

Community Church To Hold Dedication Program Sunday

The Greenbelt Community Church will publicly dedicate its Hillside and Crescent site Sunday, June 5, at 11 a.m., when ground breaking ceremonies will be held. Rev. Eric T. Braund, in making the announcement, invited all residents of Greenbelt to attend.

The Sunday schools of the church will parade with the choirs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cubs, and Brownies, leaving North End and Center schools at 10:45 a.m. The police department will conduct traffic.

Completion by December

By December, the O'Neill Construction Company, of Chevy Chase, contractors for the new building, has estimated the new Community Church will be "substantially completed." Construction is expected to start immediately.

The ground on which the church will be built was bought from Public Housing Administration last February for $4500. It extends along Parkbelt and Hillside to Woodland Way.

The church will receive adequate financial backing in loans and grants from the Middle Atlantic Conference of the Congregational Churches, and from the Church Building Division of the Board of Home Missions, according to John Littleton, chairman of the Church Building Committee. The church itself is pledged to raise an additional $20,000 on or before date of completion of the building.

Services 'Significant'

Rev. Braund said that Sunday's services will be "significant and of interest to all, particularly for those long-time residents who have envisioned the building of a Community Church for the more than 40 years since the establishment of the church by the Washington Federation of Churches."

Band To Raise Dough With Bakeless Sale

The Greenbelt community band, denying that half a loaf is better than none, is holding out for no loaves at all in its current fund-raising campaign, in the form of a "bakeless bake sale."

"Instead of the bother of a bake sale," explains Edward M. Halley, the band's manager, "cash donations will be solicited in door-to-door visits throughout the town, in an effort to raise money with which to buy new instruments."

He explained that some of the instruments being used at present are beyond repair. "Any size of donation will be gratefully accepted," he said.

Maryland Leads Nation In Cancer Drive

Mrs. Willard Ehrhardt, chairman of the 1949 Cancer Society drive for funds in Greenbelt, reports that $315.71 has been collected in the community this year as against $316.20 which was collected in 1948. Mrs. Ehrhardt wishes to thank all who made contributions and those who worked with her on the drive.

The goal for the state of Maryland has been over-subscribed by $36,000 which places the state in the lead for the entire nation. Funds realized will be used for research, education and treatment. Important work in cancer research is being carried out in medical centers throughout the country as well as in Baltimore, and every contribution brings the time closer when the cause and cure of this serious disease will be discovered.

CORRECTION

The vote on the pet referendum held two weeks ago was 925 against having pets and 78 for allowing pets in Greenbelt. Last week's Cooperator announced results as 925 for and 778 against.

Center School PTA Elects New Officers

The Center School PTA held its last meeting of the year in the school's social room last Tuesday. Next year's officers were elected and installed by Mrs. Wells Harrington. Mrs. Paul T. Kosatka is the new president; Mrs. Charles E. Slaugh, vice-president; Mrs. S. L. Comings, secretary; Mrs. Legenhansen, treasurer.

Film strips showing "Education for All America's Children" was presented. Mrs. Ben Posner reported on a county-wide delegation's visit to the county commissioners earlier in the day, in an effort to have local schools' appropriations increased. The membership resolved to write to the commissioners to ask for the allotment of sufficient funds. The PTA is planning to buy black-out curtains to improve the conditions under which the school's movie picture projector is used.

Three musical numbers were offered by a string trio. Ben Posner played the violin. Ann Braund the cello, and Marion Moore the piano.

Mrs. Wells Harrington reported briefly on the national PTA conference held in St. Louis.

Drop-In Plans Hayride

The junior high Drop-In members have planned a hayride to Rock Creek Park Saturday, June 4. The truck will leave the Drop-In at 7:30 and return no later than regular Drop-In closing time, 11. Reservation forms are available at the Drop-In and those interested are encouraged to get them in immediately since space is limited.

The following Saturday, June 11, is the monthly bowling party for both junior and senior high Drop-In members. Parents who can provide transportation are asked to call either Mrs. Roland Brittingham, 3756 or Mrs. Eileen Labukas at 6966. Those interested in bowling will meet at the youth center at 7:30 at which time teams will be drawn up.

Women Voters League Supports Constitutional Convention Referendum

Support of the referendum on the 1950 ballot calling for a State Constitutional Convention was unanimously adopted as the program item for 1949-50 by the Maryland League of Women Voters at the closing session of their annual convention held in the Maryland Room, University of Maryland. Describing the present constitution as "patchwork," Mrs. Emil Crook pointed out that such issues as reapportionment of the delegates to the legislature; home rule; and abolition of orphans' courts, are but a few of the many issues which would be considered. She further pointed out that many of the provisions are no longer applicable to present-day conditions.

Further action by the delegates endorsed a working budget of $2,545; sent a telegram to all the Maryland representatives in Congress supporting the Federal Housing Bill, and elected a slate of officers.

