

Swim Lessons Start June 15 For Children

Registration for free swimming lessons will start June 11 at the pool, the Recreation Department announced today. Classes will be held for adults as well as for children.

Lessons for boys and girls will begin June 15 and continue through June 26 for beginners, intermediates, swimmers, and junior life saving. Elementary diving will be included in each class. Advanced diving is expected to be scheduled later.

Children taking lessons must be between the ages of 5 and 16 years of age. It is assumed that children 5 years old can dress themselves and find their classes on time. Adults may watch them from outside the pool area, through the fence.

Registration will be held June 11, 12, and 13 between 9:30 and 11 a. m. Each child must come to the pool deck in his or her bathing suit for registration, a swimming test, and assignment to a proper class. No one will be admitted to a class after this registration period is over.

Closed to Public

The pool will be closed to the public until 11 a. m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays beginning June 11, and classes will be variously scheduled during the morning hours before this time.

Children taking swimming lessons will be admitted to the pool free for the class period. Those who wish to swim after the class, however, must pay the regular admission price and enter after 11 a. m. A boy or girl missing more than two days from lessons will automatically be dropped from the class, except that he may miss four days if ill and on presentation of a doctor's certificate. Children will be admitted to the pool deck five minutes before the class period. Lessons will last 30 minutes each day.

Adults taking swimming lessons will be required to pay the regular price of admission and will be given lessons from 11 to 11:30 a. m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. This class will be for beginners and for those who wish to improve their strokes. If the pool is kept open through the summer, other classes will be started at later dates.

Pylon Appears In Green Cover

Edited by James Bobbitt, the 1942 Pylon, yearbook of the Greenbelt High School, was distributed this week. It is the third one to be presented to the school since its opening five years ago.

The first striking thing about it is a bright green cover, the inspiration of Rosalie Poston, art editor. This cover is singular in comparison with the inside part of the book. The book includes such things as informal shots taken around the school by Jack Gale, Guy Bowen and Joe Rogers, more pictures of clubs and classes, class write-ups, and a composite page of pictures taken when the Seniors were Freshmen, four years ago.

The literary end was under the direction of Louise Burke, literary editor; Assistant editors, Joanne Provost and Louise Van Matre; business manager, Thomas Hand; assistant business manager, Jane Stone; circulation manager, Werner Steinhilber; staff assistants were: Lorraine Mullen, Alice O'Dea, Donald Smith, Marion Benson, Ralph Jones, Norma Mitchell, Jean Anzulovic, Marion Ball, Ora Donoghue, Kathleen Scott, Betty Simcoe, Virginia Gomo, Shirley Mitchell, and Richard Palmer. The faculty advisor was Miss Catherine Councell. Other advisors were Joseph Mudd, and Verne Schwab, last year's editor of the Pylon.

Editor Bobbitt informed the Cooperator that the Pylon staff "would be only too delighted to show off their work to any interested persons."

Civilian Defense Corps Promises July 4 Display

By Phil Wexler

Air Raid Warden George Panagoulis announces that new sirens will be tested between 10 and 10:30 Saturday morning, June 6. All residents are requested to remain calm and proceed with their daily activities.

Commander Arthur L. Rysticken stated that the Defense Corps has accepted the invitation to participate in the Greenbelt Fourth of July parade which is being sponsored by the Citizens' Association. Each defense unit will display its equipment in this parade and exhibits will be placed in some of the store windows in town. Thus, the people will have the opportunity to observe the defense units in full and the equipment provided for their use by local funds. Mr. Rysticken has requested that all members of the Defense Corps report in person at a special meeting to be held Monday night, June 15, at 8 p. m. at the Fire House. Important issues of policy and further planning will be the purpose of this meeting.

Day Raid

Reports from various sources indicate that the daylight raid practice held last Monday at 10:15 a. m. was highly successful. Auxiliary policemen, air-raid wardens, demolition crew, and first aid units were at their posts. All civilians were off the streets in record time; there was no confusion, panic or unnecessary delay. Our weekly bouquet goes to the children at the Elementary School who, calmly and quietly, left their classes and rapidly marched across to the apartment shelters on Crescent Road.

Movies

Talking about movies reminds me that in the near future the Civilian Defense Corps will have available certain films, educational and constructive in nature, depicting actual air raid scenes and offering vital defense information to residents. These films will be shown free of charge.

Report

The cost for blackout curtains for the Auditorium (so that it may be used as a casualty station) has been appraised at $500. A little too high—don't you think? Commander Rysticken is still accepting bids with the hope that someone may set a decent price, or one we can afford to meet.

Col. Aiello To See Minute Men Tuesday

Col. Aiello, Maryland State Guard, will swear in Greenbelt's company of Minute Men next Tuesday night at 8 p. m. in the Auditorium. This will be the sixth reserve militia company to be mustered in Prince Georges County.

