

North End Store Changes Successful

With changes in hours and store layout completed, operations at the North End Food are approaching the break-even point, according to a release from Townsend Scudder, of GCS. The changes resulted from a special meeting of North End residents held to discuss whether to close the store or to improve its efficiency.

Although store space has been reduced by eliminating the fourth room, extra space for breakfast cereals, condiments, cookies, baby foods and dried fruit previously displayed there has been created by enlarging the other rooms and building new shelves. According to Jim Cashman, manager, the back room is now used for replacement stock which used to be stored upstairs.

"Cracker Barrel Atmosphere"

This is one way of describing store operations, says Jim Karitas, assistant manager. "We are actually another Greenbelt Variety Store with everything from bobby pins to castor oil, and a selection of penny candy that makes every youngster reach for money in his pocket." The motto of the store, according to Jim, is "If we don't have it, we will get it for you." Requests for special items received in the morning will be filled that afternoon. Fresh deliveries of both meats and produce from the center food store are made every day.

Cashman particularly stressed the fact that the store is open an hour later than the Center Store on Saturday evening. The new hours are Wednesdays 9:00-1:00; Monday through Saturday, except Wednesday, 11:00 to 7:00. The store is closed from 1:30 to 2:30 for lunch. He also said that whole-hearted customer cooperation is one of the main factors contributing to the increasing success of the store.

Boys Club Boxing Bouts Sat. Night; Free Show To Feature 18 Matches

By L. A. Lee

The Greenbelt Boy's Club will put on an Intra-Mural Boxing show Saturday night, January 26 in the Center School Auditorium. The bouts will start promptly at 7:30 p.m., and there will be no charge for admission. Coaches Page and Robey have planned to have 18 bouts so that all boxers will get a chance to display their talents. The weights will run from 45 to 110 lbs. All novice matches are between boys of our own club so they will not be over-matched. A few of the open and more experienced boxers will tackle rival clubs' best boxers in their weight class. The boys have been building up for this show so that they may demonstrate to their dads that junior is all man with quite a sock.

The boy's club has donated trophies and the board of directors will be your hosts for the evening. There will be plenty of action as these 45 lb block busters don't know the meaning of quit. The Greenbelt boys have fought in 97 matches this year before such clubs as Cheverly Square Club, the Odd Fellows, the Kiwanis Club, the

SCOOP!

The main reason for Editor Harry Zebkoff's leave of absence arrived Tuesday afternoon at Prince Georges Hospital. Elaine weighed in at 7 lbs. 8 oz. and, like a good editor's daughter, arrived in time to make the deadline for the week.

Greenbelt Hi Trio Recruited

By Miriam Johnson

The train for Parris Island, South Carolina which left on December 27 carried three young enlistees bound for their Marine training. Charles Kans and Joseph Brosmer had been buddies through school and had graduated in Greenbelt High's last class in June, 1951. Robert Plackett abruptly interrupted his second year in business education at the University of Maryland to join the Marines although he had an ROTC deferment.

Charles Kans, 19 son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Dickerson, 38-C Ridge Road won the Kiwanis citizenship award for Prince Georges County at the time of graduation. As Senior Class president, he gave the valedictory speech. "Sonny," as he is better known, excelled at football and basketball in addition to making the Honor Society.

Joseph Brosmer is 18 and his parents are Mr. and Lawrence J. Brosmer, 33 b Ridge Road. His elementary school years were spent at Holy Redeemer in Berwyn. Murals at the former high school, our present Junior High, were painted by Joe and the High School Band won many awards while he was head man of the trumpet section. An Honor student, he was well-liked by all.

Robert Plackett, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Plackett attended St. John DeMatha in Hyattsville before enrolling in the University of Maryland. He found it a pleasant surprise to meet Sonny and Joe at the recruiting station.

Last Chance, Amigo

The last chance to register for Spanish classes, beginners and advanced, will be on Tuesday, January 29, in Room 222 of the Center school, between 8-10 p.m. Julio Barbera is the instructor.

Credit Union Declares 4%, Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union was held Wednesday evening, January 16. For the members it marked another successful year of operation. The $2,232 profit after necessary reserves were set aside, permitted payment of a 4% dividend, which the Board recommended, and those present approved.

