School Transfer Issues Discussed By City Council and School Board

by Diane Oberg

The Greenbelt City Council met with representatives of the Prince Georges County School Board on July 18 to discuss issues relating to the transfer of the city-owned North End School for Center School. The city and school system staffs will develop an agreement for the transfer, with additional meetings between council and school representatives only if issues emerge that cannot be resolved by the staffs.

In a survey conducted by the school board and in the June 29 bond referendum, Greenbelt citizens indicated their preference for a new elementary school on the site of the city-owned North End School, with Center School converted to a city community center. Now the city, the school board and the county must agree on terms for the exchange. An all-day planning session will be held in the city on August 2 so that citizens can participate in planning the new school.

The main point of contention between the city and the school board was the city's request that all asbestos at Center School either be removed or encapsulated before the building is turned over to the city. Associate Superintendent of Schools Frank Tracy assured the city that all federal standards for asbestos in schools have been met. Director of Planning John Huffman said that testing showed the ceiling tiles to be asbestos free.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld noted replacement of the heating system will require removal of some asbestos and requested that this be done before the transfer. However, Deputy Superintendent Ed Fellego said that the city must assume that responsibility since the school system had no immediate plans to replace that equipment. Fellego said that he would provide the city with the results of an asbestos analysis for Center.

The city's other main concern was preservation of the wooded area around the North End site. While the school representatives said that they could not make any definite statements about how much of the land could be left undisturbed until later in the planning process, they professed sensitivity for the preservation of woodlands. Fellego noted that the school system had no desire to disturb land if it is not needed for educational purposes.

Greenbelt School Board representative Suzanne Plogman noted that she had received a letter from one of the homeowners closest to the site and that the nearby residents would be invited to participate in the planning process.

Huffman said that in previous discussions, citizens had requested that a separate driveway and bus loading zone be provided. However, provision of such a zone will require placing the building further back on the site, increasing the loss of woodlands.

David Lange asked about a dispute between the school board and the county library system over the boundary between the library and Center School, most notably who owned the parking lot. School Board attorney Paul Nussbaum denied that there was a dispute, saying that the library lease clearly leaves the lot in the board of education property. However, he said that he was "not in a position to answer" Lange's question of whether the lot would be transferred to the city.

Other Concerns

There was little debate, or even discussion, about the city's other requests for Center School. These items included city access to the school for inspections before the transfer, assurance that the building will be properly maintained, transfer of the kitchen equipment in working condition and an historic inventory of fixtures and equipment.

The city also asked the school representatives to consider whether they would like to rent some space in Center School after the transfer. Weidenfeld explained that the city would be interested in providing space for recreational, educational or cultural activities of benefit to residents and others. In addition, he said that although the city was not primarily interested in leasing out office space, if the city cannot immediately utilize the entire building, the city might rent some of it to help defray operating costs. Fellego said that they had no immediate plans to rent space for either purposes, but would take it into consideration now that they know it is a possibility.

North End School

The city also had some concerns about the new school to be built on the North End site. Again, most of these topics met with no opposition from school system representatives. In addition to preservation of green space, the city sought opportunities for the city and its citizens to participate in planning the school and hoped for a joint use agreement for the athletic fields and other facilities.

One request, for community center facilities such as exist in Deerfield Elementary School in Laurel, received a negative hearing. Fellego noted that although the school system would like to comply, the Deerfield facility, he said, had been built with assistance from the Maryland National Park and Planning Commission. Since that assistance is no longer available, Fellego indicated that the budget would determine what can be provided. Plogman noted that, at minimum, city groups will be able to use the school on a rental basis.

The budget similarly will determine whether the city's final request, for a hardwood floor in the gym, can be met. Fellego said the school representatives will look at that request, but that it may have to be done on an "if bid accommodates" basis.

