

Council Approves Budget For 1953, Asks $190,539 From PHA Pending Sale

About a dozen citizens witnessed city council approval of the 1953 budget, calling for an expenditure of $259,391. Mayor Frank Lastner was authorized to negotiate with Public Housing Administration for a "payment in lieu of taxes" of $190,539. (If the expected sale of homes to Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation is completed by January 1, the federal government's payment will be made only for those apartments it will continue to operate. GVH will not have any "control" over the budget.)

The tax rate for real property was established at $3.5141 per $100 assessed valuation, and the personal property tax on local businesses continues to be $1 per $100 evaluation.

No cuts or additions to the budget were made during the hearing. Although this year's figure exceeds both last year's $247,659 and the 1951 total of $226,556, much of the increase is due to added costs from acquiring ownership of additional property by dedication from the federal government. Revenue and costs of the water system are not included, since the utility's ownership is still in doubt. Figures for the main departments are - legislative and executive, $22,807; public safety, $42,115; roadways and highway lighting, $28,628; sanitation and waste removal, $38,307; recreation, $64,381 (this includes Community building, municipal parks, library, and organized recreation).

Add Taxes?

One citizen urged the council to raise the personal property tax. He stated that the $2,334 derived from Greenbelt Consumer Services does not pay for the services the city provides that business. Businesses as well as residents should bear the burden of taxes, he added. In reply, Mayor Lastner declared that raising the tax would be unfair to GCS since other communities have lower tax rates. Also, he stated, future businesses in Greenbelt would be driven away by the burden of taxation. He cited instances of small industries making inquiry about locating on Greenbelt property; only the diffidence of PHA has prevented many of them from establishing themselves here.

County Services

Duplications of county services were protested by many spectators. Police protection, library, health service, recreation were termed services the community should be getting from the county in return for taxes paid to the county. The swimming pool, the lake recreation area, and even the fireworks display are services Greenbelt pays for, from which citizens of the entire county derive benefit. The council was urged to press for better services by the county so that Greenbelt's services may be less costly, rather than diminished.

Another effort to raise the salary of the treasurer was defeated by a tie vote. (Councilman Steve Comings has resigned.) Lastner first proposed a $259 raise, as suggested by City Manager Charles McDonald. (McDonald was absent due to illness.) There was no second to his motion. Councilman Ben Goldfaden moved for a $100 increase to bring the salary even with the chief of public safety. Goldfaden maintained that the head of public safety acts as city-manager in McDonald's absence and it would not be proper to have his salary lower than a subordinate's. The motion was defeated. Both the treasurer's and police chief's salaries are at the top of the grade and can only be raised by legislation.

Utility Sale

Mayor Lastner disclosed that means of stopping the sale of the electric utility to PEPCO by PHA are being investigated by the city solicitor. An injunction may be

'Barbecue' Smith New Councilman; Taxes His Meat

James Smith, 4-H Southway, was elected to the city council last Monday to replace Steve Comings who resigned after moving from Greenbelt. Smith is a career employee with the Navy Department and operates a new and used car business on the Baltimore Boulevard.

SMITH

He has two children, both graduates of the University of Maryland. His son is now a Naval Air Cadet in Pensacola, Florida. One of the "original settlers" in Greenbelt, moving here in 1937, Smith has been active in Boy Scout work the Citizens' Association, and is now on the board of the Lions Club. He ran for council in two earlier elections; one of them had 19 candidates!

Smith is particularly interested in the tax structure in Greenbelt and hopes to devote much of his time to investigating Greenbelt tax problems as compared to other communities in the county. Terming himself a "free enterprise" man, Smith states that Greenbelt has great promise for future development. Although not against any group working together in business, he feels that all individuals should be given freedom of opportunity. "We should examine review, and perhaps analyze what is going on around us tax-wise," he declared. Smith spent four years in the county tax department while in North Carolina.

used; the council feels that the sale to PEPCO violates the provisions of Public Law 65, which defines the method of disposal of Greenbelt including the utilities.

The last part of the meeting was devoted to the election of an additional council member to replace Steve Comings, who resigned this week. James Smith, 4-H Southway, was elected on the sixth ballot; a majority was needed to elect. Other names submitted for nomination were: Mrs. O. Zoellner, Earl Thomas, Edgar Swisher, and Aller Morrison.

GCS Board Entertains At Party For Employees

Four employees of Greenbelt Consumer Services with ten years of service were honored at a gala Christmas party given by the board of directors for employees at the American Legion Home on Southway last Sunday night.

Addie Sowell, an office employee, and Jerry Goodin, of the custodial department, received gifts presented by Walter Bierwagen, GCS president. Dan Livingston, Takoma meat manager, and Paul Milaski, of the shoe repair department, were not present to receive their gifts.

The employees danced to the music of Van Camp in an atmosphere of candlelight and Christmas decorations. A buffet with punch and coffee was provided by George Davidsen's committee.

Bierwagen, speaking for management and the board, thanked the employees for their faithful and loyal service, and in return was told of the employees' appreciation of the board's efforts in their behalf.

