Greenbelt Police Expect to Occupy Their New Quarters in September

by Sandra Barnes

Their own state-of-the-art, stand alone police station is about to become a reality to Greenbelt Police Chief James Craze and Lieutenant Kenneth Stair. Within a month or so, the police hope to occupy their $2,225,000 building set back behind the trees near the corner of Kenilworth Avenue and Crescent Road.

Over five years ago, the idea of having a police facility apart from the Municipal Building which has served the police for 26 years gained the support of the citizens and the city council. An expanding police force, a growing city with big city drug crimes, and a squadron of officers writing out reports in hallways spelled out the need.

Today, the two-story sand-colored brick building, with its distinctive Art Deco brown bands and glass brick, is nearly completed by the Edmar Construction Company. Designed by the Greenbelt architects Grimm and Parker, it blends so well with the rest of the city that except for the mounds of construction dirt, one has the feeling the building was built in 1937 by the Resettlement Administration.

1989 Technology

Once inside the building, however, you are aware that this facility fulfills its users' dreams—a very modern building with 1989 technology. Most people will enter the building on the upper level although sixty percent of the 16,000 square feet is below ground.

The upper level is the public area. A dispatcher will sit at a control center in a large glass enclosed area to the left of the entrance. Video cameras monitor doors throughout the building. Sophisticated security and communications systems are controlled by the dispatcher. Visiting police officers will be required to check their weapons in a gun locker placed beside the dispatcher's window to avoid possible confrontations in the public area.

There is a public meeting room to the right of the dispatcher. Able to accommodate 50 or more persons, the room may be reserved by local groups. A unique feature of the room is the peaked ceiling with fluorescent lighting which gives the effect of skylights. During the day, the room will be used for specialized training. Chief Craze feels that the Greenbelt police will receive a lot of free training as a result of having an available facility that other police also may use.

To the right of the entrance is a small room with curving glass brick walls and pale blue carpeting. This will be used by persons who are distraught and need privacy. The room is designed to suggest calm.

Upper Floor

Also on the first floor are the computer room and rooms for the administrative staff including the police chief, secretaries, patrol commanders, purchasing, payroll, records, and a conference room. A crime laboratory will enable one person and three assistants trained in forensic science to process evidence including fingerprinting, chemical analysis, blood testing. The room has its own emergency shower should a worker be temporarily blinded by caustic chemicals. A photography laboratory adjoins this room, permitting the police to process their own film.

The lower level houses police operations. A property and evidence room is specially constructed with brick from floor to ceiling to be secure. Entry codes are changed monthly. Plus, the dispatcher controls access to this room.

Armory

The armory is another room that is virtually explosion proof and fire proof. It contains a storehouse of bullets and other explosives and has specially constructed walls and heavy metal door.

In Greenbelt, persons arrested for crimes are held usually a maximum of two hours before they are transferred to the County jail in Upper Marlboro. Nevertheless security is maximum. The officer with a prisoner will drive into a sally port, a special fenced area at the lower level. The officer will exit his vehicle and check his gun in a gun locker beside the entrance door. "We don't want to make a bad situation worse," Chief Craze comments. Once his gun is checked, the officer will escort the prisoner through the door which See POLICE STATION, page 7

Council Approves Benefit Program For Temporarily Disabled Employees

by Virginia Beauchamp

At the regular meeting on Monday, July 10 the Greenbelt City Council unanimously passed a series of ordinances and an enabling resolution establishing a new program of temporary disability benefits for city employees. Among the provisions of this new program are the creation of a special Temporary Disability Reserve Fund, from which disbursements would be paid; the doubling of the present administrative leave period which the City Manager may grant to any employee who is injured on the job; and specific definitions and guidelines under which employees may claim benefits.

The city has developed its own disability program, according to City Manager James K. Giese, because it can offer "better benefits than could be obtained through private insurance coverage" and at no greater cost. The new ordinances have been in the works for some time and were discussed at a council worksession on June 29, after which the enabling resolution was revised upward to provide cost of living adjustments to authorized disability payments. Rules were suspended at the July 10 meeting so that the amended resolution could be considered for second reading and voted on by the council.

Establishment of Fund

The nucleus of the new fund will come from the balance of another reserve fund, which was set up to pay for unfunded accrued liability for the retirement of city employees, for which a final payment of $43,500 will be owed to the State of Maryland in 1990. (As this fund has been earning interest, the total amount of money set aside has increased beyond the needs for which it was established. Presently more than $200,000 remains in the fund.) As needed, other monies will be added to the Temporary Disability Reserve Fund to maintain a balance which is to equal 3% of budgeted salaries and wages paid to city employees during the previous year. City employees themselves will pay no money to support this program.

