Town Observes V-E With Ceremony

Hailing Halfway Mark To Victory V-E Day in Greenbelt was observed with the full reali-zation that only half a victory has been won. Over 200 peo-ple participated in a program Tuesday night at the Elementary School auditorium, while the elementary school children heard James T. Gobbel, Mrs. Elizabeth Fugitt, and Mrs. Catherine Reed in a Special assembly at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Arranged by Mary Jane Kinzer, the V-E Day community celebration Tuesday night was the result of the collaboration of all Greenbelt organizations. Music was furnished by the Greenbelt Community Band under the direction of Dana Garrett, and the Glee Club, directed by Mrs. Dwight Trucksess. The stage, decorated by the Navy Wives Club, was banked with flowers and featured a large V-E in red, white and blue.

In red, white and blue. To the rousing Washington Post March played by the band, the band, the American Legion ad-vanced the colors to the front of the auditorium. After the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and the pledge of allegiance to the flag, Rev. Wilmer P. Johnston opened the meeting with a prayer of thanksgiving.

thanksgiving. Town Manager Gobbel intro-duced the speakers, whose topic was "What V-E Day Means To Us". Allen D. Morrison, Mayor of Greenbelt; Helen Bolshazy, past president of the Navy Wives Club president of the Navy Wives Club of America; Leon Benefiel, com-mander of the Greenbelt Post of the American Legion; John E. Waldo, scoutmaster of the Boy Scouts; Wells Harrington, presi-dent of the Citizens Association; Benjamin Rosenzweig, of the He-brew Congregation; and John P. Speicher, principal of the Green-belt High School, spoke briefly on the significance of our victory in Europe, stressing the job yet to be Europe, stressing the job yet to be done in Japan and in formulating a lasting peace.

a lasting peace. The Army Wives Club was rep-resented on the stage by Mrs. Har-ry Hazell. Members of the armed forces introduced from the platform were Lt. Stanley Provost of the Army, Lt. Lionel Cook of the Navy, Pfc. John Gale, Jr. of the Marines, and S/Sgt. Richard Bates of the Army Air Forces.

After a silent tribute to the memory of the war dead and the late President Roosevelt, the blowing of taps and retiring of the colors, Rev. Johnston pronounced the benediction. The band con-cluded the entertainment with an impromptu concert.

"Fighting Lady" Launches Loan

The Seventh War Loan will be launched at the Greenbelt Theater on Friday, May 11, with a presen-tation of "The Fighting Lady", technicolor history of an aircraft carrier on combat duty in the l'ac'fic, together with a vaudeville performance of several acts, singers, dancers, a magician, and a surprise finale. Admission will be the regular price of thirty cents-purchase of War Bonds will NOT be required—however, bonds and stamps will be on sale in the thea-ter behavior ter lobby.

"Guilty Or Not Guilty?"

This is the question to be put to twelve persons in the audience who will be picked by lot to comprise the jury when the High School dramatics club presents its annual play next Wednesday and Thurs-day. "The Night of January 16th," a long-running Broadway success, on the trial of Karen Andre for the murder of a great Swedish financier, Bjorn Faulkner. The cast has been directed by Mrs. John S. Cook, Jr. Tickets may be obtained from Thomas Donahue or from members of the dramatics club for the price of fifty cents.

The curtain will go up promptly at 8 p. m. and those planning to attend are urged to be in the elementary school auditorium on time to see the beginning.

Child Care Center Head On Leave Of Absence

The Child Care Center at 14 Parkway, now caring for over 50 small children of working parents, will be without the services of its director, Mrs. Russell Anderberg, for three months beginning June 15. Mrs. Anderberg's recent resig-nation was refused and she was persuaded to change her mind about giving up the position per-manently. Mrs. Anderberg has manently. Mrs. Anderberg has headed the staff at the Child Care Center for nearly two years. Mrs. Lois Owen has recently been added to the teaching staff, replacing Mrs. Wretha Peterson, who left to join her husband at Camp Blanding, Fla. Mrs. Byron Candage has resigned her position as teacher at the center. Her place and Mrs. Anderberg's have not yet been filled.

