Prime Cable to Offer Rationale for Rate Hike With PG Commission

by Elaine Skolnik

Prime Cable officials are expected to clarify their new television rates for the Universal service tier before the Prince Georges County Cable Commission next Monday, March 21 at 6 p.m. The meeting will be held in the County Administration Building in Upper Marlboro.

A number of Greenbelt and northern county cable subscribers have already voiced their outrage over Prime's recent announcement of a steep 300% increase for installing the Universal tier, the lowest level of service. The tier provides 27 channels that include network, independent and Public Broadcasting originating from Washington and Baltimore. This tier offers a variety of local and public access channels, including Greenbelt and County Council meetings and educational and public service programs.

The new rates initially quoted by Prime for installation of the Universal service ranged from $150 to $350, depending on who at Prime was disseminating information. Last Friday, however, Prime's public relations officer Jacqueline Moore told the News Review that the confusion in prices had been resolved and that the installation cost for the Universal tier will rise from its present $25 to $99.50, with the subscriber being given ownership of a converter designed for the Universal tier only. Maintenance will be provided by Prime. However, no refund will be given if the subscriber later wishes to upgrade from the Universal service to, for example, Cable Plus.

Source of Increase

This increase in Universal's installation charge Moore said, was ordered by Prime's headquarters in Texas. It will apply both to new subscribers to Universal and to those subscribers who wish to downgrade their present level of service from, for example, Cable Plus, to Universal. In the latter case, Prime will reclaim the Cable Plus converter, for which the subscriber paid a nominal installation charge, and will charge the new $99.50 fee to install the more limited capacity converter.

Under the new rate policy, Prime has also reduced the $7.95 Universal tier monthly fee to $3. This will benefit some 400 families in the northern sector of the county who are already subscribing to Universal, 58 of them in Greenbelt. In the city there are a total of 3,140 subscribers to various levels of service.

According to Linda Sykes, administrative assistant for the Prince Georges County Cable Television Commission, Prime had recently given the county a figure of $350 for installation of the Universal tier. The new installation charge for Universal was not included on a schedule of Prime service charges and monthly rates (effective January 1, 1988) that was given to the county. However, among those which were listed were the $3 Universal monthly fee, a $25 charge for "Installing a Primary Outlet" and a $9.95 charge each for "Change of Service" and "Transfer of Service." The latter charges, Moore explained, referred to the higher level tiers.

Roosevelt Center Design Proposals Are Termed Admirable, Sensitive

by Virginia Beauchamp

The good feeling generated by the city's 50th anniversary celebration seemed to carry over into a public hearing held on Thursday evening, March 10, in which the landscape architectural firm of Coffin & Coffin and architect Francis D. Lethbridge presented proposals for redevelopment of the Roosevelt Center. Together with their oral presentations, the design collaborators also made available two printed proposals, The Master Plan and Architectural Guidelines, each containing numerous illustrations of past, present, and proposed future features of the center area.

By the end of the evening, various members of the audience and the Greenbelt city council were praising the design concepts they had heard presented with phrases like "admirable" and "sensitive." Councilmember Antoinette Bram seemed to sum up the feeling of those present when she said, "We did not expect something this good."

Both Laurence Coffin and Lethbridge, who explained their respective proposals, began their comments with words of praise for the original designers of Greenbelt and the coherence and unity of the plan which had been carried out in the commercial center. Lethbridge spoke of the "tremendous history, with sociological and architectural importance of a representative period of history that is fast being erased visually. I can think of no other group of buildings," he said, "which so well preserve that era. It was a new vision of what a community of this sort should be."

Among the goals and objectives which the Coffins emphasized in their report were: 1) to preserve and strengthen the original planning concept through design improvements of the Roosevelt Center; 2) to preserve and enhance the historic design features; and 3) to improve both the visual and functional relationship of the center to the rest of the city.

Their report particularly addressed the problem of providing additional parking in the center area, which was deemed necessary to the economic viability of the commercial space. Choosing the design alternative for the east and west parking areas most favored at a previous public hearing — with parking aisles changed from their present north-south alignment to an east-west direction — the Coffins were able to offer at least 60 more spaces than currently exist. At the same time, with judicious use of trees and shrub plantings, they were able to improve traffic flow and screen the parking areas from the view along Crescent and Centerway.