Disbursements from this new reserve fund can be made for the following purposes: temporary disability benefits, legal and other professional fees related to challenging claims, and administration of the program itself. Funds above the level of immediate needs for disbursement can be invested in short-term interest-bearing notes, bonds or other obligations. As needed, the city manager may transfer, as authorized by council, unexpended funds from the city's General Fund into this special reserve fund to maintain it.

Secondary School Registration Held

Early registration for new secondary school students in all middle and high schools in Prince Georges County schools will be held August 7. One counselor will be present at each middle school and two at each high school.

Students must bring their immunization records, birth certificate, proof of residence (lease, settlement papers, etc.), transcript or report cards and recent standardized test scores to register.

Call individual schools for specific times. Students unsure of the schools they will attend should call the School Boundaries Office, 952-6300.

Benefits Plan

Previously an employee injured on the job could be granted up to 240 hours of administrative leave, in addition to sick leave and vacation leave. Under the terms of the new ordinance, the maximum amount of administrative leave will double to 480 hours with adequate medical documentation. Compensation will be paid at the employee's normal rate of pay, less the amount of compensation already paid by worker's compensation insurance.

In cases where the employee's injury permits him or her to function at a lesser level than previously, that employee may be given a temporary work assignment including lighter duties or shorter work hours. Approval for such substitute work must be granted by the employee's physician. The employee will be paid at the rate of the permanent assignment.

Whether the employee is injured on or off the job, short-term disability coverage shall continue for one year from the date of injury and may be extended for another year. The rate of compensation, beginning 31 days after the disability occurs, will be two-thirds of the regular salary or wages for a 40-hour work week. (Overtime pay is not included in computing this compensation package.) After six months, compensation will be reduced to 50%. For on-the-job injuries, disability payments will begin after administrative leave is used up—that is, after almost three months.

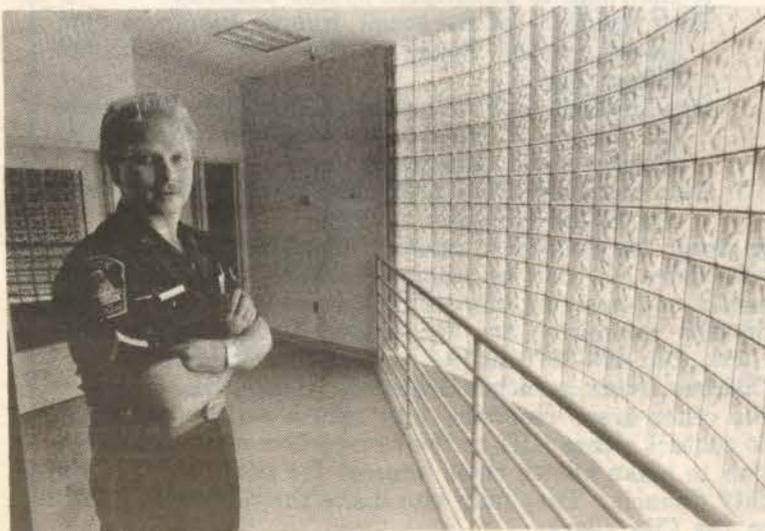

Maternity Leave

Included in the new compensation package for disability are provisions for maternity leave. A pregnant employee is expected to work up to the day of childbirth, unless a medical determination recommends otherwise. Normally disability benefits for childbirth would not last beyond the 42nd day following the birth of the child but could be extended in case of medical complications.

During the time of an employee's disability, the city will make its normal contributions to benefit plans provided by the city, including contributions to the Maryland State Retirement See PENSION, page 5

Letters to the Editor

Passions Still Burn

To the Editor:

In a recent letter, Mat Amberg, for whom I have the deepest respect, turned his disapproval my way, I'm afraid. He calls for cooler heads to prevail, and I figure my ears hang from one of the hotter ones. The immediate cause of Mr. Amberg's concern is the acrimony generated by the recent vote on the Center School issue. There is a deeper significance here, however, that deserves some attention.

Democracy implies that the community will abide by the will of the majority. It does not mean that the unsuccessful minorities in any issue will cease to have strong feelings and convictions merely because they are unpopular. I suspect that Mr. Amberg is at least as familiar with the reality of this concept as I am.

Feelings that can be un-felt, or even modulated, by the outcome of an election are not feelings worthy of the depth of controversy Greenbelt has just experienced. Bitterness and acrimony are the signs of commitment and passion. They are healthy signs of community activism and awareness. The alternative, Mr. Amberg, leads to tyranny.

