City Police Move Is Near, Other Staffs Will Shuffle

by Gerald Gottesman

The imminent movement of the Greenbelt police force to its new quarters is prompting a shuffle of office space in the Greenbelt Municipal Building, according to City Manager James K. Giese.

The changes, however, have "run into complications because of the delay in completion of the new police station," said Giese in an interview on November 14. "But as of this week we finally have possession of the new building, and can begin to move in. The big move will not be for several weeks . . . maybe in early December." The police were originally scheduled to move last May.

Among the special facilities that are still not complete in the new station are the installation of the computer and communication systems, an advanced alarm and security system involving mounted video monitors, and "more and better jail cells." There will be six holding cells in the new station, as opposed to a single one in the present station.

The addition of five cells in the new station is prompted "not by an increase in crime but a greater availability in space," said Giese. "There will be times when we could have a crowd. On at least one occasion we needed to detain people in the council chambers, due to lack of space in the cells."

Because the police have not yet moved, renovation plans for the municipal building have been delayed and complicated. Giese said there were plans last spring for a new heating system in the building's 1974 addition (the Edward Smith Memorial Wing), until the police headquarters air conditioning unit broke down. "We decided to redo all of the building's heating system. So we took out the entire furnace in the (building's) old wing."

Since there was then no heat at all in the building, when fall came and the weather got colder the city had to insulate the building for the winter.

"Since the police were supposed to have left by then, we were originally going to insulate the building in stages. We were going to insulate the empty room, then move an office into the finished room, and then insulate the room that was vacated," said Giese.

Instead, the old police station is now heated by a temporary heater, and insulation is being installed in occupied rooms, beginning currently with the office of Greenbelt CARES. "It's a shame to be going on in CARES, because private counselling goes on in there," said Giese. "But it's temporary."

"We're just very grateful the warm weather has held up."

Space Reassignments

After all the heating work is finished, office space will be shuffled. Since no new city departments are moving in, current offices will be expanded.

Of the two outside trailers used as temporary space by the police, one which is rented, will be returned to its owner. The other, owned by the city, will be taken away to be used at a police gun range.

The department of Purchasing and Personnel and the department of Finance and Administrative Services will be moving into the space vacated by the police. The space those departments leave behind, on the ground floor of the newer wing, will be remodeled into a larger office for Greenbelt CARES, with a 15-by-20-foot conference room.

When the Greenbelt CARES office departs the second floor, the offices of the Public Information and Cable Communication Coordinator, Beverly Palau, and the Planning and Development Coordinator, Celia Wilson, will utilize that space. "The renovations will include a large meeting room in which Wilson can consult with architects and engineers for city projects," said Giese.

Giese's office will ultimately expand also, as three rooms (the City Manager's office, Assistant City Manager's office, and a conference/library room) will be made into two, and the offices will be made larger, moving into the space where Palau and Wilson were.

The council room will not undergo any major changes, aside from the installation of the new heating system said Giese. "We're going to make it look better, not change it. We'll improve the lighting to make meetings suitable for cable broadcasting."

The renovations to the building will be going on well into next spring and summer, said Giese.

Families Need Others Help To Have a Good Christmas

The Greenbelt Coop Supermarket employees invite other citizens to join them in adopting six Greenbelt area families this Christmas. The families have a total of 14 children ranging from 6 months to 18 years.

Donations of unwrapped, labelled toys, clothes and food are needed. These items can be placed in boxes at the front of the store. Jars for cash donations can be found at the registers, the front office and the pharmacy. For more information call 474-0522 or see the gift tree for details.

NEWS FLASH

On December 6, the city received a letter from Representative Steny Hoyer and Senators Paul Sarbanes and Barbara Mikulski in response to city requests for assistance in acquiring Parcel 1. The letter stated that "the National Park Service and the State Highway Administration have agreed to utilize a land exchange to assist the City in the preservation of this open space." The precise value of the assistance has yet to be determined.

Jasper's Hosts Thanksgiving For Many Greenbelt Seniors

by Kelly Harmon

More than 200 Greenbelt residents enjoyed a traditional Thanksgiving feast of turkey and gravy, spiced cider, mashed potatoes and the obligatory apple pie at Jasper's Restaurant Thanksgiving dinner, according to Greenbelt resident Florence Holly. "I don't remember seeing anyone who wasn't from Greenbelt," she said.

This was the second year that the co-owners of Jasper's on Greenbelt Road organized and funded the event for seniors in the area. "It was lovely," Holly recalled. "The young people who served really put their hearts into it."

Bernina McGee, a senior Greenbelter, was a hostess at the event. "I had other places to go for Thanksgiving, but there are a lot of people with no family around here at all. And you're not going to fix a big dinner for just yourself," she said. "I think what Jasper's did was a wonderful thing, and the management enjoys doing it. It was great being a hostess too."

Fred Rosenthal of Jasper's credits partner Berk Motley, Jr. for the idea of the Thanksgiving dinner party. After viewing a television news-special on how seniors are sometimes forgotten in favor of children and families during the holidays, Motley told the other partners about his idea. "It took almost eight months to set up," Rosenthal said. "But it was worth it."

Keeping in mind the thrust of the news program, the owners of Jasper's agreed to host a Thanksgiving dinner, complete with trimmings, entertainment and dancing. "There is no financial requirement," said Rosenthal. "It's for people who might otherwise be alone during the holiday."

Greenbelter Betty Devlin, who also attended last year's dinner, stated, "I enjoy it because I get to meet all my friends there."

