing $80,254,000 to finance capital projects for roads and bridges for almost every fast-growing area in the county — Laurel, Beltsville, Bowie, Greenbelt, Largo and Oxon Hill.

Among the 29 projects, two are in Greenbelt. In East Greenbelt the Baltimore-Washington Parkway has been targeted for improvement. The longstanding problem in the northeastern quadrant of the Parkway interchange across from Greenway Center is expected to be alleviated by relocating the Parkway ramps. Reconstruction of the Greenbelt Road bridge spanning the Parkway is also included in the project. The county's contribution will be $3,960,000, with the State allocating $200,000 for design work. The county hopes to be reimbursed by the federal government. Parkway reconstruction had been on hold until recently, when Congress appropriated $8 million for the long-awaited Baltimore - Washington reconstruction.

The second Greenbelt project in the bond issue is for construction of a 52-foot wide roadway from the proposed Greenbelt Metro Station on Cherrywood Lane, with a bridge over the Beltway to a junction with Kenilworth Avenue, approximately 550 feet north of Ivy Lane. A traffic signal at Kenilworth Avenue is also included. Some $5,400,000 will be allocated for the project with $2,352,000 coming from Maryland Department of Transportation bonds, which have already been sold, and the remaining $3,048,000 from the county.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties have taken official positions on Question G. The Republican Party maintains that (1) repair and repaving of roads should be included in the county's operating budget and not in the bond issue and (2) it is premature to include several long-term projects where construction will not begin until far in the future. For example, certain road improvements proposed will benefit projects such as the controversial development of Konterra, a planned 2,000-acre "new town" in the Laurel area and Port America in the southern part of the county.

The Democratic Party supports Question G, maintaining that (1) passage of the bond issue will prevent Prince Georges County from experiencing the serious transportation problems now faced by other jurisdictions which did not plan for the future and (2) improved and new roads will enhance Prince Georges County's increased activity in economic development and make the county a viable place to live.

A "For" vote on Question G would support the issue of bonds in the amount of $80,254,000 for road projects.

Question H — A "For" vote would support the issuance of $4,400,000 worth of bonds to put a deck on an existing METRO parking structure on Addison Road to provide more parking and to purchase METRO buses and rail cars.

Question I — A "For" vote would support the issuance of $1,410,000 in bonds for design funds for a Northern Regional Health Center in College Park and to renovate the OB/GYN facility at Prince Georges General Hospital.

The six bond authorization proposals total $120,197,000. This is the largest bond issue ever proposed to the county's voters.

Candidate Proposes State Partly Fund Green Line

Republican candidate for State Senate Michael B. Twigg has proposed partially funding construction of the Metro Green Line with state revenues. Twigg cited the traffic problems of Greenbelt as an example of the necessity for the Green Line and the uncertain future of Metro funding in Congress as a warning.

Twigg spoke before a group of supporters at the Golden Triangle, near the intersection of Kenilworth Avenue and Greenbelt Road, which is one of the most congested intersections in the county.

"The citizens of Greenbelt and Prince Georges County shouldn't have to put up with this every day driving to work or simply around the community," Twigg asserted, referring to the long lines of traffic backed up at the intersection.

Twigg feels part of the solution is the construction of the Green Line of the Metrorail System. "It's clear that Congress is not willing to fund the entire Green Line," Twigg said, "and it is also clear that Metrorail is an essential part of our effort to solve our traffic problems."

"I am not prepared to place the funding for the Green Line solely at the whim of the federal government. Prince Georges County deserves better than that. The United States has been built on the fundamental tenet of people helping themselves. I think it's time we as Marylanders assumed more responsibility for the construction of the Green Line."

Greenbelt Park Showcased At Its Community Day

Despite the wet weather on Sunday, Community Day at Greenbelt Park was enjoyed by about 300 people. It was kid's day as most of the community groups and craft persons failed to show because of the rain, but the children's activities were held as planned.

The children, made scarecrows, carved pumpkins and were treated to Halloween stories by a story teller. Smokey the bear and Woodsey the Owl were on hand. Junior ranger badges were awarded to winners of the scavenger hunt and an obstacle course operated by the boy scout troop of Springhill Lake.

A special treat was a tractor-pulled hayride through the park on the paved roads and on the fire roads through the woods. The autumn leaf colors were at their peak making a colorful ride.

A park representative called the day a success saying it fulfilled its purpose of promoting the park and letting people in the area know about the park. Another community day is planned for next year.

