

Rysticken Balks Bus Service Cut By Transit Co.

New efforts by Capital Transit Company to limit Greenbelt's transportation through the Office of Defense Transportation were revealed yesterday by Arthur Rysticken, assistant community manager.

Order in November

It will be recalled by local commuters that the company's request for permission to remove its bus line to Mt. Rainier and operate only a shuttle bus to Branchville was refused by the Maryland Public Service Commission after extended hearings in Baltimore. An order issued by the Commission in November directed that the present service be maintained, the findings submitted as a basis except that a trial period of the shuttle service could be made and for further action.

The company did not begin the trial runs, but instead—Greenbelters now learn—asked the Office of Defense Transportation to intercede with the State Public Service Commission on their behalf. It was pointed out that the restricted service would save both tires and gas, as well as wear of the buses.

Learns of Move

Before real pressure could be put on the Commission Mr. Rysticken, who has carried the transportation fight for the Greenbelt town administration, learned of the move. He called officials of the ODT and offered data showing how any further curtailment would cripple the public transportation available for war workers in this community. He then informed the Public Service Commission and asked that no hasty action be taken.

His efforts were rewarded last week when the Commission issued a new order refusing to reconsider its previous order since evidence and investigation had been its basis, while the ODT had no such body of findings on which to base its decision.

The present bus service will remain, then, until further notice.

Not The End

"This climaxes a nine-month fight," Mr. Rysticken told the Cooperator, but it is not the end at all. He predicted that further efforts towards reduction might be made later by either the Company or the ODT.

"In the meantime," he added, "we have not lost sight of the desirability of a loop bus service within Greenbelt. However, we must fight one problem at a time. We should not needlessly complicate our fight to retain what we have by asking for more. The loop seems beyond reach now since the ODT holds that a person has adequate public transportation if there is bus or street car service within two miles. In peacetime the distance is not supposed to be greater than one-half mile."

Turner And Kasko Get Militia Commissions

Captain Harry Bates, commander of Minute Men Company 924, announced this week that two officers of the militia will receive official recognition of their services when the Minute Men of this area meet Sunday at the Hyattsville Armory. Lt. Col. Caesar A. Aiello will present commissions issued by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor to the officers of the Maryland State Militia Reserve. First Lieutenant Edward S. Turner, 2-N Sountway, and Second Lieutenant Paul R. Kasko, 9-K Ridge, are the two local officers to receive commissions.

Signal recognition of the effectiveness of the staff program as laid out by Mr. Turner and Mr. Kasko in conjunction with Capt. Bates has been the repeated commendations on the appearance and snap of the Greenbelt Company in drill and the record of attendance as expressed by the headquarters of the reserve.

Evening Classes for Adults Begin New Semester Next Week

Evening classes sponsored by the Department of Adult Education will begin next week for Greenbelt residents, according to information received from Mary Jane Kinzer, supervisor of the department. Six classes which were offered during the first semester will again be given during the second half of the school year and several new classes may be started.

Sponsored Locally

During the past several years it has been the practice to offer evening classes for adults in whatever field an interest is shown. The classes are sponsored locally by the administrative department under the supervision of Mrs. Kinzer with the cooperation of the County Department of Education. Teachers are paid by the county and the one dollar registration fee required from each student is used to defray county administrative expenses.

Fifteen persons must register for a class before it can be authorized. This semester it is expected that sewing, nutrition, woodwork, typing and Spanish will be continued from the first semester and that classes in shorthand, French, and theory of composition of music will also be added.

Instructors for the classes which are being given are:

Sewing, Mrs. Carl Hintz; typing and shorthand, Mrs. Anne Lueth; nutrition, Mrs. Josephine McGuire; woodwork, Ben O. Sheldon; Spanish II, Dr. Carl Scharf. If 15 persons report for the class in theory of composition of music, it will be taught by Saul Siegel and if a similar number register for first year French it will be taught by Abe Glauberman.

