

"Biggest 4th Weekend In History" Promised By Planning Committee

Greenbelt's Fourth of July week-end celebration will be the biggest in its history according to Councilman Allen D. Morrison, chairman of the committee planning the event. Other members of the committee are Mayor Thomas J. Canning; the council members; Charles T. McDonald, city manager; George Panagoulis, director of public safety; and Sam Fox, recreation director.

Highlighting the events of the three day celebration will be the Fourth of July parade and floats which will pass before the reviewing stand from 10:30 to 1 p.m. on Monday. Most of the city's organizations will have floats in the parade of which George Panagoulis is in charge. Officer Austin Green will be parade marshal. Parade judges will be Rev. Eric T. Braund, Frank Riley, Mrs. Samuel J. Ringel and Mrs. Harry Fleisher.

Most of the events will be staged around a stand which will be centrally located between the Center school, the swimming pool and the ball park. According to Mr. Morrison, this stand will remain its location until September 1 and will be available for the use of any town organization that applies for it. This stand is equipped with flood lights and a public address system.

The program planned by Mr. Fox and the recreation department will open with swimming races by the pool guards at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 2. There will be a watermelon contest between junior and senior high school students from 1 to 2; and from 2 to 4 there will be bike marathons of elementary school children, and for junior and senior high boys.

From 5 to 6 on Saturday there will be a tumbling exhibition, and from 6 to 7:30 the Boys Club will play a baseball game at Braden Field. From 7:30 to 10 that night there will be other softball games.

On Sunday, July 3, there will be a baseball game of the American Legion team from 2 to 4:30, and from 5 to 6 there will be a rooster chase for elementary school children under 12 the prize of which will be a rooster; following that there will be a greased pole contest which will be open to anyone who cares to compete for the prize of $10 which will be on top of the pole.

From 7 to 8 p.m. on Sunday there will be a peanut hunt for children and from 8 to 9 a community sing, with the glee club and band performing.

On Monday, July 4, following the parade and floats, will be tricycles, bicycles, kiddie cars and wagons, with prizes for the best costumes and decorations. From 1 to 4 will be horseshoe tournaments for men and for boys, followed by races of all kinds for everyone. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of every contest.

From 7:30 to 8 the majorettes will perform; from 8 to 9 there will be a novelty softball game.

Fireworks will be fired at 9:30 from Braden Field, followed by square dancing.

Concession stands will be operated by most of the organizations in town.

Picnic Postponed To Sunday

The annual picnic sponsored by the Jewish Community Center for the families of children attending the Hebrew Sunday School, which was to have been held last Sunday, was postponed because of rain and will be held next Sunday, June 26, instead.

The picnic will start at 3 p.m., and a program of games has been arranged. Refreshments will be served to all the children.

Tumbling Exhibition Seen By 400 Parents

A tumbling show presented by the recreation department in the Center school auditorium last Thursday night was attended by nearly 400 parents and friends.

The 105 children who participated in the performance were members of the beginners, intermediate, and advanced classes which were conducted at both the Center and North End schools during the past few months.

The program consisted of an animal parade participated in by the beginners, and "the Pyramidiers," composed of the advanced tumbling class of the North End school, of which Miss Ora Donoghue was the instructor.

"The Magician and His Men" was the beginners class, "Jack in Boxes," a special class, and "the Tricksters," an advanced class of the Center school tumblers, under the instruction of Mrs. Eileen Labukas.

"The Stuntsmen," an acrobatic performance of a group of junior high boys was led by Joe Brosmer who composed and directed the routine.

"The Dancing Dolls" was an original number composed by the performers, Anne Walker and Ronda Bibler.

Most of the children wore white play suits and the instructors prepared crepe paper adornments to create the effect of costumes.

Mrs. William Moore played the piano accompaniment for the entire performance.

Legion Asks Council To "Co-sponsor" Trip For Band, Majorettes

At its last meeting on Monday, June 13, the city council acted on an American Legion request by asking City Manager Charles T. McDonald to consider co-sponsoring a trip by the local band and majorettes to the American Legion convention this year.

Frank G. Riley entered the request on behalf of the Legion, explaining his belief that the community band and majorettes should attend as "Greenbelt" organizations, rather than under the sole sponsorship of the Legion. The convention will be held in Philadelphia on August 29, 30, 31, and September 1.

At the same meeting the Legion's adjutant, Leon G. Benefiel, presented the city government with a silk flag, complete with stand and staff. Mayor Thomas J. Canning accepted the flag on behalf of the city government.

Women Voters Plan Program For Year

The national program of the League of Women Voters for the coming year is world peace through the United Nations and international trade. On the state level, the program is to interest people in supporting legislation to provide a convention in 1950 to revise the existing state constitution, which has not been revised for more than 60 years. On the county level, the League's program is continuing interest in county government, in education, health and welfare. The Greenbelt group will study the local city government, according to Wretha Petersen, chairman of the Greenbelt unit of the League.

Other officers of the Greenbelt unit are Caroline Sharp, secretary, and Ruth Tretter, treasurer. Mamie Brown is membership chairman; Virginia Horton, librarian; Marian Slaugh, action committee; Betsy Woodman, local publicity; and Selma Posner, chairman of the Greenbelt government study group.