Greenbelt Park is one of the largest parks in the Washington metropolitan area with over 1000 acres and 12 miles of hiking trails.

Plogman Approved For School Board

The county council approved the nomination of Suzanne Plogman of Northway to the second district school board seat on Tuesday, October 14. Plogman had been nominated to the position by county executive Parris Glendening.

Soccer News

by Kevin Wheatley

This week's match against Lanham had to be the best one of this season. The rain over the weekend produced for us a most pleasant playing condition . . . mud! Goopy, slimey, cold, wet, wonderful mud!

Our team took great pleasure in sliding on the good earth knowing full well that mom and dad could do nothing but stand on the sidelines and fret.

The all boy Lanham team won the game 3-1 but Greenbelt did its best with T. J. Trimble scoring the only goal and that's all that counts. "Shoeless" Michael Mehringer played a good game this week at halfback along with "Stonewall" Kenny Barron. Shawn Wilson, Scott Watson and Stephanie King all shared the goal keeping duties while Ryan Putens and Ryan Cavanaugh each did their usual best.

But the real star was the field. Soccer players pray for conditions

Steny Hoyer A Leader In Congress For Prince George's County

We knew we were voting for a leader when we elected Steny Hoyer to Congress in 1981.

For twelve years he was a Maryland State Senator. For 4 of those years, he was Senate President.

Now he is our leader in Congress.

Just look at Steny Hoyer's record for the people of Prince George's County:

- Transportation—One of Steny Hoyer's top priorities is making sure the Metro is completed. In the last year he has been responsible for the release of $391 million for Metro as well as Congressional approval of $201 million more to build the Green Line. Congress has approved his legislation to upgrade the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.
- Federal Workers—Steny Hoyer is recognized as the federal workers' leading advocate on Capitol Hill. His legislation will make sure that federal employees get a three percent pay raise this year.
- Civil Rights/Human Rights—Steny Hoyer has co-sponsored every major civil rights bill considered since he has been in Congress. He has been a leader against apartheid. He organized the first demonstration by an area jurisdiction at the South African embassy, and he co-sponsored and spoke out for sanctions against South Africa. He is Co-Chair of the Helsinki Commission, which monitors human rights compliance in Europe and the Soviet Union.
- Crime—Steny Hoyer's legislation to strengthen federal laws against rape and sexual assault was adopted by Congress this year.
- Jobs—The Job Corps program saluted Steny Hoyer as their number one friend in Congress. He led the successful fight to keep 400 jobs at the Beretta factory right here in Prince George's County. He has been a strong supporter in Congress of the Port America project, which will bring thousands of jobs to the County.
- Education—Steny Hoyer has been one of the leaders in Congress for the Head Start and Title I education for the disadvantaged programs.
- Health—Steny Hoyer has been a leader in government support for new research on diabetes, a disease which affects 150,000 people in the Washington area. And on the powerful House Appropriations Committee he has fought for increased funding for the National Cancer Institute.

ON NOVEMBER 4 Re-elect our Congressman Steny Hoyer

Paid for by the Hoyer for Congress Committee.

"Wine, Women and Shaw," A Night of One Acts, directed by Randy Jones and Laurie Wagner, will feature the world premiere of "Shrink," a one-act by Bill Wine. "Shrink," with a cast of four women and two men, is about a psychiatrist confronting his conflicts with his own parents. Playwright Bill Wine is a professor of Communication Arts at Philadelphia's LaSalle University. He has been writing plays since the early 1970's as an outgrowth of his work as a journalist and critic for newspapers, magazines and broadcast. In addition to his playwriting credits, he has written scripts for radio, television and film.

Wine's one-act plays have been produced by the San Francisco One-Act Theatre Company and the Philadelphia Company. "The Tube," a comedy, was a final-round participant in the Country Playhouse Playwriting Competition and was awarded an honorable mention in the Writer's Digest Scriptwriting Contest. A full-length play, "Jolts," finished first runner-up in the University of Alabama's Ruby Lloyd Apsey Annual Playwriting Competition and was so well received it was produced in addition to the winning play. "Jolts" was also a winner in the Allentown Arts Center's New Worlds/Next Wave Festival.

This past summer his full-length play "Tenure" was selected from 200 entries in the New Play Project, 1986 Dalton Little Theater, in Dalton, Georgia.