SCHEDULES OF CLASSES

Sewing	Home ec. room	Mon. and Tues.	7:30-9:30
Nutrition	Home ec. room	Thurs.	8-10
Woodwork	High School	Mon. and Wed.	7:30-9:30
Typing	High School	Mon. and Wed.	7:30-9:30
Shorthand	Elem. room 222	Mon. and Wed.	7:30-9:30
Spanish II	High School	Fri.	7:30-9:30
Theory in comp. of music	Elem. room 224	Fri.	7:30-9:30
French	Elem. room 225	Thurs.	7:30-9:30

Health Conditions For Month Reported

Dr. William Eisner, head of the Greenbelt Department of Public Health, reported this week that there were only five cases of communicable diseases during the entire month of December. Three of these were chicken pox and two were pertussis, or whooping cough.

Three free immunization clinics were held during the month.

Of 324 children examined since the beginning of the fall term 68 were found to have enlarged tonsils, 16 had heart murmurs, 11 had imperfect eyes, and 10 had enlarged neck glands.

No Smallpox Here

In respect to the small pox situation in this area Dr. Eisner issued the following statement:

"The recent outbreak of small pox in Pennsylvania created considerable alarm among many Greenbelters. Apparently the outbreak has been somewhat limited. However, since an attack can be prevented by vaccination—now almost universally compulsory—outbreaks of epidemic proportions are very unlikely.

"The Public Health Department urges all Greenbelters to be re-vaccinated if their last vaccination is more than seven years old. A successful vaccination usually confers immunity for at least seven years. The department conducts a clinic on Tuesday mornings from 9 to 10 o'clock in its offices, 2-A Gardenway. All parents are urged to make use of its facilities for immunization against small pox, diphtheria and whooping cough. There is no for the services of the Public Health Department.

"Only two of the usual childhood contagious diseases are present in Greenbelt—whooping cough and chicken pox. However, the number of cases of either disease is under control.

"The season for measles is at hand. In order to keep this annoying but rarely serious disease in check, all parents are again urged to keep their children out of school and at home if they show any sign of an apparent cold.

"The Department would also like to remind Greenbelters, especially our new neighbors, that it maintains prenatal clinics on Tuesdays at 2 p. m. All expectant mothers are welcome to come to the office, 2-A Gardenway, where Mrs. Stouffer is conducting the clinic.

Accident Is Fatal To Bert Schein, 4

Greenbelt friends extended their sympathy this week to Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Schein of 56-E Crescent Road for the loss of their little son Bert, aged 4, who succumbed last Thursday to accidental burns from scalding water.

The unusual and regrettable accident occurred Wednesday when a vaporizer with which he was being treated for bronchitis, overturned, according to Dr. William Eisner, the attending physician. The boiling water from the vaporizer caused extensive burns which produced shock the following day from the which the lad was unable to recover.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a younger sister Stephanie.

Nominations Open For Four Directors

January 21 is the closing date for submitting nominations for the Greenbelt Health Association elections scheduled for February 10.

Ben Goldfaden is chairman of the elections committee, and nominations for directors must be signed by two members and turned in to him.

The terms of four of the seven directors expire this month. Finishing two-year terms—although none of them served full terms—are Sherrod East, A. N. Gawthrop, Edwin Miles, and Mrs. Allan Arness.

State Past President To Address Club

The American home department of the Greenbelt Woman's Club will meet on Thursday afternoon, January 21, at the home of Mrs. Daniel J. Neff, 3-D Ridge Road; co-hostesses are Mrs. George E. Clark and Mrs. James J. Lehman.

The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Samuel L. Houlton, chairman of the department, and the speaker will be Mrs. Harry L. Harcum whose subject will be "The American Home on Guard." Mrs. Harcum is past president of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs and is at present actively engaged in war work in her district as chairman of bonds and stamps. She helped to form the Greenbelt Club and has made a point of visiting it each year.

New Store for Northern Part Of Town Will Open January 20 Says Consumer Service Manager

A store for the north end of town will be opened Wednesday, January 20, Thomas B. Ricker, general manager of Greenbelt Consumer Services, has announced, provided deliveries of commodities and equipment arrive as scheduled.