Citizen Input Limited

Open Letter To School Board:

I am writing to express my disappointment at the short notice and scheduling during working hours of the School Board's schematic design session for the new Greenbelt Elementary School.

The notice of this session, billed as "an opportunity for community leaders and citizen participation," was published in the July 28 News Review (which comes out on Friday), giving residents just four to five days' notice of the August 2 event.

Moreover, citizen participation in this session will be severely limited due to the daytime scheduling.

Though we are working within a short deadline, I see no reason why this session couldn't have been advertised earlier and scheduled in the evening so that those who wished to participate wouldn't be forced to take off from work. The present arrangement does little to inspire confidence in the School Board's willingness to provide for citizen input in the planning process for our new school.

Ruth E. Kastner

No Distortion Intended

To the Editor:

In my "Cool It" letter to the editor (July 27), citing the post-referendum attacks in the News Review, I mentioned "the two ladies who, consistently for the past few years, have been against any bond issues, any spending, for capital improvements."

I was talking about the continuing eruptions by some partisans in the debate over whether and where to have a community center, which I believe could have been decided either way by decent persons. I was trying to urge folks to simmer down.

But, one of the two ladies has phoned me objecting to my characterizing them as having "consistently" opposed "any bond issues, any spending, for capital improvements..." She says they have not opposed "capital improvements" such as roads, only "luxuries." She says they did not oppose the $1 million bond issue for Schrom Hills Park nor the Greenbelt Museum "concept" (they wanted the museum funded by private donations, grants, etc., not by the city). I agree that my language was imprecise and too sweeping. I did not and do not intend distorting the ladies' record; I was conveying my impression based on the letters they had written and I was talking about Greenbelt public spending.

I still say, "cool it, fellow Greenbelters." Invest our talent and vigor in bigger issues, or, if we insist on fighting about smaller ones, at least pick more clear-cut ones and still maintain civility.

Mat Amberg

Domino's Pizza Set to Open August 14 at Centerway

by Helen Webb

Domino's Pizza is set to open at 151 Centerway on Monday, August 14, according to Mike Pfabe, Development Coordinator and Corporate Comptroller for Chesapeake Pizza, the franchisee that will operate the store. Chesapeake Pizza currently owns 12 Domino's Pizza franchises in the area.

The Greenbelt location will be responsible for delivering pizzas in the area within a one-mile radius of the store, according to Pfabe. There will be no in-store dining facilities; however, pizzas can be carried out. No employees had been hired as of the end of July; however, Pfabe anticipates that the store will employ from 30 to 35 full- and part-time workers.

A major concern of Greenbelt residents is the safety hazard that speeding drivers trying to deliver pizzas on time might cause. Pfabe said that Domino's is committed to maintaining a safety-conscious fleet of drivers. Drivers must be at least 18 years of age, have a license, car and insurance, and a safe driving record. "All new drivers must take a defensive driving course within a few weeks of being hired," Pfabe said. "We also have a safety director who follows the drivers and completes a report every month on each driver." Additionally, he said that drivers are not held financially liable for late pizzas, and that drivers use their own cars because Domino's has found that "drivers are more careful in their own cars."

Pfabe also pointed out that, since pizzas only take 10-11 minutes to make and that almost every location in the store's territory is no more than 5 minutes from Roosevelt Center, there is no reason for delivery to take even close to the 30 minutes the company guarantees.

In preparation for opening, the site of the store is currently being renovated. Outside painting will be done using the color scheme the city government hopes to see the rest of the Center merchants adopt soon, according to Pfabe.

City Auction Offers

The room was hot, humid and reeked of mold, but dozens of people came to look for bargains at the Greenbelt Police auction at North End School on Saturday, June 24. Sponsored by the city of Greenbelt, the items auctioned off were surplus and unclaimed merchandise.

There were clothes, tools, housewares, radios, cassette players, old coins, and jewelry, but by far the most numerous item was bicycles. There were several rows of bikes lined up in military precision down the length of the room. The prices were low and just right for a kid in need of a bike. Some bought more than one; one man bought a pick-up truck full plus a kayak.

There was not much demand for the second most numerous item: fire extinguishers. But people did buy another plentiful item—balance beam scales like those used in science classes.

As with any auction, the prices at which items were sold were surprising. A pair of brand new Nike shoes (which the police identified as having been dropped as a suspect fled) went for $1. The best one-dollar bargain, however was eight, 1980's vintage, quarters which have no collecting value.

At the other end of the price scale—$15 for 10 pillow cases and $45 for 11 sheet sets that had been sitting for several years in a moldy, musty room.