About 45 local men have already joined the Minute Men here for training and emergency war duty in case of invasion or mass sabotage. "Out of 1000 men in Greenbelt we should certainly be able to find another 15 who are willing to participate in home defense," Harry Bates commented today in urging that the company be filled at the start, Tuesday night. Mr. Bates has been in charge of local recruiting.

A captain and first lieutenant will be appointed at once from local volunteers. Other officers will be selected later. At present drills, are on Tuesday nights.

Harry Bates Named Troop 202 Scoutmaster

Greenbelt Boy Scout Troop 202 re-registered this week with Jack Estricher, 18-U Ridge Road, as Scoutmaster. George M. Eshbaugh, former Scoutmaster, will serve this year as assistant Scoutmaster.

Thomas R. Freeman continues as chairman of the troop committee for the American Legion post which sponsors the troop. Other committeemen are Leon Benefiel, Dr. James W. McCarl, Major Joseph Nesbit, and Paul Barnhart, principal of the Greenbelt High School.

Problem Department

The reaction of defense units during actual emergency periods remains, as yet, uncertain. Until now, these units have all been prepared for the air-raids and blackouts—but Harry Rhodes has tried something new with not-so-good results. During the last air raid alarm he had his men in the demolition crew at home, playing ball, or otherwise continuing their normal activities until the alarm sounded. By the time all the men assembled at their posts the "all-clear" had sounded. This is not to say that Mr. Rhodes' men were too slow in reporting. Every effort was made to report promptly when the alarm was given; but they didn't have enough time!

This indicates that perhaps an "alert" signal should be given always before the actual "alarm" sounds. At present, no "alert" signal is given nor will it be given in the future. Such a signal would provide an opportunity for the defense units to prepare themselves and be at their posts ready for action when the signal is given for a raid or blackout. Then, again, perhaps the "alarm" should be lengthened to provide these units with an opportunity to gather and go into action. Contact will be made with the county air raid warden concerning the possibility of re-establishing the "alert" signal.

Shamrocks Journey To Quantico June 6

The Shamrocks journey to Quantico, Va., tomorrow to play the Marines for the fifth time in three years. The trip has always been very enjoyable to all who have made it in the past, and this should be no exception. The Marines have a very modern ball park with covered stands and a brass band thrown in for good measure.

All cars, players, and fans leaving Greenbelt should be at the center promptly at noon Saturday and proceed to the south-west corner of 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, N. W. Cars, players, and fans in town will meet at that point at 12:30 p. m.

Anyone who would like to go may contact Vincent Holochwest today or in the morning. Game will start promptly at 2 p. m. Sunday at 3 p. m., the Shamrocks will entertain Armstrong-Rooney at Braden Field. The locals will be attempting their fourth straight league game victory. Ernie Boggs or Lanny Birch will toe the slab for Greenbelt opposing "Giggles" Adair.

Flowering Tree Given to Town

As a part of the Memorial Day program held at the Community Center May 31, Mrs. Leon Benefiel formally presented to Greenbelt's mayor a flowering crab apple tree, the official flower of the Woman's Club. Accompanying the tree was a plaque of dedication, carved out of wood (in the temporary shortage of metal) by Mr. Meyers at the request of A. MacGregor, chief of landscaping.

This presentation had been planned for Arbor Day, but no trees were available at that time. Plans were carried out by the highways and byways committee. The tree stands near the underpass where it can be seen looking across from the post office.

As the flowering crab apple is the official tree of the Woman's Club, many members have bought trees to put in their own yards to carry the beauty of these lovely spring flowers throughout Greenbelt.

Local Poppy Drive Nets $30.35 For Veterans

The annual poppy drive sponsored by the American Legion for the benefit of veterans' hospitals netted a total of $30.35 locally this year. Mrs. Milton Carson,

Citizens Association Maps Plans On Home Mail Delivery Program; Discusses FWA Delinquency

Discussion of Federal Works Agency's delinquency in withholding sums in lieu of taxes, the problem faced by the local post office department anent home mail delivery, and plans for the coming G. C. A. dance was held at the June meeting of the Greenbelt Citizens' Association last Monday.

Mayor Allen D. Morrison, called upon by past-president of the Association Abraham Chasanow to answer questions aimed at clarifying the town's financial difficulty, said the Greenbelt town government had been forced in January to borrow $10,000, and was going deeper in debt by servicing the 296 defense homes already occupied. Farm Security Administration's monthly remittance, according to Mr. Morrison, is $4770, $4000 of which is paid out in salaries, the balance of $770 being the entire sum available for maintenance and equipment.

