UNRRA Truck Due Today For Cans North School Has 1st Week Honors

The north end school was definitely out in front the first of this week when the tins collected for UNRRA were tallied. Out of a total of 1300 cans garnered as of Tuesday, the north end school, with an enrollment of 374, had collected 414 cans of food for starving Europe. This collection was begun the first day of the two-week drive under the chairmanship of Mrs. Irene Sovik, kindergarten teacher. Drives at the center and high schools were expected to gather momentum this week.

Fair amounts of cans were being collected from the containers at the Post Office, variety store, food stores, and theater by Harry Walls, who is acting custodian till the UNRRA truck should arrive today to pick up the total, which chairman, Mrs. George Clark hoped would amount to 3000 cans, or one contribution for every person in Greenbelt. As the paper went to press, captains and volunteer workers for the different sections were apparently saving their strength for the final few days of the drive.

Mrs. Clark wanted especially to thank Ben Berkofsky, AVC volunteer, who gathered up 62 cans from an untouched section last Sunday and offered to cover any other unassigned counts.

The successful campaign at the north end school was helped along by classroom discussions and essay, poem, and poster projects. Essays were read at a school assembly by Linda Jo Bradley, Paula Bibler, and Ann Harrington.

According to Administration representative Mary Jane Kinzer, the clothing matinee held last year by theater manager Fruchtmann, made such an impression on UNRRA headquarters that Greenbelt was one of the first communities to be contacted when our government authorized UNRRA to make appeals of this nature.

Housewives Club

At their meeting, January 17, the Housewives' Club set as their regular meeting date the third Thursday in each month. At their next meeting, they plan to have Rachel Garner give a cosmetic demonstration, together with a demonstration by Dr. Silas Pearson, manager of the drug store, on the making of cold cream.

Elections were held and the new officers are: Mrs. Charles East and Mrs. Larry Fink, co-chairmen; Bea Bronstein, treasurer and Helen Salzman, secretary.

Members were each given 3 courts to cover to collect food for the UNRRA Drive.

Community Dance Tomorrow Night

A large attendance is indicated by the advance sale of tickets at the G.C.S. Community Dance to be held tomorrow night, January 26, at 8:30 p. m. when Jack Morton's orchestra will play in the auditorium of the center elementary school. Merton Trast will lead a Grand March, a Paul Jones and a few other novelty dances to "break the ice" and aid in the introduction of new residents to old. Regular dance music will be played throughout the dance. The last 50 new families to take up residence in Greenbelt and the twelve oldest-in-service co-op employees have been invited to be guests of G.C.S. at the dance by Membership Committee Chairman William Nicholas.

Mrs. Eleanor Ritchie will head the Welcoming Committee composed of Margaret Ashelman, George Eshbaugh, Carrie Harper, Anne Hull, Mary Callanan, Edith Nicholas, and Carolyn Miller, to greet the guests at the dance; Charles East is in charge of ticket-collecting; Dorothy Broadbent and Rachel Garner are co-chairmen in charge of decorations; and Jack Fruchtmann heads the committee in charge of bingo with Lester Sanders and E. DonBullion assisting. The Drop-Inn will sell refreshments at the dance and take charge of the wardrobe, and all funds raised by them will go into their recreation building fund.

Among the prizes to be awarded in the bingo game will be: food packages, tickets to the theater, and gasoline credit tickets.

Polio Drive Opens Scouts To Canvass

Girl Scouts and Brownies, with the assistance of a group of Cubs will canvass Greenbelt for the infantile paralysis drive. One of the Brownie Troops got off to an early start, due to a misunderstanding, and thoroughly covered the north end of town a week before the drive officially opened, garnering over $50 which they brought to their astonished leader. The leader had asked the girls to bring their individual donations for the polio fund and they immediately set out to make their donations count.

A display has been set up in the food store with containers for the states in order that Greenbelters may indulge in a little friendly competition in donating dimes in honor of their home state.

The quota this year for Greenbelt is $1,000, a goal which should not be difficult to attain. It is important that this quota be met, as care for even one person from the community would use the entire sum in a short time. It is only through the collective efforts of the whole country that this disease can be controlled and the sufferers helped as few families can afford to maintain the expense incurred when the affliction is serious.

Managers First

Last week's "Cooperator" carried a reminder to Greenbelters that George Eshbaugh, as chairman of the Grievance Committee is the man to whom complaints and suggestions should be addressed. However, it has been found necessary to explain that such "grievances" should reach Mr. Eshbaugh only after the matter in question has been discussed with the store manager or other person directly responsible and no satisfaction obtained.