Al Folkman, John Maffay, Charles Cookson, and Frank Perazzoli were reelected to the Board. James Beck was returned to the Credit Committee, along with two new members Lloyd Moore and Ben Rosenzweig; Edward Kaighn to the Supervisory Committee, as well as Raymond Hennessey and Thomas Snoddy.

Following a general discussion of the operations of the Credit Union and the various ways in which it can be useful in helping its members solve their financial problems, the meeting adjourned. Refreshments were served.

High School PTA Forms, Music, Project

The Music Committee of the Northwestern High School PTA has been formed with the following members: Norris Keady, Chairman, Michael Ronca, Mrs. Cogwill, Mrs. Flory, Mrs. Weber, Mrs. Murray, Mr. Merryman, Mr. Pluebell, Mrs. Walker and Mr. Milton.

The major project of the year is the raising of the $3500 needed to provide the 70 band members with uniforms. In its first four months the Band, under the leadership of Michael Ronca, has won second place in a state contest and was selected as one of the five outstanding school bands in the United States by Paul Whiteman.

Bierwagen Loses In CLU Election

In the annual Central Labor Union elections Monday, Walter J. Bierwagen, running for the office of recording secretary, was defeated 130-104. Bierwagen, besides being local GCS Board president, has been head of Local 689, Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees (AFL) since 1950, and led the 3-day strike against Capital Transit last July.

According to Monday's story in the Washington Post, Bierwagen's opponent has held the office for 30 years and forces supporting the "comparatively new" AFL candidate were considered "rebels."

Reached at his office Tuesday morning, Bierwagen stated that his supporters did not form a "maverick" group, as "some of the oldest members of CLU" were among them. The vote, however, was close enough to have stimulated some talk of next year's elections, although Bierwagen himself was "undecided and definitely not ready" for discussion at this time. "CLU," he stated, "will consolidate behind its officers for the coming year as it always has."

MAC Tells Kids of A-Bomb

C. T. McDonald, city manager, addressed the fifth and sixth grades of the North End school last Tuesday on the subject of civil defense in Greenbelt.

McDonald stated he was pleased with the intelligent nature of the questions which were put to him by the students.

At a reunion near Eighth Army headquarters in Korea, Cpl. William E. Sweeney, 11-F Southway Road, Greenbelt, presents his brother, Norman, 10-G Laurel Hill, with a captured Chinese bugle.

Council To Consider Budget And Housing

Last Monday's city council meeting has been postponed until this Monday. Discussions with the Public Housing Administration about the 1952 budget contract held yesterday at the offices of PHA, and the general membership meeting of the Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation tonight were given as reasons for the postponement. The contract and the housing situation will be considered by the council at its next meeting.

Also scheduled for consideration is the announced request for a liquor license by the local American Legion Post. Although not on the agenda, the item will be discussed because of a letter to council from a Greenbelt resident, it was authoritatively disclosed.

According to one informed source, PHA plans to make major cuts in the proposed budget. Greenbelt has asked for $204,614 from the federal government as payment "in lieu of taxes." The total budget, including the federal payment and income from other sources amounts to $256,527. No suggestion was forthcoming as to what items on the budget PHA may object to at the meeting.

Community Band Elects Officers

Officers and parent-band members of the Greenbelt Community Band met January 14 in room 222 of the Center school to report on the past year's activities and elect new officers for the ensuing year.

New officers are Vincent Caruso, president; Percy H. Andros, vice-president; James G. Flynn, treasurer; Mrs. Ada R. Cusick, secretary of Senior Band; Mrs. Marie C. Krouse, secretary of Junior Band; Mrs. Evelyn Boggs, librarian; and Harry G. Merryman, co-librarian.

Residents of Greenbelt will be gratified to know that the Greenbelt Community Band and Majorettes have participated in at least twenty-six concerts and drills during the past year.

Vol. 17 Thursday, January 24, 1952 No. 20

Preface To The Polls

Early in March Greenbelt Consumer Services will conduct the annual election of a board of directors. In a cooperative, as in no other enterprise, the board of directors must reflect and protect the welfare of the membership. Over three thousand co-op members in Greenbelt and Takoma Park have the privilege and the power to elect a board which will properly represent them.