Legal Tangle Responsible

So far, said Mr. Morrison, FWA has remitted no funds at all for the upkeep of the new homes, which were built by that agency. According to an agreement made December 31, of last year, FWA was to remit 47% of the town budget, and FSA to remit 53%. FSA has remitted theirs, he added, but delay of FWA funds has been caused by legal technicalities. Only 152 homes had been completed last December, but funds are now needed for 296, and will shortly be needed for the entire 1000. Asked whether or not profits from the swimming pool could be used for town use, the answer was in the negative. All profits gained by the recreation department are turned in to FSA as additional rent, according to Mr. Morrison. The only course open to the local administration, said the mayor, has been taken. Refusal of service to those defense homes not already occupied has been made by Town Manager Roy S. Braden.

Stamp Sale Planned

A plan was offered to facilitate the sale of stamps during the month of June in order to bring the total for the fiscal year to the necessary sum of $11,000 for home delivery. Almost $1000 is still needed in order to raise the desired amount. The suggestion tendered by Mr. Chasanow provides for door-to-door canvass by local Boy Scouts. An original sum of $25 would be set up by the G.C.A. to buy stamps, which in turn would be resold to Greenbelt residents, the receipts from such sales to be spent for more stamps, and the process to be repeated until the $1000 goal had been reached. It was stressed that it is necessary to buy this amount in June, as July 1, will be the last opportunity to receive home mail delivery until July 1, 1943. Complaints were made that many residents who reach Greenbelt after 6 p. m.—when the post office closes are forced to buy stamps and send money orders through Washington channels.

Rysticken Clarifies Situation

Leading the discussion of the transportation problem, and especially the hearing of May 20, was Arthur L. Rysticken, who represented Greenbelt before the Public Utilities Commission. Saying he believed Greenbelt stood a better chance of keeping the present transit system now, after the 60 day adjournment, than before, he explained that now it is known what the Capital Transit proposition will be and an can be made to secure evidence proving its impracticability. In answer to a question concerning the feasibility of an express service, Mr. Rysticken said that inasmuch as such a system is always unsuccessful financially, it was doubted that Capital Transit could be requested to furnish Greenbelt with an express bus. However, he added, it might be possible, if the present system is retained, to have the first three stops from Mt. Rainier to Greenbelt eliminated, thus reducing substantially the crowded conditions now prevailing. After extensive discussion on the express possibilities, it was pointed out that a recent governmental order

Dr. Bone Describes World Situation

Dr. Hugh Bone of the political science department of the University of Maryland spoke before groups 3 and 4 of Greenbelt Elementary School June 3, giving a summary of the world situation from the geographical point of view. Some of the children characterized his remarks as having been "very clear and fair" and interesting—easy to follow and understand. A question period followed Dr. Bone's talk with answers designed to fit into the knowledge and level of learning of his listeners.

He explained carefully the difference between dictator and republican forms of government, giving some of the factors he considered responsible for the present conflict, such as the desire for expansion and for the rich mineral and other natural resources of the Far East and Russia.

Very carefully he explained the sea lanes leading to Europe and the East, and the different ways in which supplies had been brought into China.

Another visitor to school last week was James Cerda of the Brentwood School who gave a piano recital which showed unusual understanding and love of music for a boy just 11 years of age. James began his program with the Rachmaninoff "Prelude in C Sharp Minor," and played Sinding's "Rustle of Spring," the adagio movement of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata."

Best received by the audience which included the kindergarten children was a group of compositions which James had originated within the last two months—"Twilight," "Waltz," and "Draft-tee." The last was in popular style and sung by the composer.

48 Pupils Leaving Seventh Grade Here

A class of 48 pupils will be graduated from the seventh grade of the Elementary School next Tuesday at 11 a. m., prepared to enter High School next September.

The American Legion has selected for awards two pupils as "best all-around boy" and "best all-around girl." Teddy Fox and Patsy Sherertz will be presented the awards at the graduation ceremony. A surprise feature, the presentation of awards by Mrs. Doris Armstrong, girls' recreational director, for "best all-around boy sport." Winners of these awards have not yet been made known.

Three classes—those of Mrs. Ann Michaelis, Mrs. Sarah Walton, and Mrs. East—will receive diplomas, which are to be given by the school principal, Mrs. Katherine Reed.

who had charge of the Greenbelt sales, distributed the 300 poppies herself with the help of 10 high school girls. The drive was from Saturday, May 23, to Sunday, May 31. Local receipts will be added to the national fund.