Council Discusses Hospital, Tin Cans, New Boundary Lines

Several items of public business were transacted by the Town Council in its meeting last Monday night including a discussion of the progress in attempting to reopen the hospital, instructing Town Manager Roy Braden to continue efforts to obtain a two-way radio for the police car, and passing a resolution necessary to obtain sums in lieu of taxes from the Federal Works Agency.

Higher Rates Seen

Mr. Braden announced that a report on the previous financial experience with the hospital had been submitted to the Federal Works Agency in response to their request. From the discussion by town officials and councilmen it seemed apparent that higher rates than prevailed during the previous periods of hospital operation must be charged if the hospital reopened. Present plans call for a 20-bed unit providing obstetrical care and minor surgery as well as the care and treatment of certain types of illnesses.

The Council also discussed the first Greenbelt tin can salvage drive which was to be held today, as previously announced in the Cooperator. Cans must be cleaned, flattened, and placed in containers at the sides of main roads.

New Boundaries

Possible legislation which should be introduced in the state legislature to benefit Greenbelt was considered although no definite action was taken by the Council. Modifying the town charter to change the boundaries of the town to exclude private holdings was discussed. In addition, the necessary charter changes in order to establish a retirement system for town employees were considered with Town Solicitor Powers.

Honorary police badges were issued to the Councilmen by Mr. Braden and Director of Public Safety George Panagoulis.

Nutrition Specialist Sees Need for Gardens

Home gardens and home canning were urged for the coming spring and summer by Miss Margaret McPheeters, nutrition specialist of the University of Maryland extension division, at the January meeting of the Woman's Club.

Miss McPheeters made the point that it would be wise for everybody who possibly could to plan on having a garden this year and to can every bit of extra produce. This would release foods to the army and lighten transportation. She stated that "while we might think we are sacrificing now it is nothing to the sacrifices we will be called upon to make in the next year."

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert C. Porter last Thursday with Mrs. Leon G. Benefiel, president, presiding. The Club members have formed a book exchange in order that they might all read the newer books. An appeal was made for more Red Cross workers and for help at the air spotter's post.

Mrs. Daniel J. Neff introduced the speaker. The meeting ended with a general discussion and the serving of refreshments. Mrs. Daniel B. Littlefield and Mrs. Thomas R. Freeman were co-hostesses.

At Three Laurel Hill
A row of houses, 3-E through 3-H on Laurel Hill Road between Hillside and Ridge Roads, has been opened up to the extent that its structure allows, and will be stocked with a full line of groceries, dairy products, easily-handled fresh produce, and popular drug store items. Store hours will be 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. daily, and until 7:30 p.m. on Saturdays.

Adjustable to Demand

The new store will stock as complete a line of groceries as space permits, Mr. Ricker stated. The four electric refrigerators which are a part of the standard equipment of the houses will be used for milk, cream, butter (if any), eggs, and packaged cheese. The fresh fruits and vegetables stock will be those like apples, oranges, and potatoes, which do not require special handling. A limited inventory of the most frequently called for prepared medicines such as aspirin, milk of magnesia, and cod liver oil will also be carried. Plans are to be kept flexible and will be adapted to meet demand which becomes apparent after the store is opened.

Far from Ideal

The present arrangements with four connecting rooms, though far from ideal for efficient store service, represents the best which can be provided at this time, Mr. Ricker emphasized. The decision was made only after more adequate plans proved impossible, and was speeded up by the appeal of housewives who expressed their willingness to accept a makeshift rather than make the long trek to and from the center of town. Early last year G. C. S. obtained a lease on a plot of ground, had blue prints drawn for building and equipping a complete new store more convenient for new residents, and had even negotiated for a loan to finance it. The project however failed to get WPB approval, as did the plan for a new school submitted at the same time. When the use of a row of houses seemed the only alternative, the Co-op tried to get the necessary priorities for heavy lumber to reinforce the structure so that the walls and staircases could be removed, but attempts in this direction were also frustrated.

