Plans Under Way For Next Year's Greenbelt Fair

Scarcely had the last jar of preserves been removed and the last booth torn down Saturday night when plans for next year's Town Fair began to materialize. Red-eyed and groggy from fatigue and lack of sleep, the planning committee and other volunteer workers agreed that a preliminary meeting should be held next week to begin the groundwork for the 1946 attraction.

Estimates on attendance at Greenbelt's Fourth Annual Town Fair ran from 4800 to 5200 for the three days, establishing an all-time record for any local event. Good weather played along with the committees in charge of the show, so that the outdoors events—the community band concert, the water pageant, Prince Georges Police Boys Club boxing, the U. S. Coast Guard "Attack Dog" show, wrestling matches, and other athletic attractions—actually drew larger crowds than did the indoor (Continued on Page 4)

Freeman Awarded The Air Medal

HUTCHINSON, KANSAS—The Air Medal, awarded for distinguishing himself by meritorious acts while participating in aerial flight, has been presented to Ensign John K. Freeman, United States Naval Reserve, son of Mrs. Alice K. Freeman, 2-H Gardenway Road, Greenbelt. The citation accompanying the award was personally signed by Vice Admiral D. E. Barbey, Commander Seventh Fleet.

Freeman graduated from the Greenbelt High School in 1939. He was employed at the U. S. Naval Observatory in Washington, leaving to enter the Naval Service at Washington, in 1942. He had served 12 months with VPB-104, before returning stateside.

The presentation was made by Captain L. L. Hunt, USN, Commanding Officer of the U. S. Naval Air Station in Hutchinson, Kansas, where Freeman is undergoing training in the new Navy PB4Y-2, Air Privateer.

Mothers Protest Closing of Child Day Care Center

In an effort to continue the Lanham Act day care centers scheduled to close this month 35 mothers met with local officials Wednesday night at 14 Parkway and agreed upon a campaign of action.

Mrs. Fred McCarthy was selected to head a committee which will circulate petitions and urge writing of letters to Congressmen for funds to keep the child care centers open. Because so many Greenbelt families will be hit by closing of the center here all local organizations are being asked to join the fight.

President Truman has already asked Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator, for a report on the expected effects of closing the institutions. The Greenbelt action is part of a nation wide protest which seeks interim aid and an extension of the Lanham Act funds.

The local center, opened two years ago, was sponsored by the County Board of Education. Enrollment at present is 52 in the pre-school group with a similar number in the school-age section. Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer pointed out that the Greenbelt units have always operated to capacity with a considerable waiting list.

Mothers at Wednesday's meeting were given information by Town Manager James T. Gobel, Mrs. Kinzer, and Miss Lucille Lewis, supervisor of child care centers for the County. Another meeting is being called next Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock, also at 14 Parkway.

Working with Mrs. McCarthy on the special committee are: Mrs. Naomi White, Mrs. Loma Stasiunas, Mrs. Mary Ehrhardt, Mrs. Dorothy Huggard, Mrs. Myrtle Resnick, and Mrs. Elizabeth Singer.

Square Dancing Starts Saturday

Square dancing resumes this Saturday at the Greenbelt Lake pavillion at 8:15 p. m. All folk dancers—experienced and beginners—are cordially invited to participate. Special instruction will be given beginners at the opening of each session. The dances are held regardless of the weather as the pavillion gives shelter from rain.

Miss Barbara Runnion, winner of the bathing beauty contest just a week ago tonight, is "sitting pretty" here in the flower exhibit of the 1945 Town Fair. This should prove that Greenbelt can hold its own among the pin-ups.

Council Candidates Air Views At Citizens Association Meeting Monday Night; Open Discussion

Fifteen candidates for election to five posts on the Town Council will meet interested citizens and submit themselves to direct questioning at the Greenbelt Citizens Association meeting next Monday, September 10. The meeting will begin at 8:15 p. m. and will be held in the auditorium of the Elementary School.

Election Note

Absentee ballots may be cast in the September 18 election for town councilmen. Town Clerk Bertha Bonham announced yesterday. Registered voters who will be away election day need only make application in writing to Mrs. Bonham for an absentee ballot at least three days before the election. Ballots must be turned in before the close of the polls September 18.