Schedule

Director of Planning John Huffman said that the school system must provide a rough schematic design for the new elementary school to the state by September 1 in order to receive funding. The planning process will be completed between then and June 1990, at which time construction will begin. The school should then be completed in time for the beginning of the 1992-93 school year.

Citizens May Participate In School Design Phase

The Prince Georges County Public Schools will conduct two sessions on the schematic design for the new elementary school to be constructed on the North End Elementary School site.

The first session will be held Monday, July 31 at the William Paca Instructional Services/Staff Development Center, 7801 Sheriff Road, Landover at 1:30 p.m. This session will provide the instructional and supervisory staff an opportunity to assist in designing the new school to meet the county's educational standards.

The second session will be held Wednesday, August 2 at the Center School Media Center from 1 to 6 p.m. This session will provide an opportunity for community leaders and citizens participation in the initial design phase.

R. C. Garcia of the SHWC, Inc. Architect-Engineers-Planners will conduct the design sessions.

In order to receive state funding for the school, a schematic design must be submitted to the Interagency Committee on School Construction by September 1.

RABBI & MRS. KENNETH BERGER KILLED IN IOWA PLANE CRASH

by Elaine Skolnik

Former Greenbelter Rabbi Kenneth R. Berger, age 42, and his wife, Aviva, age 40, were among the passengers killed in the crash of United Airlines Flight 232 in Sioux City, Iowa on July 19. Two of their children who were on the flight were injured. Avigayl, age 16, is hospitalized in serious condition and Jonathan, age 8, is in satisfactory condition. Not traveling with the family was the Berger's third child, Ilona, age 13, who was at Camp Perlman in Starlight, Pennsylvania.

Rabbi Berger, Mishkan Torah's spiritual leader from 1974 to 1981, was a member of the first graduating class of the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College in Philadelphia. During his tenure at Mishkan Torah, the Conservative synagogue became the first in the metropolitan area to affiliate also with the Reconstructionist movement. It was the first synagogue in Prince Georges County and the third in the area to have its religious school granted full accreditation by the Metropolitan Washington Board of Jewish Education. Rabbi Berger and his wife spent summers in B'nai Brith's Camp Perlman, where the rabbi was on the staff.

At the time of his death Rabbi Berger led the congregation of Temple Rodeph Shalom in Tampa, Florida.

During his years in Greenbelt, Rabbi Berger participated in community affairs and enjoyed marching with the clergy in the Labor Day parade and working at the Mishkan Torah booth during the festivities. He was an active member of the Greenbelt Clergy.

Reflecting on the Greenbelt Clergy and his friendship with Rabbi Berger, the Reverend Edward Birner of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church, said, "It was a significant time for Greenbelt's religious leaders, who built up a marvelous relationship through our discussions and our meetings with theologians. . . . Kenny was so open to this kind of discussion."

Rev. Birner said that he and his wife, Nancy, were reminiscing about the times we had Sabbath dinner with Kenny and Aviva and about the time we became the (temporary) "sole owners" of all the "chometz" food before the Passover holiday. He said, "I know the Bergers were responsible for planting trees in our name in Israel."

Reverend Birner also recounted that when the Greenbelt Clergy group was formed, he wondered "whether we could speak the name of Jesus Christ in front of the rabbi." Rabbi Berger's response was, Mr. Birner said, "Ed, nothing you would say would ever offend me."

Rabbi Berger also brought to the group an awareness of all clergy besides the Christian-Judaic religions.

The rabbi has been described as caring and "always being there" when someone was in need. Rabbi Saul Grife, the present rabbi of Mishkan Torah, called him a "great friend and wonderful colleague from whom I learned a lot."

Arnold Strasser, a former president of the congregation, said, "Ken was a man who pushed himself and others to look beyond what they thought of themselves and to think big and to be first class." Jordan Choper observed, "The rabbi touched a lot of people and brought out their abilities for leadership in the synagogue and Jewish community."

