Forest Preserve Asked for Woods; Council Approves Police Retirement

by Virginia Beauchamp

During the Petitions and Requests segment of the agenda at the regular Greenbelt City Council meeting on July 16, Rodney Roberts presented additional names for an earlier petition asking council to set aside Parcel 1, Parcel 2 and the 72-acre tract as a "forest and wildlife preserve." Roberts said he hoped that council would pass an ordinance to preserve the property in its natural state.

Referring to possible plans for a ballpark or an apartment building on the site, Roberts urged "an environmental easement to protect the land from future councils." The remark brought an ovation and some laughs from a standing-room-only crowd, many crammed into the council chamber on a related issue—to save trees by petitioning for a two-story rather than one-story school on the North End School site. (See July 19 issue of the News Review.)

Mayor pro tem Thomas X. White suggested that they add to the petition a request to hold a public hearing on the issue. When he asked for a show of hands from the crowd about how many were interested in Parcels 1 and 2, about 25 hands went up.

Council member Antoinette ("Toni") Bram commended the petitioners for their efforts, adding that she felt some portions of the adjacent Beltsville Agricultural Research Center tract should also be added. She urged the group "to work harder."

Since the Parcel 1 tract was officially acquired only on June 13, Mayor Gil Weidenfeld explained, many legal fine points have not yet been worked out. Until the city hears from the National Park Service, no permanent action can be taken concerning the tract.

Truck Routes

Windsor Green Homeowners Association President Sheldon Goldberg said that his neighbors objected to having a street running through their community designated as an alternate truck route. In particular, they were not happy, he said, about having no prior notice. He was referring to a memo from City Manager James K. Giese setting aside Matthew St. as a "No Through Truck Route." Since Matthew will eventually hook up with two other streets as future development occurs in Greenbelt East, Giese was concerned that it could become a link for truck traffic.

According to state regulations, when a street is barred to trucks, another street must then be made available. Giese had suggested Ora Glen Drive as the alternate route. Goldberg was assured that no action would be taken without notifying the homeowners. White said that Greenbelt Rd.-Hanover Parkway would be a better choice, but Assistant City Manager Michael McLaughlin pointed out that because Greenbelt Rd. is a state highway, the city may not have authority to designate how it should be used. (The city manager, who was on vacation, was not present to clarify the issue.)

Police Retirement

Because of a July 20 deadline from the Maryland Municipal Corporation Law Enforcement Officers' pension system (MCLEO), council suspended the rules and introduced for second reading and final passage a resolution to approve participation by Greenbelt Police officers in the MCLEO pension system. This resolution would be retroactive to July 1.

For some time the city had sought state legislation to permit 25-year retirement for municipal police officers. (Previously they have had to serve 30 years before retiring.) In 1989 the state legislature made such a change but stipulated that at least 60 per cent of the officers in a municipality must seek participation in the system. Recently a petition of more than 60 per cent of the city's police personnel was received by the city manager's office indicating their support of the MCLEO system.

As White pointed out, this resolution would affect the city's contribution to the deferred compensation plan previously in effect. To reinstate it, the city council must pass a new ordinance. In the meantime, officers can continue to pay into the system individually and council can make the new city contribution plan retroactive. The issue was expected to be added to the agenda for the next city council meeting but the shift to the MCLEO system was unanimously approved.

Prudential Parking

Representatives of the Prudential Company appeared before council with a revised plan for parking for Golden Triangle Building III, for which construction will probably get under way before the end of the year. At a May 29 meeting, council had objected to the large amount of space given over to parking and requested that the developer eliminate 20 spaces along the eastern edge of the landscape area.

Objecting to this reduction as a "marketing matter," since the prospective tenant requires a larger parking ratio, the developer returned with a new design eliminating only the seven spaces at the southern end of the section and thus increasing green space at the most visible and usable portion of the landscape area. As part of the plan, there would be a small pond, which council was concerned could attract mosquitos. The spokesman for the developer was not sure whether council's suggestion to stock the pond with fish would be feasible but they agreed to

Transfer Approved

At the special meeting on July 24 the Greenbelt City Council agreed to transfer the North End school property to Prince Georges County which will in turn transfer the property to the school board for construction of a new elementary school.

Greenbelt's Clara Brandt Is Still a Good Neighbor

by Betty Allen

Ten years ago on the Friday evening that opened the Labor Day Festival, Clara Brandt joined other senior citizens on the green space behind the statue - a good place to watch and listen to the festivities. She wasn't paying too much attention to the speech by the chair of the Outstanding Citizen Committee - suddenly one of her friends said: "Clara - they're calling your name!" Ralph Noble, an earlier winner of the honor, appeared to escort her to the stage.

Brandt typified an outstanding "Good Neighbor" - of whom Greenbelt is fortunate to have many. Now in her eighties, and limited in physical activity because of a serious fall three years ago, she keeps in touch with the community via telephone—and friends and neighbors keep in touch with her. A steady stream of cards from her apartment express congratulations and concern for her large circle of friends, particularly those who are part of the Methodist church family.

She feels that receiving the Outstanding Citizen Award was one of the most marvelous things that has happened to her. She loves Greenbelt—says she "fit right in" from the beginning—looks back proudly on her years as a valued employee at Goddard. When I mentioned that the Outstanding Citizen Committee hopes for more nominations this year, she said she "hopes people will look around them - there are many folks in our town who do a lot for other people."

Open your eyes, fellow Greenbelters—and get those nominations in.

Greenbelters Run In Primary

In the upcoming Primary Election on September 11, voters - depending on their party affiliation - will make their choices from either a Republican or Democratic ballot. The Unaffiliated (Independents) do not vote in primaries.

The deadline for registration is August 13.

Of particular interest locally are the announced candidacies of Greenbelters Richard Castaldi and Antoinette "Toni" Bram. Castaldi, former Greenbelt mayor and current Prince Georges County councilman for the Fourth District, is seeking a third term. Bram, serving her fourth term on the city council, seeks a seat in the Maryland House of Delegates from the 23rd Legislative District. Both are Democrats.

William Johnson of Cherrywood Lane is a candidate for the Republican Party State Central Committee.

In the non-partisan Board of Education contest in the 2nd District, Greenbelt Suzanne M. Plogman has no competition.

Although the deadline has passed for Maryland voters to change their party affiliation, it is not too late for the unregistered to add their names to the election rolls. Anyone, for example, who has not voted in a general election in a five-year calendar period must register. Changes of address must also be reported. Registration forms may be obtained by calling the County Election Board hot line at 627-2814 or 952-3270. The hearing impaired can call TDD 627-3352 Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The deadline for voter registration before the Primary Election is 9 p.m. Monday, August 13.

