

New Druggist, Food Store Improvements Help Consumers

A new pharmacist, George Thomas Cox, has been hired to take Albert A. Ellerin's place, Thomas Ricker, general manager of Greenbelt Consumer Services announced Wednesday. Mr. Cox arrives next Monday and will be on hand to compound prescriptions from 6 to 11 p. m. daily. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho, and has been practising pharmacy for five years.

15,000 Prescriptions

Albert Ellerin, who leaves shortly to start preparatory training for a commission as ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve, has served as pharmacist for Greenbelt Consumer Services since 1939. In his three years here, Mr. Ellerin has compounded more than 15,000 prescriptions.

With an interest in the coop-erative movement, Mr. Ellerin accepted the position here at the request of the secretary of the Uni-versity of Maryland School of Pharmacy, from which he was graduated with a B. S. degree in 1937. In July 1940 Dr. Joseph M. Silagy, Dr. Joe W. Still, and Mr. Ellerin compiled a drug formulary which was given to the Group Health Federation of America. When the Civilian Defense Corps was set up, Mr. Ellerin was named Custodian of Medical Supplies for the Greenbelt first-aid unit.

Church Announces Christmas Program

Greenbelt Community Church School invites the resi-dents of Greenbelt to the special Christmas program which will be given Sunday, December 20 at 5 p. m. in the Auditorium of the Elementary School.

At least 100 persons will com-prise the cast for "Why the Chimes Rang" which has been especially arranged for this group. Music will be furnished by the Greenbelt High School Glee Club directed by Mrs. D. H. Truxess and a Community Church School Choir of boys and girls under the direction of Walter Slocum. Mrs. V. H. Wendell Miller will give the

A new cash register, new check-ing counter, and six new sections of shelving have been added to the Food Store this week to relieve the pressure of increasing sales. Thomas Jeffries, manager of the food store, most of the grocery depart-ment staff, and Hugh Hawkins worked all night Monday and into the wee hours of Tuesday morning installing the new fixtures and rearranging the merchandise.

Another register

The fourth cash register, according to Thomas Ricker, will be used primarily as a "high speed regis-ter" for small orders during rush hours. People purchasing only four or fewer items will be chan-neled through this register, and need not wait in line behind large "two basket" orders.

The new islands add 54 feet of two-sided shelving. Three long, continuous islands now run the length of the store, giving a low, streamlined effect which looks brighter and makes groceries easier to find. Now one can look from one end of the store and see things at the other end, because boxes will no longer have to be piled high above the eye level.

Hot beverages, nuts, canned milk, and household supplies oc-cupy the first island. Bread, baked goods, all the flours, and staple cooking essentials are to be found on the second. The third holds pickles and olives, dressings and catsup, macaroni, spaghetti, dried peas and beans, and all the cer-eals. The soaps have moved to the shelves at the rear of the store and take all the space from the dairy case to the corner.

Santa Will Visit Greenbelt Saturday

Santa Claus has been scheduled for a pre-view in Greenbelt five days before he's due to come on his regular Christmas Eve round. His good friend Tom Ricker expects him to be in the Theatre Saturday afternon at 4 o'clock between features of the matinee, to talk to all the children there. Then he'll be at the Variety Store till sup-per time. We understand he has a bag full of presents for good little boys and girls under 12 at the Theatre or who come to see him with a more grown-up. Plans for Santa's community Christmas tree, however, seemed somewhat confused as of this morning. The big evergreen was Shopping Center and decorated today --- without the usual lights. But no one seems to know anything about the program which customarily accompanied the tree dedication.

Jimmy Scott and his sevenpiece orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for Greenbelt's New Year's Eve frolic according to James Smith, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Greenbelt Citizens Association.

The dance of December 31, to bid farewell to the old year and welcome to the new, is an annual event sponsored by the Citizens Association. "In keeping with the past traditions", Mr. Smith explains, "we are planning to furnish high class local enter-tainment for holiday merrymakers at a reasonable cost. The or-chestra, which is a new one to Greenbelters, is secured through the courtesy of Jack Morton, and Morton always sends us good bands."

Phone Restrictions Eased for Residents

Restrictions on the installation of telephones in Greenbelt have been lifted to a great extent according to a statement made this week by R. W. Donley, business manager of the Berwyn exchange, and it is now possible for persons who can show the necessity for a phone to get one. Application should be made in the regular way through the business office. This will be welcome news to the residents of the new section of Greenbelt, many of whom are nearly a mile from the nearest phone.

