Nursery School Has Few Vacancies Left

Parents of the 1948 class of the Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery school received this week their copies of registration and health record forms to be completed and returned to the membership secretary. For the coming session, which will be the eighth in the group's history, Mrs. Ann Polz will be the teacher, replacing Dorothy Broadbent who is marrying and moving from Greenbelt. Beginning September 1, Mrs. Polz will visit the children's homes to become acquainted with them and their parents.

Several vacancies remain in the enrollment lists, and parents of four-year-olds who wish to join the group should inform the membership secretary as soon as possible. The child's fourth birthday must fall between January 1, 1948, and January 1, 1949, for the child to be eligible. Mothers take turns assisting the teacher at the school, gaining practical experience, and parents' meetings dealing with problems of the four-year-old are held monthly.

While Ann Braund is on vacation, the membership secretary's duties are being taken over by Ruth Bowman, 14-Z-3 Laurel Hill. Registration forms should be filled out and sent to her, together with the five dollar membership fee. A minimum of $2.50 will be accepted, the balance to be paid by the next month. Tuition for the nursery school is $7.50 a month. The September and June fees for tuition, a total of $15.00, are payable by September 15, the opening date of the new term. Tuition for the other months is paid at the monthly meetings.

Health certificates for the children enrolling require a doctor's signature, and must be dated not earlier than August, 1948. The registration material should be returned as quickly as possible, so that lists may be completed and committees appointed.

Drop-Inn To Sell Tickets For "Tycoon"

If you hear a knock on your door some time this weekend, it more than likely will be somebody from the Youth Center to see a ticket for the movie "Tycoon," the benefit movie being sponsored by the advisory board of the Drop-Inn. A first prize of five dollars is being offered to the young person selling the most tickets to the movie, and suitable second and third prizes for the two runners-up will be given.

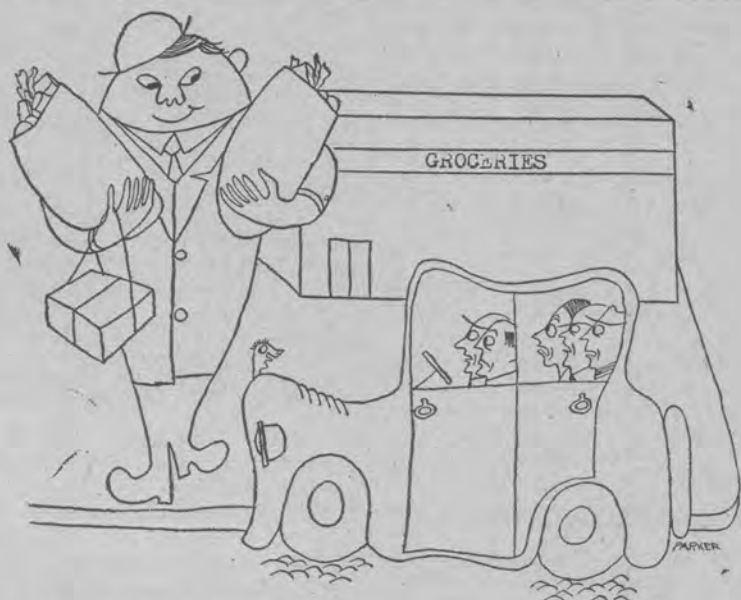

This technicolor movie, featuring John Wayne and Laraine Day, is being presented at regular prices in cooperation with the Greenbelt theater to raise money for the Drop-Inn. It is hoped that enough money will be raised to pay off old bills and to start improving the interior of the building. Tentatively, plans are to make the smaller room of the building into an attractive dining room along the lines of a fountain, with booths and tables.

The Drop-Inn benefits only from tickets purchased outside of the theatre. Townspeople are asked to buy from one of the young people or adults who are selling them.

Tots' Talent Show

Hillside and Plateau playgrounds held their Tots' Talent show last Friday afternoon in the North End school, with North End playground children as guests.

After the talent show, in which each child presented a song or a dance, the children returned to the playground for refreshments.

"Jones is just a big show-off since he won the jackpot on that radio program!"

North End School Principal Resigns

Mrs. Rowena Gibbons has resigned as principal of the North End school. She is moving to Annapolis, Md., where her husband is a Professor of Mathematics at the Naval Academy, and where she will teach at an elementary school.

Mrs. Gibbons, who prior to her marriage last spring was known as Mrs. Whitaker, has been associated with Greenbelt schools for the past ten years, with the exception of the one year when she was the Principal of the Beltsville Elementary School.