Late registration to vote is still possible for those who have delayed too long, provided they are willing to pay a 50 cent fee for the privilege. Two witnesses are required when signing a late registration application with the town clerk.

War Game Will Test Troop 202 Scouts

An overnight war game will test the mettle of Troop 202 Boy Scouts Saturday and Sunday in the camp reservation south of Greenbelt.

Scoutmaster John Waldo explained that all Scouts will meet at the Legion House tomorrow by 2 p. m. The boys will then deploy around an assigned area to intercept Scouts of the Senior patrol who will attempt to enter the area and camp overnight without being detected.

The maneuvers are expected to show what the Scouts have learned during past months in map-reading, use of compass, knowledge of stars, stalking, camping, and general woodcraft. The Scouts were briefed Tuesday night and instructed to wear old clothes.

The game will be concluded by 4 p. m. Sunday.

Candidates who have filed include: George Bauer, John A. Cain, Margaret D. Carmody, Donald H. Cooper, Paul Dunbar, Sherrod East, Jack Fruchtmann, David Granahan, Wells Harrington, Allen D. Morrison, Eli Radinsky, Joseph L. Rogers, Jesse E. Smith, Ruth D. Taylor and Walter Volckhausen.

All candidates have been invited to present three-minute statements on their qualifications, the issues as they see them, and the reasons why they should be elected.

Following the candidates' presentations of their individual statements, the meeting will be thrown open to questions from the floor. Citizens may direct their questions to candidates of their own choosing.

With such a large number of aspirants it is anticipated that the meeting will be lively and well-attended. It has been pointed out that the five councilmen selected at the September 18 polling may well represent the town during the critical period when Greenbelt's future will be decided.

Attendance of all interested citizens is urged by Lt. (j. g.) Glen Wilbur, vice-president of the Citizens Association, who states, "This opportunity to appraise your fellow citizens who want to represent you should not be neglected."

Town Clerk Bertha Bonham reported that 942 residents are registered for the coming election. Of this total 402 are new voters here. These figures would indicate that Greenbelt will see its largest vote on record this year.

Several persons who started petitions for the Council race did not complete nomination qualifications. Of the 15 now running 3 are incumbents—Morrison, Bauer and Dunbar. Most of the other candidates have been active in civic affairs. Councilmen elected will serve for two years at a salary of $250 per year.

Keep Them Open

News of the intended close of the Lanham Act Day Care Center for children comes as a shock to our community. For many of our neighbors the war is not yet over. Working wives of men still in the service, widows, wives with invalid husbands, and wives whose husbands are on low paying jobs have little alternative except to work. And if they work, their children must be cared for.

The day care center for pre-school and school-age boys and girls was a commendable answer to a real war-time problem. Here in Greenbelt the centers have worked out especially well. While mothers worked they had the knowledge that their children were receiving the best of care. Mrs. Kinzer recently reported that these children are "well, happy and relaxed, free of the stress that is found in so many families broken by the war."

Certainly every group in town will welcome an opportunity to join with these mothers in their fight to retain the child care centers until the war emergency is really past. — D. H. C.

Fifteen Candidates

Apparently a lot of our neighbors had the town council in their post-war plans. We have our choice from 15 candidates when we go to the local polls September 18.

If any of us are in doubt about the nominees who will best represent us for the next two years we can see, hear, and question them Monday night when they appear at the Citizens Association special meeting in the auditorium of the Elementary School.

In addition, next week's Cooperator will carry brief statements on each candidate, as in the past.