Old Music Box Is Greenbelt Oddity By ANNE HULL A music box that plays records is probably one of the most unusual family possessions that came into town with our defense work-ers. James Beck, of 8-M South-way and Bolling Field, its owner, says the music box came to him through his stepmother's mother, who lived in Camp Hill, Pa. A small plate affixed to the machine announces that it was made by the Regins Music Box Co., with a list of patent dates going back to 1889.

The machine is housed in a box of solid mahogany, elaborately carved, which rests on top of a matching case that holds the records the whole standing about four and a half feet tall. It has a turnstile like an ordinary phonograph except that at one side there is an arrangement of slender tongueshaped keys, a couple of unfa-miliar handles, and a hinged bar that holds the record in place on the spindle. The records are fiex-ible metal discs about 18 inches wide, perforated at irregular in-tervals. The rough sides of the perforations on the lower side of the records pluck at the keys and so produce the music, as the disc revolves on the turnstile.

PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing on the pro-posed budget is scheduled for Monday, December 21, at 8 p.m. in the Council Room. Although the estimated expenditures for 1943 are larger than the $96,479 spent during 1942, they are considerable less than the budget adopted for 1942 which was based on the assumption that the new homes would be fully occupied early in the year. Pointing out that the 1943 budget does not recommend a single additional service that is not now being giv-en, Town Manager Braden explained that more money must be spent to service 1900 homes than the 900 occupied during the most of 1942.

Increases are proposed for the Department of Public Safety including two additions to person-nel; the sanitation activities of the Department of Public Works are slated for an increase; and the expenditures for other public works are increased on the grounds that repairs must be made after five years of use.

Estimated revenues are broken down as follows: From miscellaneous revenues. $21,800; from personal property taxes, $2,000; and from sums in lieu of taxes, $111,723. Ask Recreation Funds

Strong possibilities of an expanded year-long recreation program was indicated by the action of the Council in authorizing Mayor Allen D. Morrison to request funds from the Federal Works Agency for such a pro-gram to provide supervised activities for children released by the curtailed school day. Preliminary contacts with the FWA have already been made and their granting the funds seems quite probable. Among other programs singing, dancing, arts and crafts, and dramatics are planned.

Councilman Frank J. Lastner sponsored a resolution which was unanimously passed directing Town Manager Roy Braden to to arrange for the collection of tin cans in Greenbelt. "Tin is vital to the war effort," stated Councilman Lastner, "and Greenbelt should wait no longer in doing its part." Details for the collection will be arranged at once Telephone service for the new residences in the northern part of town will be requested as a result of a resolution introduced by Councilman Tom Ricker and unanimously passed by the Council. The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company will be re-quested to install public tele-phones on the outside of heating plants in the area.

The program has been under the direction of Mrs. Annie Halley and Mrs. Lillian Mitchell and will be offered as the Church School's holiday contribution to the community. No collection will be taken.

Dolores Carr First Local Girlin WAVE

Delores Carr, 21 years old, member of the first class to complete four years at the Greenbelt High School, has joined the WAVES. She left Saturday night from the Union Station in Washington, in company with 53 other girls from the Washington area, for five weeks training at the WAVES headquarters at Cedar Falls, Iowa, to fit her for a berth as pharmacist's mate.

The first ceremony of its kind was held at the Union Station. Families of the instructees were invited, there was a band on hand and just before train time the girls sang the WAVES song and marched in formation out to board their train.

Stopping off in Chicago to change trains for Cedar Falls, the girls were taken to a USO center for a "breather" and while there, Delores was lucky enough to win a free phone cal home. Her mother, Mrs. H. A. Carr, said; "I certainly did get a thrill out of the ceremony at the station, but the real thrill was to hear her voice over the phone. It was so unexpected."

The Carrs are among the first families of Greenbelt, having re-sided at 35-E Ridge Road since 1937.

Survey to Check Need For Child Care Center

During the past week a Child Care and Protective Service Committee under the auspices of the local Parent-Teacher Association and in cooperation with the Greenbelt Defense Council has been making a house to house survey to determine whether the town needs a Child Care Center.

The question has been raised as to the supervision and operation of such a Center if it is organized. Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer, director of adult education, assures those parents who would be placing their children in such a school that the persons in charge would be trained in the work and that the very highest of health standards would be enforced.