First Quarter Report Made On

Net savings of $7,013 were reported on operations for the first quarter of 1945, compared with $450 for the preceding quarter, at the share drive workers' meeting last Monday night by Greenbelt Consumer Services manager, Sam Ashelman. Foodstore figures showed a reduction in expenses with a small increase in gross margin. The fountain margin rose sharply, and the only unit of the cooperative to show a departmental loss was the valet shop. As a whole the stores did $10,000 more business than during the same period a year ago; larger savings should be realized this year, according to Mr. Ashelman, since waste and leakages are being stopped and opera-tions brought into line. Herman Ramras, share drive chairman, reported nearly $15,000 received to date in new shares and pledges and mentioned the work being done to bring prices at the foodstore into line with competi-tion, stating that more changes will be announced by the management at a later date.

Anthony Madden, warden leader for section 3, brought to the meeting $600 in share sales which put his section in the lead. One volunteer worker told the meeting that publicity for the drive had led a fellow-worker of his in Washington to inquire if he, too, could buy a share in the Greenbelt co-op. Fortunately it turned out that he is a Maryland resident and there-fore may buy stock in GCS.

GCS Plans Ration Of Meat Supplies A new system of distributing meat to Greenbelt families may be inaugurated early next week, General Manager Sam Ashelman told the Cooperator on Tuesday. Registration for meat tickets went on today in booths at the center from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. One ticket is being issued to each family, and the number of persons indicated on the card. The signing up process will also go on tomorrow and Monday from 9 to 5.

When buying meat at the co-op food store, the purchaser will present the family card which the butcher will punch. The weekly allotment of meat will be announced ahead of time, and under the new set-up must be purchased at one time. Two factors may delay getting the plan into immediate operation. Mr. Ashelman said: the length of time required to get the cards printed and the lack of punches.

Citizens Elect David Granahan; Hear Gobbel Hint Hedges By Fall

David Granahan, of 10-J Plateau Place, was elected to head the Citizens Association for the coming year at the group's recent meeting. Mr. Granahan was chairman of the "Seeding and Sodding" Committee which reported the progress of these operations to the defense householders, subsequently head-ing the Property Improvement committee that concerned itself with safety and recreation measures for the north end school and with the preservation of lawns. Lt. (j. g.) Glen Wilbur was cho-sen vice president, while Mrs. Anna Citron will be corresponding Anna Criton will be coming year. Mrs. Margaret Carmody will serve as recording secretary and Archie Foggatt as treasurer. Town Manager Gobbel held out

Gets New Cases

Meat Department

As a direct result of the cur-rent share drive three new meat cases were installed in the main food store on Wednesday and a dairy box was placed in the Laurel Hill store.

"The meat cases are of the most modern and efficient type on the market," commented foodstore manager, Dan Livingston.

Mr. Livingston pointed out a Mr. Livingston pointed but a number of advantages the new cases have over those originally in-stalled by the Government which have now been returned. Because the new cases are not partitioned but give a continuous shelf, about six feet of shelf space has been added for the display of meat. The former arrangement in which the lunch meat section was at right angles to the rest left a large unusable section in the corner.

With the new refrigeration sys-tem, composed of coils above and below the display shelves, meat can now be left in the cases over night. Fluorescent lighting in the upper front of the cases will be more effective and less heat producing.

The doors through which the butchers reach for meat are so planned that they do not slide over the next opening as they used to, sometimes catching fingers and breaking nails. Also, the butchers can easily reach to the front of the cases for meat.

The new equipment has been placed to give more space in the store with only slightly less room behind the counter.

no hope, at last Monday's Citizens Association meeting, that residents of new Greenbelt would be allowed to fence in their yards, pointing out that it was a provision of the lease they had all signed, and scoring the hit or miss look of all the various types put up by the de-fense householders. Gobbel also declared that the fences had al-ready caused a number of neigh-borhood quarrels and court cases. "There's a possibility that hedges might be aut in this fall." Ac Cob "There's a possibility that hedges might be put in this fall," Mr. Gob-bel stated, "but if fences are put up now, I can assure you that you'll never get hedges." Installa-tion of hedges would cost about $50,000, he said. The only type of fence that has office approval is the low wicket type made by placing wire hoops close together, Gobbel pointed out adding that the neces pointed out, adding that the necessity for keeping toddlers out of mischief has been recognized by allowing the erection of wire play-pens 8x8' for children under three years of age. Several cases of gates built across gaps in hedges have been reported lately, Gobbel stated. He said these would also be removed.