"Rabbi Berger was a regular guy—he enjoyed children and played on the synagogue softball team," recalled Dave Herschler, president of the congregation.

Aviva Berger's friends remembered her as caring and willing to participate when called upon. She was born in Israel and had served in the Israeli army.

Choper described Aviva as "a very strong individual with a quiet manner. She was concerned about her children's welfare and their activities as well as the activities of the synagogue. Mindful of being the rabbi's wife, she was skilled in getting her ideas across in a diplomatic manner."

In addition to their children, Rabbi and Mrs. Berger are survived by Rabbi Berger's parents, Jules and Lillian Berger of Philadelphia, and two brothers, Barry and Sam and Aviva's mother of Florida, a sister and brother.

A memorial service will be held tonight, Thursday, July 27, at 8 p.m. at the Mishkan Torah. Expressions of sympathy may be made in the form of donations to the Rabbi Kenneth and Aviva Berger Memorial Fund for Furthering Education, c/o Mishkan Torah, Ridge and Westway Roads, Greenbelt 20770.

In Memoriam

It was with great sadness that we learned of the tragedy which has befallen the Berger family as a result of the United Airlines Flight 232 disaster.

Ken and Aviva were our next-door neighbors here in Greenbelt for over five years. During that time we had the pleasure of sharing many wonderful and enjoyable moments together including birthday celebrations, sports events, (hockey was Ken's favorite) and just getting together for family cook-outs.

Our deepest sympathies are extended to their survivors and to those Ken led at the Mishkan Torah congregation. They will always be in our thoughts and prayers.

We missed them when they moved from Greenbelt, and now we will miss them forever.
 Wayne and Kathleen Smith

Cool It!

To the Editor:

I have been almost silent in the debate as to whether and where to have a community center, but I have been increasingly distressed at the bitterness engendered by some of the partisans on (I think) both sides. I'll bet I'm not alone.

Let's face it: A decent person might have considered as many of the many, many factors as he/she could think about without getting befuddled, and then might have decided either way. There were and are persuasive arguments against putting it at each site. There are even arguments which apparently persuade some folks that we should not have a community center (and here I'm not including those who said vote "no" as a means of getting the center at North End).

I know, and respect, persons in both camps. I myself had troubles deciding which way to vote. Cannot the partisans finally moderate their emotions? Here is one man who had a letter in the News Review after the voting was over, attacking the result. Here is another, who lost in the referendum, and now sets forth a fine set of "terms and conditions" for unity — apparently non-negotiable demands as the price of political peace. And then there are the two ladies who, consistently for the past few years, have been against any bond issues, any spending, for capital improvements and who now declare political war on four incumbent city council members.

Oliver Cromwell once urged that extreme partisans consider for a moment: "... think it possible you may be mistaken." I urge that thought today. Cool it, fellow Greenbelters!

Mat Amberg

"Newtown Approaches"

To the Editor:

In dealing with the result of the recent referendum, we must do everything possible to make sure Center School works as a community activities facility. The programs proposed for Center School must be provided adequate space, improved accessibility to Center School must be assured, and the other elements of the entire center area must be strongly linked. In other words, the strong interrelationship originally envisioned in 1937 is vital to realizing a well patronized, thriving program at Center School. However, to achieve these high goals, it will be necessary for the city to broaden its definition of a Community Center so that it includes the library, the museum, the recreational facilities, the commercial center and immediately surrounding residential areas.

Therefore, I propose that the City, in conjunction with Federal, State and County governments and private sector developers, establish the Roosevelt Community Center Economic Development Corporation.

This corporation would provide public/private sector monies for: (1) low interest loans to private developers, keeping the cost of renovation of commercial properties down; (2) community property improvements (e.g., to cover funding not projected in maintenance of renovation of Center School); (3) meeting expanded parking needs, (4) strengthening linkage between various facilities (e.g., the converted school, the recreation center and the commercial center could all be linked via a skywalk, improving accessibility and reducing pedestrian/vehicular conflict); (5) to facilitate transportation between sites outside the center, including the new metro site, further increasing accessibility to all of these community center activities.