Everyone in attendance received a personal invitation from Jasper's. Rosenthal and co-workers called area senior centers, county agencies, synagogues and churches to get seniors' names. The end result was a list of 400 persons to whom letters were sent.

Despite the large turnout, the first snowfall of the season kept about 50 expected people from attending, even though Jasper's provided some transportation and there were others who carpooled. "There were fewer people this year," said Holly, "although I can't name them all. We missed them."

The biggest difference between last year and this, according to Rosenthal, was that people knew to expect dancing and entertainment as well as dinner and conversation. "One woman came dressed in a polka costume," he remarked, "and danced several dances for everyone."

The Old Smoothies, a senior citizen band, provided music for singing and dancing. "They were wonderful," said Holly.

Every Jasper's employee volunteered to work at the dinner this year. Rosenthal also received calls from area churches and the University of Maryland by people who wanted to donate their time. "We had to turn away volunteers," Rosenthal said.

"It was so nice to see the people's faces," said Chip Motley, a nine-year employee of the restaurant. "The first year you're so hesitant not spending the time with your family (in order to volunteer), but it is definitely worth it. It's sad to see people with no place to go."

Motley said he'll volunteer again next year; since the dinners have become so successful, Jasper's management has decided to make them an annual event.

Carriers Bring Greetings

Around this time of year it is customary for the News Review delivery boys and girls to make personal calls on the homes they service to present Christmas cards and greetings. The News Review's financial position is such that we cannot pay our carriers very high remuneration. They are therefore dependent on generous holiday donations to supplement their nominal pay.

Most of the carriers range in age from pre-teen to the middle teens. For the younger boys and girls, delivering the News Review is their first job experience. Many of the older carriers started at a young age and continue to deliver the News Review mainly as a service to their neighborhood. It is a learning process for all these youngsters and, in some cases, the instillation of responsibility takes time and patience.

The holiday season affords us all a chance to show appreciation and to provide encouragement for the efforts of these youngsters and at the same time to show understanding for any failings that might have occurred during the year.

Again this year the carriers may leave envelopes rather than cards when they find no one at home. We hope these envelopes, equipped with the carrier's name and address, will be helpful to our readers who wish to show such appreciation. In case the carrier's name or address is in doubt, envelopes may be mailed to the News Review, Post Office Box 68, Greenbelt MD 20770, for forwarding. Please include your address so we can identify your carrier.

Blow Your Leaves Blow Your Mom Down

by Bill Cornet

The average suburban dweller is supposed to look upon leaf raking as a joyous, sacred rite of the Autumn season, a time for surveying every inch of his domain, a time to let his soul roam free in the vast expanses of his property. Well, that's the theory, at any rate.

In practice, things go a little differently. What happens around my mother's house goes something like this: my mother hints for several days that the yard needs raking, and I work very hard to come up with fresh excuses for putting it off. Usually, I manage to run out of excuses on a sunny Sunday, and I go out and rake up about half the back yard, and make a solid line of leaves across it. Then, I suddenly remember that there's a Redskins game on and by the time they have lost, it is dark out and my arms have fallen off. It rains for the next several days, and one cannot rake wet leaves, after which the grass dies under the pile that I have left and more leaves fall into the place that I have already raked. So, what's the use? The neighbors on both sides rake their leaves, and the winter winds blow most of my leaves into their yards, I mow the grass in the spring (what there is left alive) and get up the ones that didn't blow away. Big deal.

This Year

This year, though, would be different. The time had come to enter the final decade of the 20th century. My mother was not going to be left behind. "Go get a leaf blower," I was told.

I found a doozy the first place I looked. It has a green, sleek body that is a cross between a space ship and a high-tech power tool, with a nozzle similar to the flamethrower on an Abrams tank. It blows air out of its nozzle at over 110 miles an hour. And it was only $24.99.

My mother was in the kitchen when I brought it home. "Let's see how it works," she said. I fired it up, and it made a noise quite similar to a 747 during take-off, blowing as hard as Hurricane Hugo. Due to an oversight of mine, it was pointed at my mother.

When I got her down from the cabinet and helped her get her blouse off her head, she said she was quite impressed.

A Sunny Sunday

Soon came a sunny Sunday when I was actually looking forward to doing battle with the multicolor carpet that had covered the yard. I rounded up a few miles of extension cord, put on the recommended ear-muff hearing protectors, and went for it.

It was great. I flicked a switch, and leaves 15 feet away from me moved off in swift swirls. I cleared huge swatches of land in seconds.

Even when the leaves started to pile up, the blower kept pushing the pile. This was not mere coping with the leaf problem. This was complete subjugation of the leaf monster by modern science. No longer was I a mere mortal scratching at the ground in agony with a primitive tool. I was a veritable wind-god, the powerful wielder of mighty blasts before whom all leaves retreated in terror.

Perfectly O.K.

I have found that, while it is socially unacceptable to hit your mother with a rake it is perfectly O.K. to blow her half-way across the yard with a leaf blower. She would tap on my shoulder to tell me to do what I was already doing, and I would turn around with the blower in my hand to see what she wanted. I found that I could scoop her a good ten feet before she went sideways and rolled for another twenty. Then I would go back to blowing leaves. The neighbors loved it, and my mother learned to leave me alone.