Among the unusual items sold at the auction were: a Ninja sword, a box of 23 stuffed panda bears, eight to 10 brand new green and yellow Adidas shorts with matching shirts, a Sharp copying machine, 1/5 of Vodka and a keg with tap.

Green Honored by MML At Testimonial Dinner

The Maryland Municipal League, a nonprofit, nonpartisan federation working on the behalf of 416 municipal governments and two special taxing districts in Maryland, presented an Honorary Membership to State Senator Leo Green (D-23) for outstanding service as a legislator. In the League's 53 year history, only four other people outside of past presidents of MML, have been honored in this manner.

The League commended Green for his strong advocacy on behalf of cities and towns throughout his career in public service. League President, Mayor Don Bradley of Hurlock, recognized Green as a "legislator who has logged many long hours at the State House in support of the interests of municipal government."

Outstanding Citizen Award Received by Noble in 1979

by Sandra Barnes

It was ten years ago, on Labor Day weekend, that then 75-year-old Ralph Noble received one of Greenbelt's highest awards — that of Outstanding Citizen for 1979. On receiving the award from the Labor Day Festival Committee, an astonished Noble commented, "I'll look it over to be sure it's right . . . It's a great honor . . . a great society."

August 13 is the deadline for nominations for this year's Outstanding Citizen. See nomination form on page 5.)

Noble has been a Greenbelt resident for 36 years. Currently in ill health, he is in the Greenbelt Nursing Home. His wife of 63 years, Beatrice, died earlier this year.

Ralph Noble was honored by his community for his many worthwhile accomplishments. The News Review article of September 13, 1979, aptly described his contributions:

... He has been extremely active in the Mowatt Memorial United Methodist Church and has held almost every position there. Noble has also put in over 25 years of work with the Boy Scouts and was instrumental in the formation of Scout Packs 746 (Methodist Church) and 1746 (Catholic Church). He also was a member of the Greenbelt delegation to the Coop Congress for six years.

Noble and his wife moved to Greenbelt in May, 1953, in the first group of non-veteran buyers after the Government sold the project to GHI . . . they resided at 11-B Ridge Road.

Noble has been a member of the Board of Trustees of the Methodist Church and acting secretary of that group, chairman of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee . . . editor of the church newsletter, the Churches lay representative to the Baltimore Methodist Conference.

Noble was president of the Board of Trustees when the Methodists decided to build their present building. He taught Sunday School for 20 years and was superintendent of the church school for five years. Before Noble came to Greenbelt, he was active in the various churches where he lived.

Noble spent six years serving on the Greenbelt Consumer Services (GCS) Co-op Congress as part of the Greenbelt delegation.

Ralph Noble started with the Boy Scouts in 1930, when he received Scouter's training in Liberal, Kansas. He was assistant district commissioner, in charge of Greenbelt's six Scout troops. He has been cubmaster at times when no one else would be, and has been the liaison between the Methodist Church and Pack 746.

... Helping others has always been second nature to Ralph Noble. There are numerous stories about his stopping to help strangers in need and giving greatly of his time while still working. Greenbelt is fortunate to have such a man. In the words of the first recipient of the Outstanding Citizen Award, Al Cousin, "Just a great guy . . . none better!"

Greig - Moore

On June 18 Elizabeth Greig, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Robert Greig of Greenbelt, was married to Richard Moore, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dennis Moore of Glenn Dale. The ceremony was held at the University of Maryland Chapel with the Rev. Robert Lewis of Greenbelt officiating.

The maid of honor was Elaine Moore, sister of the groom. Elizabeth was also attended by Kathy O'Sullivan of Greenbelt and her sister, Kate Greig. The best man was David Moore, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Andrew Greig, Michael Merton, John Pearson, Scott Greene, and Dino Constantinos. Elizabeth's wedding dress was of white satin appliqued with Alencon lace and pearls, and the bridesmaids' dresses were of rose pink watered taffeta. All the dresses were made by the bride's mother.

A reception was held at the University of Maryland Center for Adult Education.

Both Liz and Rick are graduates of Eleanor Roosevelt High School and the University of Md., College Park where Rick earned a degree in electrical engineering and Liz earned degrees in zoology and biochemistry. Presently, Rick is employed at the Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D.C. and Liz has just completed her first year at the University of Maryland Dental School in Baltimore.

Liz and Rick spent their honeymoon in Jamaica and are now living in Bowie.

St. Hugh's Thanks Mishkan Torah

At their mid-morning service at Mishkan Torah Congregation on July 8, Rabbi Saul Grife and the congregation were given a gift from St. Hugh's Parish, its parishioners and its school students. Father John P. Stack, pastor at St. Hugh's made the presentation of a standing pamphlet rack, made of oak wood.