Another major feature of the design changes they recommend is to open up the view from the center mall across the woodlands beside the swimming pool. They suggest removing the row of evergreens behind the statue to restore the distant view, while at the same time screening the parking below with a low parapet. The present steep stairs along the west wall of the Co-op building would be removed and new diagonal walkways, crossing at a level place in the center of the green space between the Co-op and the professional building would be substituted. They also recommend improving pedestrian access from both the east and west parking areas to the mall with canopied walkways, an idea which first surfaced during the charette two

by Diane Oberg

The Prince Georges County Planning Department has drafted new regulations and legislation defining the standards for adequate public facilities that developers must meet before approval is granted for proposed developments.

There will be a public hearing before the Planning Board on the proposal on Thursday, March 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the County Administration Building in Upper Marlboro.

The changes and the reasons for them have been explained in a videotape prepared by the Planning Dept. On that tape John Funk said the changes were necessary to resolve perceived weaknesses in the current regulations.

One major change is to re-define when facilities are considered "programmed." Developers can obtain approval for their projects despite inadequate transportation, police or fire facilities as long as improvements to these facilities are programmed. Funk said the legal interpretation of the current regulation does not distinguish between "improvements programmed for completion within a reasonable time" and those programmed for study, land acquisition or partial construction.

Under the proposal, fire and police facilities would be considered programmed only if 100 percent of the construction funds are included in the first three years of the county Capital Improvements Program (CIP). Transportation facilities would be classed as programmed only if 75 percent of the construction funds are budgeted in the six year CIP or the state Consolidated Transportation Program.

In addition, Funk said the new rules would clarify the degree to which previously approved but still vacant development proposals should be taken into account in the Adequate Public Facilities (APF) test. Standards have been introduced to measure the adequacy of police and fire services, as well as the previously tested water and sewerage facilities.

CFG Will Discuss BARC, Parkway Improvements

The 1988 Annual Meeting of Citizens for Greenbelt (CFG) has been set for March 31, at 8 p.m. in the City Council chambers. All interested citizens are invited to attend.

The main topic of this year's annual meeting will be the upcoming Baltimore-Washington Parkway reconstruction. Of particular interest for Greenbelt is the improvement of the Greenbelt Road/Parkway Interchange. Scheduled to discuss these improvements are Patrick Gregerson and Lewis DeLoren of the National Park Service, and Edward Calderon of the Eastern District Federal Division/Federal Highway Administration.

Also, Dr. Waldemar Klassen, Director of Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC) will give citizens a preview of BARC's Renaissance '93, which is a program to completely modernize BARC facilities.

A business meeting will be first on the agenda, during which members whose dues are up-to-date will have an opportunity to vote on the constitution and bylaws revision. (Dues may be paid at the meeting.) The speakers will follow. The last order of business will be the election of officers for 1988.

Funk said that the developer has long had the option of contributing to facility expansion in order to obtain approval. However, the new proposal contains explicit guidelines governing these contributions to ensure equal treatment of all applicants.

Also on the tape, Ray Palfrey explained additional changes to the transportation facilities test. He said these changes reflect changes in the zoning laws as well as the introduction of material from the new Highway Capacity Manual.

Currently, the APF calls for examining the closest major intersection. Under the new proposals all major intersections and roadway links close to the project must be examined.

Under the proposed legislation the lifespan of a preliminary plat would be reduced from seven to four years. Funk said this is necessary to prevent the "warehousing" of plats observed throughout the county. Public testimony at the March 24 hearing will be solicited from individuals and organizations with a three (3) minute time limit for individuals and five (5) minutes for persons representing organizations.

Magnet School Registr. To be Held on March 25

General registration for openings in most Prince Georges County magnet schools for the 1988-89 school year will be held on Friday, March 25, from 4 to 8 p.m. at Largo High School, 605 Largo Rd., Upper Marlboro. All applications for the general registration process will be accepted on a first come, first served basis, within desegregation guidelines.

The registration process will be streamlined and coordinated to ensure a relatively quick and smooth operation. School system administrators and staff members will be present to answer questions and guide people through the admissions procedures.