Students Buy $2300 In Stamps and Bonds

School children in Greenbelt continue to pin up records in the purchase of war bonds and stamps. The total purchases for the 57-day period from October 4 to January 7 amounted to $2294.55.

Mrs. Catherine T. Reed, principal of the elementary school, and Mrs. Genevieve Gerrets, who is in charge of the bond and stamp program, were both enthusiastic in their praise of the showing made by the boys and girls. "They have made this war a part of their early life," Mrs. Gerrets said, "and they are giving up their candy and peanuts and even movies to purchase bonds and stamps."

Local Police Arrest 21 In December; No Fires

During the month of December the local police made 21 arrests and issued 34 warnings, according to Chief George Panagoulis. Speeding and trespassing drew seven arrests each. Most of the warnings were for failure to observe stop signs.

A total of $96.50 was forfeited in town cases for fines and costs, and $110.10 in state cases.

No fires were reported during the month by the local fire department.

Slipped A Little

For the second time in its history some of the Co-operators were not delivered on the day of issue last week. We were proud of our record, and to the 400 families who did not get papers until Saturday night or Sunday morning we offer our regrets. Two of our carriers, one of them newly hired, failed to make their deliveries. New boys have been secured now, and we hope that residents will not miss future Cooperators.

The problems of a volunteer staff for a non-profit community newspaper are many. If any of you readers have two hours a week to contribute, call Mr. Cooper, phone 4346, and you will have some newspaper work to do as your contribution to your neighbors in Greenbelt.

Cans, Scrap, Letters

This week we were able to tell Greenbelters what goes on behind their backs in regard to the transportation problem. You will find the story on the front page.

Next week we hope to give readers a revealing picture of what happened to Greenbelt's scrap pile after the drive was completed last fall. There have been many questions and some rumors. Some of them were stimulated by the announcement of tin can collections to begin today. Some curious souls want to know what happens to the cans after they have been washed, stripped of the label, cut open at both ends, flattened, placed in a container, and carried to the side of the road for Friday morning collection. We think we can get the answer to that, too.

And that brings us around to the subject of "Letters to the Editor." Several received recently commented on the scrap and can drives, but they were either unsigned or we were asked not to use the names of the writers. Under exceptional circumstances where the use of a signature might be harmful to the writers a letter may be published anonymously—if it seems to be worthwhile. Under no circumstances however, do we print letters which come to us unsigned. If a letter to the community newspaper is important enough to be read it is important enough to be signed. Persons who send us complaints and denunciations of officials, and omit their own names, are wasting their time.

We do like genuine letters, however, and would appreciate more. It is one way to keep us alive to community problems.

Community Church J.T. Fenby Memorial

Service Announced

"The Most Expensive Meal in History" will be the theme of the sermon to be preached at the Community Church, Sunday at 11 a. m. by the Reverend Wilmer Pierce Johnston. A special invitation is extended to all those who have recently moved to Greenbelt to attend and worship.

At 9:30 a. m. the Church School with meet for all who wish to avail themselves of an opportunity to spend an hour of worship and bible study. Three classes are provided for those adults who wish to accompany their children or to attend such a class.

Monday evening at 8 p. m. the regular meeting of the officers and teachers will be held in the pastor's study at 8-B Parkway. All officers and teachers and others who are interested are requested to be present.

A new plan for the mid-week service is being worked out and will be announced in the near future.

Wednesday at 9 p. m. the regular choir rehearsal will take place in the social room at the Elementary School. Those interested in singing in the choir are requested to contact Walter Slocomb, 5-D Parkway, phone 6251, or at the time of rehearsal.

Sunday afternoon at three o'clock a memorial service will be held for J. Tracy Fenby, Greenbelt resident, whose death came last month. Mr. Fenby, at the time of his death was secretary of the board of deacons and deaconesses for the Community Church and assistant superintendent of the Church School.