Father Stack introduced representatives from St. Hugh's Parish who accompanied him to the service; Ann Marie Malo representing the St. Hugh's faculty, Debbie Skelly representing school parents and Dennis Skelly representing the students who attended St. Hugh's at Mishkan Torah from January till June of this year.

Father Stack expressed the thanks of the Parish for the use of Mishkan Torah, and the immediate unsolicited response to St. Hugh's fire that was given by the congregation through the efforts of Linda Spivack.

Rabbi Grife closed the brief presentation with remarks that described how much he enjoyed the presence of the St. Hugh's youngsters and that they would be welcome to return if St. Hugh's was not available for fall opening.

David Herschler, president of Mishkan Torah thanked Father Stack and St. Hugh's for the much needed and appreciated pamphlet rack.

PENSION

(Continued from page one) and Pension System. Only one person at the meeting spoke against any provision of this plan—Sgt. John Lann, president of the Greenbelt Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police. He was concerned that an officer injured in a line-of-duty situation would lose eligibility for promotion or in-grade raises. Giese insisted that the promoter clock would keep running during the entire period of administrative leave. Cost of living increases would also be mandated under the revised resolution. Council members agreed, however, that in-grade pay supplements would not be authorized by this plan. They insisted that such raises are based on increased experience in the job and that such experience could not be gained by a person who was on leave.

Other Actions

Council also granted a request by the Greenbelt Arts Center, represented by Marie Tousignant, to use the city council chamber for performances of the play "Nuts" sometime during the summer. Tousignant said that the council chamber perfectly fits the description for the play's setting.

RECYCLING CENTER NOW ACCEPTS CAR BATTERIES

The City of Greenbelt Public Work's Department has received a number of requests from residents pertaining to the proper disposal of old car batteries. Although they are considered to be a hazardous waste and usually not handled by the city, an arrangement has been made with Interstate Battery to have old batteries picked up once every two weeks. Residents may drop off their old car batteries at the City Recycling Center, located adjacent to the parking lot at "Buddy" Attick Park (Greenbelt Lake).

Please do not leave other hazardous wastes, such as old paints, pesticides, acids, poisons, etc. at the Recycling Center. To dispose of these items properly please call the Prince Georges County Environmental Health Agency at 794-6800 for information.

commendation from council for his work with elementary school children in the program DARE.

Council also issued a proclamation establishing August 8 as National Night Out. On that date people all across the United States are urged to keep their outside lights burning as a gesture in control of crime.

Maryland Gets 18.5 Million

Senators Barbara A. Mikulski and Paul Sarbanes have announced the approval of more than $18.5 million in funding for mass transit projects in Maryland. The Urban Mass Transit Administration (UMTA) has awarded grants to four programs expanding bus and rail commuter service.

The largest of today's grants was a $13.5 million award to the Maryland Rail Commuter (MARC) service for the purchase of three new locomotives and 15 additional passenger cars. The new trains will provide expanded service on the popular Brunswick/Washington and Baltimore/Washington lines, taking pressure off crowded roads including the Baltimore-Washington Parkway.

Greenbelt Laffters

by Janet Parker

Assistant Manager, Laffters

The Greenbelt Laffters have been having some really rousing times this summer. The Leisure Activities for Fun and Friendship group made new friends at their splash party the night of June 28, when they swam, danced and snacked together with some members of the senior citizens club.

Then on Sunday, July 9, the group of about 25 took off for a day of fun at the Carroll County Farm Museum to help observe Maryland Therapeutic Week as designated by Governor Schaefer.

There was much to see and do... a tour of the farm animals and the farm house as it looked in the old days, and a lively demonstration of clogging by the Carroll County Cloggers, whose members range in age from 15 to 72. Following the demonstration the audience was invited to participate in learning a dance which looked suspiciously like that old favorite "Alley Cat." Later, after seeing some more clogging, everyone joined in doing, what else, The Pokey Pokey! It was obvious that fun was had by all, but by the LAFFters most of all.

It was a tired but still lively group which returned to Greenbelt in the late afternoon.

On future dates they will enjoy a brunch on August 12 at Buddy Attick Park and an outing to Wild World on Aug. 26.

Further information about LAFF and its activities may be obtained by calling Karen Haseley at 474-6878.

Lisa Byrd, a 1989 graduate of ERHS, has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship from Springhill Lake to continue her education at Prince Georges Community College this fall, where she plans to major in business administration and accounting. Since 1986 Springhill Lake has annually awarded a scholarship to an ERHS graduate who lives in the complex and plans to attend PGCC.

