

Air-Parcel Post Begins Service

With the inauguration of nationwide—worldwide air parcel post yesterday, the United States can boast of the most modern and expeditious delivery service in the world, according to Postmaster James N. Wolfe of Greenbelt, Md. Transit time will be reduced to a fraction of that required by other modes of transportation.

Postmaster Wolfe pointed out that air parcel post packages will receive the same particular consideration shown air mail in routing. In addition, identical doorstep delivery will be given to air parcel post as is afforded other forms of mail, making the airborne mail service unique in every respect.

Stickers Available Soon

He added that distinct air parcel post stickers, printed in red, white and blue and bearing the likeness of a winged package with the earth's globe underneath, will soon be available without cost at the Greenbelt Post Office to apply to outgoing packages.

While international air parcel post service has been available from the United States and its possessions for several months, domestic airborne service is being launched for the first time in history.

Don't Forget The Big Show

DON'T FORGET

Don't forget the radio talent show at the center school which will be held September 11, at 7 p.m. and will be broadcast over station WBUC-FM. There will be a 45-minute variety show after the broadcast. Tickets may be obtained from any band member.

The Greenbelt Band urges your support—REMEMBER THE DATE!

Oldtimers To Play Shamrocks Sat.

The Shamrocks will try to beat their old teammates of past years this Saturday at Braden Field. The oldtimers have been working out each Saturday for the past few weeks to see if they can get back to their playing days. The game should be a good one, as the oldtimers will have most of their team together that has won the County Championship several times.

The benefits of this game will go to the Rescue Squad.

Probable lineup for this game:

Umpires for the games will be Chief Panagoulis behind the plate and Mayor Canning on the bases. McDonald will throw out the first ball.

Council Meets Sept. 13

The next meeting of the town council will be held Monday, September 13, instead of September 6, Labor Day. Tonight the council acting as the charter committee is meeting with Bernard Groves, PHA general council, for a discussion of town boundaries.

Mayor Canning announced Thursday, September 16 as a tentative date for an open meeting on charter changes.

Local Schools Open Next Wednesday

All Greenbelt schools will resume operation for the fall term on September 8. Children should report to their old classrooms in the Center and North End schools on the first day at 9 a.m. for assignment to new rooms. Registration of new pupils will be held between 9 and 11 a.m. in the school auditorium. Parents should accompany the children registering for the first time, and should bring birth and vaccination certificates, as well as transfer records from schools previously attended.

Registration for the Center kindergarten will take place on September 10, between 2 and 3 p.m. in room 121. North End kindergartners will report to their groups on Monday, September 13. Lists for the groups will be in the foyer of the North End school Wednesday and Thursday, September 8 and 9. Children who have registered for kindergarten, but have not had a physical checkup, should report to the public health office September 3 between 9 and 10 a.m.

Dismissal time will be 3:15 p.m. except for the first day, which will probably be early. First graders may leave at noon, and second-graders at 2:30 p.m. until further notice.

North End pupils should plan to have lunch at home until the cafeteria opens, on a date to be announced next week.

Greenbelt High School begins its fall term at 9 a.m. on September 8, and will be in session daily until 3:30 p.m. The cafeteria will serve lunches beginning with the first day. Bus routes established last year will be continued. About 700 students are expected, not counting 100 seventh-graders from Berwyn and Beltsville.

GHA Has New Doctor

Last Wednesday marked the first day of Dr. William O. Self's new duties with the Greenbelt Health Association as full time staff physician. Dr. Self, a graduate of Duke University Medical School, will be the obstetrician and general practitioner for the Health Association. His experience includes surgery and obstetrics for several years in a 180-bed hospital in Pennsylvania. Dr. Self recently finished a two-year fellowship in the department of surgery at Johns Hopkins, having previously taken his internship at Johns Hopkins Hospital. During his fellowship, he worked under Dr. Blalock, who co-developed the Blalock-Taussig operation for blue babies.

Dr. Self has purchased a home in nearby Rogers Heights. GHA members will have the opportunity to meet him September 21, at the general membership meeting.

Dr. Max W. Bloomberg will continue on the staff of the Health Association as pediatrician and also do general practice.