Thanks for the Fun

To the Editor:

My grateful thanks and appreciation to the following organizations for their full-hearted cooperation in making the entertaining program of the 1945 Town Fair one of the largest and most successful ever accomplished: Mr. Holochwest; Mrs. Helena Knauer; Mrs. Daniel Neff; the Athletic Club; Red Cross; Community Band; C. J. Van Camp and his orchestra; Boy Scout Troop 202; Fred DeJager for his efforts in securing the wrestlers at his own expense as his contribution towards the fair; the Judges—J. E. Smith, Mrs. Emmett Nana; Jack Fruchtman for his efforts in securing the movies for the children, the spotlight and public address system; James T. Gobbel; John T. White, Speaker of the House of Delegates; American Legion Post 136; and to the following outside organizations: Charles Coulter, business manager, and Otto Siebeneicken, director of Washington Gas Light Company Employees' Band; U. S. Coast Guard Attack Dog Show, Lt. D. C. Bradley, commanding officer; Miss Gretchen Rickel of the District Recreation Department, for the entertainers; Radio Station WWDC; and my special thanks to the Planning Committee, C. J. Van Camp, Fred DeJager, Paul Dunbar, Donald Cooper, and Lester Sanders.

Lauds Vet Group

To the Editor:

It has been my pleasure to attend several of the meetings of the American Veterans Committee. The most interesting features of these meetings were the discussions led and aired by the membership rather than directed from above; plus a lively, wide-awake interest in matters that affected not only the serviceman proper, but also the community at large. This unselfish view is something new and laudable in a veterans' organization. Another most commendable feature is its extension of membership to include women in any of the services and the Merchant Marine.

Architect

To the Editor:

Have you ever heard of a legal committee without an attorney, or an auditing committee without an auditor?

Last Monday night, the Citizens Assn. elected what was in effect a housing committee, but rejected the services of an architectural man.

Realizing the need of an architect, this writer, had he been of another profession, would have declined his nomination to help ensure the election of such a person.

With the exceptions of Messrs. Callahan and Harrington, everybody nominated was so interested in getting elected, that he didn't seem to care whether or not this committee obtained the help of an architectural man. The majority of voters quite evidently felt the same way on this matter.

What other conclusion can one draw, when, with only seven places to be filled some ten people accepted their nominations?

This is not a case of a "sore loser", but the abstract views of one who felt and still feels that the Citizens Assn. could very well use one of my profession on this particular committee.

With so much at stake regarding the future of Greenbelt, it seems to me that the Citizens Assn. should properly rectify this error, and add to its committee some architectural man, several of whom I am certain are available in town.

If this letter will help impress the people with the need of electing properly trained and experienced persons to their committees then I, for one, will not be too badly discouraged by the results of last Monday night's election.

OUR NEIGHBORS

By JUNE WILBUR

Hi friends,

Mike Dunn cut his hand pretty badly—eight stitches were necessary to mend it—opening a cracked window. We certainly hope it doesn't hurt any more.

Sunday was a big day. Besides the event of V-J Day it also commemorated the Ralph G. Millers' sixth anniversary and Glen Wilbur's birthday.

William Parham joined the house of the Sherrod Easts on Sunday too. Mother and son are reportedly doing well.

Just a week ago Herbert and Kenneth Cooper celebrated their birthdays with a party which included cake and ice cream and a trip to the Fair with several of their little pals along to help in the fun.

Miss Anne Brandes was a guest over Town Fair week-end of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Goldfaden.

Mrs. Fred McCarthy and the two boys are back from a visit with Mrs. McCarthy's parents in Little Rock, Arkansas. They returned Sunday evening.

Some 21 children, neighbors of Martha Lee Sickles of 6-Z-1 Plateau Place, helped her celebrate her 12th birthday in gala fashion recently. All guests from 2-year-old Bobby Smith to 12-year-old Judy Cook, had a fine time.

Two more Plateau Place families have left Greenbelt for distant places. Captain George Salle has been transferred to Camp Adair and Mrs. Salle, with their 3 children, has departed from 6-U to her family home in Hartford, Conn. Likewise, Mrs. Sam Stamler of 6-P Plateau Place has left with baby Leslie for New York, following the transfer of Lt. Stamler to the west coast.

A guest of the Roy Colburns at 6-T Plateau Place is Lt. (s. g.) Bill Richter. A brother-in-law of Mrs. Colburn, Lt. Richter has recently returned from duty with the amphibious fleet in the South Pacific, and has been participating in picnics, crabbing expeditions and other pleasures of civilization.