Detailed directions for the general applications process are included in the 1988 edition of the "School System of Choices" announcement brochure which has been mailed to all households in the county.

For more information call the Magnet School Office at 952-6044.

"New Greenbelt Study" Will Not Air as Planned

The New Greenbelt Study presentation made by staff at the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission on Tuesday, March 15 at the Hunting Ridge Club House will NOT air on Channel B-10 as previously advertised because of problems with the video recording equipment. The staff at the Greenbelt Municipal Access Channel apologize to those residents who were planning to watch the program.

A limited number of copies of the MNCPPC New Greenbelt Study on how design standards of the original planned community can be implemented in Greenbelt East are available in the City Manager's Office during regular business hours.

Candidates Needed For GHI Offices

by Keith Chernikoff,

Member GHI N&E Committee

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. is looking for a few good people — as candidates for GHI office in its upcoming election. Four positions on the Board of Directors, three Audit Committee seats and five Nominations and Elections (NEC) slots are up for election this year. The elections for Board of Directors and Audit Committee will take place on Thursday, May 19. Nominations and Election Committee members will be elected the preceding evening, May 18, at the annual meeting.

The Board of Directors sets policy and directs the operations of GHI. Persons elected serve for two years and receive nominal compensation. Being a GHI Director offers a unique opportunity to manage a million-dollar corporation and to work to make the cooperative serve its members.

The Audit Committee has an oversight role. It reviews the operations of the board, management and committees to ensure that GHI rules and regulations are followed and applied fairly. Serving on the Audit Committee is a way of learning about and understanding how a large cooperative works. Members serve a one-year term and receive a nominal compensation.

The Nominations and Elections Committee has five members who run the elections each year. A major part of its job is to recruit GHI members who would make good candidates. The 1988 Nominations and Elections Committee members are Chairman John Taylor, Helen White, Martha Sinden, Solange Hess and Keith Chernikoff. Over the next few weeks, they will contact members to tell them about the elections and offices to be filled. Anyone interested in knowing more about the duties of a GHI officer or the elections should contact an N&E Committee member.

Gray Panthers Meet

Diana Ohlbaum, legislative aide for Senator Paul Sarbanes, will speak at an open Gray Panther meeting to be held Saturday, March 19 at 1:30 p.m. at the Greenbelt Library. The subject is "Issues in the 1988 Federal Congress." Emphasis will be on foreign policy. People should bring questions as ample time will be allowed for discussion. Refreshments will be served.

GHI NOTES

The GHI Board of Directors will meet on March 24 at 8 p.m. (see preliminary agenda elsewhere in this issue of the News Review).

The Member and Community Relations Committee will meet on March 30 at 7:30 p.m.

The dates for the regular Board meetings in April have been changed to April 7 and April 21.

CITY NOTES

The Special Details and General Crews combined their efforts recently to attempt to complete ongoing projects. The crews continued to remove old concrete and debris from the swimming pool as part of the renovation project and to remove concrete, wire, and assorted debris from the old PEPCO transformer station near Greenbelt Lake.

The Parks Crew continued to prepare athletic fields throughout the city for the upcoming season. They collected refuse along the roadsides including the section of Ridge Road from Crescent Road toward Lakeside North Apartments.

Due to large amounts of requests for special trash collection, the Special Trash Crew has fallen behind in servicing the citizens' requests. It is now taking four to seven working days to service a request. Citizens are reminded to place their special trash as near to their regular service side as possible before making the request.

Springhill Lake Civic Assn. Will Hold Annual Meeting

The Springhill Lake Civic Association annual meeting and election will be held on Thursday, March 24 in the SHL Fountain Lodge beginning at 7:30 p.m. A fire safety program will also be presented. For further information call Joyce Chestnut at 474-0567.

PG Philharmonic Performs

The Prince Georges Philharmonic Orchestra will present a concert under the direction of Ray Fowler on Saturday, March 26 at 8 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church of Hyattsville.

Tickets will be available at the door, or in advance by calling 699-2540 or 577-5785. There is an admission charge.

Center to Get Mayor

Voted for the Honorary Mayor of Roosevelt Center Yet? D.C. has its Mayor of 9th Street, Jimmy Lake, so Greenbelt will have a mayor of Roosevelt Center. A ballot box is located in the Co-op supermarket near the express check-out.