Lisa Byrd grew up in Springhill Lake, attending Springhill Lake Elementary, Greenbelt Middle School and Eleanor Roosevelt. She belonged to the Camp Fire Girls through 10th grade and is the vice president of the Springhill Lake Teen Club. Lisa competed in the Miss Greenbelt Pageant in 1987, and was named "Miss Glow Girl", receiving makeup from "Face the Future." At ERHS, she was in the flute choir and participated in Concert Band 1.

Her favorite courses in high school were practical ones which should help her in the business world: commercial graphics, accounting, and speech. One of her favorite teachers was Mr. Taylor, who, she said, "is tough and lets you know where you stand."

Lisa chose PGCC because the school is "close by and inexpensive. You're not just a number there." After college, she would like to "manage a business," and City Is Again Recognized

For Accounting Excellence

The City of Greenbelt has received, for the fifth year in a row, the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting. The Certificate is awarded by the Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA) for comprehensive annual financial reporting (CAFR). The Certificate of Achievement is the highest form of recognition in the area of government accounting and financial reporting, and its attainment represents a significant accomplishment.

When a Certificate of Achievement is awarded to a government, an Award of Financial Reporting also is given to the individual designated as primarily responsible for its having earned the certificate. This award is presented to Casimir R. Prybyl, Director of Administrative Services.

she has enough work experience to know how businesses run. She has been employed by Roy Rogers, Frank's Nurseries, and the Springhill Lake Fountain Lodge. She currently is working at Harlow Typography in Cottage City. Business attracts her because "you can get as far as you want," and because she likes working with numbers and in an office.

In her spare time, Lisa likes biking, swimming, watching movies and reading. A recent favorite: George Orwell's "1984". She is also interested in sign language.

Lisa plans to live at home with her parents, Peggy and Edward, and younger sister Lori while attending PGCC. She is also the recipient of a $300 scholarship from the Greenbelt Woman's Club.

Habers Go for Gold

Rose and Ray Haber recently celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary. They spent 45 of the 50 years living in Greenbelt where they raised their two daughters, who now have families of their own. Both family and friends commemorated the joyous event. The family celebrated with a clan gathering at the Burn Brae Dinner Theatre, enjoying a performance of "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers." Their gift to Ray and Rose was a voucher for a vacation trip to a destination of their choice.

In addition, Ray and Rose were delighted when at the conclusion of the weekly senior aquatic exercise program, the group suddenly burst into song "with 'Happy 50th Anniversary to you', and served a cake (baked by Rae Algaze) to all those present.

Lisa Byrd — Scholarship winner from SHL will attend PGCC this Fall.

CONCERT AT LAKE PARK

The Greenbelt Concert Band of Prince Georges County will perform on Sunday, August 6 at 7 p.m. at the Buddy Attick Lake Park. All residents and guests are welcome.

POLICE STATION

will be electronically opened by the dispatcher on the first floor.
Cells

In addition to three interrogation rooms, there are six cells. Although the Greenbelt police rarely have more than one prisoner in a cell at any one time, it is possible that each cell could house 4 to 5 prisoners for up to two hours.

Four cells are to house adult prisoners and two are located in a separate area to be used for juveniles. Each is equipped with a washstand and toilet. Three have solid doors and three have heavy wire mesh doors for those who are less obstreperous. The effect of being placed behind a heavy metal door with one small porthole-like window and being placed in a cell with open mesh is clearly psychological, Craze affirms.

Beside the sally port is an evidence bay large enough to hold two tanker trucks. (That might be a slight exaggeration). The bay was not in the original plans and upped the cost of the facility about $75,000. But, the police were firm in their desire to have a secure area not exposed to the elements in which to impound vehicles and recover evidence.

A number of various-sized rooms on the lower level will be used for roll call, storage, squad training and offices for narcotics and patrol officers as well as the criminal investigation staff.

The police will enjoy a few amenities in their new building: spacious locker rooms and showers for men and women and a gym equipped with weightlifting apparatus. They hope to have a small picnic area outside the building as well.

Communications Systems
Craze points with pride at the new-age, "state of the art" telephone system, the Saturn 2E at a cost of $55,200. If there are any problems with the system, Craze relates, the company selling the product, Fortran, will helicopter in maintenance personnel within an hour. Whereas, in their present building they have only three telephone lines, there will be five lines into the new police station for those using the non-emergency 474-7200. Many officers will have their own telephone lines for direct communication.