Those elected were Mrs. Joseph Hirschmann, Baltimore, President; Mrs. Philip Woods, Takoma Park, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. Harold Benjamin, Hyattsville, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. Joseph Leach, Pasadena, Secretary; Mrs. Peadar Morehouse, Treasurer, and Mrs. Otis Smith and Mrs. Eugene Smith, Directors. Mrs. Willard Barber was elected Chairman of the Nominating Committee for the next convention.

The Police Blotter

David Harrison, 19-S Ridge, cut his right foot on some glass near the spillway at the lake. He was given first aid by the police and then taken to a doctor. There a clamp was required to close the wound. He was also given an anti-tetanus shot.

An aerial was reported stolen from an auto belonging to Joseph Lotto, 3-A Eastway. A window in a car belonging to Mrs. Gerald Kerr, 6-F Plateau, was broken by children, who were playing ball in the court. A seat cushion was stolen from a tractor parked near the new church site, according to another complaint.

There was another report of a boat on the lake, but it was gone when the police arrived. (Flying Dutchman?)

A Greenbelt resident informed police that some boys were stealing strawberries from her garden. Another resident called to complain about a neighbor using profane language. And another report of stolen undergarments was received from a resident of a Greenbelt apartment. They were taken from a clothesline in the basement.

Police broke up a fight between two youngsters in town. One child had a bloody nose. He was taken to a local physician since a hemorrhage was feared. Examination disclosed no broken bones.

Police were called to investigate a complaint of a cab driver. A Greenbelt resident was taken home in a cab, and had refused to pay the fare. He was persuaded by the police to pay the driver.

TUMBLING SHOW DATE CHANGED TO JUNE 16

The date for the tumbling show to be given by the members of the tumbling classes offered by the Recreation Department has been changed to Thursday, June 16. The change was made because of the many other affairs for children of elementary school age scheduled for the previous week.

Featured on the agenda will be election of three members to the auditing committee.

In announcing the meeting, GCS claimed a net margin of 2.3% for the first quarter, comparing with .7% for the corresponding quarter of 1948. The new supermarket was given major responsibility for the increase.

Next Monday, June 5, the second part of Greenbelt's 1949 track meet will be held on Braden Field at 10 a.m. Last Thursday pupils at North End and Center schools participated in part of the activities, on the field in the morning, and, because of rain, in the auditorium in the afternoon.

NO MORE (SOB) TOWN

The last hitching post has been torn up; the cracker barrels are gone; and the sawdust has been swept away. Change, as it must to all towns, has come to Greenbelt. No longer is it a town. It is now a city.

The state legislature did it with a bill on April 29. Governor Lane signed it and as of June 1 the new designation goes into effect.

Play It Fair

The recent pet referendum brought, in more than enough returns to still any cries of "not a large enough sample." All of us realize that as much as we'd like our kids to have pets, Greenbelt is no place for them.

PHA Manager Charles M. Cormack has given any resident who may have a pet until June 13 to provide for it. We hope that no one will ever have to move from Greenbelt because of that clause in the lease, but if there is anyone in Greenbelt selfish enough to try and ignore the provisions of the lease and the request of their neighbors, Goodbye.

Tomorrow night at 9:30 two cars will leave for Asbury Park, N. J. one from Greenbelt and another from Riverdale, to accommodate the county members of the Local chapter. This will be the first deep sea fishing adventure of the Greenbelt Izaak Walton League. The local chapter has so far been very fortunate, in that all of its fishing trips have been unusually successful, at least from a social point of view.

Community Church Wins Opener, 5-4 Here They Come!

By E. Don Bullion

If the remaining games in the Greenbelt Athletic Club's softball league are as thrilling and exciting as the opening game between the Community Church and the Catholic Church, the sports-loving element in Greenbelt is in for a series of unusual games this summer.

Teams Confident

Both teams entered the game feeling sure of victory. Both teams had excellent pitchers and both were abundantly supplied with the will to win. The Community Church won by a very close score, 5 to 4, and was thankful that it was their team that won the game. It was a nip and tuck affair until the seventh inning when the K C's almost nipped it away from the C C's who thought they had the game safely tucked away up to that point. That last inning was a fitting climax to a well-played game. Labukas started the fireworks with a walk, followed by Boyer's double, putting them on second and third respectively. McCollum grounded out for the first put out of the inning.

Rowell Homers

Rowell came to bat with a determined look on his face. Ordinarily a pitcher is not expected to hit, but Hughie temporarily forgot that; he was a pitcher and became "Slugger" Rowell with a hit that would have been a home run in any league, and it certainly was in this one. It was a three-run homer that brought his team within a run of tying the score. Benefiel grounded the second out. With two outs the K C's started another rally. Coogson rose to the occasion with a single. Scott walked and Lewis chiseled out an infield hit which filled the bases. The whistling, yelling and general noise making was so loud at this point that it seemed as if the spectators didn't care who won the game. They were just screaming from pure excitement. It would have been appropriate, from a Dick Merriwell point of view, to report that Rowell's pitching and hitting efforts had resulted in a victory for his team, but with two outs and the bases loaded Nuzzo hit a beautiful line drive over second base right into Comings' waiting hands. He seemed to be reaching out for a million dollars, the way he caught and held the ball.