The survey of the town is the first step in securing funds to set up a day care center for children whose both parents are working. If the survey indicates a definite need for such a center, a request will be made for federal funds to establish it.

An apron sale by the Legion Auxiliary has been announced for tomorrow afternon. Mrs. Thomas Freeman is in charge of the sale. Aprons made by Auxiliary members will be on sale in the drug store from 3 to 8 p.m.

Gas Rationing Causes Decrease In Violations

"Since gas rationing has gone into effect there has been an appreciable decline in speeding ar-rests," George J. Panagoulis, director of the Greenbelt Department of Public Safety, reported in his monthly statement to the Town Council last week. "The general public deserves a vote of thanks for the splendid way they have responded to the President's appeal for conserving rubber.

During the month of November, the Department made 12 arrests, issued 55 traffic warnings and seven non-traffic warnings. A total of $69 was forfeited in Town fines and costs.

Urge More Rationing

Postcards urging the Office of Price Administration to ration all scarce goods before the shortage becomes acute have been made available to Food Store customers rtcently. The cards were made available by Eastern Cooperative League.

one that the Becks have seen is in the Hershey collection. This plays discs about three times the size of the "Regina's" and shades of the future!-has an automatic changing device.

The Becks have a collection of 63 records that run the gamut from opera to ragtime, from the "Miserere" to "The Banks of the Wabash." There are waltzes, marches, and hymns, all played in the good old tinkling music box style, replete with flowery grace notes. Popular tunes of the day (Have you met her?)" "Swim out O'Grady," and "Little Alabama Coon." And what gay nineties collection would be complete without "The Maiden's Dream?"

A perfectly devastating "man-dolin effect" can be produced by turning a key at the side of the turnstile. This cuts down the resonance somewhat, turning the "pings" to "plunks."

Mr. Beck's music box made its first public appearance at the fellowship supper served by the Men's Bible classes of the Community Church last week.

War Training Courses Offered At University

War training courses designed primarily for women desiring to qualify for supervisory positions with war industries or in various branches of the government, were announced this week by the University of Maryland. The courses, which are tuition-free, will include production tools and processes, motion and time study, welding theory and techniques, aircraft materials and inspection, and junior engineer-supplemental.

1943 Budget

The town manager's proposed budget for Greenbelt's next year was offered to the Town Council Monday night and is printed on page 3 of this paper for public inspection.

Somehow Mr. Braden has accomplished the miracle of providing a schedule which reduces the per capita cost of runinng the town in times when wages and prices are straining upwards. To do this many community functions have been marked for comparative restriction in view of the additional population, but on the whole essentials seem to be provided for.

What further additions or eliminations may be made to Greenbelt's 1943 financial program will be decided next Monday night, with all residents given the opportunity of commenting at the public hearing. If there are weaknesses hidden in the budget, this public inspection should bring them to light.

Paper Bags

Much has been said and written about the salvage of paper and paper bags. It seems wasteful that the bags in which we carry home our groceries should be allowed to accumulate in the kitchen cabinet and to eventually find their way into the trash barrel.

Paper bags are getting scarce and expensive. It is estimated that the cost of packing the average purchase in our Food Store is two cents. When this is multiplied by the number of orders put up in a year's time, a pretty large sum is expended just to wrap purchases. This, of course, is added to the cost of the merchandise and detracts from the sum returned to us at the end of the year.

A paper bag has not outlived its usefulness in one using. Practically every one of them can be refolded and used again and again. If these bags could be returned to the store for reuse we could effect a substantial saving and at the same time aid in taking care of our paper shortage.

The whole thing was called to our attention by the residents in 14 Crescent Road who have started to sort their bags into sizes and bundle them. We are in favor of making this a town affair. If it should become necessary, we would like to see Greenbelt Consumer Services sponsor a drive and have these bundles picked up.

We Stop for Christmas

I saw a sentence in the paper that said "War doesn't stop ior Christmas." That sounds pretty terrible, doesn't it? But of course it's true. War doesn't stop for Christmas. But Greenbelt does. Practically. And that's fine with me. I think it ought to. There ought to be a season when meetings don't meet and when families do. Some how, the intimate, friendly things that families do at Christmas seem mighty important as the years roll on.