Even with the leaf blower, the job still wasn't easy. But for the first time in years, we had the yard raked completely, non-

Santa at Springhill Lake

Springhill Lake children and their families are cordially invited to have their pictures taken with Santa Claus for a nominal fee on Wednesday, December 13, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Other popular activities include watching the Charlie Brown Christmas Show on the widescreen television and making Christmas cards for their families. Register in advance by calling 474-4555. Admission is free.

Sculpture at Police Facility Donated by Local Artist

Local artist John Robbins, Jr. has donated an original sculpture to the new Greenbelt police facility at 550 Crescent Rd. The sculpture, erected in front of the building on Wednesday, November 22, is titled "The Guardians," and is dedicated to the law enforcement officers of Greenbelt.

John Robbins, Jr. is the son of Sally Robbins, a member of the Greenbelt Crime Prevention Committee. He grew up in Greenbelt and studied art history at East Tennessee University. His work is inspired by ancient Indian art and at one time he studied basket weaving with the Cherokee Indians.

He has recently moved back to Greenbelt, and is in the process of setting up a studio. Robbins has also donated an untitled sand painting to the police facility which will be hung in one of the conference rooms.

BOUQUETS

To the Editor:

Bouquets to Fred Rosenthal, manager-owner of Jasper's, who was responsible for Greenbelt's senior citizens spending Thanksgiving dinner with friends and neighbors at Jasper's Restaurant as his guests. The turkey dinner was delicious, with apple pie for dessert. There were door prizes for many, and dancing for all.

Thanks, Jasper's. See you next year, hopefully.

Martha Kaufman

THANKS

To the Editor:

Thank you Jasper's, and also to your staff, for all the time and effort given to make Thanksgiving a joyous occasion for Greenbelt's senior citizens.

Your gracious hospitality touched our hearts, leaving a warm glow that will be long remembered.

Hilda Orleans, Corresponding Secretary Greenbelt Golden Age Club, Inc. Helpful Greenbelters

To the Editor:

The pancake breakfast at St. Hugh's Church on Sunday, December 3, was a huge success. Families turned up with their children, and the pancakes were delicious! It was this way all morning.

Once again, the people of Greenbelt expressed their cooperation, concern, and willingness to help others in need. I've lived in Greenbelt for 47 years, and this was the second greatest turnout of Greenbelters assisting their neighbors. This is why I love Greenbelt. We are like a family. We have our differences, but when the chips are down, a disaster of any nature, the people express their love and concern, and rally to the cause.

The pancake breakfast was sponsored by the Greenbelt Lions Club, National Guard and the American Legion. Our deepest gratitude goes to King Lion Barry Blechman, Hank Irving and others for spearheading and putting on this successful community breakfast. Greenbelt is great!

Michael Burchick

FORTUNATE

To the Editor:

We, the residents of Green Ridge House, are fortunate to have Ruth Stinson for resident manager as she is so efficient and caring. A few nights ago, there was a lot of unusual noise in the building and immediately Ms. Stinson was on the PA telling us there was a broken water main, but it was being corrected and so once again all was well at Green Ridge House — even though it was 3 a.m.

Even though Ms. Stinson had been up almost all night, the next morning there she was in the office—her usual smiling presence.

Lorrene Newman

Still Collecting Signatures

To the Editor:

On Monday, December 4, Rodney Roberts, newly elected chair of the Committee to Save the Green Belt, submitted a petition to city council asking that they "protect the remaining 'green belt', known as Parcel 1, Parcel 2 and the 72 acres by creating a City ordinance making the land a forest and wildlife preserve. The ordinance would require that the land remain entirely wooded and kept in its natural state." The petition was circulated during the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival and received a total of 1,096 signatures; approximately 800 were Greenbelt citizens.

The petition, which calls for the preservation of 184 acres of contiguous forest, is ongoing. The Committee to Save the Green Belt will periodically provide city council with an update on the current count of cumulative signatures.

Yoni Siegel

THANKS

To the Editor:

Sincere thanks to all persons who were involved in any way in choosing me for the honor of "Outstanding Citizen" in the Labor Day Festival.

It was a wonderful surprise for my family and me and we are still on "cloud nine!"

Florence M. Holly

Police Cameras

November 20 meeting actions:

Council authorized the purchase for $6,650 of police surveillance television cameras for the new police station to monitor prisoner security. These are specialty items, Giese said, and not part of the building contract. Electrical service and television conduits have been installed as part of the construction contract, but not the cameras themselves, he said. A telephone system and a radio system, as well as furnishings, will also be added. According to Wilson, the earliest the city is likely to be able to take occupancy of the building would be December 16.

Beltway Plaza Appeal

Although the county's Planning Board has granted a departure from design standards and sign design for the Beltway Plaza, over the city's objections, the city has a right of appeal within 30 days. Both staff and city attorney Manzi "do not feel confident" that the city would gain by appealing. Wilson said. Nevertheless, when council questioned Wilson about whether the city would be likely to lose anything by appealing and she answered "no," they decided to try it. "We have lived with this situation without relief," Putens said. "At worst it would be the status quo."

Glenn Dale Hospital

In response to a request from the county concerning recommendations for use of the Glenn Dale Hospital site, once a tuberculosis sanitarium, council decided to add to an APB advisory report that it would be maintained as low density or open space/park land. White had suggested use of the hospital as a possible medical museum and Isaacs thought the facilities might be used as a drug and alcohol detoxification center. "It's an isolated area," he said, "and so a good place."