Community Church

"The Ministry of a Merry Heart" will be the theme of the sermon that the Reverend Wilmer Pierce Johnston will preach to the graduating class of the Greenbelt Elementary School Sunday at 11 a. m. in the Auditorium. The graduating class will attend in a body and have reserved seats in the middle aisle. Immediately behind these will be seated the other grade school pupils who attend. The parents of the graduating class will be seated in the front rows of the aisle to the right and the left of the center. The seventh grade boys and girls, under the direction of Mrs. Michaelis of the music department of the elementary school, will sing at this service.

Sunday at 8 p. m. the finance committee, with Elmer Reno as chairman, Phil Taylor, secretary, and George Shaeffer financial secretary, will meet at the home of Elmer Nagel, 6-D Crescent Road.

Wednesday at 8 p. m. the regular mid-week meeting for prayer and praise will be held in the music room of the Elementary School.

The Church School meets each Sunday at 9:30 a. m. Classes are provided for all from the tiny tots to the most mature adult. The turnover of teachers and officers is necessarily large because of the shift of population and the change in the working hours of many people. The School is in constant need of new teachers. Any one willing to cooperate is requested to get in touch with J. Tracy Fenby, the new assistant superintendent. His address is 6-A Crescent Road, phone 5471.

The class of those who graduate this year from the elementary school and intend to unite with the Church on June 21, meets each Sunday at 10 a. m. Rev. Johnston will be glad to confer with anyone wishing to unite with the Church at this time.

The choir, which was scheduled to meet this week at Mr. and Mrs. Griggs, will not meet.

A "wienie roast" will be given tomorrow night at the lake, open to all.

Nursery School Raffle

Raises Fund of $41

A raffling of swim tickets raised $41 for continuance of the Greenbelt Nursery School last week. Winners of the adult tickets were Mrs. E. Spicer and Mrs. J. Carneal. Children's tickets were won by Miss D. Schmitman and Mrs. Mable Rolph.

Mrs. Penny Vachon, president of the parents' board, announces that the nursery closed for the summer May 29. At present one morning class limited to 15 children is scheduled for fall. Registration for this class may be made now with Mrs. Vachon. An organizational meeting will undoubtedly be held in September, before the class starts in October.

Cooking Classes

Bring Out 60

The annual cooking school, sponsored by the Potomac Electric Power Company, was conducted in the homemaking room at the Elementary School on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 2 and 3. Under the direction of Miss Mary Turner, the group of approximately 60 women present at the Tuesday afternoon class saw prepared a complete oven dinner, biscuits, asparagus beef rolls, a fudge cake, and a sunshine salad.

The theme of the classes was the "ABC's of Nutrition." Miss Turner emphasized the importance to the housewife of a knowledge of vitamins and minerals, their importance to the diet, sources in food, reactions of vitamins in cooking; "do's and don'ts of vegetable cookery," and important facts about food.

Each dish prepared during the class was given as a door prize. Mrs. Benjamin Berkofsky received the oven dinner consisting of a stuffed shoulder of lamb, glazed carrots and parsley new potatoes. Mrs. Raymond Taylor won a fudge cake, Mrs. David J. Neff the sunshine salad in a ring mold, and Mrs. Herbert Hall received a dish of asparagus beef rolls.

Women attending the classes were given booklets on "Meal Planning and Cooking for Health," "The Use and Care of Electrical Equipment in the Home," and several volumes of "Low Cost Menus with Recipes for the Electric Range and Roaster."

To the Editor---

Shoot on the Range

To The Editor:

At a recent gathering of the local unit of the Minute Men outside the elementary school, I was shocked to hear the sound of firearms, apparently .22 caliber, being fired in the woods behind the tennis courts.

Such a callous and wanton disregard of human life and limb prompts me to write in the capacity of president of the Greenbelt Gun Club, to remind persons who are ignorant of the fact, that there are ample means for legitimate firearms shooting in town.

The town boasts one of the best ranges locally for outdoor shooting, and the local gun club affords sufficient outlet for shooting of all kinds, both match and individual, for fun or for medals, rifle or hand gun. There is no excuse for wild-eyed plinking under outlawed conditions which are menacing to the lives of citizens. The police will prosecute to the fullest extent any unauthorized shooting, with the full consent of the citizenry and the cooperation of the Gun Club.

All persons interested in shooting under the rational guidance of the rules of the National Rifle Association, are asked to communicate with the officers of the Gun Club.

—Benjamin Rosenzweig,
President, Greenbelt Gun Club.

Save or Slave

To the Editor:

For more reasons than one, it is our duty to save more these days, notably, to withhold excess spending money from the market. According to my information, this year, in addition to money for taxes and our usual savings, we will have 79 billion dollars to spend, but there will be only 65 billion dollars worth of consumer goods available. The 14 billion dollars we have in excess of available goods is 17.72% of the money we have to spend after deducting taxes and usual savings. We shall use this considerable excess of money over goods, either to exert pressure toward "Black Marketing" by bidding up the prices of the too few good, or to save.