Candidates are: Steve Langone, Charley Mills, Mike Burckick, Dick Pilski, Larry Noel, Emory Harman, Wayne Jernberg, Donnie Wolf, John Fama, Chuck Lundregan, Joe O'Brien and Prof. Endres.

People are asked to vote for one and sign the ballot. Vote will be kept confidential!

Washingtonian Magazine Has Story on Greenbelt

The March issue of Washingtonian magazine features an article on Greenbelt entitled "An Experiment That Worked." The article, written by Diane Granat, is part of a "Going Places" series which tells about interesting places to visit in the metropolitan area. Highlighted in the story are Greenbelt's recreational attractions — the Greenbelt Park and Buddy At-tick Lake Park. The Greenbelt Museum is described as a "Greenbelt home . . . (with) tiny rooms . . . a reminder of the pinched times in which Greenbelt was built."

Where to shop, where to dine, what to see, and where to live are also among the features described. The author is particularly attracted to Greenbelt's best buys — the houses which form the cooperative known as Greenbelt Homes, Inc.

Letters to the Editor

I wish to thank those who supported me and the other delegates pledged to Gov. Michael Dukakis in the Maryland Democratic Primary. While not victorious in Prince Georges County, the over 200,000 for Gov. Dukakis from the county helped ensure the Governor the largest share of the state's at-large delegates.

I also encourage you to let your state representatives and members of the county Democratic Central Committee know what you think of this process called "Super Tuesday" and when you think Maryland's primary should be?

David Craig Memorial Fund for Scholarship

To the Editor:

All of David Craig's friends and family would like to say thanks for the generous support that has made the first year of the David Craig Memorial Scholarship Fund a real success. A graduate of Eleanor Roosevelt High School and Frostburg State College, David was an active participant in team sports, in his church, and in the Greenbelt community.

Following his accidental death in 1984, the scholarship fund was established, and our first recipient was Mary Frances "Fray" Heaney, who used her $1000 scholarship this past year at James Madison University. Fray demonstrated the same well-rounded qualities that made David Craig so very special to the community.

Some of you may remember our sticky (but hopefully delicious!) caramel apples during the Labor Day Festival. Those apple sales, in addition to a softball tournament, a tennis tournament and generous contributions made the scholarship fund possible. Thanks to all of you who volunteered your time and financial support. Anyone who would like to contribute this year is surely welcome! Feel free to send contributions to the David Craig Memorial Scholarship Fund, Ltd., P.O. Box 761, Greenbelt, Md. 20770.

Trees Can Be Adopted

Over the past three years, over 275 trees were planted as part of the Adopt-A-Tree program of the 50th Anniversary celebration. In an effort to continue the level of public support for tree planting that occurred with this program, the Greenbelt parks department is continuing the program through which citizens can purchase trees for planting.

These trees may be purchased for planting on public land including the curb strip in front of homes. In the case of curb strip, there must be sufficient clearing for planting. City crews will plant these trees free of charge. The names of people donating trees to be planted on public property and the location of their tree will be published after spring planting is completed.

This year, four areas in the city have been identified for donated trees:

1) Springhill Lake Area - Bradford pears are needed along Edmonston Road to screen the view of the Beltway ramp.

2) Greenbelt East - white pines and dogwoods will be planted in several areas on the edges of wooded buffer strips.

3) "Buddy" Attick park - pink and white dogwoods will continue to be planted in suitable areas along the lake shore.

4) Greenbelt Cemetery - pink, white and kousa dogwoods will be planted along the edges of the woods.

This year all trees purchased will be container grown. Trees grown in this fashion have their entire root system when transplanted and, therefore, transplant shock is greatly reduced. Container grown trees are, however, slightly more expensive and this is the reason for the increased cost of trees offered in this year's program.

Anyone who would like to purchase a tree through the program, please fill out the form below and drop it off at the city or mail to: City of Greenbelt Adopt-A-Tree, City of Greenbelt, 25 Crescent Rd., Greenbelt, MD 20770.

Kudos to Dave O'Keeffe

To the Editor:

I recently learned that Dave O'Keeffe, a former Lakeside Drive resident, had qualified for the U.S. National Cross-Country Team in a 12-kilometer race in Dallas, Texas. O'Keeffe told me that he plans to run in the World Cross-Country Championships in New Zealand at the same distance.