Com. Church Appoints Draft Advisory Committee

Elizabeth Collins, chairman of the parish committee of the Greenbelt Community church, has announced that Don Kern, John Brown, and George Sheaffer have been appointed to serve as a committee to give information about the 1948 Selective Service Act to men subject to registration under the act. Registration of young men between 19 and 25 will begin according to the law August 30. Any of the three committee members will be glad to talk with young men of that age group, whether they are Community Church members or not, giving details of the act.

Don Kern, chairman of the board of deacons of the church, lives at 2-B Crescent Road and may be reached at Greenbelt 4532; John Brown at 56-E Crescent, phone 7396; and George Sheaffer, 58-G Crescent, phone 6287. The committee members will have copies of an analysis of the Selective Service Act giving length of service, including reserve provisions, regulations governing 18-year-olds who volunteer for service before being drafted, provisions for conscientious objectors, status of veterans, other exemptions and deferments, civil rights, poll tax and absentee voting regulations, pay and re-employment rights.

Minimum service for draftees is 21 months, with either a reserve obligation for five years, another year of active duty, or three additional years in an organized reserve unit.

The summary of the act available through the committee members also includes information about the authorized strength of the armed forces, penalties and military justice, and the draft of industry clause of the law, which although it authorizes seizure of any plant which fails to supply "the kind or quality" of materials agreed upon in contracts, places no limit on the profits possible in filling defense orders.

PHA Announces Changes In Utility Payments

Residents of Greenbelt's defense homes received notification Saturday that utility charges as well as rents will be paid in advance, beginning with the August 15 payments. The move is "routine," according to PHA Manager Charles M. Cormack and follows a similar step taken in the original Greenbelt homes last fall.

According to the letter sent to tenants, rent has uniformly been paid in advance, while the utility charges have been a coverage of the preceding month. The new system simplifies bookkeeping and is in line with the system employed in other war housing projects.

Payment of the extra month's charges has been divided into two installments, the first of five dollars due on August 15, the second of $5.35 due September 15.

Between 250 and 300 tenants have also received a letter from the administration notifying them that they have on account with the office "a security deposit" which will be returned to them in the form of credits toward their advance utility payments.

North End Kids Party To Be Held On Monday

A birthday party, open to all children of the North End, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday. The party will mark the end of one month of supervision for the play area and athletic field at the far end of Ridge road.

According to Bill Flynn, supervisor, there will be a number of sports events, including potato and sack races. A very special attraction for the girls will be a "Beauty Contest" open to all girls from 5 to 12 years old.

At the end of the celebration prizes will be awarded winners of the various events.

Att. Kindergarteners

When school opens in September, all children of kindergarten age living south of Northway are to report to the Center school. Children living north of Northway will report to the North End school.

Kindergarten classes will open the same day as all Prince Georges county schools.

Doll Show Planned

On Friday afternoon a doll show will be held at G block playground. The children will also bring their pets—stuffed animals—to participate in the show. The show will be held at 2:30 p.m.

Refreshments will be served after the parade.

Auditor Reports GCS Netted $15,000 For 1st Half Of '48

"Greenbelt Consumer Services stock is a sound investment," said Certified Public Accountant Louis Englander last Sunday night to a group of GCS board members and employees. Englander had just finished an independent audit of the books of the Greenbelt cooperative stores for the first half of 1948, and was reporting to the group, prior to the issuing of the formal store operating statement by Robert Morrow, GCS controller.

Annual Rent Adjustments Due

Forms for the annual readjustment of rents to incomes within old Greenbelt were mailed out last Monday, according to PHA Manager Charles M. Cormack.

According to lease regulations, tenants who are not already paying the ceiling rental for their type of housing in the original Greenbelt homes are obligated by terms of their leases to notify the administration office of changes in family income so that their rent may be adjusted accordingly. The forms being received this week are an additional step to make certain that the regulations are fulfilled.

Families whose incomes have decreased also may notify the administration, for downward adjustments in case of need.

Labor And Co-op Theme Of Haverford Institute

The theme of the nineteenth Annual Summer Institute of Eastern Cooperatives, Inc., held at Haverford College, Haverford, Pa. from July 25 through July 31, was the interest of trade unions in forming cooperatives. The United Automobile Workers have already formed four cooperatives in Michigan, and the AFL convention expressed interest in fostering the formation of cooperatives.