If our Council and City Manager have the willingness to bring our city together through creative, newtown approaches, we will have made the best of our most recent decision.

Swim Team News

by Meadow Wirick

1989 has been a good year for the Greenbelt Swim Team. We've gotten many fast new swimmers. The coach says, "An undefeated season is the result of team effort, not just the efforts of a few individuals. No one swimmer has finished the season undefeated." The scores have been Greenbelt at Prince Georges Council 284-238; Cheverly at Greenbelt 276-260; Greenbelt at Bannister 267-261; Greenbelt at West Laurel 281-251; Temple Hills at Greenbelt 277-259.

These are some of the outstanding races. The girls graduated relay (Kathy Barwick, Jenny Drake, Morgan Graft, and Jean Kepler) took almost four seconds off the Greenbelt pool record which had been previously held by Adelphi girls. Josh Kepler took two seconds off his IM time in order to beat a previously undefeated Temple Hills swimmer. Nine-year-old Jonathan Meer, the coach's "swimmer of the week," got fifth place in the 11/12-year-olds butterfly.

Divisionals are Saturday, July 29, at Bannister. Warm ups will begin at 8:05. Caravan will leave Greenbelt pool at 8:45 a.m.

Sunday there will be a splash party for all team members. (Families please call Maggie Cox at 262-6513 about pot-luck.)

The American Legion is sponsoring our awards banquet on Sunday, September 17.

2 Employees Inhale Fumes At Greenbelt Post Office

On Wednesday, July 19, two U.S. Postal employees inhaled toxic fumes from a leaking package and were treated at Doctor's Hospital and released.

As postal truck driver Richard Overstreet was unloading packages at the Greenbelt post office, he was overcome by fumes about 7:20 a.m. He contacted postal superintendent Bill Bonner who also inhaled the fumes. After complaining of dizziness and blurry vision the Prince Georges fire and hazardous materials units were called. The men were transported to Doctor's Hospital where they were treated and released. Returning to work they were sent home for the rest of the day, according to a post office spokesman. Both men are now back on the job.

The cause of the difficulty was a package containing five gallon containers of trichloroethene, a low-toxicity hydrocarbon used as a cleaner and metal degreaser. Two of the containers were upside down and leaking. The package was addressed to the Goddard Space Flight Center. Security personnel from the Center later picked up the re-sealed package.

MORE HOSTS NEEDED

On August 6, twenty-five Japanese students will arrive in the Greenbelt area, excited about spending three weeks in the United States as part of the International Training and Exchange (INTRAX) program. But program coordinator Suzanne Zapposodi is growing more nervous as the arrival date looms closer. Host families from the northern Prince Georges County area are still needed for eight of the students.

Some families worry that the language barrier may prove insurmountable, but the coordinator said that some of the students have had up to 6 or 7 years of English classes in school.

For information about hosting a student, contact Suzanne Zapposodi at 441-9020.

Police Blotter

Monday, July 17, Officer Carl Schinner investigated a disturbance in the 100 block of Roosevelt Center Mall. Breaking glass and shouted obscenities were heard, apparently caused by a 30-year-old non-resident, who was arrested. A search revealed a quantity of suspected PCP in the suspect's pocket. He was charged with disorderly intoxication, possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS), possession of CDS paraphernalia and resisting arrest and was held on $1,000 bond, pending trial.

Pfc. Troy Harding arrested a 20-year-old non-resident in the 100 block of Centerway on Sunday morning, July 16, after he was observed consuming an alcoholic beverage. He was charged with possession of an open alcoholic beverage in public and released on a citation pending trial.