While looking through the recent issue of Track and Field News, I noticed in the results of the race it mentioned "finishing in 9th and last person to make the team was little known Dave O'Keeffe of Buffalo, N.Y." It meant nothing to me until I realized O'Keeffe has been living in Buffalo while completing his residency in medicine. The reason he is little known is that he found little time to practice and run while in medical school but with this one race he is now known as a member of a national team.

Dr. James Russell Foster

Dr. James Russell Foster, 78, a retired entomologist at the University of Maryland and a long-time Greenbelt resident, died of cancer at his home on March 9.

Foster was born in Springfield, Kentucky. He received his B.A. and M.A. from the University of Kentucky, attended the University of Chicago and received a doctorate from Ohio State University in entomology.

During World War II he served five years in Europe, and a few years later returned to active duty and served in the Korean conflict. He retired about 1965 as a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve.

Dr. Foster was a member of the Reserve Officers Association. He served as State President of the Department of ROA, Secretary-Treasurer of the Prince Georges Chapter and Chairman of the Committee for ROTC Affairs of the Department of Maryland ROA.

Dr. Foster joined the staff at the University of Maryland in 1948, later transferring to the Maryland Department of Agriculture from which he retired in 1974. He was a member of the Washington Torch Club.

In 1959, Dr. Foster moved to Greenbelt. For many years he was an active lay leader in St. Hugh's Catholic Church. From 1978 to 1985 he served as chairman of the parish council's finance committee where he developed the annual budget for parish activities. As president of the St. Vincent DePaul Society he was regularly called on to assist those in need and often took the initiative himself. He was also an officer in the District Council of St. Vincent DePaul. More recently he served on the finance committee and as eucharistic minister for the Catholic Community of Greenbelt. Joseph Loftus, who worked with him in church affairs, characterized Dr. Foster as "a fine gentleman — very kindly, soft-spoken and even-tempered."

Dr. Foster also served Greenbelt Homes, Inc. for almost 20 years. He was a member of the advisory zoning (1965-66) and land use (1967-70) committees. Elected to the Audit Committee from 1970 to 1973, he served as chairman for the last two years. In 1974, Dr. Foster was elected to the GHI Board of Directors. He served as treasurer of the corporation and finance chairman through 1980. He again served on the finance committee in 1983.

Herbert Stewart

Former Greenbelter Herbert J. Stewart, 69, of Weirsdale, Florida and Berlin, New Hampshire, died unexpectedly on March 6 in Florida.

Mr. Stewart was born and raised in Berlin, worked for the Civilian Conservation Corps, was a World War II veteran, and moved to Greenbelt in the early 1950's. After a short stint working for the Federal government, he became a member of the Greenbelt Homes family, where he worked for many years before retiring in 1980.

Mr. Stewart is survived by his sisters, Vera Weber, former longtime resident of Greenbelt, of Weirsdale, Florida; Louise Birt of Berlin, New Hampshire; and 4 nieces, including Jerriann King of Ridge Road.

Memorial services will be held at a later date in New Hampshire.

Prime Cable to Offer Rationale

county body responsible for monitoring the cable system in unincorporated areas of the county. Metrovision has the franchise in the southern section, Prime in the northern sector. Municipalities have been awarded their own franchises and have individual contract with the cable communications operators. Greenbelt's franchise was awarded to Storer Cable in January 1982 for a period of 15 years. Later, Storer sold the system to Prime.

City Gets Involved

When Prime advised the city in February of a $150 installation fee for Universal, the city informed residents in the February 18 News Review of Prime's action by stating: "The difference in installation charges (between the lowest-priced Universal tier and the next higher level service, Cable Plus tier) is significant and city staff is conducting further investigations into the situation."

Prime personnel have pointed out that the increase in the Universal service tier has come about because subscribers in the higher level tiers are subsidizing the Universal subscribers' share of maintaining the cable. Furthermore, the Prime representatives indicate that the increased charge and the new "one-cable converter" will help to restrict subscribers to the Universal tier channels and to discourage subscribers from using the cable system as a substitute for an antenna. The new rate, they say was based on the cost of an antenna. (It should be noted that a conventional antenna would not be able to deliver public access programs.)