"Mr. Fenby was a rare and beautiful spirit," Rev. Wilmer P. Johnston observed. "He had some definite convictions about life and of the kind of service that he wished after his death. Among these was that instead of a funeral service at the time of his death, a memorial service should be held some time after. Another was that instead of flowers he desired those who would have sent flowers to contribute the money to a fund that should be divided between 'The American Society for the Control of Cancer' and 'The Tracy Fenby Fund' under the auspices of Consumer's Services of Washington, D. C., a consumer cooperative."

Participating in this memorial service will be Reverend Johnston of the Community Church, and Dr. Leroy A. Halbert, vice president of the District of Columbia Co-operative League.

OUR NEIGHBORS

Mrs. E. E. Allion, 2-C Westway, had as guests over the recent holidays her mother, Mrs. Nora Lush, and two sisters, Mrs. Roy Lighthouse and Mrs. Alvin Knowles. They were visiting here from Jackson, Michigan.

Miss Rae Goldfadden is visiting her brother, Ben, and his wife at their home, 6-T Ridge Road. Her home is in Newark, New Jersey.

Corporal Charles Berman of Richmond Hill, Long Island spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Abraham S. Glauberman of 13-E Laurel Hill Road. Corporal Berman is presently with the Signal Corps in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carmine Ciasca, 56-C Ridge Road, are happy to announce the birth of their daughter, Vivian Agnes, on November 28, 1942, at home.

On December 19, of last year, a son, John Wayne, was born to Mr. and Mrs. John K. Marshall, 20-F Parkway Road, at Columbia Hospital.

Hi, Neighbor!

We are happy to welcome the following newcomers who have moved into town during the past two weeks:

Emanuel Hack Levin, 22-B Hillside; Gilbertine Keenan, 8-F Laurel Hill; Henry N. Herton, 9-Q Laurel Hill; Flourney L. Largent Jr., 19-G Hillside; Marie L. Scott, 19-B Hillside; Frank J. Local Haircutters Are Tearing Their Hair

With more hair in town than the two present barbers can keep trimmed, the management of Greenbelt Consumer Services has been tearing its own hair in a desperate, but to date unsuccessful, attempt to get another shave-and-hair-cut man. Washington has been "combed" without avail. Appeals to New York City barber training establishments come back with a "Sorry, no one to recommend". Is there anyone in town who could do a little barbering on the side? Or should we recommend that our men grow beards to match their hair.

Brands May Be Changed Advises Pediatrician

If it is impossible to find either Co-op or Carnation brand evaporated milk on the shelves of the Food Store, it is safe to use any other brand of evaporated milk in making up baby formulas, a local doctor advised this week. Any brand now on the market is a safe product and will lend itself to the formula without appreciable differences, according to Dr. S. R. Berenberg, pediatrician on the staff of the Health Association.

"There's so little difference in brands of evaporated milk," he said, "that mothers whose babies are on formulas calling for it should use any kind they can get." Dr. Berenberg issues this statement in the hope that mothers who have hesitated to change brands may have the assurance that no harm can come from such a change.

According to Dr. Berenberg, the use of Oleum-Percompheum has been reduced to three drops daily for infants and small children by Order L-40 of the War Production Board.

Co-op Store Receipts Must Be In Tonight

Greenbelt shoppers are reminded that tonight is their last opportunity to submit receipt slips from local stores for participation in patronage dividends which may be declared at the annual meeting next month.

The office of Greenbelt Consumer Services, over the drug store, will be open until 9:30 tonight.

Girls Win Thriller While Local Boys Bow to Bladensburg

Last Friday night before a large crowd Greenbelt played host to Bladensburg in the opening games of the Central County Conference. The local girls took a 24 to 23 victory and the boys bowed lowly to last year's champs by an 8-26 score. Surprisingly large was the rooting section that accompanied the Peace Cross squads.

Bladensburg's Miss Corry tried valiantly to swing the game for her side but fell just one point shy of tying the Grizzliettes. Her total was 18 points.