The community Christmas tree was an open question for some time, but it seems asured now that we will have one. It won't be the heartwarming sight it has been in former years, at least not at night, because it won't be lighted. The regulation forbidding outside Christmas lighting applies also to community trees, for blackout reasons as well as for conservation of electricity in wartime, but the tree will be decorated and it will be there, in its usual place, at the Center. And Hattie and I are glad. To forego the tree this year would bring the war so much closer that it would be hard to be happy at Christmas. And with so much sorrow in the world, it seems as though we ought to be just as harpy as we can, while we can. The Elementary School will celebrate Christmas this year with carol singing, and with exhibits and sales of articles made by the different classes. On Monday from 11 to 11:30 a.m., the Primary classes will hold a carol sing in the Auditorium. Parents and friends are invited. Also on Monday, from 2 to 2:15 p.m. the Nature Trail Group (Mrs. Walton's class) will exhibit and offer for sale articles made by the pupils. These articles include Mexican hat ashtrays, yule logs, scrapbooks, waste baskets, and pomanders. This exhibit will be held in the class your while is the rear formally used for one of the real state. in the class room, which is the room formerly used for an arts and crafts workroom. Parents and friends are invited. The domestic arts class, Mrs. Roberts teaching, will also have articles for sale in the arts and crafts room. The girls have been making

potholders, tea towels, aprons and other articles suitable for Christmas gifts. The primary classes selected, some time ago, different nations as patterns for an international Christmas celebration, and will carry out festivities in the manner peculiar to each nation. These will be held in the different class rooms, and refreshments, also national, will be served. Parents are invited.

served. Parents are invited. Also on Tuesday, from 9:15 to 10:15 a.m., group 3 will hold its Christmas celebration in the Auditorium, and from 10:15 to 12 noon, group 4 will celebrate. School will be dismissed for the holidays, after the assembly, to begin again January 4. And what do you know, Santa Claus is really going to make an appearance in Greenbelt after all! He will talk to the audience of the movie theater between features of the matinee on Saturday, the 19th and he will most the children (accompanied by parents place)

19th, and he will meet the children (accompanied by parents, please) in the variety store from 7 to 9 Saturday evening.

The plane spotters will apparently spend Christmas on the roof in the Shopping Center as usual. If you want to wish them season's greetings just call Cy Turner, phone 5623—and he will sign you up at once to join them. The High School Senior Prom will be held in the Auditorium of the Elementary School Wednesday, December 23. And I guess it's not too early to talk about the New Year's Eve dance which the Citizens Association is holding in the Auditorium, on December 31. Better start planning for it.

And while you're dreaming of a white Christmas. don't forget to listen for the carol singers round about town. The carols sound so lovely If you don't get a lump in your throat when you hear them, you're a goon, and Santa Claus has no business coming to see you.

6th Grade Pupils Selling Handicraft

The sixth grade emildren in Mrs. Walton's room have made a wide selection of Christmas decorations which can be bought in the arts and crafts room of the Elementary School building during school hours next week.

The group has been working on nature study during the school year and have used natural materials to make yule log candle holders decorated with greens, place cards, note pads, door stops,

Community Tree Will Remain Dark

Complying with WPB orders in the interest of power conservation, the community manager has asked that residents do not use lights in outdoor tree and doorway decorations during the holiseason. The community day Christmas tree will be located in the shopping center as in prev-ious years but will not have lights. It will hace other appropriate decorations, the manager's office said.

Inside decorations will be permitted as usual.

Put Away the Hatchet

The Town Administration warns householders to buy their trees for the holiday season instead of cutting them in the woods around Greenbelt. Cutting a Christmas tree on Federal property seems to be a punishable offense, even though the pine trees here do need thinning, and even though there is a manpower and shipping shortage which makes commercial Christmas trees scarce and high-priced this year.

Hi, Neighbor!

We extend our hearties welcome to the following newcomers who have moved into town within the past few weeks:

Herb Hall High .00 .00 .00 In Star Tourney; .00 Mrs. Lastner Tops .00 .00

Herbie Hall is on the way up in the bowling world. The hard rolling clubhouse constructer added a fancy 370 set to last week's very tolerable 340 to step out in long strides toward a good season. The 370 was, incidently, the high set for that particular night of the Star Bond Tournament.

As was the case in last week's report Hall sparked the ever climbing Commandos to another three game sweep. The triple places the Commandos only one game in back of Vitamen.