A suggested solution for end-ofthe-row inhabitants, whose corner lots are especially overrun, was the planting of shrubs, with the re-minder that it was necessary to secure permission as to type of shrub and planting site from Landscape Superintendent MacGregor. Manager Gobbel said he hoped to get two sidewalks laid for the benefit of children attending the North End School. Their exact notes have not yet been deter-mined. Repair of roads and courts in the defense section will soon get underway, he also stated.

The town manager's remarks about fences and walks came at the end of a lengthy outline of community problems, including the heating system, drainage, use of the community building, and the pranks of unruly adolescents. He stated that the Citizens Association could become a constructive force in the community by encouraging the right use of facilities and by combatting rumors engendered by inaccurate information. He commended the work being done by the Transportation Committee under George Frank, which is en-deavoring to extend bus service to the North End.

Barber Staff Has Three

The barber shop staff will be increased to three early next week when Arthur Keys is expected to begin work. Mr. Keys was employed in the barber shop during the Christmas period and in January. He returns to take up residence here and accept permanent employment.

It is believed by the G.C.S. management that by selling meat in this way, the busiest housewife or career girl will be assured of as much meat as the one who can af-ford to spend all morning at the store. Another reason for the change is to prevent one purchaser coming back several times for meat.

Also, showing favoritism for cer-tain customers will be reduced to a minimum. It was learned that one employee was discharged recently for this reason. "The policy of the cooperative," Mr. Ashelman said, 'is fair distribution of scarce commodities and every effort is being made to assure equal treatment for all customers."

Federation Sets Date Of 1945 Summer Camp

The Potomac Cooperative Federation announces the summer leadership camp, at Keewadin on Chesapeake Bay, from August 18 to September 1 this year. Last year a number of Greenbelt families spent vacations at the camp, and Helmuth Kern, secretary of the Federation, is interested to learn of cooperators who would like to participate this year. Merton Trast, in the G.C.S. office, has details and a tentative schedule of the camp program.

Mr. Livingston looked at the bare cases as the plumber was in-stalling them and said ruefully, "I wish we could fill them chock full." He added, however, that next week should see a better supply. The cases are manufactured by the Hill Company and sold to the cooperative by Eastern Cooperative Wholesale.

Navy Club Aids 7th Loan

The local Navy Wives Club is cooperating with the national or-ganization in raising half a million dollars in the 7th War Loan drive. The opening lunge will take place June 6 in the Auditorium at 8:00 p. m., with a talent show. Special guests at the membership party last Tuesday in the social room were the Truman Riddle Club's sponsor, Mrs. Theodore Woodward, wife of the admiral, and Mrs. Har-ry Hazell, president of the Army Wives Club. The participants at-lended the V-E celebration in the auditorium before the party.

Juke Box Jamboree Again

Another juke box jamboree will be held at the American Legion Home tomorrow night. The En-tertainment Committee, including C. S. Turner, wishes to remind friends of the Legion that these affairs are held every two weeks.

20 Tons Of Clothes

UNRRA Clothing Drive chairman Mrs. Frank McConnell announced Wednesday that a total of 20 tons of clothing were col-lected here, making the best record of any town in the county, according to Treasury officials.

During the first seven days of the drive, clothing was collected and packed by the local Catholics. Other town organizations and religious groups piled in to make the second two weeks a success. The clothing matinee run by theatre manager Fruchtman raised an extra ton.

Here We Go Again

Many of us hailed the rescinding of the clothesline curfew ("clothes must be taken from the lines at 4 p. m." , remember?) as the start of a new era of commonsense. That provision always did seem to us as though it had been drafted for the benefit of afternoon tourists who were riding through our town in comfy limousines, and were too lazy to get out and admire the beauty of our "front" yards. We got awfully fed up with having the town cops turn our name in, too, and receiving those odious notes from the office.