A special registration will be held at all Giant Food stores on July 28, August 4 and 11 from 9 to 5 p.m. Registration forms are also available at all libraries, municipal buildings and at Motor Vehicle Administration offices.

In Prince Georges County there are currently about 183,791 registered Democrats compared to 58,590 Republicans. The fourth Councilmanic district has approximately 21,475 Democrats, with Republicans totaling 12,731. In the 23rd Legislative District there are 26,625 registered Democrats and 14,487 Republicans.

Metro Loop Size Not Yet Set

by Elaine Skolnik

Construction is moving ahead on the Metrorail Green Line in Prince George's County, including the Greenbelt Station. However, still left unsettled is the size of the turn-around loop on the Metro Service and Inspection Yards.

The approved site for the yards is the 70-acre Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC) land located north of the Capital Beltway and east of the CSXT tracks. The Greenbelt Metro Station is situated on the south side of the Capital Beltway between the CSXT tracks and Cherrywood Lane.

Although the Corps of Engineers, Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (F&W) have agreed that the BARC site is the only practicable location for the Metro Yards, the Corps has not yet granted the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority's (WMATA) request for a permit, filed in mid-1988, to fill in wetlands. The Corps has primary responsibility for wetland preservation and prohibits filling of wetlands unless there are no "practicable" alternatives.

At issue is the size of the Metro turn-around loop on the yards. In February, Bill Shultz of F&W told the News Review that the Corps, EPA and F&W agree that the planned 400-foot radius is unacceptable since it would impact 16.7 acres of wetlands. Reducing the radius to 350 feet or 300 feet would lessen the impact to 10.2 or 6.9 acres respectively.

Currently EPA and F&W are insisting that the turn-around loop be reduced to 300 feet. WMATA had earlier expressed concern that a 300-foot radius would increase the likelihood of train derailment. Reportedly, documentation to support this view has not been conclusive. Corps spokesperson Bob Cook told the News Review that the permit to fill the wetlands is still being evaluated and that "we expect to render a decision some time in August."

The Corps, EPA, F&W and other appropriate agencies are also reviewing WMATA's conceptual mitigation plan for replacing disturbed wetlands. Three sites have been identified for creating new wetlands—two on BARC property and the third on the Patuxent Wildlife Refuge. In accordance with Corps of Engineers regulations, each acre of wetlands ultimately used will be replaced with two acres.

County Adds $30,000 For City Recreation

In response to a request made to the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission by the City of Greenbelt for additional funding for recreational programming, $30,000 has been added to the budget for use by the Greenbelt Recreation Department.

Of the additional funding, $12,000 will go towards arts programs. This includes salaries for the instructors of the new Creative Kids Camp program. This program consists of instruction in creative writing, dance and music, drama, and literary arts. A portion of this funding will also go towards payment of performing groups throughout the year for programs such as the Summer Sounds Series.

Another $12,000 of the funds will go to the Greenbelt Recreation Center's therapeutic recreation programs. This includes funding for a part-time outreach program aide. Through the outreach program, handicapped individuals and their needs are identified throughout the community. This information is then used to create new recreational programs for the handicapped. Because of this program, the Greenbelt Recreation Department was able to mainstream several handicapped children into Camp Pine Tree this summer.

The remaining $6,000 will be used for part-time staff for the recreation department's other summer programs.

Are You Registered?

Just two and a half weeks remain before a very important civic deadline. Citizens must register by August 13 as voters and party members if they want to vote in the primary election coming up on September 11.

Two Greenbelters are seeking spots on the Democratic ballot this time. Current City Councilmember Antoinette M. ("Toni") Bram has declared her candidacy for one of the three seats from the 23rd District in the Maryland House of Delegates, where she runs against three incumbents. In the race for representative to the Prince Georges County Council, incumbent Richard Castaldi, Greenbelt's former mayor, is seeking reelection.

Because the county council, not the city, holds power to make zoning and development decisions for Greenbelt, it is important that those who represent us look out for Greenbelt's needs.

Candidates for the Maryland House of Delegates, along with the Governor and the State Senate, will be confronting a variety of important issues in the coming term, including taxes and spending, abortion and transportation policy. Obviously all the issues will affect Greenbelters.

For Greenbelters who will surely hope for as much influence as possible in the selection of candidates, a large voter turnout in the primary is important. It is in this election that voters can choose the best candidates to be fielded by their respective parties. But first, we all must be registered to vote.

Eric Wade Barber

Eric Wade ("Rick") Barber, 43, died Sunday, July 22 at his home in Glenn Dale. A diabetic, Barber had suffered several strokes.

Barber had moved to Greenbelt as a child and continued to live here with his family until a few years ago. He was a graduate of High Point High School and Bowie State University.

Barber worked at Goddard Space Flight Center as a computer analyst for Computer Science Corp. from 1970 to 1979. He became a fulltime real estate agent for Greenbelt Realty, later Nyman Realty, winning many awards for sales and community involvement. Last year he became associated with American Realty.

For most of his adult life Barber was deeply involved with the Greenbelt Jaycees and their projects, particularly the Prince Georges Special Olympics and Big Brothers of the National Capital Area. He was a past president of the Greenbelt Jaycees and the Maryland Jaycees International Senate.

He is survived by his wife Barbara and two daughters, Marcia J. and Melissa L.; his mother, Edith D. of Greenbelt; and a brother William H. III of Glenn Dale.

Interment was at Meadowridge Memorial Park on Wednesday. Memorial contributions may be made to the Hospice of Prince Georges County.

Elizabeth Natoli

Elizabeth Natoli (nee Mankulish) died on Sunday, July 22 in Passaic, New Jersey. She was a Greenbelt resident until recently and a parishioner of St. Hugh's Catholic Church. She was born in Seymour, Connecticut.

She is survived by a son, Theodore J. Natoli of Lyndhurst, NJ; a brother, John Mankulish of Greenbelt; four grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren. Her husband, Theodore B. Natoli, died in 1974.

Services were held Thursday in Lyndhurst.

Holy Cross Hospital Hosts Bereavement Support Grp.

A new six-week Bereavement Support Group session for adults coping with the death of a loved one will be offered at Holy Cross Hospital beginning July 31. The free sessions will meet every Tuesday from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Holy Cross Resource Institute, 9805 Dameron Drive, Silver Spring.

