

Board Plans Group Discussions For Sept. 5 Membership Meeting

A large part of the Greenbelt Consumer Services board of directors meeting held last Friday night in the GCS offices was devoted to the planning of the second quarterly membership meeting to be held September 5 at the center school.

The agenda consists of reports of officers and committees, the election of the audit committee, and discussions by small groups. The purpose of the small discussion group, which was tried at last November's membership meeting and found very successful, is to give individual members an opportunity to voice their opinions and make recommendations.

Since the groups are small, there is a greater opportunity for everyone to participate. When the same procedure was used at the membership meeting in November, it was noted that persons who had never before participated in the discussion in the general membership meeting played an important role in the discussion groups.

A number of subjects have been proposed for the consideration of the different groups, but the members at the meeting may suggest any other topics they wish to. Each of the topics in which a sufficiently large number of members show interest, will then be assigned a location, and each member present at the meeting can join whichever group he wishes to. The subjects so far suggested include the following: How can the Co-op serve its customers better in Greenbelt, and in Takoma Park; GCS finances; What can we do to have more successful membership meetings; and What is the board's responsibility and what is the membership's responsibility in a Co-op?

Temporary leaders are being selected to round up the groups at various spots in the meeting room. The first action of the group will be to select its discussion leader and recorder. The recorders will report back to the entire membership at the conclusion of the discussion period any recommendations or important observations of their group. The group sessions are scheduled to last about 20 minutes.

Plans for the group discussion period were worked up by Henry Walter, GCS membership committee chairman, and W. R. Volckhausen, of the Potomac Cooperative Federation, at the request of the board.

Queen Rhonda Wins Cooperator Trophy

Greenbelt's new beauty queen was crowned last Saturday night before over 300 residents who attended the gala "Tennis Ball" presented by the Greenbelt Recreation Department in association with the Drop-Inn. Winning over ten other beautiful contestants, Rhonda Bibler, 16, 3-M Research, was selected by three judges representing Washington newspapers. Rhonda was sponsored by the Majorettes, a baton-twirling group. She was crowned and presented with a gold trophy by Mayor Frank Lastner. (The trophy was donated by the Cooperator.)

The eleven beauties paraded before the judges, braving the cool evening in bathing suits. Under a canopy of stars and lanterns, the bevy of pulchritude was applauded, cheered and encouraged by scores of citizens inside the tennis court area and by hundreds more watching from outside the fence. The judges asked for three contestants to appear again before the final decision could be made. Vivacious Rhonda was announced the winner following the encore. The other girls received gold heart-shaped pins as a token of their appearance.

The new queen is blonde, blue-eyed and about five feet tall. She is well-proportioned (naturally) and wore a green one-piece bathing suit with lattice-slits on the sides.

The 205 paid admissions at 75 cents stag and $1.25 drag resulted in a clear profit of $74.65. For the first time in at least two years, the Drop-Inn was able to show a profit from a public affair.

School Starts Sept. 10

Public schools in Greenbelt will open on September 10, with the exception of the kindergartens which will open on September 13.

28 Greenbelters Donate Blood Here

Twenty-eight pints of blood were donated to the American Red Cross by resident of this area when the Bloodmobile was in Greenbelt last Thursday. In spite of the hot weather, the incidence of hay-fever at this time of the year, and other factors which cut down on the number of donors there were only two rejectees.

Those donating were James S. Beck, Fred H. Birdseye, Robert T. Bonham, Ann B. Brand, Eric T. Braund, B. B. Bremser, Oscar M. Cassady, Margaret D. Carmody, Ella D. Davis, William J. Dluhosh, Sr., Paul M. Dunbar, John H. See BLOOD page 3

Only Five Run For City Offices; Candidate Shortage May Snarl Vote

EXCLUSIVE

The city council election race may become a "sure thing" for all the candidates when Robert Bonham announced his withdrawal from the election this week. Bonham's decision left only five candidates available for the five council seats.

Bonham's withdrawal came following a letter from Raymond Foley, Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, stated that Bonham's position as attorney with that federal agency would result in a "conflict of interest that may tend to reduce public confidence in the impartiality of the decisions of this Agency."

Voting By Absentee Ballot

Citizens who are qualified electors and expect to be absent from Greenbelt on election day, September 18, 1951, may vote by absentee ballot. Regulations and procedure governing absentee voting follow:

1. Application shall be made in writing to the City Clerk for an absentee ballot not earlier than twenty days preceding the election nor later than three days preceding the election.
2. All such ballots returned must reach the office of the City Clerk before the closing of the polls (7 p.m.) on the day of the election.

Buses Will Take Kids To Sr., Jr. High Schools

The County Board of Education will provide bus transportation for Greenbelt students attending Northwestern high school and Greenbelt junior high school, according to Charles T. McDonald, city manager.

Three buses will leave Greenbelt each morning, one from each of the following points—North End school, corner Eastway and Crescent, and the parking lot near the swimming pool—to transport students directly to the Northwestern high school.

On the return trip, the buses will pick up students for the Greenbelt junior high school. Bus stops for the junior high school students will be published at a later date.

Arrangements have been made for monthly student bus passes on the Greenbelt bus for children at See SCHOOL page 2

In a letter to city-manager Charles McDonald, Bonham stated that he gave considerable thought to "several alternatives" before concluding that he must withdraw as a candidate for the council. He regretted that Foley's action came after the closing date for the filing of petitions for possible candidates.

Technical Problem

With only five candidates now running for five positions, the closing of the deadline for filing petitions of candidacy throws the election almost certainly to the candidates, and may present technical problems difficult to overcome. The charter states that a candidate must receive a majority of the votes to be elected. With only five candidates, one or more may fail to receive the required number of votes. In the run-off election that would follow, the charter requires two candidates to run for each vacant council seat. This would be impossible. (The charter can only be changed by the state legislature.)

In anticipation that such a situation may arise, McDonald is seeking a legal interpretation of that section of the charter from city solicitor Ralph Powers. Away on a vacation at this time, Powers is expected to be back before the election.

One Possibility

One other possibility remains; the "write-in" candidate. This provision provides for the voter to write in the name of any qualified citizen on the ballot, making them eligible for the office, if elected. At this date no citizens have announced their willingness to accept the office, although ten citizens See VOTE page 3

Maureen McTiernan

Last Sunday marked the inevitable end to the tragic story of Maureen McTiernan. At the age of three she succumbed to the fatal disease, leukemia. The bright-eyed, curly-haired child had found her way into the hearts of all who knew her, and when her plight became known people all over the Washington area contributed to the cost of her treatments. Everyone in Greenbelt joins the bereaved parents in their mourning, with the hope that they may derive some measure of solace in the certain knowledge that they are not alone in their hour of grief.