Bill Wine will attend the gala opening of his play, November 15 at 8 p.m. The one-acts will run Fridays and Saturdays, November 14, 15, 21, 22, 28 and 29 at 8 p.m., with two Sunday matinees November 16 and 23 at 2 p.m.

Group, student and senior discounts available, and may be purchased by calling the Greenbelt Arts Center at 441-8770, or through all Ticketron outlets.

CUB SCOUT PACK 1253

by Gil Green, Cubmaster

Who says, "Greenbelt residents are not winners"? Three young Greenbelt boys of one local Cub Scout Pack 1253 surely now have changed any disbelievers' minds. On Saturday, September 20, they went up against 15 other cub scout packs in feats of physical fitness. They were competing in the Patuxent district scout fitness day, which was held at Greenbelt Regional Park.

The boys, Miguel Boardman-Periera (age 9), Steven Williams (age 10), and Damon Pitts (age 8) won the honor in June, to represent Pack 1253 in the competition outscoring other boys in their pack. The events for both the inter-pack runoff and the district meet were: the "50 yard dash", "the standing broad jump", "softball throw", "situps" and the ever grueling "pushups". So how did they do. Need you really ask? Miguel, Steven, and Damon placed first, second, and third respectively for overall points and in their age group.

This entitled the boys to represent the Patuxent district in the National Capital Area competition held in Falls Church, Virginia. We were aiming for another victory and hoped that our champions could do just that again and bring home the gold medals. On September 27, the boys traveled to Falls Church High School for the council meet.

The days events began with a very colorful "parade of champions". Our boys were faced with the task of outdueling the best young competitors in the Washington area. There were 50 medals to be awarded. The morning went well, however, we were only able to capture two medals. Damon won a bronze medal for the eight year olds pushups and Miguel managed to take second in the nine year old's softball throw. Overall, the pack did well and placed seventh out of twelve.

Chesapeake Bay Festival Will be Held this Weekend

The 22nd Annual Chesapeake Appreciation Days, will take place on November 1-2 at Sandy Point State Park.

The focus is to honor the rich heritage and tradition of the Chesapeake Bay and to show appreciation for the Bay and its watermen.

Numerous activities are being planned for the festival. On land enjoy a vast number of bay oriented educational exhibits, arts and crafts, and entertainment. In the air awe at the thrilling aerobatics show, parachutists, and fly-bys. However, the main attraction takes place in the Chesapeake Bay itself: the skipjack races. These majestic sailing vessels comprise the last remaining commercial oyster dredging fleet in North America. Also enjoy other sea activities such as workboat docking contest and static boat displays.

There will be an abundance of delicious Maryland Seafood on sale at reasonable prices.

The hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. There is an admission fee, children under 10 admitted free. The price of admission includes parking and all of the entertainment. Sandy Point is located on route 50 at the Bay Bridge, just east of Annapolis, MD.

Greenbelters Participate In Open Bench Press

Greenbelt residents participated in a strong manner in the 1986 Fall Open Bench Press Class. Held at the Springhill Lake Recreation Center on September 27 James Hawk won the 148 pound class with a 305 pound press. Hawk also won the best overall Greenbelt Lifter award. Buck Best benched 400 to take second best Greenbelt Lifter and third in the 242 pound division. Second place in the 220 class and third place Greenbelt Lifter went to Matt Mills with a 370 pound bench press. Fourth place for Greenbelt Lifters went to 180 pounder Steve Cagiano who lifted 215 pounds.

The three plays, directed by Randy Jones and Laurie Wagner, will be performed Fridays and Saturdays, November 14, 15, 21, 22, 28 and 29, at 8 p.m., with two Sunday matinees November 16 and 23 at 2 p.m.

Tickets are available through Ticketron, Teletron or the Arts Center's box office. There are discounts for groups, seniors and students.

Happy birthday to Lillian D. Parker of Green Ridge House, on her 87th birthday, on November 3.

Nice to know Gertrude Law came back with three medals from the 1986 Maryland Olympics. One gold — shot put — one bronze in basketball shooting and one bronze in broad jump. Helen Oring, vocalist, of Greenbelt, came in second. Congratulations!

George Moryadas has received a Threshold grant to continue work on his research project begun as a Hampshire student. Hampshire College awards, twice annually, a Threshold grant to students whose Division III projects merit continuation after graduation. Division III projects are major independent studies in the form of a final thesis or a creative project which demonstrates intellectual mastery of a student's chosen subject and field.