The meetings are designed to assist widowed individuals and persons who have experienced a parent/child loss in working through their grief.

To register for the six-week session, call Sister Clarisse at 681-8800 or 565-1171.

At the Library

On August 2, there will be a drop-in storytime for children ages 3 to 5 at 10:30 a.m. and Super Summer Stories: Celebration for children ages 3 to 6 at 2 p.m.

Arts Center to Hold

Art Auction August 8

The Greenbelt Arts Center joins forces with the nationally-advertised Fine Arts Gallery, Inc. to present a benefit art show and auction on Wednesday, August 8, at the Greenbelt Fire House, Crescent Road, starting at 7 p.m. Featuring original oils, watercolors, sculptures, enamels, etchings, lithographs and other graphics, the auction will begin at 8 p.m. following a one-hour preview of the art.

The majority of the art will have opening bids ranging from $50 to $125, providing novices as well as the experienced collectors ample opportunity to express their individual tastes.

A Collector's Corner will also be featured and may include works by modern masters such as Michel Delacroix, Leroy Neiman, Thomas McKnight and Alexander Calder. The proceeds will be used for the performing arts in the community.

The admission price includes complimentary wine and hors d'oeuvres throughout the auction.

Tickets and further information can be obtained by calling the Greenbelt Arts Center at 441-8770.

60 Year Olds Can Receive Free Edy's Ice Cream

Sixty years ago Joseph Edy whipped up the world's first batch of Rocky Road ice cream. And, since July is National Ice Cream Month, Edy's decided it was an appropriate time to honor everyone who shares Rocky Road's sixtieth birthday.

During the months of July and August, anyone who sends proof that they celebrate their sixtieth birthday in 1990 (copy of birth certificate, driver's license, etc.) will receive a gift certificate good for one quart of Edy's Grand Ice Cream.

Letters should be addressed to: Edy's Rocky Road Sweet Sixty, P.O. Box 1188, Lafayette, CA 94549-1188.

Repent at Leisure

In response to the News Review editorial, "Decision Making Time," there is a compelling reason not to turn over the North End School property to the School Board. A significant number of citizens, even a City Council member, think there are too many unresolved issues and unanswered questions. For example, will there be a stormwater retention pond? If the answer is yes, what impact will it have on the environment? Once this property is relinquished, Greenbelt will have no say or control over what goes on.

It is true that the voters chose to build a new school—but it was slated to be a two-story building, not a one-story one. It is also important to note that the pro-school "majority" vote was a slim margin of approximately 70 votes. Some of those voters have stated they wouldn't have voted for the school at all, had they any inkling of the present state of affairs.

Supporters of the one-story school have not adequately justified their position that it is better from a safety or educational standpoint. Are they implying that children can learn in a one-story building but not in a two-story one? I always thought that the support and involvement of parents, the commitment of the teachers, and the quality of their teaching and the curriculum were the critical factors in learning, not the number of stories in a building.

Not one of the standing-room-only crowd objected to "the best possible school we can get for our children," but "best" is in the mind of the beholder. The consensus of the citizens at the meeting is that sooner is not better, that a decision made in haste will be repented in leisure. The amount of time spent thus far is not a valid argument for closing the deal, especially when the amount of factual information is unsatisfactory to so many people.

Since the loss of state funding and the new school is "remote" as stated in the editorial, what's wrong with investing a little more time, thought and careful planning in this project? Many citizens believe that our belt of green has been compromised enough and that no project should receive our blessing until the environment is taken into account. In light of Mrs. Bram's query about citizens being against progress, we all need to re-evaluate the accepted notions of progress, particularly if they continue to be synonymous with the destruction of our environment, our green space and consequently the quality of our lives.

Surely the citizens of Greenbelt, the City Council and the School Board can plan a school that will meet the needs of the teachers and the students and not adversely affect the neighborhood or threaten our precious remaining green space.

Please Leave Your Saw at Home

Last Sunday, as I was walking in the woods between Ridge Road and the Beltsville fence by Laurel Hill Road, I saw someone cutting some of the logs and branches that had fallen across the path. This person probably didn't even know I was there.

Now, he may have thought that he was doing a community service, but the best thing to do in this case is to leave the path just a little bit cluttered. It is no trouble for the hiker to step over a log or two. But clearing them out only encourages the motorized mini-bikers and trail bikers to zoom along the path, and they can rip up those fragile forest trails in short order. This individual may have felt he was helping, but in this case, the best help would be no help at all. Please leave your saw at home next time you walk through the woods.

Not Enough Parking

I lived in Greenbelt for 11 years prior to moving to Bowie. I always appreciated the fact that Greenbelt offered such evenings as the concerts at the lake throughout the summer. Why then doesn't the City offer enough parking to use the facilities? Anytime I want to visit the lake area, there is never a place closer than 1/2 mile to park. It becomes obvious that the facility is there for public use but there has not in all these years been adequate parking facilities.

CITY NOTES

The special details crew, along with the streets crew, cleaned the public works facility, recycling center, and worked at the center.

The streets crew worked on Lakeside Drive, started sidewalk replacement in Greenbriar, and cleaned curbs and gutters.

The horticulturists crew replaced flowers at the police facility.

Lutheran Church Hosts Field Trips for Children

Holy Cross Lutheran Church will be hosting Kids' Day, a series of field trips, Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for children from 3rd to 7th grade. On July 31, the destination will be the National Zoo; on August 7, the Treasury Department; on August 14, Accokeek Farm; and on August 21, the Greenbelt fire station, post office, and the Greenbelt National Park will be toured.

There is a small fee for each trip, and children should bring lunch and a drink. Registration deadline is July 29, and parent participation is encouraged. For more information, call Eunice Kuring at 345-5111.

SENIORS' SOFTBALL

by Jerry Conway

The Greenbelt Senior Softball Team is participating in the Baltimore County Softball League for seniors 60 plus. Presently, the team has ten wins and four losses.

Greenbelt Seniors are playing in a qualifying tournament for seniors aged 55 plus at Allen Pond in Bowie on August 24, 25 and 26. Those teams that win will compete for Maryland Senior Olympics in Towson on October 4. There is no fee to play.

If you are aged 55 plus and can field and bat, the team welcomes you for practice on July 27 and 30 at 10 a.m. at Braden Field. For further information, call 474-6433 or 345-8446.

Scully - Johnson

Patricia E. Scully and Floyd B. Johnson, both of Greenbelt, were married at the Prince Georges County courthouse in Upper Marlboro on June 29. They were attended by Barbara Stein, sister of the bride, of Virginia Beach and Dennis Pritchett, of Alexandria.