DON'T TELL PHA

A meeting will be held next Friday night, September 10, of all citizens interested in seeing that their side of the rent picture is presented at any hearing of Public Housing Administration's petition for higher rents in Greenbelt. The meeting will be held on the athletic field, to insure sufficient room for all interested in attending.

NCJW Plans Weiner Roast

Mrs. Dorothy Terkeltaub, Ways and Means chairman for the Greenbelt section of the National Council of Jewish Women has announced committee plans for a weiner roast to be held at the lake on September 11. Plans tentatively include entertainment. Members and their guests are invited to attend.

GCS Membership Meets On September 15 th

Agenda of the Greenbelt Consumer Services, Inc., quarterly membership meeting will be mailed to members within a few days, according to GCS Assistant Manager Bassett Ferguson. The meeting, which will be held at 8:15 September 15 in the Center auditorium, will be devoted, in great part, to the remaining agenda of the June 7 meeting, which was adjourned because of lack of a quorum.

By-law changes to be considered include six for tax purposes. Of these, most important is the change in the method of establishing patronage returns so that they will not be taxable. Minor changes clarifying existing by-laws will also be discussed.

A study of administrative costs will be presented, along with area reorganization plans, proposed to increase efficiency by combining certain buying and administrative practices with other cooperatives in the area.

Four new board members and the entire three-man auditing committee will be elected. Nominations must be submitted within four days after notice of the meeting is mailed.

Door prizes will be given at the beginning and at the end of the meeting.

Kans - Goodall

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Dickerson, 38-C Ridge Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Delores Marie Kans, to Mr. William Joseph Goodall, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Goodall of Berwyn, Md.

Miss Kans is a graduate of Greenbelt High School, class of 1948, where she was a member of the Queen's Court for the annual All Greenbelt Night. At present she is employed by the government.

Mr. Goodall, also a 1948 Greenbelt High School graduate, was prominent in athletics and received the athletic award for the best all round athlete at graduation. Mr. Goodall is now in the Navy and in training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Chicago, Ill.

There are no definite plans for the wedding.

There's Another Oil' Load Comin' Down That Road

Greenbelt experienced one of its heaviest traffic loads in a long time during the past week, according to Town Manager Charles T. McDonald. Construction work on Crescent caused an exceptionally heavy share of regular in-and-out traffic on Southway, he added.

The American Legion carnival increased the ordinary traffic problem each evening. Parking was restricted to space along the roadway, since the Legion parking area was completely taken up by carnival visitors.

In addition, hot weather brought a large number of outsiders as well as local residents to the swimming pool. This addition alone, according to the town manager, would fill the center parking area, but in addition the District softball elimination and championship games were being played. Consequently, every parking spot near the center of town was taken.

Extra police details were provided to handle the problem. Director of Public Safety George Panagoulis expressed his appreciation to residents for their care and cooperation in making the extra heavy week a safe one, with no traffic difficulties reported.

We Went To Naylor Gardens Or - PHA Is Off The Beam

By Sally Meredith

Curiosity led the Cooperator editor and another interested citizen Tuesday to Naylor Gardens, housing project cited by PHA officials as "comparable" to Greenbelt in establishing the proposed new rent schedule.

Twenty-five minutes after boarding a street-car at 14th and Pennsylvania Avenue, we arrived at the 750-unit development. (An hour and a half after leaving 14th and Pennsylvania Avenue, one can reach Greenbelt.)

Brick— Brick— Brick

Beautifully constructed red-brick buildings, housing from 10 to 28 apartments each, stretched as far as we could see, surrounded by close-cropped, clean lawns. We later learned that all maintenance of lawns, including mowing, watering and cleaning is done by the management. (Close your eyes and think of the vista that greets you on entering Greenbelt through Southway.)

An examination of the bus schedule in the lobby of the administration building showed that buses run from 5 to 15 minutes apart, depending on the time of day, at a fare of 10 cents each way. (Capital Transit allows Greenbelters to board buses 15 or 20 minutes apart, with a one-way fare of 35 cents.)