While on foot patrol in the rear of the 6000 block of Springhill Drive on July 14, Officer Barry Byers observed a man smoking suspected "crack" cocaine. A search revealed a small quantity of suspected "crack" in his pocket. A resident male was arrested and charged with possession of CDS and was held on $500 bond pending trial.

Assaults and Armed Robbery
A 35-year-old non-resident reported on July 15 that as he exited his vehicle in the rear of AMC 8 at Beltway Plaza, a man approached him demanding money. When he refused, the man stabbed the victim with a large hunting knife. The victim was taken to Leland Memorial Hospital by witnesses. The man was last seen running towards Cherrywood Terrace.

resident reported being the victim of a strong-arm robbery in the outside Golden Dome at Beltway Plaza on July 17. According to the victim, two males approached him and grabbed a gold necklace from his neck. They then ran to the parking lot and fled with two additional people. All are juveniles, the first two described as black males, 5'11", medium weight; the other two only described as short.

A 16-year-old non-resident reported that, as he was standing at a bus stop in the 7500 block of Mandan Road on Friday, July 14, the occupants of a 1989 Buick 4-door, blue, unknown model, bearing Maryland registration WLG 394, assaulted him. The victim reported that during the assault a semi-automatic handgun and what he believed was a sawed-off shotgun were displayed. He was treated at PG Doctor's Hospital for a cut on his forehead and released.

Pfc. Matthew Carr obtained an arrest warrant on July 10 for a 19-year-old nonresident man, charging him with indecent exposure on July 2 on the lake trail at Buddy Attick Park. The warrant has been turned over to the county sheriff's office for service.

Officer Barry Byers stopped a vehicle that was being operated in an erratic manner. While speaking with the driver, he smelled PCP (phencyclidine). A search revealed a quantity of suspected PCP. The woman was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated, driving while under the influence of drugs and alcohol, and possession of PCP. She was held on $3,000 bond, pending trial.

A sexual assault was reported on July 13 about 6:45 p.m., that had just occurred in the side parking lot of Jaspers in Greenway Center. The suspect, who fled on foot, is described as a black man, age 24, 5 ft. 10 in., thin build, and wearing a light blue shirt and dark blue dress pants.

A man entered a residence in the 7300 block of Sunrise Court on July 11 about 9:15 a.m., by prying open the front door. Stereo equipment was reported stolen. The man is described as white, late 40's, 5 ft. 6 in., slender build and driving an older model, 2-door red vehicle.

Cpl. James Parker arrested a 14-year-old resident after he attempted to leave Marshall's in Beltway Plaza with merchandise he had not paid for.

While arguing with a man, a 17-year-old resident woman was thrown to the ground and kicked in the mouth in the 44 court of Ridge Road. A short time later the man turned himself in to police. Jack Basil Sapienze, 22, of 444 Ridge Road was arrested and charged with battery. He was held on $500 bond.

When It All Stacks Up, Merrill Lynch Realty Associates are #1!

The Figures are in! When the Washington Business Journal added it up, Merrill Lynch Realty came out ahead. According to their April 25, 1988 report, we sell more properties per associate and average a higher sales volume than the four other major brokers in the area. In fact, Merrill Lynch Realty averaged 10 sales units per associate in 1987. That's almost 30% more than our nearest competitor. In addition, our average sales volume was almost $1.5 million per associate.

If you're an experienced associate and you'd like to increase your earnings, find out how you can Team Up With The Best.

Our Neighbors

by Dorrie Bates

We were saddened to hear of the tragic death of Rabbi Kenneth and Aviva Berger who were killed in the crash of United Airlines Flight 232 in Sioux City, Iowa last week.

Our sympathy to News Review staffer Joanne Tucker on the death of her father, Joseph Schwartz of Lanham.

Condolences to Kenneth (Petey) Doss and family whose father, Earl C. Doss, Sr., died July 25.