The bride's oldest nephew, Robert Kitchens of Virginia Beach, served his aunt and new uncle as Best Boy, accompanying them on the first leg of their honeymoon trip. He decorated their vehicle (at the beginning and end of the trip) with shaving cream and streamers and offered the toast at the reception given for the couple by Mr. and Mrs. Scully.

The bride, an administrative project manager at Greenhorne & O'Mara, is a graduate of Catholic University. She is also a member of the staff of the Greenbelt News Review. She is the daughter of Vincent and Ann Scully of North Dighton, Mass. The groom is a senior plant superintendent for the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission and a graduate of the Pennsylvania State University. He is the son of Emogene and the late Benjamin Johnson of Export, Penn.

For their wedding trip, the couple visited and were feted by their families in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

CANDLE OF HOPE

Mowatt Memorial United Methodist Church has placed a candle in the window to show support for the United Methodist Church's anti-drug crusade in the Washington, D.C. and Prince Georges County area. The church urges Greenbelters to join them in lighting a candle of hope.

The United Methodist Church provides havens, with activities and counseling, in drug-plagued neighborhoods.

Christian Music Concert

Holy Cross Lutheran Church is hosting the musical ministry of David Schmidt, a Christian musician and vocalist on Monday, July 30, at 7:30 p.m. The presentation lasts one hour and combines jazz pop, gospel songs, and some of David's original compositions. Everyone welcome! (A freewill offering will be received.) For more information call 345-5111.

Schwarten-Evans

Linda C. Schwarten became the bride of John P. Evans III on Saturday, June 9, at the Fairview Church of the Brethren in Cordova, Md. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dwight Miller officiating, with the Rev. Robert Fryman assisting. The organist was Ellen Bruso.

The bridal attendants were sisters of the bride and groom: Lou Ann Schwarten McCaughey, matron of honor; Patricia Evans English; Lois Schwarten MacDonald; and Emily Evans Sudbrink. Serving as junior bridesmaids were nieces of the bride and groom: Sarah Elizabeth McCaughey and Nancy Haupt English.

The groom selected his father as best man, John P. Evans, Jr. Other groomsmen included Richard S. Evans, Charles H. S. Eaton, and William P. Evans.

The bride, a 15-year resident of Greenbelt, is the Director of Community Relations at Springhill Lake Apartments. The groom, also a Greenbelt resident, is the Communications Officer for Riggs Bank of Washington, D.C. and owns a photography business, Pro Shots Inc.

The reception was held at the Cordova Fire Department. After a honeymoon to Bethany Beach, the couple is living in Greenbelt.

Stuber-Montague

Angela Dawn Stuber, daughter of Ken and Judy Stuber of Woodbridge, Virginia, was married to Daniel Luck Montague III, son of Dan Montague, Jr. and June Montague of Roanoke, Virginia on June 2 at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Woodbridge, Virginia. The bride and groom were both presented by their parents for marriage. The Reverend Robert E. Allard performed the double-ring ceremony.

Christine Ramsey served as the maid-of-honor. The best man was Todd Sprouse of Roanoke, Virginia, who also performed an original song.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the Officer's Club, Quantico Marine Corps Base. The couple then went on a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico.

The bride graduated from Potomac Senior High School in 1986 and from Roanoke College in 1990. She plans to begin graduate studies at Georgetown University in the fall.

The groom graduated from Patrick Henry High School in Roanoke in 1983 and from Virginia Tech in 1987. He is presently studying at Wesley Seminary in Washington, D.C. while serving as pastor of Mowatt Memorial United Methodist Church. The couple is now residing in Greenbelt.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

On July 13 customers at Best Products helped apprehend a would-be robber: A cashier opened her cash drawer while ringing up a sale and a man reached across the counter and grabbed a large amount of cash and fled. A customer whose cash had been taken tried to stop the man by pushing a trash can in his path; the man deflected the can with his hand and the lid hit the customer in the face. Then another customer stepped in the man's path but was knocked down. Eventually the man was caught at the door which enters the mall area, and the money was recovered. The man, a 26-year-old nonresident, was arrested and charged with common law robbery, theft under $300, and 3 counts of battery. He appeared before the District Court Commissioner and was held on $10,000 bond pending trial.

On July 14, Pfc. Carl Schinner saw a man and two women engaged in a heated argument in the parking area of the gas station at Cherrywood Lane and Breezewood Drive. Upon investigating the situation, Pfc. Schinner found that the tags of their vehicle had been reported stolen. Then the women began a fist fight. Pfc. Schinner arrested them all.

One of the women, a 31-year-old resident, was charged with distribution and possession of phencyclidine and incarcerated on $10,000 bond.

On July 13 a breaking and entering of an office suite on Ridge Road was reported. An undetermined amount of cash was taken.

On July 13, Officer Marie Croissette investigated a report of employee theft at the Burlington

Coat Factory in Beltway Plaza. Upon closing the store, credit slips were discovered missing from a particular employee's cash register. Later, that employee tried to use the credit slips at the Burlington Coat Factory in Forestville. He was arrested and charged with fraud. A non-resident male juvenile, he was released to his parents pending trial.

On July 5 in the 8900 block of Edmonston Road, Officer Barry Byers arrested a 29-year-old resident woman for acting disorderly and shouting profanities. She was charged with disorderly conduct and was released on a citation pending trial.

On July 6, a theft that occurred in an office suite in the 6400 block of Ivy Lane on June 19, was reported. Two rings, left unattended on a desktop, had been stolen between 1 and 5 p.m. that day.

On July 7, Officer Richard Sullivan stopped a vehicle for going the wrong way on Greenbelt Road near Mandan Road. Upon approaching the vehicle, he observed a burned, hand-rolled cigarette in the ashtray and rolling papers, and he smelled phencyclidine (PCP) coming from the vehicle. He then arrested the driver, a 33-year-old non-resident male. The driver was charged with driving the wrong way on a highway, possession of a controlled dangerous substance, and possession of drug paraphernalia; he was released on personal recognizance.

A breaking and entering was reported in the 7800 block of Mandan Road on July 8. Clothing jewelry, and electronic equipment were stolen.

July 8, Pfc. Alan Caho arrested a 39-year-old male resident for battering his female roommate. The man was released on personal recognizance.

On July 9, an attempted breaking and entering was reported in the 7700 block of Hanover Pkwy. The window was pried open, but entry was not gained because there was a security bar in the window.