Union representatives at the Institute were the Educational Director of UAW; a representative from the AFL Bakery Workers Union of Trenton, who was also representing the credit unions of New Jersey; two officers of the Capitol Transit Workers Credit Union; a representative of the United Rubber Workers of Fairview, Mass., and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, to mention a few.

Three institutes were in session at the same time. Representatives of the board of directors of cooperatives attended a leadership institute; labor unions participated in a co-operative labor institute, which studied the problems of getting the union into the co-operative movement; and an employee-managers institute studied the problems of labor-management relationships and store operation.

Ben Rosenzweig, chairman of the educational committee of the Greenbelt Consumer Services Board, who participated in the leadership institute, was a consultant on consumer advisory committees as a technique on getting consumer-membership participation.

Charter Open Hearing Scheduled For Tonight

Tonight an open hearing will be held on proposed changes in Greenbelt's town charter. According to Mayor Thomas J. Canning, any citizen may suggest charter changes at tonight's meeting, which will be held in the Town Council room.

Mr. Canning said that while the council has been studying the charter with the imminent sale of Greenbelt in mind, no changes will be proposed by council until all citizens have been given a chance to be heard.

Net earning of $15,000 before taxes for the first six months of 1948 were shown in a preliminary statement on a total volume of business of $908,000 in all the local cooperative stores. This represents a net profit of approximately 1.7%, which is .5% higher than last year's net profit for the same period.

The volume of business in the stores, Englander explained, has increased 9.3% over last year's sales for the same period. Englander stated that he expects both sales volume and rate of earnings to be higher for the second half of the year, unless government price controls are resumed.

Overhead is OK

Englander stated that he considers GCS administrative expenses in line with those of comparable establishments. He pointed out the services which are performed under this heading: supervision, general administration, promotion, financial control, investment in the cooperative wholesale. They could, he stated, be broken down and charged to different departments, but with loss of efficiency. "I have seen managers who keep records, allocate and charge all their time to various departments. They are not managers, but time keepers," the auditor said.

The modern trend, as agreed on by national controllers' organizations, Englander said, is to allocate direct expenses to individual departments, and to allocate general expenses to general administration. This is the practice followed by GCS.

Praises Management

Mr. Englander praised highly the management and controls of GCS, saying "You're doing things right here; you have things under control." He compared the safety of GCS stock as an investment favorably to high grade railway and government bonds, and asserted, "The GCS investor need not fear for his invested dollar."

BABY PLAYGROUNDS PUT ON PARADE

North End and C Block baby playgrounds put on a musical parade under the direction of the supervisor, Abye Edelman last week. The children marched around their neighborhoods beating and blowing out the music of their hand-made instruments. The previous week had been spent in making the instruments out of coffee cans and boxes, donated by the parents. The Castle twins, Marsha and Mark's drums were a fine example of the workmanship of the little tots. Jeffrey and Skipper York marched in parade spirit beating out the music on their box-drums. Casmie Morris blew her horn and beat her drum at the same time. Dianne King had a drum made from a cigarette carton.

Miss Edelman expressed her thanks to Mrs. Delby, Donna's mother, Mrs. Brickman, Mrs. Corwin, Mrs. Allen and all of the other mothers who contributed to make the parade a success.

Tomorrow Miss Edelman plans to take C block to the swimming pool for the afternoon if the weather is good.

Mrs. Mary Jane Kinzer is a patient at Doctor's Hospital. Mrs. Kinzer is recovering from a throat ailment.

Your Brother's Keeper

"Home."

That is probably the most beautiful word in any language. What does it bring to mind? A place to rest, to be secure, to be welcomed. A haven to return to when security and welcome can not be found elsewhere. A place that, by its very existence, its availability, warms our hearts wherever we may be, and often gives us courage to face our problems without needing to return to its embrace.

There are several million people today who, after many generations of vain search for a home, have its attainment within sight. They are people who have a history of ill treatment and persecution at the hands of others. Their history also includes a great willingness and ability to work unceasingly at solving their own problems.

Ancient history is being repeated. Only a fraction of Europe's Jews have survived the concerted effort of their persecutors to destroy them completely. They are among the human wrecks that exist—live is too strong a word—in camps, in shacks, in the open—in anything but a "home."

We who escaped the degrading, crippling, heartbreaking havoc of the holocaust that was Europe's in World War II have inherited their plight as our responsibility.