It now seems to us that the Administration is unnecessarily stirring up bad feeling again by insisting that the defense householders rip up the fences which they have been using, in the absence of hedges, to protect their grass and flowers and to keep their toddlers within bounds. Unsightliness of haphazard fencing, lack of lumber, neighborhood quarrels, and above all, the fact that the no fence provision is in the lease signed by all residents have all been advanced as reasons why it is simply impossible for the office and the tenants to get together and work out a compromise on the thing. We still think the office could set up standards and let the tenants find their own lumber (they were able to before). We don't attend the court sessions in Hyattsville on Monday mornings, but we're willing to bet that boundary disputes between Greenbelters don't loom very large. Maybe they wouldn't loom at all if yard boundaries could be clearly marked out(?)

And are lease provisions as unalterable as the laws of the Medes and the Persians? We'd hate to think of FPHA in terms of an Oriental despot whose fiats couldn't be changed even if it seemed to be for the common good, yet we believe that many persons living here do have that opinion. We have often heard citizens say that they never attend the associa-tion's meetings because "there's no use airing our difficulties, nothing ever comes of it."

We can't see why it is in the Administration's interest to let all that painfully acquired Northend grass be ground into dust this summer as kids and adults blithely trip over the wide open undemarcated spaces they call yards. It is also in the interest of all, that young children be provided with a haven where they can play safely under their mother's eye. One 8 by 8 playpen isn't our idea of bliss for a fam-ily of tots and a busy mother. After V- Day, What?

We saw VE Day through a mist of tears. One could give thanks that half of the terrible globe-circling conflict was over, but one could never forget the incalculable suffering or the broken hearts and homes left in the wake of the war in Europe. Ahead lies more of the same.

Can the races and nations of mankind ever learn to live as brothers? We looked at our children playing on the rug and knew that they too would eventually be engulfed in war if the peace treaties leave anywhere on the face of this earth a group of morose, underprivileged people who can be convinced that their only hope lies in fighting. More Meat For All

Hi friends, we're going to have to keep the safety valve plugged in tight until V-J Day.

Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. George Dyson with Stephen, 7, and Virginia, just under 1, are visiting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Smith. The Dysons are here from their home in Pleasantville, New York. Earl K. Newton has been on a trip back to his home in Winona, Minnesota.

On Monday a farewell tea was given for Mrs. William G. Jarrett at the home of Mrs. Ralph G. Miller with Mrs. Allan M. Lawrence as co-hostess. Mrs. Z. N. Ephraim and Mrs. Arthur B. Perry poured. Mrs. Jarrett left Tuesday to make her home in Joliet, Illinois.

Mrs. Karl Beahm and Sandy are spending a long week-end in Philadelphia in order to be home on Mother's Day.

The Donald Coopers had a short, relaxing trip to New York over the last week-end and saw several old Greenbelters while up there. Madlyn Janet Stutz celebrated her 8th birthday this week. Many happy returns, Madlyn.

Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer was re-cently installed as chairman of the Educational and International Committee of the Prince Georges chapter of Business and Professional Women's Club.

Greenbelt's triplets, Chuck, Hank and Alex Meredith, left for Seattle yesterday with their mother. The Cooperator hopes to run an article in the near future, with a picture, to bring their two years in our town up to date.

Visiting Jean Kalouner at 11-B Parkway recently were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pendleton, married May 5 in Winona, Minnesota. Mrs. Pendleton, nee Mary Engstrom, formerly worked in the library.

Members of the public speaking class repaired to the home of Carl and Louise Meuse Monday night to sample some baked beans, genuine Boston style. We hear that the only thing wrong with the beans was that there wasn't enough of them.

That's thirty for tonight folks.

Cancer Drive Raises $64

With the Cancer Control drive in Greenbelt nearing conclusion, contributions to date total $64.00. Mrs. George Clark, of the Woman's Club who has headed the drive states that contributions may still be made and that checks should be made payable to Mrs. W. W. Chambers, treasurer.