The best form of saving undoubtedly is United States Defense Bonds, because they pay more interest than the banks, and they are used to secure "to ourselves and our posterity" what is more precious than our money, the world's noblest heritage, "the blessings of liberty."

Thinking in terms of our internal economy, the advocating of putting 10% of our money in defense bonds is reasonable, because that will help save us from having our pockets picked by chiseling retailers. Many of us who can should save in addition to this 10% of their income in Defense Bonds, and for those who do not.

Presumably the larger income people will save their quota. I wish some economist statistician would work out for us who have working class incomes what percentage of our gross income we ought to save, on the basis of how much our net income, that is gross income minus taxes, is in excess of available goods. Such a simplified figure would, I believe, induce many to increase the allotment of their income that goes to savings, thereby promoting "the general welfare" by: reducing the pressure toward price inflation, making more secure and abundant our future, and financing equipment and supplies for our fighting forces.

Our Government is unalterably determined to administer blows to the Fascist forces of universal degradation that will send them reeling to oblivion. If we do not save enough money to alleviate the problems of war finance and price control, there being more than one way to skin a cat, we could probably be taxed sufficiently. We will save or slave for "Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness."

—Kenneth Plinke

New Babies

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Wood Vance, 4-B Hillside Road announce the birth of their daughter, Kathleen Ann, born on May 9, at Sibley Hospital, Washington.

A son, William Francis, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles John Riley, at their home, 33-T Ridge Road on May 21.

On May 14, a baby girl, Kathryn, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Benjamin Barrus, 22-F Parkway, at Washington Sanitarium, Takoma Park.

Funds From FWA

Bold but necessary action was taken by the Town Council last week in authorizing the town manager to forbid the extension of community services to further defense home occupants unless the Federal Works Administration makes available funds in lieu of taxes to cover operational expenses. Only a firm course can avoid jeopardy to Greenbelt finances in the present awkward situation.

When the town's budget was assembled and adopted last winter $54,000 was requested from FWA to cover additional garbage collection, sewage disposal, street maintenance, and other services to the new houses which were doubling Greenbelt's population. Apparently FWA does not object to making a payment for this purpose. In fact everyone concerned seems committed to the making of the payment. A legal hitch has put the finances into the present tangle. Unfortunately the houses were not completed December 31, 1941, which was assessment day. So it seems there is some considerable difficulty in levying any claim on funds which would equal taxes needed for 1942 expenses. Next year there will be no problem, since the new construction can be assessed in time for the 1943 budget year.

Several proposals are being examined with a view to the reaching of a solution before the end of June. Meanwhile the Council is studying injunction possibilities, since public services cannot be maintained without funds, even for defense houses.

Indian Springs

We have heard compliments from nearly all picnic-goers who have used Indian Springs since the rock retaining wall was erected over the three springs of drinking water. The construction is attractive and looks natural in the setting provided at the base of the hill. The protective covers should preserve the sanitary aspects of the water supply as well as make its use easier.

For the information of newcomers, this spring water at the picnic area south of the lake is tested periodically. You will like its cool fresh taste these hot summer days. Indian Springs probably received its name because the drainage flows into Indian Creek a mile to the west.

You can thank Harry Rhodes and the Department of Public Works for the improvement at the springs.

Auxiliary Firemen Are Example For Greenbelt OCD Corps

The Greenbelt Auxiliary Fireman Corps is a volunteer organization in civilian defense work to protect local citizens from fire and damage caused by enemy air-raids. It is composed of 21 men who have shown their willingness to give services far in excess of their expected duties. Greenbelt's auxiliaries have been pointed out as the final, direct proof of the high quality of civilian morale and an insurance against panic.

Although hampered by lack of equipment and organizational difficulties most of the present members of Greenbelt's auxiliary firemen have been training since January 9. They have had 30 hours of class work, 36 hours of instruction with equipment in simulator emergencies, and have fought real fires for 17 hours.

Answering regular fire calls is not actually their duty, but they have done so without expecting reward and have received none. More than their transportation and sometimes supper, paid for by state wardens in gratitude for services rendered, has never been provided.

The corps is at present composed of three squads of seven men each. The first squad meets Friday and has completed its training. The second squad meets Wednesday and will be ready next month. The third or junior squad is made up of boys 16 and 17 years old. Ernest Walker, who is the instructor, says the junior squad compares favorably with either of the two senior squads. However, the duties of the boys has to do mostly with upkeep of the equipment and they are required to endanger themselves as little as possible. At present the Auxiliary Fireman Corps is complete, but transfers of some of the personnel are expected and a new squad is contemplated.