NOTICE OF CHARTER AMENDMENT

At its regular meeting, held on December 4, 1989, the City Council of Greenbelt, Maryland adopted Charter Amendment Resolution 1989-2 (Resolutino Number 711), and the following title of the Resolution is a fair summary of the amendment:

A RESOLUTION OF THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GREENBELT, MARYLAND, ADOPTED PURSUANT TO THE AUTHORITY OF ARTICLE XI-E OF THE CONSTITUTION OF MARYLAND AND SECTION 13 OF ARTICLE 23A OF THE ANNOTATED CODE OF MARYLAND (1987 REPLACEMENT VOLUME AND 1989 CUMULATIVE SUPPLEMENT) TO AMEND THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF GREENBELT (SET FORTH IN MUNICIPAL CHARTERS OF MARYLAND, STATE DEPARTMENT OF LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE, 1983 EDITION, AS AMENDED), BY ENACTING A NEW SECTION 58A OF SAID CHARTER, AUTHORIZING THE CITY TO BORROW MONEY AND INCUR INDEBTEDNESS, FROM TIME TO TIME, FOR THE PURPOSE OF FINANCING THE ACQUISITION OF REAL PROPERTY LOCATED WITHIN THE GREENBELT HISTORIC DISTRICT AS LISTED ON THE NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES, SUCH PROPERTY TO BE ACQUIRED FOR USE AS PARKS, OPEN SPACE AND/OR THE PRESERVATION OF THE CITY'S HISTORIC GREENBELT; PROVIDING THAT SUCH INDEBTEDNESS MAY BE SECURED BY A MORTGAGE, DEED OF TRUST, OR OTHER SECURITY INSTRUMENT CREATING A LIEN ON THE PROPERTY ACQUIRED; PROVIDING THAT THE POWERS CONFERRED BY THE SECTION NEW 58A SHALL BE ADDITIONAL; AND SUPPLEMENTAL TO THE BORROWING POWERS GRANTED TO THE CITY ELSEWHERE IN THE CHARTER OF THE CITY AND BY GENERAL LAW; PROVIDING THAT THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 55 SHALL NOT BE APPLICABLE TO OBLIGATIONS ISSUED PURSUANT TO THE NEW SECTION 58A; AND GENERALLY RELATING TO FINANCING THE ACQUISITION OF HISTORIC DISTRICT PROPERTY.

LAFFters Group Grows

The LAFFters... What is it, or to be more precise, who are they? Well the LAFFters are a group of people who live up to their acronym, Leisure Activities for Fun and Friendship. The LAFFters are a group of differently abled adults who get together twice a month for social activities at the Greenbelt Youth Center. These activities run the gamut from movies and dance parties and holiday craft making to art happenings, under the direction of volunteer Ben Abramowitz, and excursions and sports events.

The Director of Therapeutic Recreation for Greenbelt, Karen Hasely, determined that a need for such a program existed from information gathered from several sources dealing with special populations in and around Greenbelt. In the fall of 1988 she assembled her first group of eight who met to decide on what activities would interest them.

As interest grew, so did the membership and also the need to expand. As a result of this expansion, now including 25 members and three group homes, the staff was enlarged. Although Hasely still supervises, the new director is Rose Turco and the assistant manager Janet Parker. Recently Charles Gamble also came on board. Ben Abramowitz has been generous with his time as a volunteer since the spring.

This summer the Seniors in Greenbelt joined the LAFFters for a splash party and on December 15 the LAFFters will join other Greenbelters when all gather at the Youth Center to sing Christmas carols at Green Ridge House.

Future events will include a visit to the Space Museum, a basketball game and many parties. The family of LAFFters invites others to join them for fun and friendship. For further information call the Greenbelt Recreation Department.

Christmas Tree Lighting With Songs and Smiles

by Pat Scully

With "Ho, Ho, Ho's," "Ha, Ha, Ha's" and a merry chorus of "Tra, la, la's," the Eleanor Roosevelt High School Combined Choir made a joyful noise as the Greenbelt East Christmas tree was lit on Sunday, December 3, as a high point of the annual Festival of Lights. Arctic temperatures and winds had driven the celebration inside, and the crowd watched from the gaily decorated lobby of the Greenbriar Community Center.

Bob Zugby, president of the Greenbelt East Advisory Committee, representing the coalition of Greenbelt East communities, served as master of ceremonies, welcoming the celebrants and introducing the singers. Bill Ayers of Greenbriar, Roy Dahl of Greenwood Village, and Rene Gross of Greenbrook Village also addressed the gathering, wishing those present happy holidays. Enjoying the celebration were Mayor and Mrs. Gil Weidenfeld, Mayor Pro Tem Thomas X. White, Councilmember Edward Putens, and about 50 adults and children.

The tree, a Colorado spruce, was only chest high when it was planted three years ago, said Ayers, whose chest height is somewhat less than five feet. The tree is now nearly ten feet high and very full. It owes a large part of its growth and girth to this summer's abundant rainfall.

The choir continued to entertain the gathering with traditional carols during the reception that followed the lighting.

Greenbelt CARES

Kate Harris is a new volunteer counselor for the Wednesday night family clinic. She is a first year student in American University's clinical psychology program and completed her undergraduate work at Dartmouth College in New Hampshire. In addition to being on the Dartmouth sailing team, Kate also circumnavigated the world with eight other people. They sailed around the world via the Straits of Magellan and the Cape of Good Hope on a 56-ft. wooden schooner. The challenge of the oceans and of living in a tiny space with eight others developed endurance and tolerance, she says, and the rewards were immeasurable.