Car Chases

While travelling on Cherrywood Lane near Super Fresh about midnight on July 14, Pfc. Schinner noticed a light blue Toyota Corolla driven recklessly out of the Beltway Plaza parking lot. After the driver almost caused an accident, Pfc. Schinner initiated a traffic stop, but the car didn't stop; instead it sped off through the rear parking lot of Beltway Plaza. Pfc. Schinner followed. Then, the three people in the car got out of the car and ran away. Pfc. Schinner apprehended the driver almost immediately; Beltway Plaza Security personnel apprehended another; and the police dog Natan tracked down the third. The three, nonresident teenagers (13, 14, and 15 years old) were charged with theft over $300, and fleeing and eluding on foot. The driver was also charged with fleeing and eluding in a vehicle. Pending trial, two of the youths were released to their mother, and the other was released to his grandmother.

When Pfc. Musterman tried to stop two cars speeding on July 16, the Toyota Camrys continued speeding, one going southbound on Kenilworth Avenue and the other going eastbound on Greenbelt Road from Kenilworth Avenue. Pfc. Musterman chased the first one until his car spewed smoke into the passenger compartment. The Bladensburg Police carried on and apprehended the driver of the first car once it stopped (it crashed). That person was arrested and charged with theft over $300.

Responding to a complaint about a motorcycle in the 6100 block of Springhill Terrace on July 16, Officer John Rogers found that the tag on the offending motorcycle was reported stolen, and so arrested the motorcyclist for the theft of the tag. He was incarcerated on $500 bond.

Officer Rogers also arrested another man who was at the scene because the man had a pipe in his pants pocket of the type that is commonly used to smoke a CDS. That man was released on a citation for possession of CDS paraphernalia. One of the arrested men was a 23-year-old resident; the other was a 38-year-old nonresident.

Upon returning from vacation on July 18, residents on Laurel Hill Road discovered that their home had been broken into and entered; several pieces of jewelry were missing. Investigation is continuing.

Vehicles

On July 15, Pfc. Robert Musterman stopped a 1989 Ford Festiva for speeding on Greenbelt Road and found out that the car had been stolen. He arrested the driver, a 19-year-old nonresident male, and charged him with theft over $300. The youth was incarcerated in lieu of $1,000 bond pending trial.

While running an information check on a car that he had stopped because its headlight was out, on July 16, Officer Marty Parker learned that the car had been stolen. He arrested the people in the car. One of them was a nonresident female juvenile; she was taken to the Cheltenham facility for juveniles. The other people were nonresident men, aged 26, 27, and 28. One was held on $5,000 bond pending trial, and the other two were held on $7,500 bond pending trial.

On July 16, a black, 4-door, 1990 Jeep Cherokee Larado, MD tags 347-399M, was stolen from the 6100 block of Breezewood Court.

On July 18, the Anne Arundel Police recovered a license plate that had been stolen from a motorcycle in the 6100 block of Springhill Lane on July 16. A 24-year-old man was arrested in connection with the theft.

On July 17, Det. Matthew Carr arrested a 22-year-old nonresident male for stealing a 1990 Mercury Grand Marquis stretch limo. The man arranged to have the limo delivered to 7701 Greenbelt Road on June 8. Then he convinced the limo dealership that he was a bank manager transferring money to the dealership's account so that they would give him the car; he was given the car. The limo was next seen when the man drove it to court in Upper Marlboro on July 3 for an unrelated case. Once the man was arrested, he was charged with theft over $300 and incarcerated in lieu of $2500 bond.

On July 16 a white 1987 Toyota Camry, MD tags XSD566, was stolen from the 5900 block of Cherrywood Terrace.

On July 18, a Maryland license plate BEARS34 was stolen from a vehicle parked in the 8000 block of Mandan Road.

Vandalism to, thefts from, and attempted thefts of autos were reported in the following areas: the Youth Center (99 Centerway), the 5900 block of Cherrywood Terrace, the 6100 block of Breezewood Drive, the 6200 and 7600 blocks of Greenbelt Road, and the 9100 block of Springhill Lane.

Boys & Girls Club Holds Registration

The Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club is in the middle of its fall registration. All youth must register at this time for the fall sport of their choice—cheerleading, fall soccer or football. Both soccer and cheerleading are offered for those youth born in the years 1972 through 1984. Football, based on an age/weight system, is offered for those youth born in the years 1974 through 1982.

Soccer had over 100 youth participating on six teams in the spring and a lot more youth will be signing up for soccer's "major" season. This will mean rosters will fill up fast, with the possibility of requiring the need for additional teams. That decision will be based not only on youth interest, but will also depend on whether more adults volunteer to coach and on equipment limitations. The club hopes to be able to accommodate all interested youth, and is actively seeking to form a teenage all-girl team.

Cheerleaders will again be participating in the city's Labor Day Festival in the parade and on stage. The cheerleaders will perform during the season and compete in the county boys and girls club's competition in November at the University of Maryland. The new uniforms are in. Adults are needed to help coach and to be "Team Parents."

The football situation is still a bit cloudy because no adult has come forward to be that sport's commissioner. However, registration is progressing. The club hopes to get enough players to field three teams: possibly a 75 lb. team; a 95 lb. team; and a 125 lb. team. This is a realistic prediction of youth interest. If no commissioner is found, the club's board of directors will vote at their August 7 monthly meeting as to the fate of the football program. If concerned or to volunteer as the commissioner, co-commissioner or to coach, contact club president Mel Scites immediately at 441-8689.

The club has a yearly registration fee. There is also a sport fee for each sport played. Those who have participated in the spring season need only to pay the sport fee at registration. New club members must be accompanied by a parent or guardian, and need to bring a copy of their birth certificate and a small photo for an I.D. (a school photo is perfect) to register. All members need to be prepared to pay the necessary dues at registration (registration and/or sport fee).

Sign-ups will be held at SHL Recreation Center on Saturday, July 28, 9-10:30 a.m.; and at the Greenbelt Youth Center on Saturday, July 28, 11-12:30 p.m. For further information call the club's sports information line at 310-1066.

Our Neighbors

by Linda Savaryn (474-5285)

Our sympathy to Barbara Barber and daughters Marcia and Melissa on the death of her husband and their father, "Rick" Barber. Sympathy also to Mrs. Edith Barber, "Rick's" mother.

Condolences to Martha Sinden on the death of her father, Charles V. Carlson of Haworth, N.J.

Sympathy also to John Manikulis whose sister, Elizabeth Natoli died Sunday.