Likewise, the sophisticated communications system, costing $60,000, will be able to patch in to other police facilities, will control security devices within the building, will set off alarms if the property or evidence rooms are entered without authorization, as well as perform a myriad of other functions.

So, for the 42 sworn officers and 17 support staff, this new building will provide many challenges in adapting to a larger facility with technologically sophisticated equipment. Chief Craze credits Officer Stair with overseeing the day-to-day construction activities. Stair has spent the past year on the site to make sure that construction follows design.

Craze also credits Officer Tommy Justin with early design work, and the city's planner, Ceia Wilson, who ran interference almost on a daily basis with county inspectors, WSSC, and the fire marshal's office. Their on-site inspections and interpretations of regulations created a number of last minute changes. One such change involved installation of heat sensors in the elevator. In case of fire in the elevator, the power will be automatically shut down and the elevator is designed to drop at a very low speed.

An expensive facility for a small town of nearly 20,000, the Greenbelt police station is nonetheless a product of citizen concerns through the efforts of the Crime Prevention Committee, and the response of the Greenbelt City Council. Craze sees possible expansion of the force in the years to come as drugs invade the city to a greater degree. "Drugs are the cause of all evil these days," Craze states. "We've had drug raids in every neighborhood. No area of the city is free."

Craze also estimates that if construction on the building were to begin today the cost would be closer to $125 per square foot rather than the $75 per square foot currently charged. Thus, the dream that began in 1984 and proceeded through a year-long decision on site selection, and a bond issue referendum, is just about to come to fruition. The chief couldn't be happier.

JOE'S TIPS OF THE WEEK

Hello Again:

If it's been three months or 3000 miles from your last motor oil and oil filter change, you're overdue. With these hot days we and our vehicles endure, it is very important to do everything to try to protect the heart of our vehicles, "The Engine." As we already know, engine oil lubricates the basic internal workings of the engine, but on the other hand, engine motor oil also provides 30 percent of cooling just through the basic lubricating process to dissipate heat by way of less friction.

First off, always keep your engine fluids to the proper level.

Keep your preventive maintenance schedule within proper time and mileage intervals.

Choose good quality motor oil and filters.

Till next time

Listening To Your Body's Language

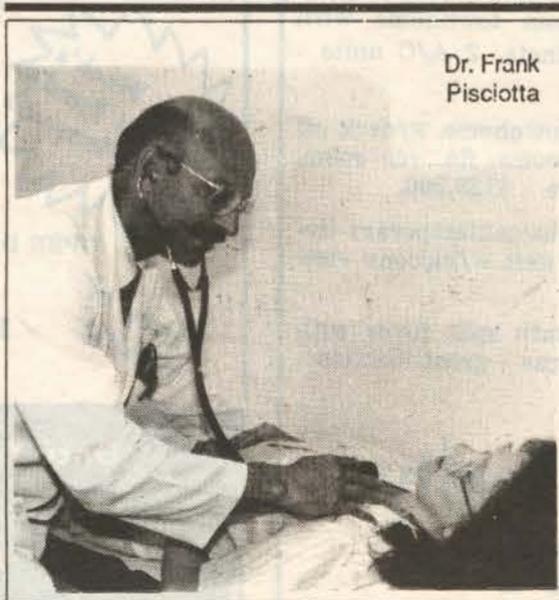

The human body is often likened to a machine, but there is no other machine that functions so effectively and efficiently. Even the seemingly simple act of eating requires enormous coordination of systems within. When something goes wrong, the body often sends out signals to warn us.

According to Dr. Frank Pisciotta, symptoms are the body's way of telling us that something needs attention. He states, "There are many signs that can give one a head start on potentially serious medical problems. The key is to be aware of what your body is trying to tell you."

"Common-sense preventive measures are extremely important to one's health. Eat slowly and chew your food well. Have plenty of high-fiber foods in your diet, drink alcohol only in moderation, don't smoke cigarettes and be aware of changes. If you have doubts, don't take chances. See your doctor. Ignoring symptoms for long periods of time may wind up to be very costly in terms of your health. Listen when your body talks to you."

Health Screening Questionnaire

POLICE BLOTTER

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

A 28-year-old female nonresident reported being a victim of a rape on July 23, after she accepted a ride home from a Landover nightclub by two male suspects. She reported that she was sexually assaulted by the two in the 9200 block of Edmonston Road. The suspects have been identified and charges are pending.

An indecent exposure on July 20 was reported in front of Marshall's Department Store in Beltway Plaza. As the victim was walking to her car, the suspect called her to his car, asking directions to the post office. The victim said that after she provided the instructions, she noticed the man exposing himself. The suspect is described as a white male in his 30's, medium height and build with balding dark hair, very tanned, wearing blue jogging shorts and driving a 1982 4-door blue sedan with suction cup blinds on the left rear window.