Following is a complete list of the personnel:

Squad no. 1—W. Klepser, captain; A. Allen, S. Ostler, H. Hail Jr., G. Leahy, E. Lewis, and J. Resnick.

Squad no. 2—C. Turner, J. Marshall, C. Ourand E. Halley, W. Rupert, J. Omeara, and A. Freeman.

Squad no. 3 (junior auxiliary) H. Merryman, captain; J. Lewis, B. Palmer, D. Mathers, W. Steinle,

OUR NEIGHBORS

By SALLY MEREDITH

Hello, Greenbelt:

Did you attend the Cooking School Tuesday or Wednesday? Mmmm—Such tempting aromas! (More about that elsewhere in this issue, even if we do go to press before Wednesday.)

Things I Never Knew About First Aid: You can practice a lot of preventive first aid right in your home, according to Max Meyer, instructor. For example: To prevent anyone's taking a dose of poison from your medicine cabinet instead of the desired medicine, stick a needle through the cork in the dangerous bottle; or, if a screw cap is used, attach a needle to the cap with adhesive tape. The sharp prick of the needle will do more than any skull and crossbones to warn you.

I'll bet those people who left the Citizens' Association meeting just before 10 o'clock will be sorry when they learn that refreshments were served at 10!

To pay a debt that I'm sorry I encumbered, I am forced to admit here and now that my first name is really Sarah. I don't like it. It makes me almost cringe; too old-maidish, or something. When someone in high school started calling me "Sally," I was tickled to death, and adopted it permanently. (OK, DA?)

Who else but our own Joanie would have enough nerve to push a British sailor into the reflecting pool?

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dean are here, visiting his brother, John Dean, at 1-C Woodland Way. Mrs. John Dean, as reported here last week, has gone out of town on vacation.—Mrs. George E. Hodson has gone to visit her mother at a Virginia beach.—Mrs. Peggy Zorach left last Friday for Robin Hood, Maine. She'll be back in July.—Did you know that the Library has on hand a book entitled, "What Shall We Name the Baby?" It's by Winthrop Ames.—The year old "Lucky" Letkemann left Wednesday for Denver, Colorado. "Lucky" was born in Colorado, and is returning via streamlined trains.

Speaking of first aid (and I was, several paragraphs ago), a funny experience happened in our class this week. We were waiting for some equipment, when in walked a lady asking, "Is this the First Aid group?" "Yes," answered Mr. Meyer, our instructor. "This is our sixth class, but you may still be able to get a little something out of it." "But where are the doctors and nurses?" the newcomer asked. "We don't have any visiting our class. By the way, have you had any first aid at all?" asked Mr. Meyer. "Not exactly," said the newcomer, "but I'm a graduate nurse!" It seems she thought our class was part of the Emergency Medical Service. Mrs. R. Bole, 56-B Crescent Road, went to Pittsburgh last week-end with her son, Leo R. Bole.

If four-leaf clovers mean good luck, what do five-leaf clovers mean? Must be more of the same. At any rate, Mrs. Ethel Carson found one of the latter one day last week. Five minutes later she got an order for those adorable plaques she makes.—The girls of the Variety Store went into Naylor's last week for dinner. I hear that honeysuckle—to serve two purposes—could have been used to a very good effect. Right?

Some people will go to any extent! Our editor, who promised to give a housewarming party some five months ago, unable to dodge the issue any longer finally wangled a transfer to Denver, Colorado, so any party given would be a farewell party by us, for him! It's okay, Frank! We won't make you give a party. But please, cancel that transfer. We won't bother you any more.

Thought For the Week Department: The pool opened last week, and I didn't even go in! The weather was perfect. I had a bathing suit, but the combination of late working hours Saturday afternoon on the part of my husband, an engagement Saturday night, and company Sunday, kept me away over the weekend. As of Tuesday evening, bad weather had prohibited.

New air raid sirens will be tested in Greenbelt tomorrow morning between 10 and 10:30. Residents are requested to disregard the siren during this testing period.

HighSchoolChatter

By LOUISE BURKE

Here it is the end of the school year, already. Usually about this time it is generally said by many, "Why, it seems like no time since the beginning of the year." That is probably because there were so many things going on during the whole year. What with plays, senior and otherwise; a school paper; the year book; basketball and other sports and hundred and one other things you most likely can not help seeing why this is true.

This is just a reminder about the graduation. As most of you must know already, it is to be tonight at 8. Everyone is welcome to attend these exercises. If you didn't happen to read the article on this subject in last week's Cooperator, then I'll enumerate a few of the main parts of the program for you. The principal speaker is to be Dr. Steinmeyer of Maryland University. Mr. Braden will present diplomas to the graduates, and the Glee Club and Senior Chorus will render several selections. If it is at all possible for you to come don't miss it.