The following is a minimum program we believe a candidate for the board of directors ought to offer the people.

1. To establish thorough liaison between consumer and management.
2. To keep the membership fully informed about all GCS activities.
3. To seek out ways to improve services to the consumer.
4. To institute a consumer consultant program.
5. To make sure that the board of directors formulates the policies.
6. To make sure that the board of directors directs management.
7. To make sure that management carries out the policies and directives of the board.

From now until March 5 the Cooperator will try to save space for both candidates and voters to make known their opinions concerning these issues, which will directly affect the daily lot of all of us throughout 1952.

Letters to the Editor

UMT, Liquor, Legion

All letters must be limited to 250 words

I was rather appalled by Mr. Volckhausen's inferred method of reasoning in his short but poignant letter stating, "It is a rather interesting commentary on the moral implications of universal military training that it is the American Legion that has applied for a license to bring hard liquor to Greenbelt."

This would imply that since some members of the Legion (a veterans' organization) want to have liquor sold in the Legion House, all Legionnaires are drunkards; therefore all past, present, and future servicemen are drunkards; so beware, concerned parents, if your boy goes into the service under a universal military training program, he will become a drunkard.

Mr. Volckhausen, as a citizen, has every right to express his views on problems of the day, but this spurious attempt to convert a community issue into a sly attack on universal military training can be attributed only to sheer ignorance or to moral turpitude in his method of attack.

I am a neutral in the liquor controversy, but I am definitely not neutral on the issue of universal military training. In my opinion, as a former 17-year-old soldier, military service for a period of one or two years is invaluable to a boy just out of high school. It serves to give him a maturity and ability to cope with the actualities of life which is next to impossible to obtain within the protective sphere of the family circle.

I am not asserting that the army will make a weak person strong or a stupid person intelligent, nor do I assert that the ridiculous plethora of propaganda the army puts out about "travel, education, good food, etc., etc." has any worth. I do say that the army treats an eighteen-year-old as an adult who must make his own decisions and personally answer for his actions.

Of all the veterans I have known, few would care to repeat their experience, but few regret it or would trade it.

Clayton S. McCarl.

Suburban Audience Applauds Pianist

Many Greenbelters were in the audience of the National Symphony's suburban concert last Thursday night held at the University of Maryland Coliseum. This was the second of a series of three concerts and featured the young Silver Spring pianist, Theodore Pries, playing Rachmaninoff's first piano concerto. Although in his early twenties, Pries according to critics, played with the authority and brilliance of a more mature pianist. After each round of applause, it was necessary for him to walk the full length of the coliseum through the audience to the orchestra as his dressing room, and Howard Mitchell's were at the rear of the building.

A reception for the artist was held at the Hedin House after the concert.

To A. C. Long

As I understand the statement of two Takoma Park co-op store managers, referred to by A. C. Long in this column, the meaning was that patrons demanded quality goods for which, naturally, they paid a higher price. This was because of the relatively high per capita income in that community. The GCS merely supplies what patrons demand, here and elsewhere.

As for the benefits of competition, so far as prices are concerned I understand that prices of one local and two national chains are regularly checked and adhered to by GCS in all its stores. Occasionally, some items are even offered at lower prices. Cooperatives everywhere, as a matter of policy and good sense, sell at prevailing general price levels. Underselling, as a general policy, causes losses in the end to consumers as well as to operators. Personally, I think that when competition is carried too far it duplicates effort, wastes capital, and causes business men to spend too much of their time fighting each other.

It would be interesting to learn Mr. Long's ideas of what constitutes "an honest - to - goodness - co-op."

Respectfully,
George C. Reeves.