Child Care Center Closes Feb. 28 Unless Action Taken By Citizens

The Greenbelt Child Care Center which has given day care to hundreds of children during the past two and a half years will close on February 28 unless the citizens of Greenbelt take immediate action to keep it open, Child Care Committee chairman, Gene McCarthy announced Monday evening. The Center since its inception has been operating under funds from FWA for the benefit of mothers working in the war effort. A group of interested parents have decided that the need for the center does not terminate with the federal funds, and at Monday evening's open meeting they united in the following plan for continuing the Center:

Annual Meeting To Elect Board

The annual membership meeting of the Greenbelt Health Association will be held Wednesday, January 30, at 8:15 p. m. in the Center School auditorium. One of the most important items on the agenda is the election of board members. Of the five vacancies to be filled, two are for one year terms and three are for two years. The present board is composed of Herbert Hertz, Mrs. Wells Harrington, Merton Trast, Henry Walter, Morton Chwalow, Milton William and Thomas Ritchie. Of these only Mr. William and Mr. Ritchie will remain on the board, each having one more year to serve. Mr. Hertz is the only member running for re-election. Mr. Walter and Mr. Chwalow have decided not to run again since both are kept out of town part time by their work. Mrs. Harrington and Mr. Trast have resigned due to the press of other affairs. Nominations have been received naming Paul Borsky, Lester Roach and Ben Rosenzweig. Although the notices calling for nominations stated they must be in the office by January 19, the time for accepting nominations has been extended.

The changes proposed at the special meeting held last month for adopting revised by-laws have been made, and are to be confirmed at this meeting. The board has given serious consideration to the question of discontinuing services to non-members. Their conclusions on this subject will be presented to the members for discussion.

Since all of the items on the agenda are of extreme importance the board urges every member to attend.

Cooperator Has New Staff Members

The board of directors of the Greenbelt Publishing Association met Sunday to confirm the appointment of Carolyn Miller as business manager and Jerry Cowell as circulation manager. Up to the present, Mrs. Miller has been a reporter on the GCS and council "beats". Sixteen year old Jerry has been on the Greenbelt scene since the town opened 8 years ago. Now an alert ninth-grader, Jerry will boss the crew of 10 who deliver the Cooperators to your homes every Friday. He and Mrs. Miller will work together to iron out circulation irregularities. (See the phone number to call on the revised masthead).

Also on the agenda was a consideration of how office efficiency could be stepped up and news coverage improved. The recent notice sent to town organizations establishing a Monday night deadline for organizational news is part of this program.

A staff meeting has been scheduled for 8:30 p. m. this Monday evening to lay before reporters and office workers a new work set-up whereby it is hoped staff members may get to bed earlier Wednesday mornings.

The present board of directors comprises Anne Hull, president; Edith Nicholas, secretary; Carolyn Miller, treasurer; Eleanor Ritchie, and Donna Romer.

The schedule of rates considered necessary to continue the nursery school: $38 per month for a five-day week; $40 per month for a six-day week; $60 per month for two children in the same family. It was further agreed that the services heretofore limited to working mothers should be extended to all parents. Particularly in cases of illness in a family, this service would be of great benefit, it was felt. No child, however, would be accepted for a period shorter than one month.

At a parents' meeting held Wednesday night the following schedule of rates for services of the Jeep Canteen was proposed: care before and after school, 7 to 9 a. m. and 2 to 6 p. m., 5 days a week, $3.25 per week; if Saturdays are included, the charge may be $3.75 per week, with an extra charge (probably about 35c) for lunch on Saturday.

It was voted to hold a second open meeting next Monday evening, January 28, at 14-F Parkway, at 8:30 p. m. to elect a board of directors. All interested parents are urged to attend.

Following last Monday's meeting Mrs. McCarthy, Chairman, Child Care Committee, made the following statements. "There are three points I should like to stress. First, concerning the schedules of rates adopted, the increase in charges over the present weekly rate of $3 will, of course, make a serious difference in the budgets of many parents. The monthly rate of $38, however, amounts only to $8.77 per week over a yearly period. Where else today can parents have their children receive care approximating that given by the center at so reasonable a rate?"

"Secondly, the adopted schedule is open to revision. The center is to be run at cost; should the income of the school be greater than estimated or the expenses less, the surplus paid in fees will be rebated to the parents supporting the center. In connection with this, let me point out that up to a certain point the larger the enrollment the smaller is the per capita expense; that is, if the school cares for thirty children the cost per child is less than it is if the school has only twenty attending."