America's "next worst" Congress passed a displaced-persons bill which will, in a small measure, give renewed meaning to the word "home" to a large number of unfortunate people. The bill very flagrantly discriminates, however, against certain classes of refugees—including, in slightly veiled wordage, Jews. This, in spite of the fact that this very segment of the displaced persons has guarantees from the United Jewish Appeal that no Jewish refugee admitted to this country will become a public charge.

The Jewish history of self-help, however, continues. The United Jewish Appeal is conducting a fund-raising campaign for the rehabilitation of the limited number of Jews who will be admitted to this country, and for the same purpose in Israel, their strife-born homeland.

Greenbelt's hundred Jewish families were given the staggering quota of $2500. Unlike other fund-raising drives, UJA has limited its door-to-door appeal to its own members, netting $2000, or 80% of the quota.

This does not mean that contributions are not welcomed from others. Anyone, Jew or Gentile, who recognizes his share of responsibility for the success of the United Jewish Appeal will find his contribution warmly welcomed by David Fisher, chairman of the local drive. A check can be sent to him at 5-H Ridge.

Kriby - Jodrey

Earl J. Kriby of Greenbelt was married last Saturday to Mary A. Jodrey, formerly of Portland, Me., and the daughter of Austin N. Jodrey of Pico, California.

Kriby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kriby of Greenbelt, is now attending Georgetown University Dental school.

The ceremony, at which Rev. Eric Braund, Greenbelt Community Church pastor officiated, was held in the Hyattsville Methodist church.

The bride was attended by her sister, Ethel A. Jodrey, and Martin Schroeder, the groom's brother-in-law, served as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Kenneth Mott.

Following a reception held at the Iron Gate Inn in Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Kriby left on a honeymoon trip.

To Receive Communion

The men of St. Hugh's Holy Name Society will receive Communion in a body at the 7:30 mass this Sunday, August 8. All men are urged to attend.

There will be no meeting held this month. The first meeting of the year will be held on the second Wednesday in September.

Mrs. Duvaney Dies

Mrs. Delia Duvaney, 68, mother of Mrs. Joseph O'Neill of 24-P Ridge Road with whom she was living, died as the result of a stroke July 29. Funeral services were held in Philadelphia on August 3. Mrs. Duvaney was a member of St. Hugh's Parish. She is survived by a sister in Philadelphia and by Mrs. O'Neill, and her two grandsons, Joe and Jim O'Neill.

Have you noticed the happy expressions worn by the mentally up-lifted but quite physically exhausted VACATIONERS returning to Greenbelt these hot August days. Going away is fun; but the coming home process is much the same as beginning to keep house all over again. Could be you've momentarily neglected to remember the price of MEAT . . . eh!

Mrs. Walter Dean and her nephew Kenneth Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dean celebrated with a joint birthday party on Saturday at the John Dean home. Kenneth who was nine Saturday is thrilled with a new softball and several beach balls which he hopes to put to use before the vacation is over. Out of town guests at the party were Mrs. Campbell and her daughter Eleanor of Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaMacchia and daughters Linda and Christine are off to spend a 3 week vacation touring the New England States and parts of Canada.

Mrs. Carl T. Meuse is leaving today for a 10 day vacation which she will spend at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Carter in Boston, Mass. Here's to a happy vacation. Louise!

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Romer and children Sharon and Jerry returned

Saturday from a two week visit at the home of Mrs. Romer's parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. L. Fitzgerald of Paulding, Ohio. Jerry's only complaint about the trip was: "There just wasn't enough kids to play with."

Mrs. William R. Baxter and daughter of 7-A Crescent Road returned Saturday from a delightful vacation which they spent touring in Massachusetts. A very special visit was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brassor and son David of Sherwood in Natick, Mass. The Brassors are former Greenbelters. They moved from Greenbelt last July. Mrs. Baxter reports they were especially interested in news of all their Greenbelt friends.

Last Sunday's downpour upset the picnic plans of many localities. Undaunted were the George Kaufmans and Jack Schaeffers who convened at the Schaeffer abode, where several pounds of hot dogs and beans and other such indigestibles were demolished. Mrs. Schaeffer's recipe for Boston baked beans was secured by Mrs. Kaufman when George urged pencil and paper on his spouse.

Cooperator Celebrates

The Cooperator staff, those who were not away on vacations, had their summer party Saturday night. Originally planned for the lake, the celebration was undampened by the weather and about fifteen couples gathered at the GCS office. Games and refreshments enlivened the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thomason, who are moving to California, were presented with an album of records as a going-away gift. Mrs. Thomason has been the advertising manager of the Cooperator.