Phones All Over

Also on the bulletin board was a mimeographed list of services provided. These included at least one washing machine for each building, and public phones in 17 of them. (There is a public phone in Greenbelt, too.)

We asked a few questions, and got very informative answers.

"How well would you say maintenance calls are taken care of? Shades, carpentering, that sort of thing?"

In answer, we were shown a seven-month report of calls received and answered. Every call received during that period was answered promptly. (Fill in your own contrast material from your Greenbelt file.)

"How often is trash removed?"

"Daily." (Twice a week in Greenbelt.)

"Did you use Greenbelt as comparable housing when you asked for—and got—a rent increase?"

"No." (The word alone could not possibly convey the shock that the very idea seemed to give.)

Paint Shortage Over

We then borrowed keys to a couple of apartments for a personal look-see. Nowhere on the way did we see littered lawns; and in the entrance foyers of the buildings there was no debris. The first apartment had two bedrooms. It was naturally (for Naylor Gardens) being painted, since new tenants will soon occupy it. All on one floor, there were two bedrooms, a living room, a dining alcove, kitchen and bath, with hardwood floors throughout.

The living-room is 12' by 18', with a 9' by 10' dining alcove adjoining one end with an archway between. From the alcove you enter the kitchen, which is large enough for the usual cupboards, stove, refrigerator and work table, plus a small breakfast table if desired. The landlord furnished the linoleum.

The main bedroom (11' x 14'), has a spacious closet with full-length mirrored door. The second bedroom is 10' x 13' and also has way up. There is in addition an entrance hall, a deep coat closet, and a linen closet.

Management Cleans!

A trip to the basement showed huge storage rooms for each tenant, in addition to laundry rooms. The large back yard was complete—See GARDENS, page 4

Baby Playgrounds Close With Tot Talent Show

The closing activity of the baby playgrounds' summer program was the Tot Talent Show held at the Center school auditorium Tuesday, August 24. The children gave two performances so their mothers and Dads could see the results of the activities in which they have participated this summer.

Each playground decorated a table, and displayed samples of work they have done during the vacation period. Each playground participated in the talent show. Selections were rather varied in style and fell into the following categories: recitation of poems, clarinet selections, baton tricks, tap dances, collection of songs, Mother Goose rhymes and a short skit of the Three Bears.

Tumblers Take Over

The final act of the program was taken over by the advanced tumbling class. The girls, ranging in ages from five to fourteen, have concentrated their efforts this summer on forming pyramids and individual stunts. They opened their act with the "Opening of the Rose," and followed this with several pyramids, individual stunts, double stunts and triple stunts. The show was ended with the tumblers doing the "Closing of the Rose."

The four playground directors have been under the direction of the recreation department. These girls are Mary Burns, Marion Benson, Barbara Lloyd, and Abbye Edelman. In addition to the regular playground activities, the directors have planned special events for every Friday including: vehicle parade, costume parties, nature hikes, talent show, musical parades and swimming parties.

The arts and crafts articles made in the classes were judged before the doors opened.

Community Chorus Plans First Meeting of Season

The Greenbelt Community Chorus opens its fall activities with a meeting September 13, at 8:30 p.m. in the Center school, Fred Pfeiffer, president of the chorus, announced today. All last season's members and any other Greenbelt songsters who are interested in joining are urged to attend. Two concerts are planned for this year's activities, with Dr. Harlan Randall of the University of Maryland serving as director of the chorus again. For information on the chorus, and membership in it, residents should contact Mrs. June Lane, membership chairman, of 2-D Eastway Road.

Greenbelt Pays - - - And Pays

Change Greenbelt's cinder block and wood to completely fireproofed-all-brick construction; talk Capital Transit into speeding transit time to 30 minutes and reducing the fare to 10 cents; put the interior of the local homes in the excellent condition in which Cooperator representatives saw Naylor Gardens interiors—and you couldn't tell Naylor Gardens and Greenbelt apart.

If you could then concede—which we can't—that Greenbelt rents should be based on "comparable" rents in the area, Naylor Gardens would be a logical choice for comparison.

However, the only just basis for the rent structure in Greenbelt is sufficient return to insure coverage of operating expenses.