Drop-Inners Enjoy Summer Schedule

The Drop-Inn boys and girls enjoyed their third bowling party last Saturday night at the Hyattsville Recreation Center with Anne Walker, Michael Juliano, Billy Dove, and Jack Darling the high scorers for the evening. This concludes the bowling for the summer, but another series may begin in the fall.

Sixty-five boys and girls loaded two trucks for a hayride the previous Saturday. The group had a hilarious ride to Rock Creek Park and back.

Last weekend, too, the Outstanding Member Cup was awarded to Graham Houlton for the month of May. Graham has been quite noticeable for his helpfulness and politeness at the youth center. He has been commended on several occasions by the parents supervising the canteen for his willingness to assist them with various jobs at the center. Graham retains possession of the cup for the month of June, after which it will be awarded to another outstanding member.

Beginning with the closing of school, the Drop-Inn will be open only on the weekend nights with the regular schedule prevailing; 7:30 to 11:30—Senior High night; 7:30 to 11—Jr. High night. Outside activities have been planned for the week-day afternoons.

Co-op Nursery School Ends On Festive Note

The Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School ended the 1948-49 classes on June 15. A party atmosphere prevailed on the last day of school when the youngsters were treated to ice cream and cookies.

'Show Cause For Increase' Court Tells Cormack

A representative of the Prince George's County sheriff's office last Saturday, June 18, served Charles M. Cormack, local representative of Public Housing Administration, with a rule to show cause why an injunction should not be issued "restraining him from charging, demanding, collecting or receiving from the plaintiffs or any of the tenants" in Greenbelt, "Rents or utility charges in excess of those which were in effect on April 1, 1949."

The "plaintiffs" referred to are Mayor Thomas J. Canning, chairman of the Greenbelt Rent Protest Committee, as an individual resident of the war housing project, and Frank J. Lastner, as an individual resident of the original section of the city.

North End 5th Grade Entertains Graduates

The fifth grade class at the North End school gave an entertainment and tea party Tuesday for the sixth graders who will be entering Greenbelt High in the fall.

The program, which was under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Lynch, was presented by children from the first through the sixth grades. Dances were performed by Martha Taylor and Barbara Thiebeau, Clara Hines and Joyce Nugent, and Jana Lee Andrusic. Bonnie Stricklin and Paula Bibler each presented a solo tumbling act; piano selections were played by Deborah Webster, Robert Salisbury and Ira Kirschbaum; and Aaron Knott and Dick Barlow presented a clarinet duet.

A second grade trio, Richard Ringel, Marsha Levine, and Virginia Nihart sang "The Band Starts to Play" accompanied by a toy band made up of Beverly Cuffley, Larry William, Roberta Preble, Linda Shipp, Joseph Faulconer, Donald Cuppy, Jack King, Sandra Jordon, Barbara Granims, Margie Weller and Tom Malloy.

Ronald Brooks sang a solo, Stephen Wetter gave an imitation, and Kay Key gave a reading, and Sharon Romer "The Class of '49." Mrs. R. H. MacKenzie was the piano accompanist.

Mrs. Phyllis Dickey was in charge of the refreshments. The fifth graders brought and served cookies.

New Hi Pupils

Sixth-graders who will be entering junior high next year are Chas. Barlow, Joseph Binder, Ronald Brooks, Paul Friedman, Philip Guidry, David Granahan, David Hawkins, Larry Holein, David Lee, David MacKenzie, Roger Mazlen, Neil McCully, Donald Miller, Raymond Ocker, Lee Shields, George Schmitz, Gene Tucker, Donald Webster, Jana Andrusic, Gloria Bradely, Mary Eddins, Carolyn Elder, Sandra Granims, Kay Key, Natalie Lee, Nancy Orndorf, Janet Parker, Sandra Reamy, Sharon Romer, Mary Rupert, Sheila Sanders, Sharon Taylor, and Naomi Williams.

Swim Class Hours Posted In Center

Sam Fox, Recreation Department director, has announced that he has posted the July swimming class schedules on the bulletin boards at the swimming pool, the Recreation Department, the post office and the tobacco store. These schedules list the names of the children registered for July swimming classes, and the hour when their class meets.

The July classes will start on July 5 and will continue to July 22. The August classes will be held from August 2 through 19.

The summer recreation program will start on July 5. In addition to the schedule of classes which appeared in last week's issue of the Cooperator, there will be tumbling classes on Tuesday from 2 to 3 and Friday from 1 to 2 at the Center school.

Authority for seeking an injunction in the Prince George's County Circuit Court in Equity, rather than a federal court, was cited in seven cases. For example, in Eastman v. U. S., 28 F. Supp. 807, "Court held that any subordinate attempting to enforce regulations made by his superior in excess of his authority is a trespasser and may be enjoined without the presence of his superior in court."

Cases were also cited in which the equity court interfered to prevent a multiplicity of suits, which might have resulted, in another court, if the court of equity had not acted in this instance.