Corner Del has been doing moderately well but has, just now, slipped into third place. They took two out of three games, and in so doing, set a new mark for second high team set thus far in the season. The D. C. boys topped the Dodger's old record of 1,645 by one large pin.

The team mark could well have been higher had skipper Lester Sanders been able to be there for the first game. The Athletic Club prexy rolled second and third games of 131 and 130. Al Bowman was right in there pitching with a fine 359 set.

One Game Margin

Vitamen's one game margin of leagus supremecy was maintained by copping two victories against a loss,

The bowling league members are pdoud of their representation in the Evening Star scramble. Forty strong is the Athletic Club contingent in the running. Those qualifying for the roll-off will be notified next week.

On Tuesday, December 22, the men will compete for free turkeys. Last night the girls' section had their Christmas turkey sweeps; results will be announced on these pages next issue. In the ladies' league three teams advanced two positions in the standings by copping all three games of their respective matches. G. P. Iverson wallopped Trott and Owens; Maryland Farms did ditto to the Bottom Basking Babes; while the Blue Birds raided the Raiders.

Lustin e- Nicholson stays well out in front in spite fo giving away two games to the Com-mandos. They have a five game lead on the Co-Ops.

Basketball for Men After Holidays; 8 Teams Now Ready

Director Ben Goldfaden has taken some definite action on the plan to have a basketball league for the men of the town sponsored by the Recreation Department.

From the group of men, who have shown interest in the idea, he has selected team captains, or better at this time, team organ-izers. The scheme is to have teams named after and composed of men who work at the various govern-ment agencies, schools, service branches and otherwise.

At this writing there are eight groups with a leader and a nucleus, at least, for the formation of the squads. It is not meant to imply that there cannot be more groups formed and any player, not yet established in a group, may get his contact by coming down to the gym on class nights, Thursdays.

The league will not start until after the Christmas holidays and there will be a couple of nights in which to get acquainted with the bunch.

The only restriction Mr. Gold-faden has felt that he should impose is the limiting of veteran Rep players to one on a team.

players to one on a team. The eight basic squads, with the leader first are: High School Grads, Bob Egle, Carson, Jern-berg, Sommers, Estes, Bozek; Five Point Star, Murray Krasnor, Sol Lebowitz, Trattler, Goffen; Navy Enlisted, Joe DiPietro, Neblett, Barker, Taylor; Navy Department, Behrens, R. L. Richardson; Mary-land Oldtimers, Eddie Kaigher, Don Whittemore, Nana, Gale, Stienle, Reno, Blanchard; War Department, Ransdell, Jack Con-fair, Hawkins; Office for Emer-gency Management, Glenn Wilbur, gency Management, Glenn Wilbur, Wurl; Athletic Club, Paul Hennessey, Rabinhorst, Baur, Marack.

Dolores Wolfe Best For Navy's Newcomb Championship Bout

The Navy Team was successful in defeating Maryland last Tuesday afternoon for the Newcomb championship of the Elementary School. Prior to this game Mary-land and Navy had been tied for the title, each having won four and lost one. The score of the title-winning game was 17 to 14. The following girls played on the winning combination in the last game: Janet LaRue, Dolores Wolfe, Beverly Drass, Cecelia Nelson and Emma Jo Pack. The following girls were on the losers: Dolores McWilliams, Patricia Loftus, Viann Neblett, and Doris Goodman. Incidentally, the out-standing player for each quint had standing player for each quint had the same first name, Dolores. An all star team from the five losing teams will play the Navy on Wednesday. The following girls made this team: Dolores McWilliams, Edith Taylor, Helen Ward, Pat Loftus, Doris Goodman, Jackie Strickler, Eugenia Zoue-neck, Viann Neblett, Betty Wun-drum and Joan Read drum and Joan Read.

Ernie Boggs is now a smokeeater at No. 19 Engine Company in Washington. The Shamrock pitchace was appointed last Friday. We hope you have a long, pros-perous, and not too hot career, Private Ernie.

Local boys, who have been away at college, are returning home for the Christmas holidays. Blake Palmer, Bob Porter, Lynn Buck and Leroy Clark from High Point and Leroy Clark from High Point and Bill Dodson from Franklyn & Marshall will form the nucleus of a Greenbelt High Alumni cage team that bids fair to knock the spots off the current incumbents.