Vacationing amid the bright lights are two more neighbors from the 6 court of Plateau Place, Mrs. Earl Strange and 8-year-old Barbara are spending a week in New York, with Mrs. Strange's sister.

The Laurel Hill Discussion Group was entertained last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Furino 3-D Laurel Hill, with a lecture on commercial photography and a ping pong tournament. Next meeting, Sept. 8 will be a picnic at the Greenbelt Lake pavilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry I. Greenbaum, 6-B Parkway, announce the birth of a son Martin Benjamin at Doctors Hospital on August 19. He weighed 6 pounds 13 ounces on arrival. Oddly enough his birthday is the same as that of his sister Annette.

Mrs. Ronnie Wright was the guest of honor at a stork shower on August 28, given at the home of Mrs. Barbara Griffin, 16-B Ridge road. Twenty-eight guests attended. Ronnie received 32 beautiful gifts and a good time was had by all. Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. McWilliams, Mrs. Martone and Mrs. Timmons were hostesses.

Greenbelt was well represented in Betterton, Maryland, last week. Mrs. Joseph Long and Joe Jr., of 3-B Gardenway were vacationing and it was their luck to meet Mrs. Carl Stone and sons Michael and Larry of 2-R Laurel Hill. Both families were stopping at the same hotel and having a delightful vacation.

Friends and neighbors of the Nat Ephraims, 8-B Crescent road, are sorry to learn that they plan to move from Greenbelt this month. Mrs. Ephraim takes his family back to Brooklyn, N. Y., where he will study optometry.

The music for Sunday morning will be furnished by a choir under the direction of Mrs. Fred Vick, who will preside at the organ and direct the choir in the absence of Mrs. Daniel Neff who is away on a vacation. Mrs. Katie Barili will be in the vestibule to receive the children whose parents wish to leave them while they worship in the main auditorium.

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock the board of deacons and deaconesses will meet in the pastor's study at 8-B Parkway.

At a joint meeting of the church governing board and the building committee Sunday night it was decided to ask the various committees of the church to meet with Dr. Philip Widenhouse of the Washington Federation of Churches to talk over the possibility of beginning the work of construction of a Community Church building in Greenbelt in the near future. The result of this meeting will be announced at the worship service Sunday morning.

Methodists Seek Church Charter, Start Services

A Methodist Church is in prospect for the local community as a temporary Methodist Group organization arranged its first services for Sunday evening at 7:45 in the home economics room of the Elementary School.

Lt. Elmer Reno, acting leader of the new group, said he expected Greenbelt's new Church to be chartered shortly.

Special music and a prominent visiting minister are promised for the opening services. The regular mid-week meeting will be in the home of George Edmunds, 27-A Ridge Road on Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock.

Formation of the new denomination is reportedly the result of differences of opinion which occurred within the Community Church some months ago.

League All-Stars Upset Shamrocks In 3-1 Exhibition

At the league meeting last Thursday evening it was determined how, who and where the play-offs would be played. Greenbelt won the first half with eleven straight victories in the twelve team loop. Bamby Bakers won second half laurels in six-team section B and Greenbelt, Maryland Park and Snug Harbor were snarled in a three-way tie for the honors in section A. This meeting handed the Shamrocks a bye this Sunday while Maryland Park and Snug Harbor met at Braden Field to play for the right to meet Greenbelt next Sunday. The Harborters beat back Maryland Park and won the coin flip to determine the locale of next Sunday's battle, so the 'Rocks meet Snug Harbor on their own Defense Highway diamond.

A group of Prince Georges County league All-Stars played a twelve o'clock exhibition game with the Shamrocks as preliminary to the Snug Harbor-Maryland Park fiasco—and what an exhibition!

At a time when the Locals should be sharp as tacks, they played very stupid ball to lose to Ernie Boggs in spite of his 14 strike outs and four-hit chucking.

The All-Stars comprised of four Bamby Bakerboys, four of Mt. Rainier's Alpine lads and our own Joe Shahady. The latter guy played just as hard as he always does for the Shamrocks. He drew a pass from Boggs in the eighth inning and scored a moment later.