Moryadas is using his Threshold grant to research the evolution of the credit card. In an effort to determine the boundaries of historical knowledge, Moryadas decided to write a history of a particular subject. The credit card was a suitable subject since its history has never been thoroughly examined and recorded. The narrative history is the most fully developed and the section Moryadas will use his Threshold grant to refine and submit for publication.

Do you like line dancing, square dancing, arts and crafts? Maynard Layne teaches dancing, oh so smoothly, at the MNCPPC Good Luck Community Center at Good Luck Road, from 9 to 2 on Friday mornings, for senior citizens at no cost. It's a lot of fun!

This has been an eventful year for Helen and Harvey Geller. In January they celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary and in March Helen received her certification in Biofeedback, having successfully completed the required written and practical exams. Then in April she was inducted into Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society at the University of Maryland, where she is a graduate student in Stress Management. June brought the wedding of their youngest daughter, Holly, to Bill Hay. And in July, surrounded by family and friends, Harvey celebrated his 65th birthday. Last weekend, at the Senior Olympics in Towson, Harvey won five medals. And the year isn't even over yet!

Ottillie Norris, formerly of Green Ridge House, celebrated her 89th birthday with a lovely dinner party at the home of her daughter, Lucille, and her husband, Frank. Many of Ottillie's children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren were there. The highlight of the evening was a visit by a clown with a big bouquet of balloons. On Sunday, a real surprise: the Shanahans of Greenbelt took their ten grandchildren for a visit to see their great-grandmom at the Lutheran Home. It was the first time all the Shanahans' grandchildren, ages 6 months to 19 years, were together at one time.

A special thanks for all the cards from Ottillie's friends at Green Ridge House and a special thanks for the good wishes from President and Nancy Reagan.

A/M Timothy A. Dixon, son of Robert E. Dixon of Mandan Road, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force wideband communications equipment course at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss. Graduates of the course were taught to install, operate and maintain special radio equipment. They earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force. Dixon is a 1984 graduate of Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School.

Residents of 23 Court of Ridge Road held their second annual Octoberfest court picnic on Saturday afternoon, October 18. The weather was cool and hot tea was served to keep warm. Also displayed was a mega family yard sale. The picnic and yard sale were both a huge success and the residents decided that this shall be an annual event.

Congratulations to Robert Spear of Ridge Road, who was promoted to associate professor in Computer Engineering at Prince Georges Community College.

Spec. 4 David E. Burdette, son of Helen R. Burdette of Hanover

Youth Football

by Jeff Keir

Saturday, October 25 was an exciting day for both Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club's football teams. Each was matched with its Marlboro counterpart. The Greenbelt 95 lb. AA team played for sole possession of its division lead, starting the day a half game behind Marlboro with a 4-2 record, with Marlboro having a 4-1 record. Marlboro's only loss was at the hands of the Greenbelt team earlier in the season; a tough 13-0 victory for Greenbelt up at Marlboro.

After falling behind on Marlboro's first possession, 7-0, the Greenbelt team showed its spirit, strength and determination by tightening its proven defense and going on to beat Marlboro 13-7 to regain its division lead. The Greenbelt team responded to the Marlboro score with a 60-yard second quarter drive capped by a 1-yard run by Tommy Ray. The extra point failed and at the half, Marlboro led 7-6. Linebacker Brian Smith and ends Mike Sweeney and Eusef Fletcher had outstanding performances defensively. Mike Sweeney had two sacks and Tommy Ray had an interception.

The eventual game-winning touchdown came in the final quarter when running back David Crooks broke loose for a 52-yard run for the score. Adam Patton ran for the extra point. Offensively, quarterback Brian Smith directed the offense very well, and Mike Sweeney had an important 20-yard pass reception. A statistic of note—In its five wins, the Greenbelt 95 lb. AA team scored 98 points while holding its opponents to just 13 points.

Although the Greenbelt 75 lb. team lost to its Marlboro counterpart 26-7, they played well and had an exciting game. This team has improved greatly over the season. Damian Kelly gained 80 yards rushing, and scored the Greenbelt touchdown. Quarterback Eric Umphries scored the extra point. Julian Ingram gained 15 yards on two carries and Maurice "Moose" Carter gained 10 yards on two carries. On defense Moose had two sacks with eight tackles. Eric Umphries had four tackles and two sacks with Lynell Green assisting. Gus Guzman did an excellent job at center, and on defense got a fumble recovery, stopping a big Marlboro drive. Excitement on the football field!!