This column has received a number of calls from people who are really very interested in the broken milk bottles which have been found daily in the garage at 17 Ridge. The broken glass is a danger to the children as well as a menace to automobile tires. The situation could be remedied if we would ask our children to let us know when they have broken glass so we would have an opportunity to remove it. Regular monthly meeting of the Drop-Inn Parents Guild will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Drop-Inn, January 28. All parents of the members are invited to attend. It's a little girl for Mr. and Mrs. John P. Cookson, 14-J Ridge. Mary L. Cookson weighed in at the Cheverly hospital, January 17. This makes the third child for the Cooksons. It's also a little girl for the Adelbert Long family, 7-K Crescent. Michelle Long was born on January 15. All the other children in the Long family are very thrilled at the new arrival. Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, 17-J Ridge, are sorry to hear they will be moving to Denver soon. Of course, the Phelps are happy to be going "back home." (Lots of luck, Bob and Helen). Mr. and Mrs. Leon Scharff, 26-D Crescent, became the proud parents of a little girl, Moselle arrived at Prince Georges hospital on January 22. This is the first child for the Scharffs. They also want their friends to know that they now have a new phone number, 7117. Anita Hirschtitt, 19-M Ridge is a new aunt. Her sister, who lives in New York, gave birth to a boy, and lucky Anita journeyed to N. Y. to view the "offspring." About forty people attended the fifth birthday party of the National Council of Jewish Women of Greenbelt. The party was held at the China Doll Restaurant. The highlight of the party was the array of Chinese food and everyone agreed that it "was out of this world." Greenbelt was well represented at the National Guard Armory on Sunday, January 13, to hear Evangelist Billy Graham's sermon. Although some went out of curiosity, all agreed the sermon was effective. Sorry to hear that Al Folkman, 7-C Southway, is a patient at Garfield hospital. (Hurry and get well, Al). Glad to hear that Kitty Madden, 2-A Gardenway, is home from Georgetown hospital and is getting along fine. Three members of the Northwestern Hi band - Alice Alexander, Donald Weber, and William Moore - together with the band leader, Michael Ronca, will participate in the Tri State Band Clinic January 25 and 26 at Martinsburg, West Virginia. Glad to hear that Isadore Kiem is convalescing nicely at his home, 22-B Hillside, after an auto accident two weeks ago.

Mother's March vs. Polio

Wednesday night, January 30, between 7 and 8, the Greenbelt Mother's March Against Polio will begin. The drive, sponsored by the Truman Riddle Navy Wives under the chairmanship of Mrs. Margaret Mul-lady, terminates this year's polio campaign. Residents who want to participate for the last time in this vital significant project are asked to keep their porch lights burning until the campaigners finish their courts.

Women's Club Tours Goodwill Industries

On Thursday morning, January 24 at 9:30 a.m., members of the Women's Club met at the Center for a tour of the Goodwill Industries. This institution, which employs handicapped persons, provides a room for a meeting place and a luncheon in their tea room. Through the efforts of Mrs. Charles Cormack many fine costumes were borrowed from the Goodwill Industries for last year's Gay Nineties party. Club members have enjoyed dressing dolls for the institution.

Soup To Nuts

There are four kids in our family, Jack and myself, and if any kids give their parents trouble, ours do. The two boys are always spending money on haircuts; either their hair grows too fast or they don't know how to comb it. But I think I have one answer which I found in the Variety Store. 10 combs for only 25c, enough to last us at least one week.

Others in the family you haven't met are the girls, Nancy, 5, and the baby, 2 months. Ever since January I have been looking for some decent baby pants and I found those at last, also in the Variety Store. They are made of latex and are exactly the same as a nationally advertised brand, only these cost 49c. I am stocking up.

Since you are out shopping with me this morning, let's cross the square to the Valet Shop. You know we have a muddy yard, and during this bad weather I get colds at least once a week hanging up the laundry, but Clyde has suggested that we try the laundry service for a while. It is really very inexpensive, and along with that advice he passed on some about wet feet. These new little rubber boots, called "totes," which come in amber, green, blue and gray, can fit right into your purse in a package no larger than your wallet. They are a song at only $2.98. Now for breakfast foods Jack, my husband, says some actually do taste like baked hay, and the kids now won't eat anything unless every spoonful contains a B-B gun or a fluorescent ring. But Ralston has something new out called "Rice Cereals," which at least adds variety to the cereal shelf.

My shopping is now about done except for a fill-up at the Service Station. We are getting very good service from our car now, probably because we are greasing it before we go 5000 miles. The lube jobs, I might say, are excellent. They never miss any fittings; and while I am about it I must say that our Co-op Battery, going into its fourth year, still has a bright spark of life.