"Thirdly, while the FWA will no longer support the center it will still be subsidized to the following very considerable extent: The FPWA will allow us the use of the building with all utilities and heat furnished free. To start from nothing to establish a nursery school of this order would be a tremendous undertaking for a group of citizens; but here we have a building, equipment, a trained staff, a smoothly functioning program—and Greenbelt needs the center. The community must not fail to seize this opportunity of continuing and extending the services of the child care center."

Come And Get It!

Miss Elizabeth Cameron, Director of Child Care Center, calls attention to the fact that all equipment in the center on February 28 is to be inventoried and returned to the Prince Georges County Board of Education. There are now in the center some articles left by children who were formerly enrolled in the school. The parents are requested to come to the school and claim their belongings within the next two weeks.

Vol. 10 Friday, January 25, 1946 No. 22

Greenbelt 1946

Last Thursday the nation-wide "meat scare" struck the Greenbelt food store. Crowds pressed against the meat cases and stared greedily at the swiftly diminishing stocks.
The bargain cans of corn beef hash sold like hot cakes. As they went through the checking lines, these Greenbelters passed a huge basket above which hung a poster pleading for food for millions of starving, wretched people in Europe.
Almost 36 cans of food were contributed that day by the citizens of our town to alleviate the hunger of the rest of the world. How many pounds of meat were purchased last Thursday by sleek, well-fed Greenbelters to crowd their already well-stocked refrigerators?

TO THE EDITOR

New Model Town ?

Suggest that the D. C. authorities make a thorough investigation of the administration of Greenbelt; at least, in its handling of the heating system.

No town management anywhere
can afford to sit up and shut up and do nothing. The do-nothing policy ends in freezing everyone.

An engineering viewpoint would insist that proper controls be set in motion to check on the heating system—particularly in the temporary housing units.

The new whistling gadgets are a failure. They only whistle once in a while. I don't like their shrill tones, either. But then they don't whistle often enough.

Why? Because the maintenance staff is irregular—there are no regular hours, no regular staff, no regularity, in short.

Why? Because we run on an emergency system. That court which complains most and loudest gets heat—that is, on the day that it complains. The next day and thereafter until it makes itself heard again—no heat. Why? Because management has failed completely.

No model town such as this is supposed to be can long last as a model town under a nonmodel management. I favor a sweeping investigation.

Coldbelt, Md.

Indoors at the time of writing, it is 56 degrees. Outside, it is gradually vanishing towards zero.
All is normal here, the radiators tell the story. It is simple—there is no heat.

Don't ask me about the sudden activity in the court yesterday, or Christmas day, or New Year's day or any Sunday or any cold day
when the mercury is down, down, down, there is none. Nary a fireman, no smoke from the chimney and no heat. When you call the town office you get the stereotyped reply, "We will take care of the call right away." Then begins the watch and wait period. After many hours, a fireman rushes in on a truck, performs his mysterious chores and then clang, clang, wheel, wheel, (the orifices performing) and you begin to think perhaps now you can shed the overcoat, and then the sweaters. No, not so soon are you relieved.
For in a few minutes the heat goes off and you are right back where you started from. By that time you are ready to give up, but you have babies at home to think of so you start the procedure over again. And when you suggest that your court is the only court that is cold, then you are told about the fifty other little hamlets that are also freezing.

When will the management of Greenbelt prevent this town from becoming Coldbelt? How about applying democracy to the ventilation system here?

Teen-Ager Talks

Day after day, we teen-agers hear adults talk about, "What is this generation coming to, etc." Many people do not realize how it hurts our pride or feelings to hear such talk. Those who refer to us teen-agers as "Juvenile Delinquents" etc., do not stop to really think about what they say.

Quite a few teen-agers have been seen roaming the streets in plaid shirts, jeans, and talking "jabberwocky talk," but that isn't true of all us teen-agers.

Some people must think it is perfectly awful to wear jeans and plaid shirts, but to me, it is just the style. Soon a new style will come in, so let us teen-agers dress to suit our opinions. This is 1946, a new generation, so why shouldn't we find new styles, instead of being old-fashioned? We teen-agers ask to be given a chance. So before you make public decisions about us, please consider the things I have said. How about it? Eh?

Men's Bowling

Action was the order of the evening on Tuesday, January 15 at the Men's Bowling League. Even with Birdseyes' 136 game, the Rummys dropped one game to the Defenders, while the Legionnaires came up fast to tie for first position, when Lastner hit the maples for a 360 set.