April was officially proclaimed Cancer Month by the President of the United States and an intense drive has been made to acquaint the public as to the facts that early recognition of cancer with treatment means a cure in many instan-ces. Cancer is the second greatest cause of death in this country and as people become aware that fear and ignorance are working against the control of cancer the incidence of death will drop. This year the national campaign hopes to collect $5,000,000 which will be used for the support of a three-fold pro-gram, namely, Education of the public in regard to cancer; service which comprises the actual treatment of the patient, and lastly, of paramount importance, research into the cause of cancer. Mrs. Clark will be happy to receive any additional contributions. Organizations contributing so far are: American Legion, $10; Ft. Meade Army Officers Wives $5; Truman Riddle Navy Wives $5; Girl Scout Troops District No. $5: Woman's Club $16; Community Church Guild $4; B'nai B'rith, $5, and the Frank Family $5.

Community Church

The Community Church will have as guest speaker Sunday morning Dr. Cass Arthur Reed, who has spent 20 years in educational work in Turkey. His wife and three children are all in overseas service, one son in Saint Martinique, another a naval lieutenant in Greece, and a daughter in the American School at Izmar, Turkey. His wife is teaching the American College in Athens, Greece. Dr. Widenhouse describes him as one of the most interesting men he knows. This Sunday is also Moth-ers Day. Katie Barili will be in the vestibule to welcome all children whose parents desire to leave them while they worship in the main auditorium. The Board of Deacons and Deaconesses will meet in the Pastor's o'clock Sunday evening, May 13. At 9:30 a. m. Mother's Day will be observed in the Church School.

The Fidelis Bible Class will put on a special play and all are urged to be present promptly at 9:30 o'be ciock.

Mr. Johnston's catechumen class will meet Monday afternoon between 3:30 and 4 o'clock in Room 221 in the Elementary School building.

Lutheran Church

Mother's Day will be observed at the Lutheran services next Sunday conducted by the Rev. Edwin E. Pieplow in the Home Economics Room of the Greenbelt Elementary School at 12:30 p. m. The pastor will speak on the topic: "Mothers of America Turn to Christ". Sunday School classes are held at 11:45 a.m. under the direction of Mr. E. Trumbule. The adult Bible class is led by Miss Olinda Roettger, parish worker.

An informal Bible Hour is held every Friday evening at 8 p. m. in Koom 225. The topic to be presented by the pastor on Friday evening is based on the 6th Com-mandment. Marriage and home problems will be studied in the light of the Scriptures

The public is cordially invited to attend the services and the lecture course

Mothers Honored At Scout Picnic

Threatening weather did not dampen the spirit which prevailed at the Mothers Day appreciation program given by Troop 202 at Indian Springs on Sunday, May 6, with 21 scouts, 6 recruits and their parents in attendance. Outstanding feature was the presentation by the scouts of miniature pins, designating their present rank, to their mothers. A cracker-eating contest was won by scout Wesley Bryan, who proved that he could hold crackers in one side of his mouth and whistle out of the other; a Simon Says drill contest was won by scout Donald Ramras, and a rolling-pin throwing contest was won by Mrs. Harold Hammersla. There was also a knot-tying contest in which the mothers of the scouts were taught how to tie a bowline knot, the winner being Mrs. Harry Hazell and son Pete. Through the good efforts of Jack Likens' dad, the ice cream arrived on time and together with soda was served by the senior scouts. Three staff members were in at-tendance, Scoutmaster John Waldo and assistant scoutmasters Radinsky and Sam Wallace.

Twenty-one scouts and three staff members attended the V-E program Tuesday evening at the community auditorium. Next troop meeting will be held Tuesday, May 15, at the lake.

We think it will help put an end to a lot of the unfair practice we've heard about - like the same individuals coming down day after day for meat, to the disadvantage of those whose responsibilities keep them more occupied — like the same person grabbing two or even three meat tickets with judiciously spaced numbers and dipping into the community supply that many times. We understand there is ill feeling also because some who can get their meat at commissaries do not let this source of supply suffice, in view of the general shortage.