Donaghue High Scorer
Captain Ora Donaghue and Betty Dickson were right in there pitching with 10 points each. Pretty Marion Benson chipped in with 4 mighty important markers to sum up the Green's netting activities for the evening.

The boys were totally out-classed by a sub-par Bladensburg team. Jim Scrandellis had been out with a cold and was not in the line up but it is not thought that he could have made up the difference for a win.

Hartford Downs Again Band Board President

S. Hartford Downs was re-elected president of the parents' board of the Greenbelt Community Band at the board meeting last Friday. Other officers elected are John W. Collier, vice-president; Mrs. Carrie Linhardt, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Gussio, assistant secretary; and Edward M. Halley, treasurer.

New Teacher Joins Staff

Miss Ruth Jefferson of South Orange, New Jersey, has been added to the staff of the Elementary School. Mrs. Catherine Reed, principal, announced this week.

Among other activities at the school, Group II pupils are now beginning a study of the history and geography of Maryland. They have been studying music as part of their work-and-play program.

War Drives Camera Club To Curb Its Activity

Wayne Roberts, spokesman for the Greenbelt Camera Club, confesses that local picture fans must yield to the war and suspend operations for the present.

Camera supplies are difficult to obtain, Mr. Roberts said, and overtime as well as night shifts prevents members from participation in the organization's activities.

It is expected that activities may be resumed in the spring.

Community Church Sets Example To Heat Crises

As a contribution towards solving the present oil shortage, the Community Church has discontinued the Sunday evening services for adults and young people until March 7. The high school group will meet in private homes. Rev. Wilmer P. Johnston has asserted.

REC Cage Opens With 3 Hot Tilts; Richardson Tops

The Recreation Department Men's Basketball League got off to an interesting start last Thursday night at the gym. The 3 games were closely contested throughout and none was decided by over 9 points. The Co-Opers bowed to the Ex-Hi-Schoolers by 11 to 19. Navy Department edged the Athletic Club in a thriller by a 22-20 count. Office of Emergency Management tripped Maryland by 28-19.

Richardson High

Point totals for individuals were held to ten or under. Richardson, of the Navy Department was high with 4 field goals and a pair of freebies. Egli, Kaighn, Kindler and Ramsdell chalked up nine points each by converting but one free toss apiece while pacing Richardson otherwise.

Recreation Director Ben Goldfaden announces the team rosters as they now stand:

Ex-Hi-Schoolers, Bob Egli, captain, Carson, Bozek, Loftus, Jernberg, "Mook" Sommers, and Hal Estes. Co-Opers Hugh Hawkins, captain, Jack Confair, Mathers, Barnhart, Shelton, Geirsh and Jim Shaffer. Navy Department, Glen Wilbur, captain, Richardson, Blacker, Machowsky, Valloz, Smith, King and Miller. Athletic Club: Bob Marrack, captain, Frank, Bill Donaghue, Eshbaugh, sr., Rabinhorst, Lyons and Paul Hennessey. Maryland: Eddie Kaighn, jr., captain, Blanchard, Whittemore, Gale, Nana, Merryman and Macchio. O.E.M. Ramsdell, captain, Behren, Bierce, Demsberger, Kindler, Chippenden, Geierman and Anders.

Below is the schedule for the next three weeks; all games on Thursdays, first at 7:45 p. m. second at 8:30 and the final at 9:15.

January 21- A. C. vs. O.E.M.; Navy Department vs Co-Opers; Maryland vs X-Hi.

Cor-Del Pin Leader As First Half Ends; Estes Tops Rollers

The Greenbelt Athletic Club's bowling league wound up the first half of its schedule last week with the customary six games separating the first nine teams. If the pack keeps up the present pace a champion would be hard to predict.

High pinfall makes half champs of Corner Delicatessen, manned by such stalwarts as Al Bowman, Larry Pinckney, Bill Blanchard, Lou Johnson and skipper Lester Sanders. The Commandos and Vitamen press closely in walloping the pins and tied the Cor-Del boys in the won and loss column.