Prime Cable has not made clear the effective date for its changes relating to the Universal tier installation charge.

City Response

The city council at its March 21 meeting is expected to be critical of the increased rates for the same reasons they voted unanimously in December 1986 to protest rate hikes in the various tiers. At that time, council described the increases as unreasonable, in particular, the elimination of the original free Universal service, which gave Greenbelters entre to public and community service programs as promised by Storer in their franchise proposal. The new monthly fee in 1986 was established at $7.95 with a nominal installation fee for which the Universal subscriber received a converter that was owned and maintained by Prime.

However, there is now little that municipalities could and can do with respect to rate setting. The rules of the game have changed from the time franchises were awarded. The 1984 Cable Act (as of December 30, 1986) took away rate-setting responsibilities and rights from municipalities, and cable companies are now free to set their own rates.

POLICE BLOTTER

Partial Listing Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

Two attempts at strongarm robbery occurred on March 9 in the 400 block of Ridge Road at the Lakeside North Apartments. In both incidents pizza delivery drivers were set upon as they were coming away from a building where they had tried to deliver a pizza. In each case the drivers had discovered that the residents had not ordered a pizza. As the drivers left the building a white male suspect jumped out of the bushes and attempted to rob them. After investigation, three resident male juveniles and a non-resident female juvenile were arrested in the case by Det./Pfc. David Lucia on March 10. The juveniles were released to their parents pending the filing of charges by the Juvenile Division of the State's Attorney's Office. The ages of the suspects ranged from 14-16 years.

On March 5 at 12:49 a.m. Officer Steven Keller attempted to stop a vehicle on Kenilworth Avenue for a traffic violation. The vehicle did not stop and a chase ensued. The chase ended in Adelphi where the suspects left the vehicle after a minor traffic accident and eluded the police. The car had been stolen the previous day in Montgomery County.

Pfc. Leslie Hodge arrested a non-resident male for impersonating a police officer on March 4. The man displayed a special officer badge to a security officer in Beltway Plaza and said he had a gun in his car. A replica handgun, a rifle and ammunition were found in the car. The man was charged with impersonating a police officer and released on personal recognizance.

Officer Alan Caho discovered glass broken out of the door of a shop in Greenway Shopping Center at 2:43 a.m. on March 10. Investigation showed that a large rock had been thrown through the door. Merchandise was stolen.

Officer Michael Lanier arrested a non-resident male on March 11 after responding to a disturbance complaint in the 7800 block of Mandan Road. The man was charged with disturbing the peace and released on citation.

Between Mar. 4 at 11:30 p.m. and 1:30 a.m. the next morning a 1987 Chevrolet flat bed tow truck, MD T13C28, was stolen from the Beltway Plaza parking lot. Other auto thefts included: a red 1986 Chevrolet Camaro IROC Z28, Md. SMJ 181, stolen from the 8000 block of Mandan Road between 11 p.m. on Mar. 8 and 1:45 p.m. the next day; a 1984 Ford pickup, Md. 615 390, stolen from the 7600 block of Hanover Parkway in the early evening of Mar. 9. In addition, license plates were stolen from the 65 Court of Ridge Road (Md. RPG 609) on March 7 and from 7500 Greenway Center Drive (Md. RNF 825) on March 10.

A wheel and tire were stolen from a vehicle in the 5800 block of Cherrywood Lane during the night of March 8.

On March 10 between 2:15-3:05 p.m. the vent window was broken out of a vehicle parked in the Greenway Shopping Center and a purse and coat were stolen.

"Streetcar" Pleases Audience at Utopia

by Judy Goldstein

"Only Mr. Edgar Allen Poe could have done this place justice," murmurs an appalled Blanche DuBois, as she flutters into the shabby apartment occupied by her sister Stella and brother-in-law Stanley Kowalski. The two women had seen "better days," having grown up on a plantation which is now lost through foreclosure.