The new scheme should also work to the benefit of those who have to do their shopping late in the afternoon after work.

H. S. Class Makes Test Votes Co-op Brand Best

Something new was added to the curriculum of the Problems of De-mocracy class at Greenbelt High School recently when a taste test was made to compare the quality of Co-op groceries with that of other popular brands. Conflicting claims by two members of the class, one a present co-op employe and the other a former Safeway employe, led to the suggestion of a taste demonstration with the taste demonstration with the labels removed as a way to settle the discussion. Tom Okazaki, assistant manager of the foodstore, presented samples of coffee, apple sauce, greenbeans and tomato juice, each represented by a Co-op brand and another nationally known variety, and answered class questions on consumer buying after the tests were made. The co-op brands won the vote of the testers by a wide margin in the first period tests, also in the second period except for the coffee. Among the tasters was Thomas Donahue, teacher of the classes, whose choices were all favorable to the Co-op labels.

Hamilton Is PTA Speaker

A. B. Hamilton, associate professor of economics, Extension Ser-vice, at Maryland University, will be the guest speaker at an open meeting of the elementary school P.T.A. on May 28. His topic is "Building the Peace".

Mr. Hamilton is reported to have 26 speaking engagements in this lo-cality for the month of May.

Mt. Rainier Plays Reps' Ten In Six Team Loop Opener The Prince Georges County Softball League will open its season on Braden Field tomorrow night with the town team meeting Mt. Rainier at 9:00 p.m. The Community Band will be on hand to welcome the players in real style and Town Manager Gobbel is scheduled to send the first ball across home plate.

The local boys are a bit hard hit for practice, however, Manager Bowman is looking with confidence to the old standbys. Lloyd Clay and Eddie Trumble are expected to take the mound for Greenbelt with Ray Taylor, Bill Blanchard and Ben Goldfaden also on the line-up.

League prexy, Al Bowman, an-nounces that all league games are to be played here in Greenbelt with games every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Starting time is 8:30 p. m. Mt. Rainier, Erco, Air Track, Berwyn, Landover Hills and Greenbelt are the teams in the County League for this season.

What, No Garden? Cultivate Farmer

Greenbelt's gardeners are enjoying their first crop: crisp red and icicle radishes, and slender, shiny spring onions. Cultivate a gardener if you haven't time for a garden of your own, for there's nothing tender and delicious as these first spring vegetables. A visit to some garden plots revealed that peas are in full blossom. One 'man with a hoe" expects to be eating fresh garden peas this week.

Many hopeful gardeners planted beans, carrots, lettuce, and beets during the warm spell in March. Jack Frost nipped some of the beans, and the rabbits have a picnic occasionally on the tender new plants. Some people recommend outlining one's garden with a row of soy beans for Peter Rabbit's ex-clusive diet, the hope being that Peter will confine his nibbling to this space.

Enthusiasts who raised their own tomato plants in a cold frame or indoors report varying results, ranging from 100% success to 100% failure. In most cases, the plants are large enough to set out now, while the weather is still a gamble.

'The next few weeks will be the busiest time for the gardeners in this area. Almost all plants should be set out by May 15, and the bean crop, a major item on most garden plans, will do well if planted now. The good gardener will cultivate at this time, to prevent weeds from getting a start. Fertilizer is usual-ly raked into the soil when it is prepared for planting, and later used at intervals as a side dressing. Right now is the time to spray peas with nicotine sulphate, for the aphids are already hard at work.

Coakley, Zerwick And Boggs Offensive Stars Of Shamrock 14-2 Rout Of PGAC As Glasgow, Breed and Holochwost Toss

Your Greenbelt Shamrocks had little difficulty remaining undefeated last Sunday, as they trounced Prince Georges Athletics by 14-2 before a fair, but chilly, crowd at Braden Field. In wallopping the A's, the Shams remained atop the County League standings with Snug Harbor, each having two successes.