Lefty George Friesen picked two men off first base in the course of realizing one of his most cherished ambitions, that of beating the Shamrocks. Jack Burt stopped a promising rally when, for some unknown reason, he picked up Micky Tarrant's bunt at Rowland V. attempted to squeeze him home.

Manager Vince Holochwest wants all his men to meet at the elementary school at 2 o'clock this Sunday prior to journeying over to Snug Harbor.

Who's That Feller Named Robin Hood? Owens and Bristol

On Friday, August 31, the Annual Archery Tournaments for the Town of Greenbelt closed with Anna Owens stepping up to first in the adult race and Horace Bristol walking off with the championship in the younger group for the second consecutive year. Shooting two rounds of 6 ends from a distance of 30 yards, Mrs. Owens had a total of 456 points accumulated from 70 hits, 17 of which were bullseyes. The silver cups offered for the first time last year by the Recreation Department to the highest scorers in the adult and junior tournaments were awarded to Anna Owens and Horace Bristol, with permanent possession going to Horace for retaining his championship the second year. ## Foul Tips

By JOE MULLER

Editor's Note: We enticed Joe Muller away from his flying long enough for him to cover the Maryland Park-Snug Harbor ball game at Braden Field last Sunday. Joe used to do a very interesting column in the old SPORTS PARADE under the heading of "Foul Tips". The flying enthusiast has consented to cover this Sunday's duel between Greenbelt and Snug Harbor for anecdotes and sideline color and comments.

An earnestly but poorly fought game eliminated Maryland Park from the play-offs for the Prince Georges County League Pennant at Roy S. Braden Field. Giller pitched a good game for Maryland Park but errors and badly executed strategy offset his good work. Without trying to detract from Snug Harbor's win, it appeared that Maryland Park was its own worst enemy.

Scores in the first and third gave Maryland Park a two run lead but Snug Harbor evened up the score with two in the fourth when Duley stretched a single into a two base hit and Rector's following pop-fly fell in the midst of all three of Maryland Park's fielders. Duley scored on a sacrifice fly by DiGeronimo. Hartley then walked. Thien got a break from the umpire on first and converted what should have been an out into a single. Rector scored on the play.

Snug Harbor repeated in the fifth. Herbie Beall got the action started by accepting a place at first in exchange for a purple heart. The bruise on his arm from a hard pitched ball didn't slow him down though, and he stole second. Jim Lloyd hit, moving Beall to third. Here strategy began to rear its ugly head and a peg from catcher George to second to entice Beall home did just that but instead of tagging him at home, a poorly executed play perhitted him to score. Later a bad throw scored Jim Lloyd. A repetition of the same strategy by Maryland Park in the eighth gave Snug Harbor another run. From here the game coasted in weakly to the finish. Snug Harbor five runs; Maryland Park two.

Maryland Park missed a good opportunity in the sixth. Foster and Travis singled. Stabler hit but forced Foster out at third. Giller hit and the bases were full with one out. Travis couldn't get up speed from third and was tagged out when Dixon hit. George fled out to retire the side.

Thien pitched for Snug Harbor with E. Lloyd on the receiving end. Thien did a good job on the mound but managed to get himself into a sufficient number of tight spots to make the game interesting for the spectators.

The win by Snug Harbor gives them a crack at the Prince Georges County league pennant. They will play the Greenbelt Shamrocks at Snug Harbor at 3 o'clock September 9. The winner of the game will play Bamby Bread a single game for the second half championship. Greenbelters come to Snug Harbor next Sunday and root your team to victory.

Another bingo party by the Greenbelt Athletic Club is being marked on calendars for Saturday, September 15 in the clubhouse at 9 p. m.

President John MacWilliams, who is also chairman of the building committee in charge of the party, announces a number of unusual prizes. George Bauer will call as usual. Dancing and entertainment will follow the bingo games.

Town Fair Sports Program Well Rounded; Large Crowds Attracted

Greenbelt's gala town fair turned up some pretty good athletic offerings. The annual Robin Hood tournament, treated elsewhere on these pages, came under the fair sponsorship and wrestling, boxing and softball came in for a great bit of patronage.