Blanche cannot understand Stella's satisfaction with her marriage and her love for her abusive husband. Even before meeting him Blanche derides his lower class background and his Polish descent. In an alcoholic haze, she is alternately insulting and flirtatious. Indeed, while assuming an air of great innocence and fragility, she automatically becomes seductive with every male she encounters, not excluding young boys. Expelled from her teaching position, destitute and desperate, Stella is entirely at the mercy of her loving but helpless sister, whose husband, Stanley, is both repelled and attracted to Blanche.

As portrayed by Halle Eave-lyn, Blanche emerges as both pathetic and endearing. Rhoden Skyles II is aggressively virile as Stanley Kowalski. The very attractive Cheryl Stepanek manages to play the meek sister Stella with sweetness which is not cloying. David Wilson plays Mitch, Blanche's suitor, portraying him as a gentle, ingenuous character. Among the rest of the cast, Eunice Hubbell is particularly effective as the upstairs neighbor.

The director, Mike Stepowany, is to be complimented on the smoothness of this production. Wisely, there was no attempt to clone the part of Stanley into a Marlon Brando imitation.

Among the assets of this show are an excellent set and the really superior costuming, particularly Blanche's tawdry girlish gowns. So realistic is the setting that it comes as a bit of a shock to encounter the ana-

Our condolences to the family of James Foster. His contributions to the Greenbelt community over the years were varied and valuable. He will be missed.

We extend our sincere sympathy to Margaret and Bruno Zannin and family on the death of their daughter Patricia.

Sympathy also to Jerriann King whose uncle, former Greenbelt Herbert J. Stewart, died recently in Florida.

Judy Walsh, Young-adult Librarian at Greenbelt's library, is one of five area residents honored by Washington's St. Patrick's Day Parade Committee for their contributions to the nation through their work or cultural and charitable activities. Specifically, she was honored for her work with Conradh na Gaelige/Washington (The Gaelic League), a cultural group sponsoring and promoting Irish music, history and cultural programs. She joined other honorees at a breakfast taking place before the parade on March 13.

Judy is also a member of the Greater Washington Ceili Club's Glen Echo Irish Folk Festival Committee. Word is that the Library has in her Washington's best contact for information on anything "Irish" going on in the area.

In this play, Tennessee Williams brings forth a romantic, tawdry, sexy, brawling slice of New Orleans life. Along with Blanche, one feels like saying, "I don't want realism, I want magic." And there is magic in this play, and also humor. The audience on Saturday night seemed to enjoy it very much, and one wishes there had been more Greenbelt faces in evidence. We're fortunate to have entertainment of this calibre in Greenbelt - let's support it.

a Master of Science degree from the University of Delaware at the winter commencement ceremonies held January 3. Congratulations.

Now that the Olympics are over, there's another competition capturing the attention of some Greenbelters these days. The Odyssey of the Mind, a competition that challenges the problem-solving abilities of students from the elementary grades all the way up to high school, held its county-competition this last weekend at Prince Georges Community College. Shayna Skolnik, who lives in the 8 Court of Ridge, was part of a winning team from Glenarden Woods Elementary. Her group finished first in the Division 2 (grades 6-8) Straddle Structure competion.

Airman Heather M. Hart has graduated from Air Force Basic Training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. A 1987 graduate of Eleanor Roosevelt High School, she is the daughter of Marie and Jerry Hart of Ridge Road. Well done!

A welcome to Lauren Elizabeth Downs who joined this world on March 3. She was born at Holy Cross Hospital and weighed 8 lbs. 7 ozs. Lauren is the daughter of Margaret and Thomas Downs who now live in Bowie. Brother Patrick, 5, goes to the Greenbelt Nursery School. Her grandparents Delores & John Downs live in the 4 Court of Crescent Road.

It's a boy for former Greenbelt Olga Penney Garber and her husband Jonathan who reside in Corvallis, Oregon. Jonathan Lee Garber Jr. (J.J. for short) arrived on February 16, weighing 8 lbs. He joins his sisters Leah, 9½ and Mary, who will be 8 in April. Like his sisters, he was born at home with the assistance of a midwife. Happy grandparents Walter and Leonie Penney from Northway flew out to Oregon to assist Olga for 12 days with some of the many chores facing a new mother.

Lisa Michele Slone and Rouzbeh D'Jangali are the proud parents of a son, Jeremy Day D'Jangali. Jeremy was born on February 29 at Holy Cross Hospital weighing 8 lbs., 7 oz. Congratulations.