At the Library

The Eleanor Roosevelt High School Chamber Choir will perform at the Greenbelt Library on Wednesday, December 12 at 7:30 p.m.

A Drop-in storytime for children ages 3 to 5 will be held at the Greenbelt Library at 10:30 a.m. on December 14.

Greenbelt Baptist Church Hosts Christmas Cantata

FACTS ON SUNRISE CONTROVERSY

Rejected Letter

November 18, 1989

To the Editor:

There has been some confusion during the recent City Council election campaign about the City Council's official position on the Sunrise Apartment development in Greenbelt East. I would like to set the record straight.

Late in the campaign, all candidates received a packet of information requested by Mayor Weidenfeld concerning a November, 1985 action by Council. The packet included a May 14, 1986 letter from the Mayor to the County Executive which referred to an agreement by Council to "not oppose the Sunrise Apartments". I subsequently distributed a flyer to Greenbelt East which pointed out that some of the incumbents were now expressing opposition to the Sunrise Apartments, yet in November, 1985 had voted to not oppose it.

Just days before the election, a flyer entitled "TRUTH TIME ON SUNRISE", and bearing the names of Mayor Gil Weidenfeld and Councilmembers Edward Putens and Antoinette Bram was distributed in Greenbelt East. It alleged that my flyer contained "misleading information" and that I had "misrepresented" Council's official position. The "TRUTH TIME" flyer claimed that at a November, 1985 meeting, Council maintained its opposition to the Sunrise Apartments.

However, this claim is directly contradicted not only by the Mayor's 1986 letter mentioned above, but also by the official minutes of the November 4, 1985 City Council meeting. These minutes were approved and signed by the Mayor as a correct account of the proceedings.

According to the minutes, the relevant motion, suggested by Mayor Weidenfeld, was: "to grant a waiver to the covenants for Coakley & Williams to allow them to go forward with Maryland Trade Center III and the addition to the Holiday Inn; and that the City take no position on the Sunrise Apartments." (emphasis added.) (The motion was later amended to replace "waiver" by "variance".) The motion passed by a vote of 4-1, with Councilman White opposed.

The Mayor's May 14, 1986 letter to the County Executive specifically cites "the City agreeing to permit construction to proceed on the Maryland Trade Center III Office Building and not oppose the Sunrise Apartment development . . ." thus confirming the action recorded in the approved November 4, 1985 minutes.

It is clear that the information in my original flyer on Sunrise is fully corroborated by not one, but two official documents. There is therefore no basis for charges that I "misrepresented" Council's position on this matter.

I am disturbed by this unwarranted impugning of my integrity, just days before the election, through this "TRUTH TIME . . ." flyer's apparent misstatement of an official Council position. This practice violates basic ethical standards and does a disservice to the citizens of Greenbelt.

Greenbelters for Accountable Government

During the recent City Council election, our organization discussed and put forward three issues of Council Accountability, i.e.:

- Public involvement in decisions
- Fiscal accountability
- Leadership and consistency in controlling development and traffic, and in preservation of green space.

During the closing days of the campaign, three incumbent members of Council joined together to distribute a flyer in Greenbelt East which, in our view, was an attempt to cloud the issues regarding the Sunrise Apartments and confuse the voters as to their inconsistent positions on development and traffic control. In so doing, the three members of Council also impugned the integrity of Council candidate Ruth Kastner, who was challenging the documented inconsistent positions of the Council majority.

Ms. Kastner set forth her account of this public controversy in a letter which the Greenbelt News Review declined to publish. We believe Ms. Kastner's letter is an important contribution to Greenbelt's continuing interest in ethical standards for our elected leaders and to accountability of those leaders for their actions. For that reason, we have purchased this space to publish her letter and to provide relevant documents pertaining to the facts in the controversy.

Excerpt from Approved Minutes of City Council Meeting, November 4, 1985

GREENBELT EAST HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS -- COAKLEY-WILLIAMS AND SUNRISE APARTMENTS:
Mayor Weidenfeld read the agenda comments concerning the Greenbelt East highway improvements and development issues, which have been considered by Council for a long period of time and which have been considered in great detail in numerous work sessions and Council meetings. Mr. Weidenfeld noted that it has been over a year since Coakley & Williams came before the Council to seek Council approval for development of Maryland Trade Center III and the addition to the Holiday Inn. He noted the problems that arose when it was learned that revenue bond financing was being considered for construction of Sunrise Apartments, a project which Council did not consider desirable. During the past year and in deliberations with the County Executive a number of issues have been addressed, and the County Executive has given assurances to the city on matters which would assure the orderly development of roads and other public facilities in the area. Mayor Weidenfeld also noted the cooperative efforts of Coakley & Williams, the fact that Sunrise Apartments will go forward--whether or not revenue bond financing is made available or not--and that it does not appear that much will be gained by further postponement. He, therefore, suggested that a motion be made to grant a waiver to the covenants for Coakley & Williams to allow them to go forward with Maryland Trade Center III and the addition to the Holiday Inn; and that the city take no position on the Sunrise Apartments. Mr. Isaacs moved Mayor Weidenfeld's recommendation and Mr. Putens seconded. Mrs. Bram moved that the question be divided and Mr. White seconded. Mayor Weidenfeld noted his prerogative to rule on the motion, but requested that a vote be taken, which was defeated by a vote of three to two; with Mrs. Bram and Mr. White voting for the question; and Messrs. Isaacs and Putens and Mayor Weidenfeld voting against the question. The motion was discussed at some length, with Mr. White expressing the strong opinion that by adopting the motion Council would lose all leverage to assure that the sought improvements would actually take place as promised. Also taking part in the discussion were Russ Shipley, Attorney for Coakley & Williams, Terry Coakley of Coakley & Williams, and Mr. Jim McCaig of Sunrise Apartments. Concern was expressed about the wording of the language "to waive the covenants" and an amendment to change this to read "to grant a variance" was accepted by the maker and seconder of the motion. The motion then carried; with Mr. White voting no. Mr. White then requested that an update be obtained to include the status of the various commitments, i.e., traffic, traffic study, development along Greenbelt Road, transfer of parkland to the city, and road improvements. Council concurred in this request.