Summary

Clay was the winning pitcher, allowing six hits (four of them in the hectic 7th- and four runs, while Rowell was touched for three hits and five runs. Clay's support was excellent, especially when it was most needed. Each pitcher was credited with four strikeouts and charged with hitting two batters. Bauer and Hawkins did the umpiring.

City To Begin New Collection Schedule

City Manager Charles T. McDonald, announced a new garbage collection schedule beginning June 6. Garbage will still be collected twice a week, but only on Mondays and Thursdays in some sections, and in other parts of town on Tuesdays and Fridays.

It will be necessary to put more men on to speed up the collections, Mr. McDonald said, and asked that people cooperate by keeping the garbage cans easily accessible to the collectors. The work of the garbage men has often been delayed, he said, when they had to stop and remove articles from the lid of the garbage cans. In order to maintain a regular schedule the empty garbage cans will not be returned to the closets by the pick-up men.

Mr. McDonald further stated that some tenants have garbage containers that are broken, rusty or corroded and as such cans are not sanitary and are dangerous for the men to handle, he suggests the tenants call the maintenance office to have them replaced.

Having Trouble With The Little Woman? Read This

WTOP's Handy Gal, who broadcasts each weekday finds that she has many more questions about stain removal than about anything else. Lipstick stains are among the worst. The Handy Gal urges strongly that the stains be treated before washing, as soaps and alkalis may set the stain permanently. With your fingers rub a little petroleum jelly directly into the stain. That loosens it. Usual laundering afterwards will wash the stain out.

However, if the napkins have already been washed and the stain set, you might try hydrogen peroxide. This only, of course, if the napkins are white. If they are colored, you'll have to trust them to a good commercial laundry.

SHAMROCKS WIN AGAIN

By Sam Fox

The Greenbelt Shamrocks won their third straight game. They look like the best team Greenbelt has ever had, and they are improving with every game. They defeated Rogers Heights by the score of 10 to 8. Many believe it is the best sandlot team in the area. Let's support our team when they play at home. Next game they play will be on June 10 at Lee Tavern.

Like Cash in the Bank

Ever figure up how big a bank account you would have to leave your family to pay the monthly bills if you should die? Suppose those bills amount to just $100 a month—that would be $1,200 a year. And let's say they would need that much for the next 20 years—until the children were married or working. That would be $24,000. Quite a bit of money to save!

The simple way to provide this money is to have a Family Income policy which pays a regular monthly income. Ask about it—

Cinematters

By I. J. Parker

The recent behavior of a pair of Hollywood stars, Rita Hayworth and Ingrid Bergman, has been the source of reams of good copy in our daily newspapers. And I don't intend to be left out. What's good enough for Donnelly, is good enough for me!

I've been trying to figure out what makes women like Rita and Ingrid, both on top of the Hollywood heap (a heap that's well stacked, incidentally), leave their California cottages for far away places with strange-sounding names.

Rita, who had been proclaimed the American "love goddess" by Life magazine, evidently felt the title too confining. She wanted to be champ of the world, and the only way was to go for the international title. Who could be better than Aly, the son of Agha? So, armed with a passport, and few poor box-office movies, she left; even an open letter from Jimmie Fiddler, and probably a closed one from Orson, could not deter her. Sweeping away all competition, Rita got her man.

Aly's dad, the Agha, spends considerable time being weighed by his faithful, in a Coney Island contraption, and then receiving his weight from them in gold and precious stones. As a result, the Agha lives mostly on starches and milkshakes (the wise guy) and shows it. In time, Aly will have the honor of being "weighed in" and I can foresee difficulty. Aly will have to choose between pearls, rubies, emeralds . . . and Rita.

Ingrid's case is somewhat different. Her name is linked with a man gifted in other things: Rossellini of Stromboli. It is reported that Miss Bergman, an import from Sweden, has constantly sought proper vehicles for dramatic expression more suited to her ability. Instead she was given parts in "Arch of Triumph" and "Joan of Arc," both dead at the B.O. Where the fault lies is hard to distinguish.

Both productions were given the full treatment; money flowed like money. Ingrid gave her all, but no deal. When she saw the few Italian movies directed by Rossellini that reached our shores, she was thrilled. (Who wasn't?) Here was a guy she needed. From an artist's point of view, that it. But Cupid plays tricks. The outcome is still uncertain. Perhaps the only thing to issue from the mess is another movie, directed by Rossellini and starring Bergman.

Both cases suggest something amiss in Hollywood. When a "love goddess" leaves our shores to find her Apollo, and when a dramatic star finds her sphere of activity sterile of any creative expression and must go to Stromboli to find this necessary element, it is time our movie colony re-examined its products, its methods, and its way of life.

Picnics are a favorite American summer activity, and here's a tip broadcast by WTOP's Handy Gal for keeping that ever-useful thermos jug fresh inside. After washing and drying thermos jugs, sprinkle a little dry baking soda inside. Rub a little more soda on the cork. Before using the jug next time, just give it a quick rinse to remove the soda.