Gertrude Law wrote in with news of a local boy who went on to achieve great things. Brian Paul Williams was born in 1964 at 46 Ridge Road. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Phletus Williams, Jr. and grandson of the late Phletus Williams, Sr., Brian is now a very well known European ice hockey player. After two years in Germany, he has come to visit his grandmother Rita Williams who lives in the 12 Court of Crescent. Brian was thrilled to show his wife and little baby girl Greenbelt Lake where he first learned to ice skate.

Ralph Noble is now in the Greenbelt Nursing Home, Room T4. He would appreciate hearing from his friends in Greenbelt.

Congratulations to Sara Bomberg, whose 80th birthday celebration on June 23 brought out a host of friends to an open house in her honor at the Fountain Lodge in Springhill Lake. Sara has been active in a variety of volunteer activities and associates from many of those groups came to help her celebrate. We join in wishing her well.

Speaking of birthdays—belated congratulations to Vaneta Reilly who celebrated her 90th birthday this spring. Friends from her hometown of Altoona, Pa., joined local family and friends at the home of her daughter and son-in-law Lori and Tom Moran, where Vaneta lives.

More word from the halls of academia about Greenbelt students. Michael Walker of Candlewood Place has made the Chancellor's List at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Michael had a 4.0 average.

Margaret Williamson has graduated from Georgia Tech with high honors. A bio-physics major, Margaret was resident assistant for three years and a teaching assistant for two. Before beginning her studies at Emory Medical School, Margaret is touring Southern Europe. Proud parents are Jim and Mary Lou Williamson of 45 Ridge

Champion Jaywalker

Pauline Stickels wins the Jaywalker 6K race walk for women.

A Greenbelt resident, Pauline Stickels, is enjoying her laurels as the first-place winner of the Jaywalker 6K (3.75 miles) race walk for women held in Hanover PA. on June 6. Pauline, who works as an Operation Moving Ahead aide at Greenbelt Center School, finished the race in a time of 33:49, covering the first mile in 8:42 and beating out the second place finisher and last year's champ by over a minute.

Ragtime Concert Sunday

The Rosebud Ragtime Ensemble will perform on Sunday, July 30 at 7 p.m. at the Buddy Attick Park. All residents and guests are welcome.

Take Needlepoint Classes

Learn to needlepoint and make lovely things for birthdays and holidays. The class is in progress from 12:30 - 2:30 p.m. in the Morrison Lounge at the Greenbelt Youth Center.

People must supply their own materials. Bring a sheet of plastic canvas, a #18 needle and yarn. Instructions and some patterns are available. For more information, call Karen at 474-6878.

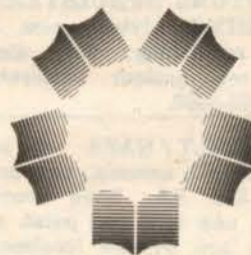

ATTENTION

GHI MEMBERS

Parking court patching & sealing has begun and will extend through August 19th. If you will be out of town during this period please move any vehicles you own to the street to avoid being towed should the work on your court take place while you are away. Please check the Spring newsletter to see if your court is scheduled to receive this work. You may also call the GHI receptionist at 474-4161 for this information.

Members are being advised by door hanger in advance of the day their court is scheduled. In order for the contractor to keep on schedule cars not removed from the court prior to the actual work commencing are subject to towing at the member's expense.

JOE'S TIPS OF THE WEEK

Hello Again:
While enduring these hot muggy days, one little piece of plastic can cause a world of overheating problems to your late model vehicle. With the newer stream-lined body contour that our vehicles incorporate and the limited front grill area, fresh air entry is limited. Mounted underneath the front grill area, approximately 12-16 inches in back of the bumper area, there is a plastic air directional wing. This piece of plastic directs fresh air into the front grill area and radiator for cooling at highway speeds. Without it, at highway speeds and engine overload there is just not enough fresh air circulation for cooling. The most common problem with these air wings is that they get knocked off when parking at front curb stops, and they also get removed without knowing just what function they serve.