Last Sunday evening a baccalaureate service was held for the graduating class. Rev. W. P. Johnston gave a very interesting sermon on the subject of "Living For the Best." The Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Truckess, was on hand to present two selections. A quartet, composed of Marion Ball, Anne Childress, Jane Stone, and Fay Freidman, sang "To a Rose." The most impressive part of the whole affair was the fact that the class wore caps and gowns for the service. The girls wore white, the boys, blue. These will, of course, be worn at graduation also.

Last week I promised to tell you about the Prom. I don't doubt that you have heard plenty about it already, but anyway, here's a little more. The auditorium was decorated in blue and silver. Right in the middle of the room was a large silver star, surrounded by blue crepe paper streamers. The music was supplied by an eight-piece orchestra, definitely no more than we could have asked for. The grand march was led by Bob Egli, president of the Senior Class, and his girl, Betty Attick. I don't think I ever saw such a pretty combination of color as was displayed at the time of the grand march by the girls' gowns.

Did you happen to come over to hear the concert by the Greenbelt Band last Sunday afternoon? If not you don't know what you missed. It was no less than the best ever given by them. The only drawback, not from the musical quality, though, was the heat that afternoon. The entire band was compelled to don their heavy green uniforms for the purpose of taking pictures. While on the subject of the band I suppose this is as good a time as any to mention the fact that the band has been invited and has accepted an invitation from the town of Mt. Rainier to play a concert at the opening of a new ball park on Sunday, June 14. For the information of all concerned all expenses, transportation, etc., will be paid by the town of Mt. Rainier.

The "talk of the town" right about now is the engagement of Mary Lowe to "Scotchie" Barbe, and Edith Walker to "I'm not sure of his name"—Bettie Andrus, they tell me, is that way about a soldier. She received a letter from him May 23, and was simply wild with joy over it.

One last reminder, don't forget the graduation exercises on Friday night. You will miss a very interesting program of you do.—Also, read the article about the high school yearbook, the Pylon, in another part of the paper.

Shamrocks Blast Md. Sport Club

Piney Grove, May 31—The Shamrocks walloped a previously unbeaten Maryland Sport Club nine today by a score of 8 to 3. The weather, Ernie Boggs, and the Shamrock hitters were all too hot for the Sport Clubbers, who lost their all in the third and fourth innings.

Boggs continued his good work on the mound. He whiffed nine batters and gave up but one free pass. The blond right-hander was no slouch with the stick either. He banged out two crisp singles in three tries.

Julius Andrus injured his left wrist in the third inning but stayed in the game long enough to knock home three big runs. Bill Zerwick, Bill Moore, and the little center-fielder drove in all the Greenbelt runs.

Boys' Softy League Starts With Bang

The Boys' Softball League got off to a good start May 28, with all four teams seeing action.

The Yankees, captained by Rene Ward, were a little too strong for Grady Oldham's Senators. Big hits by Ward, Fox, Eshbaugh, Fickes, and H. Glynn were enough to lick the Senators by a 5 to 1 score.

Sumner Cragin's Giants downed "Daffiness Boy" Harry Benefiel's Dodgers 18 to 6 on June 2. The winner's hitters were Sipes, Pywell, B. Belton, and Goodman. Benefiel, K. Jones, and J. Herbert carried the load for the losers.

Games next week are: Tuesday, June 9, Dodgers vs Yankees, and Thursday, June 11, Giants vs Senators. Games start at 3:45

Burch and Goldfaden Star As Shamrocks Beat Petworth 5 to 1

The Shamrocks defeated a good Petworth nine with ease, 5 to 1, last Saturday at Braden Field. Husky Lanny Birch pitched smoothly in limiting his opposition to six scattered bingles. He fanned eight batters and the only man he walked scored Petworth's lone run.

Ben Goldfaden had a busy afternoon on the base paths, scoring twice, and being in position to score a couple more, had other hits followed. Goldfaden banged out three hits, while Vince Holochwest and Jim Breed had two each.

Schrom's Airport Expands To Meet Speed-Up Order

By SALLY MEREDITH

Army Air Corps pilots, airplane mechanics, and instructors are being turned out of the Schrom's Airport training course at the rate of 120 annually—a rate that is expected to double within the next month. To facilitate his training program, Frederick ("Fritz") Schrom, owner of the field, has started completion of a new concrete runway which will be 4200 feet long when completed, and can be used in any weather; a new two-story, 50 foot by 75 foot administration building; a 70 foot by 100 foot repair shop; and seven new hangars, each to be 97 foot by 100 foot. The repair shop is almost completed, and one hangar, as well as the new run-way, is already under construction.

New gas pumps are also being installed and the high power transformers which have long been a hazard to local flying, have been removed to the lake area.