Both teams used three pitchers, the 'Rocks by choice and the Ath-letics because they had no choice. Ray Glasgow opened for the locals and retired at the end of the third inning the winner, with an 11 to 0 lead. Jim Breed worked the middle portion and gave up both runs, 1 unearned. He fanned 4 men and walked 3. Skipper Vince Holochwost gave his left arm a 3 inning trial and three 3 "horse-collars" at the opposition, remind-ing the faithful of his last hurling chore when he white-washed Hy_ attsville 10-0 before embarking upon the Navy back on June 14, 1942.

Bill "Wackie" Zerwick was the brightest offensive star. The ec-centric centerfielder collected 3 for 3, drew a pair of walks, scored 5 runs. In addition he pilfered 2 bases and batted in 3 runs. Lanky Johnny Coakley powerized the pill

The observance of the day will have an even greater significance this year, since it is also the day set aside by President Truman as National Prayer Day.

for a double and single, driving home 5 tallies and Ernie Boggs made it 4 for 6 for the young season with his third double and a single in 3 tries. The Big Green counted 2 in the first inning and 4 in the second. They went down swinging before the offerings of Mel Anderson in the third-but managed enough bingles for 5 runs betwixt strikeouts! Martin and Nicery took turns against the Shamrocks for the rest of the game and did creditably.

Mike Ameling, centerfielder of the Athletics drew 3 straight walks without swinging at a ball, but popped out to Norm Raber on an offering from Holochwost. Don Anderson, shortstop, was the only visiting batter to secure 2 hits.

Braden Field will be the scene of a third successive County League game this Sunday at 3, when Colmar Manor invades. Magruder Park would have been the battle-ground but it is not yet in good manicure. Ernie Boggs will likely be Holly's hurling choice. GREENBELT CONSUMER SERVICES

So THEY may have all the communication equipment they need is the reason many people at home are waiting for telephone service.

When will it again be possible to furnish service to all who want it? We wish we could say "Soon" but we do not know.

Even when the war ends and factories can again produce telephone equipment for civilian use there will be an enormous construction job to be donebuildings to be built or enlarged, miles of cable to be laid under streets, much central office equipment to be placed - a job that cannot be done over night.

To those who are waiting, we say "Thanks for your patience." The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City was scheduled for every night next week, with the opening league game tomorrow.

Now It Needs Records

A $126.50 portable record player is the Greenbelt Elementary School's latest acquisition. The machine is equipped with an amplifter and dual speed motor de-signed to handle 16" transcription records along with the standard variety. It was purchased for the school by the P-TA.

Record contributions to the school will be duly appreciated, in view of the fact that fewer rec-ords are on the market at the present time, funds are limited, and the record collection does need replenishing. The music library at the present writing consists of two records, "The Skaters Waltz" and "The Stars and Stripes Forever". "Washing Post" is on the other side of the second record.

Ration Stretchers By Selma Silagi

"No meat today." How often we hear these unwelcome words, and turn away from the empty meat counter, wondering what we can serve for dinner. When we are lucky enough to get meat, we know we have to make a little go a long way, and find it difficult to deviate from our usual course of steaks, roasts and chops. Meat is highly prized by all of us for its food value as well as its flavor. Lean meats provide bodybuilding proteins, iron, and vita-mins, particularly of the B family. In these days of meat shortages, we have to stretch our meat to we have to stretch our meat to give flavor to other foods and to make substitutions with the same nutritive value. Eggs, fish, poul-try, cheese, milk and soy beans provide proteins which are as effi-cient body-builders as is meat. Dried beans, peas and nuts also provide good proteins, as well as other nutrients. other nutrients.

One major problem is a lack of knowledge on how to prepare tasty dishes using these ingredi-ents. We would do well to take our cue from our neighbors in Europe and China who have always had a limited supply of meat and have learned to prepare ap-petizing and nutritious dishes with little or no meat. Vegetables and cereal derivatives make up the greater bulk of many of their reci-pes with the meat being used to add flavor. They use a variety of herbs to add zest to these combina-tions. Thyme, rosemary, marjor-am, basil and bay leaves are am, basil and bay leaves are among the many herbs which change a flat tasteless dish into one which brings forth "yum-yums" from the family. Tomatoes, fresh or canned, sliced green pep-pers and onions browned in a little fat also do a great deal to enhance the flavor of a dish. Presented here today are two recipes which illustrate these ideas. One is an Italian meatless dish, which contains cheese to give pro-tein value and makes an excellent main dish, especially when aug-mented with stuffed baked potatoes and a salad. The other is a Chinese dish which requires beef but uses it sparingly. EGGPLANT AND TOMATOES

By SOLET and ROTHCHILD TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT?