Even Naylor Gardens, which is now owned by a veterans' cooperative and thus is not a high-profit property, still has at least one major expense which the federal government can avoid: amortization.

Greenbelt was not an investment. It was built during the black days of the depression for a threefold purpose: to provide employment, to provide decent housing at a relatively low rent, and to demonstrate the advantages of planned communities.

As a weapon against the depression, it was not expected to pay for itself, any more than a gun is expected to pay for itself as a weapon against a war-time enemy. The analogy cannot be carried further, because while guns do not pay their own operating expenses, Greenbelt has, and is, without a raise in rents. PHA policy now, however, is to include amortization costs in developing Greenbelt's rent scale.

Have they such short memories that Greenbelt's reason for being is forgotten? Or are they hungry for a Congressional pat on the back? Anticipating a Big Business Congress, are they preparing to be able to say, "Look at the profit we're making on Greenbelt now! And just wait until you see the sales price we can command with those juicy rents!"

The fact that the average Greenbelt family's income is a great deal higher than it was 10 years ago is given as justification for shelving low rents in Greenbelt.

If a private landlord attempted to get a rent increase on the basis of his tenant's increased income the Rent Control authorities would laugh in his face—and deny the increase. If he then tried to compare his house to one of double its value, his application would be refused—particularly if he could not show that operating expenses demanded an increase.

Yet those are precisely the arguments that make up PHA's case in Greenbelt.

CLIMBS OUR FRAME

To the Editor:

At the conclusion of the meeting on Thursday, August 19, 1948, between members of the town government and the representatives of Public Housing Administration, concerning the proposed rental increase, it was agreed by the latter that in view of arguments advanced on behalf of the townspeople, the proposed schedule of legal maximum monthly gross rents would merit further study with a view to a possible downward revision in some instances. It was also agreed that publication of the schedule would be withheld until completion of the additional study.

Members of council have consistently refused to furnish copies of the schedule to the Washington press pursuant to this understanding and for the additional reason that since the schedule is the handiwork of P.H.A. its release for publication is properly the responsibility and function of that agency. The members of council had a more important reason for desiring that publication of the schedule be withheld and that was the danger that such publication might jeopardize certain action already initiated by them which may eventually preclude any rental increase whatsoever. While I would have been more than pleased to furnish you with a copy of the schedule had you seen fit to consult me prior to its publication in the Cooperator, by reason of the considerations outlined above, I would have been compelled to insist that it not be published until the appropriate time.

For the reasons stated, I was greatly concerned at the appearance of the schedule in your August 26 issue, and I wish to deny the implication in the article concerning the rent increase, that the schedule was released for publication with the concurrence of the town government.

Sincerely yours,
THOMAS J. CANNING,
Mayor.

(Editor's Note: As far as ruining chances for "possible downward trends" is concerned, this paper was assured by a PHA representative on Friday, the day following the PHA-Council meeting, that council arguments had done nothing to change PHA opinion that the schedule was a sound one, and that it would in all probability be presented in its present form to the Maryland Rent Control Board for approval. We hasten to join Mr. Canning in denying that we published the schedule "with the concurrence of the town government." The mayor must be aware by now that we are not in the habit of taking a council vote, or asking the town office to approve, before publishing anything. As for timeliness, we consider that the best time to publish details of how much it's going to cost Greenbelters to remain in Greenbelt is just as soon as we get such information.)

SWIMMING POOL: The swimming pool enjoyed a very successful season in both the swimming classes and during the regular pool hours. The instructors did a wonderful job and the record shows that they had great success in their work. We hope to improve the pool for next year in respect to size, checking of clothes and other minor details. Improvements will start as soon as the pool closes on Monday, September 6.

FOOTBALL: For those interested in learning the fundamentals of football there will be a clinic for one week at Braden Field starting Tuesday, Sept. 7, at 2 p.m. through Sept. 10. Learn your fundamentals and then play the game.

BASKETBALL: During the month of September there will be lessons in basketball for all that want to learn more about the game. The classes will be held every Monday and Wednesday. Classes will be at Braden Field Outdoor Court. This will enable the recreation department to see how much interest there will be so we can start a junior basketball league this winter or a block league in basketball.