County Executive
Prince George's County
14741 Governor Oden Bowie Drive
Upper Marlboro, Maryland 20772
Dear Mr. Glendening:

As you are well aware, in conjunction with the City agreeing to permit construction to proceed on the Maryland Trade Center III Office Building and not oppose the Sunrise Apartment development, you made a number of commitments regarding how the County would assist the City in minimizing the impact of this new development on existing residents and other public facilities.

Sincerely,

More on Sunrise ...

One of Greenbelt East's most immediate concerns is the potential impact of the Sunrise Apartment development. Clearly, Greenbelt doesn't need or want this development. And during this election campaign, some of the incumbents have expressed opposition to it.

However, this same Council voted 4-1 (White opposed) to NOT OPPOSE THE SUNRISE APARTMENTS back in 1985, as part of the same agreement in which they allowed Maryland Trade Center III to proceed before road improvements were in place.

(This position is documented in a letter from the City to the County Executive, dated May 14, 1986, which was made available to the candidates just last week.)

Ruth Kastner doesn't believe in giving away traffic leverage or making agreements in advance to not oppose development in Greenbelt.

Ruth Kastner is ready to work with residents and to use every means at her disposal to reduce the scale and impact of the Sunrise development, or even to prevent it if possible.

No amount of promises from developers or governmental bodies should be considered a fair price for giving up leverage against traffic impact, as occurred in the case of Trade Center III.

And there can be no valid reason for giving up our city's option to oppose a development proposal, before citizens have even had a chance to see it and discuss it.

You can count on Ruth Kastner to put Greenbelt's interests first.

VOTE FOR RUTH KASTNER ON NOVEMBER 7th.

Weidenfeld-Bram-Putens Flyer Delivered Weekend of November 4-5, 1989

TRUTH TIME ON SUNRISE...

A candidate for Greenbelt City Council, Ruth Kastner, is distributing last minute flyers in Greenbelt East with misleading information. She has misrepresented City Council's official position on a proposed high-rise development known as Sunrise Apartments.

HERE ARE THE FACTS!

Greenbelt City Council Meeting, January 28, 1985. City Council votes to go on record opposing both the Sunrise Apartments and the County tax-exempt bonds to finance this project. City Council expressed serious concern about traffic impact.

The Chairman of the Greenbelt East Advisory Committee (GEAC) representing all of the Greenbelt East home owners' associations requests that City Council withdraw its opposition to the County tax-exempt bonds. Neither GEAC nor the City Council favor the project, but GEAC expresses concern that without the bonds a lower quality project could be built anyway.

Greenbelt City Council Meeting, November 1985. City Council adopts the GEAC recommendation to take no position on the County tax-exempt bonds ONLY, but continues to oppose the Sunrise Apartments project.

Council Members Bram, Putens, and Mayor Weidenfeld are the only three members of the Greenbelt City Council who voted both to oppose the Sunrise project at the January 28, 1985 meeting and on November 4, 1985 to support the recommendations of GEAC concerning County tax-exempt bonds.

DON'T BE MISLED BY POLITICAL RHETORIC!

TOGETHER WE HAVE WORKED DILIGENTLY TO SUPPORT GREENBELT EAST'S POSITION TO OPPOSE SUNRISE.

Storm Drains May Create A Drain on GHI Budget

by Mary Moien

On November 2, the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI), met for a fourth review of the 1990 budget. Additions and clarifications were made to the budget including finding funds to address a new problem with storm drains. Third quarter staff reports were presented.

The board meeting was preceded by a meeting of the Greenbelt Development Corporation (GDC). The major topics of the GDC meeting were the 1990 budget and a discussion of the acquisition of additional apartments.

1990 GHI Budget

The Board of Directors is proposing an estimated $5.8 million 1990 budget. If the budget is adopted, monthly charges to members will increase an average of 6.33%. The impact upon the three different types of housing units, however, will vary substantially.

The proposed budget has a major impact on the masonry homes. The expected increase is 7.95% reflecting projected spending on trim work, plumbing riser replacement, and repair of settlement damage to the masonry homes.

Members in the frame homes will experience a moderate increase—5.61%. A major program for 1990 includes porch deck and porch roof replacement.

Members in the larger homes are slated for a nominal increase of 2.80%. No major projects were proposed.

Storm Drains

During the November 2 meeting, a new problem arose concerning storm drains. There has been an increasing problem with drains collapsing. The extent of the problem was not fully realized in time for the 1990 budget. The manager proposed that funds be shifted or new funds found to handle this maintenance problem.