Some local students have acquitted themselves with distinction. Katina Monique Byrd won a $4,000 Carl T. Rowan Project Excellence Scholarship. Katina is a senior at Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Michael Forden Walker's name appeared on the Chancellor's List at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. For this honor he maintained an average of 3.80 or better in the spring semester. Walker, an English major, lives on Candlewood Place.

Scott Robert Luddy, in addition to being on the Dean's list for the spring semester, received his BS degree in criminal justice from East Tennessee State University, Johnson City, Tennessee. Congratulations.

Teresa Williams was one of 248 students named to the Dean's List for the spring semester at Saint Francis College of Loretto, Pennsylvania. Williams, a junior majoring in management, is the daughter of Ginny and Wayne Williams of Crescent Road.

Danilo E. Yanez, son of Svlvia Yanez of Greenbelt, received a BS degree in Aeronautical Studies/Management from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, Daytona Beach, Florida. Was being a neighbor of NASA a factor?

Former Greenbelter, Balinda Cohan (Townsend), Ft. Washington, gave birth to a baby boy weighing 7 lbs., 2 ozs., at Greater Laurel Hospital, July 6. Ryan joins 3 brothers. Proud grandparents are George and Louvain Townsend, 51 Ridge Road.

Millie DonBullian thanks the Good Luck Recreation Center for the wonderful surprise they gave for her 85th birthday on Friday, July 13. She was presented with a beautiful birthday cake, card, and a pay raise. All the senior citizens were invited, along with her son, Anthony and his wife, Kathy; and two grandchildren, Genette and Vincent. Millie says she enjoys working with a lovely group of people from Goodluck.

Also noteworthy is news that Linda J. Levine of Ridge Road has been nominated as the alternate for the Maryland Governor's Conference on Libraries and Information Services.

We have received word that two Greenbelt men have been selected for inclusion in the 1989 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America. They are Mark D. Steiner of Southway and Christopher Thomas Duffy of Lakeside Drive. Both were selected along with fellow Outstanding Young Men throughout North America for their service to community, professional leadership, academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments, and civic and political participation.

The Eleanor Roosevelt High School academic team placed 33rd out of 78 teams participating in the recent 1990 Texaco Star Academic Championship held on the Rice University campus. The team ranked 13th in the percentage of correct answers given and scored an average of 285 points per game. Team members were Rudyard Wallace, Jon Bodner, Mark Swiadak, Jenni Dikes and Marc Singer. Gerald Greenbaum was coach.

From the military comes word that Second Lt. Thomas R. Tousignant has graduated from U.S. Air Force pilot training, and has received silver wings at Reese Air Force Base, Texas. Tousignant, a 1982 graduate of Roosevelt High School and a 1987 graduate of Drexel University, Philadelphia, is the son of Ronald E. and Marie E. Tousignant of Olivewood Court.

consider the option, as well as some kind of filtration system.

As part of the city's agreement, the applicant will also give the city control over all new exterior signs within the office park pending "final non-appealable approval of the detailed site plan." On this basis council voted to approve the new proposal by a vote of four to one, with Bram opposed.

Earlier in the evening council passed a resolution to purchase 23 London plane trees, two Sophora japonica trees and one Douglas fir tree from Halka Nurseries of Englishtown, New Jersey. This supplier had been recommended by the city's landscaping consultants, Coffin & Coffin. The cost of the trees is $11,600 plus shipping charges, a price quoted a year ago by the nursery and which they have agreed to adhere to.

The plane trees, a variety of sycamore, will be set in 8' by 8' wells, with underground drainage and irrigation. The Douglas fir will be planted near the Municipal Building as a holiday tree, once the roadway into the parking area has been realigned.

Council also passed a resolution authorizing purchase of nine street light poles and eight ornamental bollards to be installed along Centerway in connection with the renovation of the sidewalk area. These will be purchased from Chesapeake Lighting Associates of Laurel, the only distributor for this product, at a cost of $35,865.

Multivision Skips CFG Forum, Cable's Potential Subject of Talk

by Virginia Beauchamp and Elaine Skolnik

Customer dissatisfaction with Multivision's service and rate increases, the potential problem of aircraft interference by cable systems and the advent of advanced cable technology were the focus of the Citizens For Greenbelt meeting on June 27 at Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Mark Jennings, vice president and general manager of MultiVision, was to have appeared on a panel with cable pioneer Victor Nicholson. However, he later informed CFG that he could not attend.

A major concern of the audience was with frustration over customer service and increasing rates, exacerbated by the recent monthly charge of $1.95 for the cable guide magazine.

Both Nicholson and Mayor Gil Weidenfeld explained that the U.S. Cable Act of 1984 prohibited any rate regulation by city or county officials.

(Jeannine Aversa reported in Multichannel News, July 2, 1990, that the U.S. House of Representatives is considering legislation permitting the Federal Communications Commission to regulate some cable rates.)

Nicholson, who as a county staff engineer, supervised the Storer and Metrovision installation in 1982 of a dual cable system in Prince Georges County, noted that in 1986 Storer, which had won the northern franchise, sold the cable system to Prime Cable for roughly the installation cost of $1500 per subscriber. However, in 1989, MultiVision purchased the system for $198 million or almost $2800 per subscriber. Because of this high purchase price, he said, MultiVision needed to enlarge its subscriber base and raise rates to increase cash flow. The number of subscribers rose from 73,000 to 80,000 but income from premium services decreased, resulting in a $5.8 million loss for the first quarter of 1990. Obviously, Nicholson observed, MultiVision must find major new sources of revenue.

CLI
Nicholson called attention to the serious problem of Cumulative Signal Leakage (CLI) which involves cable systems transmitting up to 34 television channels in frequency spectra assigned to aircraft for navigation, communication and emergencies. The FAA insists this spectra be forbidden to cable systems. In response, the FCC issued strong regulations that went into effect July 1, 1990, requiring cable systems to prove compliance. Any system not complying can be fined $20,000 per day and must remove from the system all channels in the aircraft bands.

Greenbelters, Nicholson said, are entitled to see the results of the latest CLI tests prepared for the FCC by MultiVision and Mid-Atlantic (for Springhill Lake). The county cable commission has ordered MultiVision and Metrovision to submit copies of the test results.

Using this city as an example in what he called "A Vision for Greenbelt," Nicholson described how one year's income from the 5% annual franchise fee paid to the city by MultiVision — about $70,000 — could cover the expense of a low cost 12 channel cable throughout the city. At a charge of $3 per month per subscriber, the system could deliver the four television networks, public broadcasting and city programs, as well as public and governmental access. Even neighborhood security and electronic delivery of the Greenbelt News Review would be possible on this system, he said.