Thefts

A non-resident woman was arrested for embezzlement from the Marshall's Department Store in Beltway Plaza after store managers determined that she had been underringing merchandise purchased by friends and relatives, and permitting them to leave without paying for some items. All the property was later recovered.

A taxi driver reported a theft of services after he drove a white female, age 20, 5'5", 130 lbs., with long brown hair and freckled arms to the 9000 block of Breezewood Terrace on July 19. When the taxi driver told the passenger that the fare was $23.60, she threw $10 dollars on the seat and ran away.

A shoplifting was reported from the Safeway Store in Greenway Center on July 21. The suspect, described as a black male, in his 30's, 6', 180 lbs., with black hair, was seen concealing meat inside his coat. He drove away in a red 1987 Ford Escort, Md. registration WGR 710. He was wearing a burgundy hat, brown coat, and blue jeans.

Cassettes and an AM/FM cassette stereo were stolen from an Isuzu truck in the Beltway Plaza lot, after the suspect unsnapped the cover. Cassette tapes and their holder were stolen from a Volkswagen Rabbit parked in the 5800 block of Cherrywood Lane. The car was entered through a hole in the roof.

A 1985 GMC Safari, blue with blue interior, was stolen from the parking lot in the 6000 block of Springhill Drive. A 1983 Volkswagen Jetta, 2-door, red with black trim was stolen from the 9100 block of Springhill Lane.

The side passenger window was broken out. A Maryland registration plate TZW 986 was stolen from a vehicle parked in the 7200 block of Hanover Drive.

After responding to a complaint of disorderly persons in the 100 block of Centerway on July 1, Officer Marie Croisette arrested Michael Allan Cruse, 33, of Parkway. He was charged with disorderly intoxication in a public place and held in lieu of $2,000 bond pending trial. Cruse was arrested again on July 8 on a charge of consuming alcoholic beverage in a public place and released on a citation.

A black and silver Ford Ranger was vandalized about 11 p.m. on July 4 in the 73 court of Ridge Road by occupants of a red Ford Escort GT and a black pickup truck. Several hours later the Ranger was destroyed by fire. The incident is under investigation by both the Greenbelt police and the county fire department.

An orange and white 1984 Honda 50 cc motorcycle (no registration plates) was stolen from the 9300 block of Edmonston Road about 7 p.m. on June 30. A black man, age 14, 5 ft. 6 in., 150 lbs., and wearing a white shirt, blue shorts and sneakers, was seen pushing the motorcycle off a ground floor patio toward the Springhill Lake Recreation Center on Cherrywood Lane.

July 8-14

Four persons were arrested for carrying open alcoholic beverages in a public place, among them a resident of 7 Parkway.

Officers responded to a report of a violent domestic dispute involving a shotgun in the 9300 block of Edmonston Road. During the investigation, police learned a 28-year-old resident, Robert Lee Wallace III had pointed a shotgun at the victim and threatened to shoot. Wallace was arrested and charged with assault and battery. He was released pending trial.

A 23-year-old resident of the 6100 block of Breezewood Court was arrested on July 10 after he was seen by a security guard stealing property from parked vehicles in the parking lot behind Beltway Plaza.

On July 7 about 1:30 p.m. an office worker in the 7500 block of Greenway Center Drive reported seeing a man unsuccessfully trying to steal a tire off of a vehicle in the parking lot, he then jumped into a waiting car driven by a second man. Both men were white. The suspect is described as 21-23 years of age, medium height, thin build, dirty blonde hair, wearing no shirt, brown shorts with a flower design and tennis shoes. The driver was of heavy build. The vehicle is a 1987 or 88 canary yellow Chrysler Conquest with a sun roof.

Shoplifting

Officer Thomas Moreland investigated the theft on Saturday, July 15 of a television at Best Products at Beltway Plaza. An employee told the officer that a suspect had carried the television out of the store without paying for it; citizens informed the officer that he entered a white two-door vehicle. The officer attempted to stop the vehicle, which fled onto Greenbelt Road, struck two vehicles, and came to an abrupt stop in the middle of Greenbelt Road, just west of Cherrywood Lane. Two suspects fled on foot. Officer Moreland apprehended the passenger but the operator of the vehicle eluded the officers, after an extensive search by Sgt James Love and K-9 Sonny. The vehicle, a 1977 Ford Thunderbird, had been reported stolen to the Virginia State Police on June 29 from Fairfax.