Ryan and Jon Greer of White Birch Court in Boxwood are pleased to announce the arrival of their sister, Lauren Nicole, born February 23, weighing 6 lbs 14 oz. Also, not to go unnoticed are the proud parents, James and Julie Greer.

It's a boy for Janis and Rich McLaughlin of Mebane, N.C. Ryan Scott was born March 6, weighing in at 8 pounds 2 ounces. Proud grandparents are Kathleen and Henry McFarland of Fayette Place.

Roosevelt Center Design Plans

years ago. One design idea which city manager James K. Giese particularly emphasized for prompt decision-making by the council, since it would be urgent for design planning, was the Coffins' suggested redesign of Centerway, with somewhat changed driveway access into the two parking lots.

Redevelopment of the Buildings

Lethbridge, who described the center buildings as "basically sound," emphasized restoring them to an appearance as near as possible to their original state. He particularly stressed the need for resealing the brick facades, which had been damaged by sandblasting. He recommended that they then be repainted to their original white with colored trim.

He also called for restoration of lighting fixtures as close as possible to those which were originally in place. (A few of the original fixtures still exist, though they have not been used in recent years because they are wired to the buildings on which they rest, rather than into the outdoor lighting system controlled by the city). He also called for a return to movable canvas awnings such as were used when the buildings were new.

Along the Centerway facade of the west group of buildings, Lethbridge recommended changing the windows and door opening of the Sovran Bank, a structure added during World War II, after the original buildings had been constructed, to make them conform to the window design of the rest of the facade.

In order to change "the brutal look" of the Co-op building, he recommended an arcade of small shops cut into the building off the north parking lot, to run along both sides of the corner where the postoffice is located. He also recommended removal of the stone facing of the upper level of the Co-op building on the mall and returning the structure to its approximate appearance when it was first constructed. He especially urged that windows face into the open space.

Although the professional building does not conform to the original "modernistic" design of the center, Lethbridge felt that a canopied walkway connecting it to the other buildings would tend to disguise its lack of harmony. This was the one building, he felt, which could eventually be added to, should more space be needed in the center.

The original swimming pool building should be preserved, Lethbridge said, and an addition like the proposed indoor pool should be carefully designed to preserve the spirit of the original. Though he endorsed the design of the newer wing of the Municipal Building, he deplored the inharmonious design of the original portion. He recommended an eventual remodeling with a possible third-story addition.

Design Review Board

The only proposal by the two planners to generate any controversy was Lethbridge's advocacy of a professional design review board, a body of three to five members, to set up guidelines for all changes to be made in the historic part of the city. "It has to have clout behind it,"

Status of a Federal Tax Refund Can Be Discovered

Persons who already filed federal returns and have a refund check coming, may check the refund's status with the Automated Refund Information System; part of the Tele-Tax Information Network.

People will need their social security numbers, filing status, and the exact amount of the refund expected. In Maryland call toll-free 1-800-554-4477 to receive instructions and the status of refund.

The service is available for touch-tone phone users, Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Rotary and pulse dial phone service is available Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Lethbridge said, "What is to be done is serious business. Its review should be mandatory." He said that such a board should include at least one architect, one landscape architect, and one architectural historian. A few people questioned the value of such a review board.

The architects' proposals were to be placed on the agenda for the next regular meeting of city council.

What is nonsurgical gum treatment?

Many people avoid being treated for periodontal (gum) disease because they feel that surgery will be necessary to treat the condition. Recently published studies, however, have shown that, in many cases, periodontal disease can be controlled through a combination of nonsurgical methods.

Known as the Keyes Technique (rhymes with "eyes"), it is based on the research of Dr. Paul Keyes, a former scientist for the National Institute of Health. He found that, following a careful professional cleaning and scaling of the teeth, the regular daily use of a specific combination of peroxide, baking soda and salt can control the bacteria thought to be responsible for periodontal disease. Professional supervision along with continuous monitoring with a microscope is absolutely essential.

It must be stressed that, although growing in popularity, the technique has not yet been proven under scientifically controlled conditions. Nevertheless, dentists nationwide have reported high levels of success, and, where there was a failure to respond favorably, traditional surgical methods could still be utilized.