Nicholson believes that cable can provide much more than entertainment. With two-way electronic communication it can also address society's social, medical, educational and commercial needs, he said.

Nicholson's patented BUSS switched system has a two-way design and programs-on-demand feature which makes enhanced services available for commercial, medical, educational and governmental use. A major benefit would be the protection of the environment through the system's capability for telecommuting and video interconnection of commercial and governmental of-ice buildings and local institutions.

As President Bush pointed out in a recent speech: "... if only 5% of the commuters in Los Angeles County telecommuted one day each week, they'd save 205 million miles of travel each year—and keep 47,000 tons of pollutants from entering the atmosphere."

The BUSS capability makes possible the dimension of vision comparable to a face-to-face meeting, Nicholson said. From home, it provides the visual link for meetings, employee-management interaction, product demonstrations or contract review. It can deliver computer data at a rate several magnitudes faster than telephone lines.

Nicholson showed how Martin Marietta Corporation could interconnect its large Capitol Office Park branch with the firm's headquarters in Montgomery County and with other area branches.

The corporate headquarters of Coakley & Williams in Greenbelt's Maryland Trade Center Park could conduct business with governmental agencies in Tinner Marlboro and with architectural firms. Managers could even visually monitor on-site project construction from their offices.

Transporting electrons rather than people in automobiles would reduce the pressure for Outer Beltways and the Inter-county Connector, which, if built, would only generate more development, gridlock and pollution. "Society deserves better," Nicholson said.

Two-way video between subscribers could be used for household security services, access to medical information and a myriad of other special services. It could also improve the care and lifestyle of the elderly in retirement complexes and nursing homes.

In Greenbelt Nursing Center, for example, patients could observe events throughout the city or visually meet with other patients at the center or friends and relatives in the county. The bedridden elderly and latch-key children could be remotely monitored, disabled students participate in classes from home, and disabled adults trained and employed at home.

To bring this vision to fruition, Nicholson concluded, "it seems reasonable for the government to divert a portion of the billions of dollars allocated for highway construction to accelerate the building of electronic pathways for telecommuting and social services."

Audience Reaction

County council member Richard Castaldi asked whether the BUSS switched system could solve the CLI problem. Nicholson explained that it could because BUSS delivers all existing programs without using any of the aircraft spectra. Therefore, there would be no interference or loss of programming to subscribers.

State Delegate Joan Pitkin questioned whether telephone deregulation would help reduce excessive cable rate increases. In response, Nicholson said competition by either cable or telephone companies could reduce rates and increase services. Earlier he noted that "99% of cable systems in our country are de-facto monopolies but where competition does occur, rates are reduced."

Editor's Note: Speaker Victor Nicholson is the husband of News Review Editor Elaine Skolnik.

CHILD-CARE CENTER UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP

The child care center formerly known as Greenbriar Early Learning Center has been acquired recently by GCC, Incorporated and has changed its name to Greenbelt Children's Center. The new Board of Directors is headed by Flora L. Gee, president and Paul J. Uth, vice president/secretary.

Flora Gee (nee Pristoop) formerly a long time resident of Greenbelt, has been in the field of early childhood education for 15 years and earned her Master's in education at the University of Maryland. She is the former president of the Prince Georges County Child Care Association and currently serves as the legislative committee chairperson.

Uth, also in the early childhood field for 15 years, is a former center director, and has his degree in education from the University of Maryland.

The Greenbelt Children's Center is located at 7600 Hanover Parkway and provides an educational pre-school program full day, for children ages 2-5 years old, as well as a limited before and after elementary school program for ages 6-8.

Interested parents may contact the center director, Susan Crump, at 345-8830 or stop by the center, located in the Greenbriar Community Building.

Renovation Started

Capital Office Park has begun the renovation of 6301 Ivy Lane, the first building constructed within the complex 12 years ago. The building renovations have been planned by CHK Architects and Planners and are scheduled to be completed by the fall.

According to the building owners, the decision to update the building's interior was based on the need to keep it competitive in the popular suburban market.

Renovations will include upgrading of all public interior spaces in the building, such as complete facelifts for the lobby, common area corridors, elevator lobbies and cabs, suite entry doors and building entrances on the lobby level.

J. Schwingler Earns New Certification

Joseph F. Schwingler, Food & Beverage Director/Holiday Inn-Greenbelt, has been awarded the Certified Food and Beverage Executive designation by the Educational Institute of the American Hotel and Motel Association (AH&MA).

The Certified Food and Beverage Executive is one of the highest designations offered by the Educational Institute. To qualify for this distinction, hotel executives must demonstrate academic and industry achievement.

The Educational Institute is a nonprofit educational foundation of the American Hotel & Motel Association. It provides continuing learning opportunities for lodging industry employees at all levels who wish to advance their careers through study and certification.

Center School Graduation Features Student Awards

by Barbara Likowski

It is really important for the students who are leaving to have faith in themselves, to believe in themselves, Principal Dr. John Van Schoonhoven told the sixth grade graduating students of Center School at their awards assembly on June 14. Then they are bound to succeed, he added. In one of the teariest sixth grade awards assemblies, Van Schoonhoven exhorted the students to hold on to dreams. He ended by quoting Langston Hughes' poem, "Hold Fast to Dreams."

Brian Doss was presented the American Legion award for citizenship by Richard Santos of American Legion Post 136. Runner-up was John Matthews. Among the girls Suzanne Moien and Jean Kepler tied for first place for the award.

Tidius Stinnie was named Patrol of the Year. Tidius had helped to avert trouble on his bus by alerting police to the fact that a woman had threatened harm to the bus.

The Rotary Club award for outstanding cooperation, academic excellence and concern for students and teachers went to

Summer Science Fun

The Challenger Learning Center at the Howard B. Owens Science Center in Greenbelt offers four summer flights weekly lasting for 20 hours. These flights include:

Rendezvous with Halley's Comet in 2061 in the space station, set up a life support system, use high technology to communicate with the mission control and manipulate robots, cameras and computers. This new program is one of over 50 summer science enrichment offerings at the Owens Science Center.

Other programs include chemistry people can eat, forensics, solar power, electronics, computers and model rockets, as well as programs to learn about reptiles, insects, fossils and sun spots.

Registration is daily from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Programs are available for students age 4 through grade 10. Openings are currently available in most programs. Call 577-8718 for information.