Hal Estes has been the big slugger of the league for many weeks and bids fair to amble on as usual. The husky fellow has been "consistency" itself, leading the flock in average, strikes and spares.

First Half Standing

Mt. Rainier Boys Up By 36-23; Lassies Make It Even Break

The Grizzliettes again were the only satisfying item in a double-header, this time with Mt. Rainier High as opposition. Coach Rose Nudo's girls won 25 to 17 and in the second game the boys lost 23-36. The double-header was of the remote control variety, inasmuch as the boys played at home and the girls played in Mt. Rainier.

Donaghue, Dickson Star

As in the Bladensburg game the girls' scoring aces were Ora Donaghue and Betty Dickson, trying this time at eleven points each. Miss Nudo hopes that this sort of thing goes on all season.

Jim Scordellis was back in the line up and the boys made a better looking job of it. His six points were high for the locals. The latest of a long line of Mt. Rainier athletes named Rodriguez was high with 10 points.

Farkas Here

Anvil Andy Farkas, grand little Redskin pro footballer, brings his hot St. John's quint to town to-night for a return game. The Grizzlies are anxious to avenge their disgraceful earlier loss to the Johnnies.

The girls will entertain the Bowie sextet, who were the only team to have an indian sign on them last season, in a preliminary contest. First game starts at 8:30 this evening.

Poco
At Bat

The Grizzlies are beginning to resemble the bears they were named after with their long locks of hibernation. The lads have sworn not to get hair cuts until they break into the win column.

Several of them may yet play with the Grizzliettes if they could crash the line up.

Betty Dickson and little Ora Donaghue are all even up in the matter of making points. They tied in both games and have 21 points apiece in the two conference games to date. Ora has scored 10 times from the floor, Betty 8 times. Betty has dropped in 5 free tosses to one for Ora.

The big crowd that attended the Bladensburg games last Friday night had to wait turns for buses out of Greenbelt half-hourly.

Ban on pleasure driving bids fair to complicate matters for all sports, bowling and basketball burdened for the time being.

Coach Ben Goldfaden has played a couple of games with Heurich's in the last two weeks. The pros are playing this year and donating the entire gate receipts to the U.S.O. Service teams will be their major playmates.

Half time finds the Athletic Club's bowling league just as much of a toss-up as it has been for long weeks. Anyone of 10 teams, and maybe we should include the Buckeroos and the Barons and make it 12, have a definite chance to grab the bunting.

Harold Estes is really making a name for himself in the duck pin sport. He has topped the pack for nine consecutive weeks. He has to roll consistently for the other lads refuse to falter.

Hurry, Hurry, Hurry!

Tonight from 7:30 till 9:30 and Saturday till 6:00, these are the last times you'll get a chance to hand in your cash register slips in order to qualify for the patronage return on your 1942 purchases.

The office of Greenbelt Consumer Services will be open specially tonight and tomorrow afternoon as well as morning to receive your slips—all properly bundled and totaled and accompanied by the proper form. The office staff will be glad to answer your questions if you're having any difficulty or wondering how the whole thing works. But (and they say they're sorry) no slips will be accepted after 6:00 p. m. January 16.

You're Not Cooking With Gas Now

The gasoline shortage will be felt more acutely in Greenbelt this month. The quota allotted our Service Station for January, in compliance with Petroleum Administrative Order No. 1, provides 6,006 gallons or 40.18 per cent of the October gallonage. All primary and secondary supplies in the Eastern Seaboard have had quotas established. This gasoline will be available for those who really need it only if everyone cuts his driving to an absolute minimum.

In a letter to Thomas B. Rickert of G. C. S. explaining the quota, Cooperative Seed and Farm Supply Service, supplier to our Service Station, said, "We appreciate that this will cause you hardship. We can only urge that you distribute this gasoline only to the most essential users."

Athletic Club Meets

Wednesday night the Greenbelt Athletic Club will meet at the clubhouse north of the tennis courts and Braden Field, President Les Sanders announces. No program has been announced in advance.