Fred DeJager appropriated a regulation "squared ring" for the "grunt and groan" lads and the pugs from Frankie Mann of Capital Transit Company, and stepped into the breach, when pro wrestlers failed to appear due to demands of too large a fee, and enveigled the Patuxtant River Naval base to send some lads from their base team.

Kenny Maschauer was the guiding light behind the boxing entertainment. Ken brought some of his Police Boys Club kids from Colmar Manor and augmented the stable by the inclusion of several Merrick clubbers. The kids flailed away in bloodless tatoo, with three bouts ending in draws.

The town's softball Reps entertained an all-star ten from Baltimore Saturday evening, just prior to the wrestling fiascos. Their entertainment was complete as far as the Baltimore people were concerned, the Monumental City softies romped off with a 3-1 decision over the hard but futile battling Reps.

Friday evening's boxing was started by Richie Ryan decisioning Bobbie Weaver at 55 pounds. Referee Mutt Inscoe called the 85 pound bout a draw, Benney Shoop and Ike Mensfield fought vigorously if evenly. The 126 pounders, Dave Coakley and Eliso Vito, also drew but Joey Generilla scored a TKO over Claude Sellner in the 135 division.

Greenbelt's Jackie Martone, novice golden gloves champ, gained a questionable draw with silver glove champ George Fuller at 140 pounds. The Fuller boy appeared in better condition. Jackie Martone fought furiously but his blows were nearly parried most of the way and carried not enough sting. To his credit was the game way he warded off most of Fuller's heavy tosses and his readiness to mix. In better condition Jack should be able to put it on his silver mitt opponent. Anyway ref Enslow called it even.

Don Oliver wound up the evening of mitt-slinging by scoring over Leroy Lindsey.

There were four matches on the wrestling card Saturday evening, arranged neatly by councilman DeJager, with an amusing sidelight that occurred—strictly not on schedule.

Two local kids started off with an exactly even amount of grunting, groaning and holds. Referee Leo Mullen was forced to call a draw after ages of stalemate struggling on the part of Jimmy Townsend and Buddy Belton. They "rassled" at 135 pounds.

Charlie Bevans pinned Bill Johnson at 165 pounds in an all-Navy groan session. Bert Cookson dropped a "one-fall-out" bout to Sailor Jim Gibson. Greenbelt's "Bad Man" Cookson weighing 175 had to give away some fifteen pounds to his opponent.

The feature event along with the unscheduled bit of sidelighting occurred in the free-for-all set-to. Bevans, Johnson, Cookson and Gibson tangled in wrestling's bit of horseplay that draws the best amount of applause generally. In a rambunctious seige of catch-as-catch-can of the wrestlers took hold of referee Leo Mullen and tossed that worthy soundly upon his ear. In ensuing action Mullen put his foot in one of the "pachyderm's" face in an effort to get out of competition himself. Oh boy! It was just as much fun as a flock of monkeys. Mullen finally freed himself and Bevans and Johnson got themselves disqualified for being tossed outside the ring and then our hero, Bert Cookson, pinned the tired Gibson for a Greenbelt victory and a lot of fun.

Other guys with more than a little bit of to-do in the setting up of the "muscle program" were C. J. VanCamp, and the two guys who judged the boxing, Vince Holochwest and Buzz Ryan.

Al Bowman's Reps looked in great trim for their Baltimore tussle but bogged down in a couple of crucial plays. Bob Egli starred for the home team but a couple lapses on the part of his mates cost the game.

show. Even so the Auditorium was full all three evenings, even dangerously crowded on Friday night.

Prize money is being mailed out this week, and a financial report on the whole presentation will be made public through the Cooperator. Lumber and other construction materials were hauled to the town warehouse Tuesday by a crew under the direction of Harry Rhodes, so that it will be available for next year's booths.

Town Manager James T. Gobbel thanked the workers for presenting what he termed "a truly wonderful job," and said he thought it would go far in showing Greenbelt's critics that residents could do things by themselves without having to lean on the Government. Mayor Allan Morrison declared himself well satisfied and told members of the Planning Committee, "I didn't really think you could do it . . . this is a fine show." Other community leaders declared it to be Greenbelt's best fair.