Lisa Mills.

Citizenship awards went to Chris Barber, Cherylita Cobb, La Toya Finney, Chris Holland, B. J. Koh and Sherin Pottier. Reishada Hawkins was named "most improved" student.

Many awards were given for academic scholarship, sports, music, and instrumental music. Older children who had tutored younger pupils received certificates.

The program was put on by students who spoke, sang and led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance to the American flag. Ms. Marino's class presented "Greenbelt's Finest," a selection of photos of the sixth graders as babies and as students. Sixth grader Min Kwan designed the program.

Following the program refreshments on the lawn were presented to students and parents, courtesy of the Center School PTA.

Program Encourages Disabled Students

For employment in high tech industry, it's ability—not disability—that counts. That was the message the scientists, engineers and managers at the Goddard Space Flight Center sent to members of the High School/High Tech Project during their recent tour of the facility. The High School/High Tech Project is a two-year enrichment program for Prince Georges County high school students with disabilities who have an interest in science, math, engineering or administration.

At Goddard, students had an opportunity to meet with disabled professionals who spoke frankly about the challenges they faced in obtaining both education and employment. The wide variety of career paths available at Goddard were also discussed. Following a panel discussion, High School/High Tech Project members received a V.I.P. tour of a satellite assembly bay and the robotics lab, which is developing technology to be used in constructing the space station.

The High School/High Tech Project offers monthly tours and workshops focusing on preparing students for college and employment.

For additional information about the High School/High Tech Project, call 350-9760, ext. 116.

Center School Hosts A Musical Evening

by Mary Moien

The curtain rose on stage for Greenbelt Center Elementary School's spring musical, held May 24. This year Wilma Vasquez and Diane Zolnaski joined forces to present an evening of instrumental and vocal music. The dedication of both the teachers and the students was evident from the first notes.

The instrumental segment included students from Greenbelt Center, Magnolia, C. T. Reed, and James McHenry Schools. Zolnaski is the instrumental teacher for all of these schools. The beginning and advanced bands opened the show with "Aura Lee," "Frere Jacques," and others, ending with a rousing rendition of "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Next, the beginning and advanced strings entertained with "Holy, Holy, Holy," and "Rosa Lee." The advanced strings then performed the more difficult "Matchmaker." One of the hits of the evening followed when the advanced band played "La Bamba." The audience cheered as several brightly-dressed fifth graders from Center School danced to the tune. Cynthia Dial, substitute teacher, choreographed the number that was danced with enthusiasm by Laurel Conboy, Tiffany Dial, Crystal Myers, Ajeena Roscoe, and Cynamon White.

The second half of the show was a salute to Broadway and movie musicals, produced by Vasquez. The chorus was composed entirely of Center School students. A selection of tunes was sung from "The King and I", including "Getting to Know You." Next was "Never, Never Land" from Peter Pan. Featured soloists for this song were Suzanne Moien, Crystal Kerfoot, Mindy Byers, Adriane Harris, Jean Kepler, Tamara Shepherd, and Lakisha Jackson.

Jean Kepler sang a beautiful solo rendition of "The Sound of Music." The show concluded with songs from "South Pacific" and "Wizard of Oz." Throughout, David Erickson, a graduate of Center School, accompanied the chorus on the clarinet. At the finale, students presented Vasquez and Zolnaski with bouquets

Graduation Program At St. Hugh's School

The following boys and girls were graduated from St. Hugh's School June 1 at the 7:30 p.m. Mass.

Stefanie Michelle Beil, Dennis Michael Skelly, Stephen James Dayton, Linda Marie Edwards, Stanley Patrick Beavers, Alexis Jeannine Thompson, Susanne Jacqueline Nelson and Kenn Richard Olson.

Congratulations are in order for some of the 8th grade students who have been accepted into Catholic High Schools: Dennis Skelly, Gonzaga; Susie Nelson, Stanley Beavers, Linda Edwards, Palotti; Kenn Olson, Stephen Dayton, De Matha; and Alexis Thompson received an academic scholarship to Elizabeth Seton.

City Students Honored

Certificates of Achievement were presented recently to students of public and private schools in Prince Georges County by the Education Subcommittee of the Commission for Children and Youth. The certificates were earned by improved attendance, behavior, extraordinary advances after an automobile accident and improvement of a child with disabilities in the area of speech. The Commission had urged principals to set their own criteria for areas of most improvement, giving them an opportunity to recognize a student who might otherwise be overlooked.

Children from Greenbelt schools who received the certificates were:

of flowers and picture frames as a remembrance and thanks for the evening.

Afterschool Students Perform for Parents

by Barbara Likowski

Children in Greenbelt Center Elementary School's after school program took part in a program for parents and friends on June 13. They waited patiently and quietly for County Executive Parris Glendening to arrive and were excited to hear him proclaim that the after school program would continue during the summer.

The after school program was implemented in three county elementary schools to target children who are going home to households without parental supervision or into drug infested neighborhoods. The cost of the summer program totals $137,000, with the county funding $66,000; the Casey Commission, $60,000; the public schools $6,000 and Prince Georges Plaza contributing $5,000.

"By providing this summer program we continue to invest in children, which is an investment in the future," Glendening said.

For their part the children put on a program showing some of the things they have learned, such as nutrition, gardening and drug education. The kindergarteners presented puppets, and some first graders, wearing clothes from other lands, sang "It's a Small World." Others read poems, jumped rope, did hand claps, sang gospel songs, or put on skits. Mrs. Novick's third graders presented a slide show including pictures of all the classes. It was a fun-filled afternoon for everyone.

Parents, some of whom came by a special bus from Landover, were treated to refreshments afterwards.

JOE'S TIPS OF THE WEEK

Hello Again !!

Another little a/c conditioning problem that we see a lot of is evaporator drain back. This happens when the a/c system is under normal operation. The evaporator condenses the air around it and water is given off, same principle as your glass of ice tea sweating all over your table leaving rings. But anyway, in an automobile, this condition has to be controlled. Where the evaporator is encased there is a little hole or rubber tube that lets the water drain outside of your vehicle. After a period of time, these openings become clogged with leaves, dirt or even become blocked by the carpet. Without being able to discharge its condensed water, the passenger compartment will flood with water or even spit moisture out at you from the a/c ducts. If you noticed clear water dripping from your vehicle just around the passenger side area, this is more than likely the evaporator drain back doing its job. If you suspect or have a wet floor area or soggy carpet or even a musty smell, this is the first thing to check, to see if the drains are blocked or attached.