All boys that are interested in forming an unlimited football team in Greenbelt please get in touch with recreation dept., 6966.

FALL PROGRAM: We are beginning to plan the fall program and the recreation department would like the people of Greenbelt to send in suggestions on recreation. We will try very hard to give you what you want. We will try to have leagues of all kinds, ceramics and any other activity you can suggest.

DROP-IN: Improvements to the Drop-Inn will be started some time in September. Improvements of "walks" to the entrance will be put in as soon as possible. There will be walks to go to the Drop-Inn from all directions. WE will also paint the outside. The Teen-Agers have really made it a place to have fun on week-ends, with crowds of 30 to 50 every Friday and Saturday enjoying different activities... let's try to do better when school starts.

BASEBALL: Don't forget to be at the OLD TIMERS game on Saturday at 3 p.m. Come see the youngsters play the old Greenbelt team. ALL PROCEEDS OF THE GAME GO TO THE RESCUE SQUAD... SO IT IS A MUST TO ATTEND THE GAME FOR A VERY WORTHY CAUSE. DON'T LET YOUR BOYS DOWN.

NORTH-END PLGD.: North-end playground will remain open until the 13th of September, so let's keep it active. Football is taking over the playground every morning, so there is a chance to play and learn football.

Who can pay CASH?

VERY few people who build or buy a new home can pay for all of it in cash out of their savings.

Most businesses have the same problem. Some can save enough out of earnings to expand and improve their plants, but many must go to investors for construction money.

In the telephone business the margin of savings is small even in normal times. Today the margin is smaller than ever—insignificant in comparison with the construction expenditures required to meet public demand for service.

A home builder makes a down payment from savings and borrows the rest. We can't make any down payment. All the money must come from investors—part from people who lend us money through purchases of Bell System bonds; the rest from people who buy stock in the business and become part owners.

These investors have faith in the future of the Telephone Company. They entrust their money to us because they believe their investments will be safe and will pay them a fair return.

They invest on faith. We spend on faith. We have faith that people will always want and need good telephone service—and will be willing to pay a fair price for it.

ly fenced in, as are all community playground areas. The latter, by the way, are kept clean, by the management, of such items as broken bottles.

The second apartment we visited had the same dimensions, with a variation in lay-out. There was one difference—the tenants hadn't completely moved out. Some furniture and personal belongings were still in evidence, so that a new paint job hadn't been started yet. The excellent condition of the walls, woodwork, screens, shades and other equipment showed that maintenance and repair must have been done when needed during the tenants' occupancy.

We were unable to view a three-bedroom unit, since they are all occupied at present. The third bedroom, however, is somewhat smaller than the other two, which are the same size as those in the two-bedroom apartments.

Who Checked What?

We were so enthralled with Naylor Gardens that we didn't think of any more questions until we got back to town. Then it occurred to us that perhaps the experts who had decided that Naylor Gardens and Greenbelt were comparable hadn't examined either project. A phone call to Naylor Gardens quickly confirmed the fact that they had not been so examined, and intuition, plus a wide acquaintance among Greenbelters, none of whom had had his house examined by the experts, convinced us that our surmise was correct. We will gladly stand corrected if any local citizen will step forward and advise us that his home has been surveyed in connection with the rent increase.

TIRES TIRES TIRES

Yes, we are selling tires and more tires. Why??? Our Co-op and Unico tires now carry an unconditional written GUARANTEE against wear, tear, or injury.

Best of all, our prices are still at rock bottom. Wholesale prices continue to rise, but we will hold our low prices as long as possible. Check our prices before you buy elsewhere.

- DASH -
 LIQUID DETERGENT
 For Dishes and Washes

Pour one bottle cap full of DASH into dish pan. Add water full force for instant suds. Wash and rinse dishes as usual. Dishes and glassware dry themselves without streaking.

For Nylons, Woolens, Fine Fabrics: one to two caps full of DASH in basin of lukewarm water. DASH dissolves instantly. Does not depend on suds for cleansing.