One source of funds was garage rents. At the last meeting, the board asked for figures on differing increases for garage rents, from 50c to $1.50 per month. The higher increase was approved, with the income ($4,968) slated for storm drain repairs. An increase of $1.00 per month for the boat and trailer yard rents will provide an additional $1,000 for the project. (Canoe rental spaces were not increased.) In addition, funds designated for common area clean-up were slashed in half, with more than $4,400 also being moved to fix storm drains.

Activity Reports

Activity reports were provided by the maintenance department, fiscal department and technical services area. The maintenance department completed almost 3,500 work orders for a year-to-date total of 11,468. The fiscal department report documented the August computer system's failure, which resulted in a loss of approximately 3 weeks operating time. Staff is still recovering from this problem.

GDC

The GDC board of directors discussed the 1990 budget of approximately $245,000. With the adoption of this budget the rents in the 60 apartments owned by GDC will increase approximately 10%. It is also anticipated that electric bills to tenants will rise between $10 and $30 per month depending on the size and location of the unit. This increase will reflect the fans that will be used to circulate heat in the renovated units.

The board expressed concerns for elderly and poorer residents of the buildings. Management indicated that the majority of the elderly residents have moved in recent years, many to Green Ridge House. In addition, tenants who have lived in the units for a number of years are paying lower base rents than new tenants. It was still felt that the rents will be at or below those of neighboring buildings.

Once again, the question arose of whether to seriously investigate buying additional buildings on Parkway. Director Chuck Hess stated that the board has been discussing the issue for four years. He is in favor of investing the time and money to see about purchasing a building. Director Margaret Hogensen stated that with the current demands on management time and resources, it was not a priority item. The board voted not to proceed with this project.

Ross Stores, Inc. of Greenbelt has been presented an award for their commitment to hiring, promoting and retaining disabled workers. Ross has hired several hearing impaired persons since it opened in Greenbelt a few months ago. The award was presented by the Prince Georges Committee on Employment of People with Disabilities at their third annual luncheon on October 24. "Disabled workers have abilities and skills that many employers can utilize and we must continue our efforts to assure full participation of disabled persons in the workforce," County Executive Parris Glendening said at the luncheon. "We are committed to the employment of disabled persons and we hope that other employers will follow the lead of Prince Georges County."

Rotary Report

General Paul X. Kelley, USMC, retired, spoke to the Greenbelt Rotary Club at its regular Thursday breakfast meeting at the Greenbelt Marriott. For the second year in a row General Kelley's speech coincided with the birthday of the U.S. Marine Corps. He addressed several issues, including the proposed cutback in military manpower (Kelley is against this cutback); and the importance of the U.S. regaining the productive edge over the Koreans and the Japanese. As a patriot and one of the country's leading military authorities with a background of avoiding external threats to the U.S., General Kelly feels that the U.S. must never let its guard down.

POLICE BLOTTER

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

On November 25, at the AMC 8 Theaters in Beltway Plaza, Cpl. Troy Harding requested that a 19-year-old non-resident leave the theater because he was disorderly and causing a disturbance. The man then struck the officer and was arrested. He was charged with battery of a police officer, resisting arrest, failing to obey a lawful order and disorderly conduct; he later appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was held on $5000 bond pending trial.

Three other non-residents, aged 20, 20 and 19, were also charged with disorderly conduct during that incident. They were released on a citation pending trial.

While handling a report of a domestic dispute in the 8000 block of Mandan Road on November 26, Pfc. Steven Keller arrested one of the parties involved, because that person was wanted by the Prince Georges Sheriff's Department for failing to appear in court. Another resident tried to stop the arrest and assaulted Pfc. Alan Caho. That resident, a 25-year-old female, was arrested and charged with hindering a police officer and assaulting an officer. She appeared before a District Court Commissioner, where she was held on $1000 bond pending trial.

On November 28, when Pfc. Matthew Carr attempted to stop a motorcycle on Cherrywood Lane for a traffic violation, the driver sped away up Breezewood Drive, lost control of his vehicle and hit a parked car. He was taken to Prince Georges Hospital Center. The motorcyclist, a 31-year-old resident, was charged with fleeing and eluding a marked police car, reckless driving and driving while his license was revoked. He already had an outstanding arrest warrant for failing to appear in court on the charge of fleeing and eluding. He was released to the custody of the Prince Georges Sheriff's Department at the hospital.

On November 29, two juvenile females reported that a white male knocked on a window to attract their attention and began masturbating in an apparently vacant apartment in the 6200 block of Breezewood Drive at around 8:50 a.m. The girls fled.

Vehicles: Thefts, Recoveries

On November 2, a Chevy Z28, reported stolen from the 6000 block of Cherrywood Court on October 30, was recovered by the Baltimore Police Department. A 15-year-old was arrested and charged in connection with the theft.

On November 22, a resident observed a person in his friend's vehicle in the 7800 block of Emily's Way. When the resident approached, the suspicious person left in a white Nissan, with unknown registration that appeared to be waiting for him. Investigation revealed that a theft had been thwarted; the friend's vehicle's door and ignition had been damaged. The suspicious person was described as a black male, 15-16 years old, 5'8", thin build, black hair, wearing a long-sleeve, brown, button-down shirt, jeans and blue neon tennis shoes.

On November 23, a 1983 Chevy Chevette was recovered at Addison Road and Jefferson Heights Boulevard. The car had been reported stolen in the 7800 block of Mandan Road on November 19. No arrests were made.