The Eagles found their eye and with good consistent bowling took three from the Greenhorns even with Anderson's 125 game to remain one game behind the leaders. The Defenders still held onto fourth place though losing two games. The maples seemed to have a one-sided evening as there were many three game winners: Piddlers took Southeast Glass; the Commandos with Drass shooting a 133 and Iseli 126 and 125 games to smother the Aces, and the Co-op being faced by very strong opposition with Okazaki's 110 and 113 games coupled with Griggs' 305 set nosed out the Redskins in all three contests even though Sutton came up with a 367 set.

The Spoilers took the odd game from the Pickups with C. Dunbar turning in a 123 game. In this encounter there were two Bowens bowling on each team, so that family was well represented in this contest.

The Seahawks came around to take two games with Morgan's 128 and Barlow and Rosenson each with 126 games over the Scorpions who had Ramsdell shooting a 119 game.

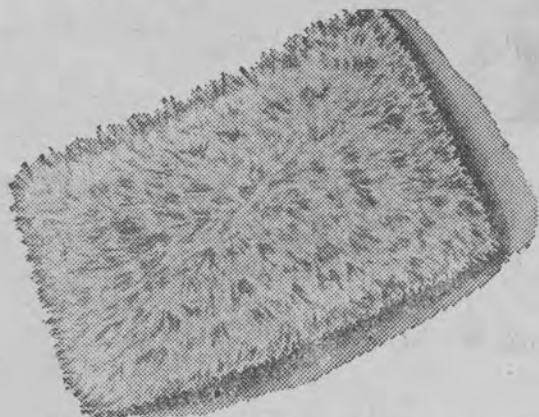

Women's Bowling

Two evenings later, on January 17, the fairer sex sounded off with the Women's League-leading Robots taking one, losing one and tying the last game with the No-Names. Walker of the leaders showed the way with 117 and 120 games while Bradley of the No-Names turned in a 107 for her team. While this close session was on the other teams lost no time as the second place trifiers made a clean sweep over the Allies and the third place Commandos took two from the Anchors even though Timmons had 105 and 103 games. The G.I.'s swung up to fourth place by toppling the maples for all three games, with Zier shooting a 112 and Van Deusen a 122 game, from the Rioters.

The other two game winners were Widgets, with Schnittker's 109 and 103 games, over the Bombers, with Lee tossing a 107 game; Raiders having Lehan's 106 game, over the Atomics; Deuces over the Pioneers with Greene coming up with a 114 game for the losers and the Zombies, after a slow start, came up with games by Johnson of 105 and 109, Boggs 116 and Kosatka 111 to take the Co-ops over.

Split 2 Games

The Greenbelt Independent women's basketball team broke even in the two lively tussles held last week at the Takoma Park Firehouse. Garvin's Grill bowed to the home-town girls in a 25-24 game that was a real thriller. Garvin's led, 7-2 at the end of the first quarter, but guards Linhardt, Asher, and Knauer held them to two baskets in the 2nd quarter while the forwards piled 'em up to make the score 13-11, in favor of Greenbelt, at the half. Greenbelt matched Garvin's, basket for basket, in the second half to hold a narrow lead until the final whistle. Ora Donoghue took high-score honors with 10 points, nosing out Betty Dickson, who had 9.

FBI remained undefeated as it took over the Greenbelt girls, 39-20, last Monday night. Greenbelt was behind all the way, not even coming close to a rally until the last quarter, when Helena Knauer, who had been doing a good job as guard in the first part of the game, turned forward and made 10 spectacular points. Good Buys In Food

Some 20 Greenbelt women meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Stage, 57-Q Ridge Road on January 15, heard GCS food demonstrator Rachel Garner point out "good" and "bad" seasonal buys in the food store.

Lamb, Miss Garner stated, is of good quality and plentiful, with beef good but scarcer, and pork fairly plentiful.