Schrom's is one of four training fields in the Washington area, the other three being at the College Park Airport, Congressional, and Beacon Field.

15 Training Ships Used

Five instructors, in addition to Mr. Schrom, who is chief pilot, are employed to train the cadets: Robert Stewart, Edmund Rogers, Donald Welsh, William Betz, and Edward Chandler. Mr. Chandler, who left this week, will shortly be replaced. Fifteen training ships—primary and secondary—are used in the program. Four classes of approximately 30 men each are trained each year. Those graduates of the secondary course wishing to qualify as instructors are put into groups of five, taking an eight-weeks instructors' course.

Any man in the army showing a preference and aptitude for flying is registered at an authorized university—locally, Maryland, George Washington, or Columbia universities—where ground courses are given. After completing this elementary course, the cadet trains at an airport contracted with by the Army, and emerges an Army Air Corps commissioned officer.

Started in 1927

The site on which the airport is located was originally part of the farm on which Mr. Schrom was born and raised. In 1927 he developed an interest in flying and converted part of his father's farm into a private air field. It was not until 1932 that he made the field a commercial airport. When the Government decided in 1939 to sponsor a Civilian Pilot Training program, Mr. Schrom was one of the first to be granted

Jack Estricher Is New Local Arms Inspector

With War Department approval, a plan of the National Rifle Association to assist in the collection of suitable arms for Army troops has been set afoot in Greenbelt as one of 2,200 N. R. A. affiliates.

The urgent need for rifles for training has resulted in a Nationwide hunt for .30 caliber Springfield 1903 and Enfield 1917 rifles previously sold to civilians for sporting use.

Because not all the guns are still serviceable, due to use or alteration, it will be necessary that the guns be examined prior to acceptance by the designated ordnance depots. The N. R. A. has offered the services of riflemen familiar with the needs of the service to be preliminary examiners and avoid needless expense to citizens and reduce work at the arsenals which will receive the rifles.

Harry Bates, 13-F Ridge Road, executive officer of the Greenbelt Gun Club, has been named to the post for Greenbelt. Mr. Bates, who is also local organizer of the Minute Men, the reserve militia of Maryland, is well qualified by years of experience to pass on the suitability of .30 caliber rifles of the classes named for Army use.

Citizens in possession of these arms are urged to turn them in for national defense, as they are needed to arm American troops. A scale of reimbursement of a maximum of $47.64 for Springfields and $12.50 for Enfields has been announced by the Ordnance Department. Payment will not be made until after acceptance at the arsenal.

Owners of arms are warned not to send rifles to the ordnance depots until the preliminary examination has been made by Mr. Bates. He can be seen in person or reached by telephone.

a C. P. T. contract. The original purpose of the program was to build a large reserve of civilian pilots. Now, however, with the country at war, the War Department has taken over the program, expanding it so as to enlarge the number of pilots being trained for the Army Air Corps.

From 50 to 60 planes are now on the field, owned variously by the airport, private owners, and clubs. Clearance officers at the airport must clear every pilot that leaves the field. If a pilot goes further than a four-mile radius from the port, clearance must be obtained from Washington.

Center of Attraction

A cynosure is a center of attraction, anything to which attention is strongly turned. The root meaning in Greek is dog's tail, and the word was originally applied to the constellation Ursa Minor, to which the eyes of mariners and travelers were often directed because it contained the North Star.

First Aid Certificates Mark Course Completion

Mrs. Marion Moore, first aid instructor, announced Tuesday that the following Greenbelt people will receive standard first aid certificates for having successfully completed their course:

Anna L. Crupain, Maxine Fern, Eva Thomas, Emily Wenzel, Edith Woodyard, Betty Holbach, Helen Kaighn, and Morris Weinerman.

The death rate from child-bearing among mothers in the United States is now four out of a thousand. This is a higher rate than in most European countries, but lower than it was several years ago in this country.

Dance Plans Progress

In a report by the treasurer, John Marshall, it was disclosed that, as of June 1, a general balance of $64.26 and a reserve balance of $68.73 was held by the Association. Since the reserve cannot be used, it was pointed out, that only $64.26 is obtainable for the forthcoming dance on June 20. James Smith, reporting for the ways and means committee, said he believed it possible to get the services of a good orchestra for approximately $45. Tickets to the affair were distributed to those present who volunteered to sell them.

Erection of the directional sign at the corner of Branchville Road and Edmonston Road, it was reported, has been delayed because site.

The meeting was adjourned, and refreshments served at 10 p. m.

Hawks Beat Bucks Twice

Outstanding players in the league, to date, have been Jimmy Scordellis, Danny Jones, "Zipper" Nanna and Glenn Borders.