On November 25, a resident in the 10 Court of Plateau reported that an unauthorized person had taken her 1985 Dodge Aries. Several hours later, after receiving a call that the car was seen in the area, Pfc. Robert Musterman stopped the vehicle on Kenilworth Avenue near Route 95. He arrested a 15-year-old non-resident who was charged with driving a vehicle without the consent of the owner and driving without a license. He was transported to Cheltenham pending a hearing.

On November 27, a resident reported the theft of his vehicle from the parking lot of the 7700 block of Hanover Parkway. The car was a burgundy 1985 Pontiac Firebird, Maryland registration RVF 945.

On November 28, a Bowie resident reported the theft of his red 1984 Chevrolet Camaro Z28 Massachusetts tags 177LCN, from the 6900 block of Hanover Parkway.

Also on November 28, a 1988 Jeep that had been reported stolen from the 7800 block of Mandan Road on November 15 was recovered by the Metropolitan Police Department in the 5300 block of Eads Street. No arrests were made.

On November 29, a resident reported the theft of her blue 1987 Pontiac Firebird, Maryland tags PJG 155, from the 6900 block of Hanover Parkway.

On November 19, a resident reported that while in the 7900 block of Mandan Road, two people approached him from behind, stuck an unknown object to his head, and forced him into his car. The assailants then drove the victim to Edmonston, Md., where they threw him from the car. The car is a white 1983 Chevy Chevette with Virginia registration IVD 473. No description was given of the abductors.

On November 17, a Silver Spring resident was assaulted as he was sitting at a green signal on Greenbelt Road. According to the victim, the assailant got out of a vehicle, struck the victim in the face, then left the scene.

Listening To Your Body's Language

The human body is often likened to a machine, but there is no other machine that functions so effectively and efficiently. Even the seemingly simple act of eating requires enormous coordination of systems within. When something goes wrong, the body often sends out signals to warn us.

According to Dr. Frank Pisciotta, symptoms are the body's way of telling us that something needs attention. He states, "There are many signs that can give one a head start on potentially serious medical problems. The key is to be aware of what your body is trying to tell you."

"Common-sense preventive measures are extremely important to one's health. Eat slowly and chew your food well. Have plenty of high-fiber foods in your diet, drink alcohol only in moderation, don't smoke cigarettes and be aware of changes. If you have doubts, don't take chances. See your doctor. Ignoring symptoms for long periods of time may wind up to be very costly in terms of your health. Listen when your body talks to you."

Prepare yourself for the cold!

JOE'S TIPS OF THE WEEK

Hello Again:
This week our vehicle heaters got a work-out, and a lot of questions have been asked about the heat not feeling as hot as it used to. Well here are some common problems that can contribute to low heat output.

First Common Problem: Low coolant level. Make sure that the engine coolant is at the proper level and that no leaks are present.

Second: A thermostat that does not seal completely; this means the coolant is always flowing, not allowing the coolant to warm up completely.

Third: A misaligned temperature door inside the dash area or a hot water control valve which does not allow the hot coolant to flow through the heater core.

Fourth: A blocked heater core which does not allow enough warm coolant to radiate heat.

Preset your heat controls the night before so you don't have to move them when it's stone cold. They're just plastic and could break.

'Til next time, think preventive maintenance.

Our Neighbors

by Dorie Bates, 345-5961

Dr. Frank LaParle, a Greenbelt native now residing in Cumberland, Md., was recently sworn in as president of the Maryland State Dental Association. Dr. LaParle attended St. Hugh's School, Greenbelt Junior High-High Point High School, and Maryland and Georgetown Universities. His wife, Lea, is a former Center School teacher.

Joyce Meekins and Teddy Primack were delighted with the fine care given them and their new daughter, Leslie Meekins Primack, by the staff at Washington Adventist Hospital. Leslie, their first child, was born there on November 27.

Congratulations to David and Beverly Lynch of Glen Oaks on the birth of granddaughter Megan

HOLIDAY COLLECTORS ANTIQUE GUN AUCTION: Mon. Dec. 18, 7 p.m., Holiday Inn, Gaithersburg, MD. 175 muskets, carbines, pistols, swords, Indian artifacts, jewelry, coins. Inspection 6-7. Cash, VISA, MC. Consignments wanted.

X-RAY TECHNICIAN: Greenbelt Drs. office. FT/PT. 474-2141

Marie Potts who was born on November 5. Proud parents are Jerry and Kimberly Potts of Forestville.

Former Greenbelters Jill Marie Curtis, Archie and Sheila Millhollon and family travelled all the way from Arizona to attend the November wedding of Ellen Murray and Timothy Millhollon. Former Boxwood resident Jill Marie reports that she still thinks that Greenbelt is most beautiful municipality.

Congratulations are in order for James Patrick Gainor. He has just been elected to the Board of Directors of the Prince Georges County Hotline and Suicide Prevention Center, Inc. Gainor has been a Hotline volunteer for the past two years and now trains new counselors. He is the head of maintenance at University Square Apartments.

Congratulations also to some great Greenbelt seniors who recently competed in the 10th annual Maryland Senior Olympics. Harvy Geller earned five medals while fellow athletes Eloise Carnes and Arthur Endres won four. (I sit in awe. Maybe that's the problem.)

It was a lovely evening at Mishkan Torah recently as the Greenbelt Arts Center Music Series opened. The Turkiewicz Trio played a varied program which was well received by those gathered. Thank you—(and a special thanks to the wonderful woman who shared her cache of cough drops with a stranger.)