Both teams play next on Saturday, November 8 in their regular season finales, at Fletcher Field in Riverdale. The 95 lb. team plays Beltsville at 9:30 a.m. A win here guarantees them at least a tie for the division lead. The 75 lb. team plays at 10:45 a.m. against College Park. Come join the excitement and cheer the Greenbelt teams to victory!!

(Information for this article was supplied by Coach Wayne Smith of the 95 lb. team and Coach Perry Umphries of the 75 lb. team.)

If your crazy hectic schedule kept you from getting over to SCAN before the end of the fall catalog sale, you're in luck, because we've extended the sale prices on the Hundevad bedroom and wall system and two of the dining room packages. In addition, prices are going up on the NAE bedroom and the Vinde bedroom after Sunday. Look for the purple tags that say, "Last chance at this price."

FIRST TIME EVER SCAN is offering 15% off on all special order upholstery regardless of manufacturer. If you've a sofa or chair that's a little frayed around the arms, make your move while the prices are right. (And before increases we predicted earlier in this space come through.)

The teak desk organizers we can't keep in stock are now in stock at $59 and you probably got your Christmas Club check this week. A happy coincidence. The world series is over and it's not time to address Christmas cards yet, so come over to Greenway SCAN.

(P.S. UNICEF cards are in.)

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

On October 17 at 7:15 p.m. officers responding on a reported fight in progress at the Roosevelt Center Mall arrested two adult males as a result. Officer Robert Keller charged a 20 year old Greenbelt man and a 36 year old non-resident man with disorderly conduct. Both were released pending trial.

An employee of a business at the Roosevelt Center reported two tires on his vehicle slashed on October 19. The vehicle had been parked unattended on Centerway.

During the night of October 19 three autos were broken into while parked at the Lakeside North Apartments. Some property was removed from the vehicles.

The City owned recreation center, located at 99 Centerway, was broken into during the night of October 23. Entry was gained by throwing a large rock through the glass door. Although approximately $300.00 damage was done, it appeared that the suspects were scared off before being able to inflict more damage.

In response to citizen complaints regarding speeders at the school zone at St. Hugh's School, speed enforcement has been increased. Motorists are reminded that when the yellow lights are flashing, the speed limit is then 15 mph in the school zone. Greenbelt officers will continue to use radar in that area until the situation shows signs of improvement.

On October 17 in the 5900 block of Cherrywood Terrace, Cpl. Greg Lynn, of the Selective Enforcement Unit, arrested three juveniles found in possession of a stolen auto. It was learned that the auto had been reported to Prince Georges County police as a stolen vehicle, after it was taken from a gas station impound lot in College Park. Two male suspects, both of Greenbelt, were released to their parents pending trial. The third, a female juvenile, of Brentwood, was released to her parents pending trial.

An auto parked in the 9200 block of Springhill Lane was broken into during the night of October 19. An in-dash stereo unit was removed.

In the 5800 block of Cherry-wood Terrace, a parked auto was vandalized on October 20 by a side window being broken out.

A shopper at Beltway Plaza Mall reported on October 21 that when he returned to his auto he discovered that the front and rear windshields had been broken out.

During business hours on October 17 a shop at Greenway Center was entered and a V.C.R. and color television were removed. The suspect(s) entered by way of an unlocked rear door to the business.

On October 20 a resident in the 7900 block of Mandan Road reported having the battery stolen from her auto while it was parked.

During the afternoon of October 20 the theft of a purse was reported from a vehicle parked in the 7500 block of Greenway Center Drive. The vehicle had been left unlocked with the purse on the front seat.

ELECT

Clerk of the Court

Antoinette "Toni" Jarboe

Norman Pritchett, the incumbent Clerk, supports the pending Amendment to the Maryland Constitution which changes the funding structure of the Clerk's Office.

Currently, the revenues raised in Prince George's County are kept here. These revenues fund the Clerk's Office. The new legislation requires that all our revenue go to the State and the State will allocate the money as they see fit.

"I am opposed to this Amendment. I would rather keep our revenues and spend them in Prince George's County instead of turning them over to the State to subsidize offices, such as Baltimore City, which operate at a deficit."

Changes in the Clerk's Office I Propose:

Centralization of all active Court files instead of the current policy which houses files in three separate locations.

Modernization of the Land Records Office. Presently it takes six to eight weeks to simply return recorded Deeds.

To better serve the public who use the Clerk's Office I propose that we lengthen the hours of operation through a flex-time policy.