The Senate Civil Service Com-mittee has completed hearings on the Downey Bill, with a new score in the offing. Senator Langer and very possibly Senator Downey have come out in favor of the 25% increase in base pay for govern-ment workers, for which the UFWA (CIO) has been plugging. This is really a momentous de-velopment considering the concern over the original 15% increase pro-vided for in the Downey Bill. There's no ban on calling your Congressman or writing to him telling him how you want him to The Senate Civil Service Comtelling him how you want him to vote when S. 607 comes up, preferably with the UFWA-sponsored amendment providing 25% in-crease. As the Hon. Arthur Flem-ing, U. S. Civil Service Commis-sioner said in a recent speech: "The United States commence "The United States government should lead industry in its relations with its employees, not follow it."

CALL YOUR CONGRESSMAN about some of the hot issues now in committee. The Price Control Act (Senate Agricultural Commit-tee, Sen. Elbert Thomas, Chairman) is in danger from the meat industrialists who want Congress to amend the act so as to allow meat price increases. The Senate Agricultural Committee is investigating the current meat shortage, partly due to increased army and war relief demands and to the de-crease in hog-raising, and largely due to the black market operation in the industry. Let your Senator know that you want a stronger OPA well enough financed to crack down on black markets and maintain price ceilings. The Anti-poll Tax discharge petition still needs 12 signatures in order to get the bill (HR 7) on the floor. Has your Congressman signed the petition? The House Ways and Means Committee (Rep. Doughton, chair-man) is conviduation the Bocimercul

Mary Norton, sponsor of the permanent FEPC Bill (HR 2232) aimed at preventing racial and religious discrimination in employment, is now circulating a dis-charge petition to force the bill out on the floor. 218 Congressional signatures are needed to effect the discharge petition. If you don't know your Congressman's name and you want him to sign the peti-tion, call Greenbelt 5136, 5156 or 5697 to find out.

Bail Out our Swale

It is very important that drain-age swales (those long trough-like depressions in the landscape) be kept free of debris if they are to function properly, Town Manager Gobbel reminded the citizens who met with him last Monday evening. When leaves and cut grass are collected in heaps they should be ta-ken out to the road for the main-tenance trucks to pick up. Child-ren should not be allowed to throw trash into the storm sewers.

When water is backed up under the defense houses for any reason, New the floors sag and warp. New floors still have to be laid in these areas, Gobbel stated. Householders are reminded that ventilators should be kept open to ensure optimum dryness

Relief In Sight For

This Highgrass Town

The Town of Greenbelt hopes this summer to have 30 lawn mowers on hand to rent out at a dollar per day, James Gobbel told the Citizens Association last Monday night. In the old days, recalcitrant householders were spurred to cut their lawns by a threatening note from the Administration office to the effect that a force of men would be sent to do the job and Mr. Highgrass billed accordingly. Now, says Manager Gobbel, the office is besieged with requests that it send the cutting crew posthaste and hang the bill. Some haven't the time or strength to trim their timothy. Many more do not own a lawn mower and can't buy one for love or money.

Poppy Sale To Be Held

Poppies to honor America's dead warriors of two World Wars will be sold in Greenbelt from Satur-day, May 19, 1945 through Me-morial Day, Mrs. Ada L. Riley, Chairman of the Poppy Drive for the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced.

It is the committee's hope that more Americans than ever before will wish to wear the poppies as a salute to the dead soldiers and their bereaved families, and as a financial aid to the living but disabled soldiers and their needy fa-milies. The poppies are sold for whatever the individual wishes to give, and all money contributed goes into the Legion and Auxiliary rehabilitation and welfare funds which help out the disabled veterans, their children and the children of the dead and disabled, of both wars