PLAY BALL

By LES SANDERS

At this time of year there is always found that old hot-stove discussion wherever there is a gathering of men. One of these sessions started the other evening while I was present and it led back to the stars of yesterday in Greenbelt. Those of you who can remember those early softball teams, can especially think of the keen rivalry and clean sportsmanship displayed in those games. Of course the intramural league of the Athletic Club brings back such names as Snob Hill, Paradise Lane, Cliffdwellers, Red Birds, Rum Row, Cee-Lions, Cubs, Bees, Bombers and Alligators. Those teams were always the main topic about town in those days, as many an evening was spent at the old softball field watching the regular doubleheaders. During the first year of its existence, 1938, this league was played in two halves

Local Gun Club

With illness and circumstances laying three of the team regulars low, the match on the night of January 18 saw a repeat performance of the Greenbelt Gun Club losing a Prince Georges County Rifle League shoot to a "hot" team, in this case the Pee Gees. The match also saw the introduction of two newcomers to the local outfit. When the smoke cleared the score was 1354 to 1256, with Greenbelt on the short end.

with each winner playing for the championship at the end of the season.

Can you recall that hectic play-off over the weekend of Labor Day with the Cliffdwellers, managed by "Pop" Widger, and the Bombers, managed by "Mac" McGoldrick? The Cliffdwellers copped the first game on Sunday and the Bombers came back with a win in the first of a double bill on Monday, but the final game and championship went to the Widger team.

Among the players who were featured during the season and in the playoffs was a fellow commonly known as "Burly," "Baldy" or "Spirit of Notre Dame," alias Johnny Messner. Messner was a very fine catcher and played for the Cliffdwellers and later with the Town teams. He was elected as second president of the Athletic Club. He was a great lover of outdoor sports, a well informed lover of football, and a connoisseur of good pies. Johnny left something in the hearts of all who knew him and was sorely missed when his work took him away to Chicago. His sudden passing last year was mourned by all.

Both High Teams Score Double Wins

The local high school basketball teams had a gala week with double victories over Laurel and Bladensburg to renew their spirits, after the trouncings delivered by Hyattsville.

Wednesday, January 16 our teams journeyed to Laurel to engage in a league court encounter. Behind the outstanding plays of Dolores Wolfe with 15 points and Dolores McWilliams with 4 points, the Grizzettes triumphed by a 23 to 20 score. Following the example of the girls, our boys came up with their victory by a 20 to 15 score. The game was featured by the stellar play of Fox and Scott with 6 points each and Fisher with 4 points.

Last Friday our stalwart representatives scored a double win over the visitors from Bladensburg. Again those two gals displayed their ability to perform before the hometowners when Dolores McWilliams contributed 19 points and Dolores Wolfe added 15 points to win by 34 to 19. The second game brought real excitement and thrills with a little roughness mixed in. The Grizzlies came out of this fray with a tie of 30 to 30 in the regulation time, but with the fine showing of Fox, Gurney and Scott in the overtime period they emerged on top by the score of 37 to 32. This home town game was full of excitement and close play as Bladensburg was the recipient of several technical fouls.

Men's Ball League Set For Thursdays

The Greenbelt Men's Basketball League finally got under way, after several postponements and irregular gym nights. Two games are played every Thursday night. The league is divided into two halves, each team playing the other teams twice in each half. To date the American Legion team is showing the way with three wins and no losses. Skid Row is getting stronger every week and should be a threat, while Burclays are potentially strong, but can't depend on a regular team every week.

Gym night was cancelled on Thursday, January 17, to permit the band to practice in a shuffle of dates with the High School basketball team. The schedule for the remainder of the first half follows:

Thursday, January 24—8 p. m., Frosh vs Skid Row; 9:00 p. m., American Legion vs Burclays.

Thursday, January 31—8:00 p. m., Burclays vs Skid Row; 9:00 p. m., Frosh vs American Legion.

Thursday, February 14—8:00 p. m., Burclays vs Frosh; Skid Row vs American Legion.

Quilt Donations For UNRRA Drive

Mrs. Charles East, chairman of the Housewives Club, is sponsoring a project, in conjunction with the UNRRA clothing drive to provide 20 quilts from the women of Greenbelt. Mrs. East stated that her plan is an attempt to partially solve the need for bedclothing stressed by the leaders of the clothing drive.

Containers will be available at the center to receive donations of quilt pieces from those women who would like to contribute to the project. These should be cotton pieces ten inches square or smaller pieces sewed together to form a ten inch square. 10 squares will make one quilt and the goal is 1600 squares. Mrs. East has already received promises of co-operation from several women's organizations and urges any and all interested parties to contact her at 56-K Crescent Road. Sponsors are needed to finance the cost of additional materials, women to sew the pieces together into quilt tops, and women's organizations or groups of 6 to 10 women who will meet in members' homes to tie the quilts together. The approximate cost of one quilt is $3.00.

Mrs. East is ready with additional information and instructions for any group of people or any one person who would like to help in this work.