In the bill of complaint accompanying the "show cause" rule, the complainants quoted the news release PHA distributed in connection with the increase to the effect that comparability was the only deciding factor. This, the complaint bill said, "is unlawful and an attempted evasion of the provisions of the Housing and Rent Act of 1949."

Illegality is also claimed because "the landlord did not certify that he is maintaining all services furnished as of the date determining the maximum rent and that he will continue to maintain such services so long as the adjustment in such maximum rent which may be granted continues in effect, as provided in the Housing and Rent Act of 1949" and because "The tenants in said War Project and Original Greenbelt Project were not granted a public hearing before a local advisory board on the proposed increase in rents, as provided for in the Housing and Rent Act of 1948."

The bill claimed that if Cormack is permitted to demand and collect the "unlawful increase in rents," the result will be a multiplicity of suits.

Five days were given in the rule for Cormack to present any evidence he may have. Tomorrow will be the last day of the time limit. What results will come from this action by Canning and Lastner will depend on Cormack's reaction. If he claims that the local court has no jurisdiction, it will be up to the court to decide whether or not it does have jurisdiction. If the court maintains that it does, Cormack may still attempt to get a federal court to move in. If he is refused, he may appeal to a higher court.

If he accepts jurisdiction, and "shows cause," there will be a court hearing, in which the plaintiffs will participate.

Abe Chasanow, local attorney, was hired by the Rent Protest Committee to draw up the necessary papers in connection with this action.

Directory Out

The American Legion 1949 city directory will "positively" be on sale July 4, according to Frank Riley, chairman of the committee which has assembled the book.

Riley said the directories will be on sale at a special stand during the Fourth celebration.

Let The People Know

The rapid switch of identity that our local housing group made last week gives rise to certain frightening aspects of our citizenry's attitude toward local affairs. The implicit trust the great majority of the members of GMHOC placed in their board when they allowed themselves to be taken lock, stock, and barrel into the framework of another organization, is not necessarily a sign of faith.

The apathy demonstrated by local residents in affairs of this type can easily lead to disaster. We do not mean to imply that in this particular instance the new veterans' housing group is untrustworthy, or incapable of fulfilling the housing ambitions of our residents. But we do disapprove a change in policy, and even identity, without complete awareness on the part of the members as to what the change means, and what occasioned it. The Cooperator remains—as it always has been—willing and anxious to act as a medium for making this awareness complete.

Since the Cooperator heartily endorses the program of GVHC, we have no grievance with that organization at this time. But if Greenbelters do not drop their inertia and take the effort to learn the whys and wherefores of matters that influence their mode of living, if they persist in placing their fortunes in the hands of a small group of active men, they may find this form of lassitude the calm before a storm.

Regardless of its genesis, we extend our best wishes to the Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation.

IRATER

To the Editor:

I see that Mrs. Persis Scoggins got prompt and courteous service from the Maintenance Department in response to her "rather irate letter." I don't know whether this will qualify under their standards for irateness but I would like to know why it takes them until the middle of June to call for our screens in spite of numerous calls over several weeks. We are without screens for two windows and a door, but there is some choice in the matter—a choice between being broiled or being strafed by wasps, mosquitoes, and other varieties of insect fighter craft. Is this the basis for the rent increase?

Last night my entire family was awakened by the constant gnawing of a hungry squadron of mosquitos. Tonight my young son has a fever, which may or may not have resulted from it. I know that the itching lumps on our faces, arms, and legs did. Is this what we are to expect for the privilege of paying 22% more per month?

I'm not one of those who can afford a $25,000 house or I'd have gotten the h... out of this "planned community" a long time ago. On the other hand, having paid Uncle Sam about $2,600 for the use of his property, and having endured such ordeals as the drainage system which was "in progress" (?) for months, heatless winters, etc. I should like to hope that along about November we'll have some new screens and can throw open all the windows and doors—all for only $9 a month more.

In closing, would just say that it was my understanding that the greens between the courts were intended as play areas. Whether or not this is true, they would look better if the high stand of tick-bearing grass were cut.

Sincerely,

William A. Moore.

P. S. It may be that the Maintenance

Along Our Street with Aunt Penny

This morning, I visited Mrs. Evans to see if she had any old clothes for next week's rummage sale. A few minutes after I got there, little Charlie Evans came running into the house with tears streaming down his face. He'd been playing ball and had hurt his finger quite badly.

Mrs. Evans' telephone party line was in use at that moment, but when she explained that she wanted to make an emergency call, the party who was talking gave up the line at once. Then Mrs. Evans called the doctor, who said he'd be right over.

To me, this example of telephone courtesy and understanding brought home the importance of sharing our party lines. I think that when everyone on the line is thoughtful and considerate, it makes the service more useful and pleasant all the way around. The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City.

BEANS are monotonous

What would happen to the family menu if you were disabled and your pay interrupted a few months? After medical expenses, rent, gas and other necessary bills are paid—the family diet sometimes suffers because of plain lack of money. One way to keep nourishing food on the table when you become disabled, is to carry Occidental low cost disability insurance. It's like money in the sugar bowl. Call us for details about the low cost.