Attendance at the annual affair was the largest ever, as the number of employees was increased since the addition of the Takoma stores. The party was such a success that some employees voiced the opinion that a holiday Monday would have been in order.

For Ten Years Of Co-op Service

Presented awards for ten years' service at Sunday night's Christmas party for GCS employees were Addie Sowell and Jerry Goodin, shown above with Board President Walter Bierwagen. Not present at the ceremony were ten-year employees Paul Milaski and Dan Livingston. GCS employees are honored annually by the board of directors at the Christmas season.

Rent Raise Assured, GVHC Members Kill 90% Clause, O K Land Purchase

By Harry M. Zubkoff

A quorum showed up at the membership meeting last night promptly at 8:30 p.m., an unprecedented occurrence in Greenbelt. The meeting moved along rapidly, and the last item of business was concluded shortly after 10:30.

President Mike Salzman, in his opening address, allayed the fears of members with regard to the rent situation, assuring them that there was no danger of any financial loss to the corporation or to members insofar as subsidizing unsold units is concerned. Yesterday afternoon, he announced, the Office of Rent Stabilization had signed a rent raise for Greenbelt which would be sufficient to carry all the unsold units without loss to the corporation.

Rent Raise For All

Furthermore, during the first year of operation, all residents—buyers and non-buyers alike—will be paying monthly charges in accordance with the maximum rent schedules set up by ORS, rather than the monthly payments originally scheduled by GVHC. This action is being taken because PHA has granted a moratorium on the principal payment for the first year, which the corporation is passing along to the members. The rent increases will range from about 20 to 30% and will be approximately 95% of the figure which GVHC scheduled for monthly payments. (PHA is expected to post the new rent schedules in the next few days.)

Changeover Ready

Meanwhile, now that the last hurdle has been cleared, Salzman reported that the corporation is geared to take over on January 1 as planned. Delivery of fuel oil is assured, and arrangements have been made to purchase materials and supplies from PHA at costs not to exceed the costs to the government. The general manager and the maintenance staff have been hired to start January 1. Negotiations are underway to buy insurance; a firm of accountants is preparing to move in to audit the books and to set up a bookkeeping system.

No Loyalty Oaths

A letter from John Taylor Egan, Commissioner of Public Housing, informed the corporation that the government was withdrawing its demand to insert a loyalty clause in the contract. However, the board adopted a policy which would prohibit the corporation from accepting as members or residents anyone accused of subversive activities by a law enforcement agency. This board action met with membership approval, although no formal membership action was required, or taken.

Salzman took the city council to task with regard to the utilities. He accused the council of displaying a marked reluctance to cooperate with GVHC, and of a general apathy with regard to the entire sale. They had no faith, he said in effect, in the eventual consummation of the sale, and consequently made little effort to help, although there was much that they could have done. (The Cooperator next week will carry a story of the utilities with particular regard to the city council.) He concluded his address by pointing out that many difficult problems lay ahead, and appealed to members to face them and solve them.

Seventy Percent Sold

So far 1126 units have been sold. Treasurer Tom Ritchie reported, 372 of which were old Greenbelt houses and 754 defense houses. This represents a total dollar value of \$4,283,600. Already 995 down payments have been received, amounting to \$483,756. Unsold are still 449 units, representing a dollar value of \$1,890,350. In other words, just under 70% of the dollar value has been sold. Resident buyers outnumber non-residents by 2 to 1, and about 65% of the total are veterans. The 1126 sold units represent about 71.5% of the total number of units for sale. (PHA requirements called for $\frac{2}{3}$, or 1053, of the units to be sold.)

Ritchie cautioned members to be sure to sign and return to PHA the registration certificates renewing leases on the new rent schedule, which PHA will be sending out to all residents in the near future.

An interesting disclosure was the information that GVHC hopes to be able to take full title to the refrigerators and ranges at the end of the first year of operation, after which members will be able to trade them in or new ones or not, as they wish. While this is not certain, it will be done within two years at the most.

Percentage Changed

A motion was adopted, at the board's recommendation, to abolish the 90% dollar limitation which the membership had imposed at a previous meeting. This limitation would have prevented the consummation of the sale until 90% of the dollar valuation of the total housing property sold. It was imposed, said Salzman, at a time when all the factors were unknown, and was intended to safeguard the membership from taking an undue risk. Now, however, since these unknown factors have been resolved, the board recommended that the sale be consummated subject only to the limitation that the board determine to its satisfaction that the corporation would have enough working capital to proceed. An amendment by board member Bernard Bordenet further required that this determination be made by a $\frac{2}{3}$ majority of the board, or 6 of the 9 board members, instead of the usual majority of 5.

Development Plan

Salzman reported that the corporation had entered into an agreement with the People's Development Corporation, which had been approved by PHA, to purchase all 800 acres of undeveloped land. This will be done at no liability whatsoever to the corporation or its members, a requirement which the membership had laid down at a previous meeting. Under the terms of this agreement, PDC will lend GVHC $150,000 for the down payment on the undeveloped land. In return, PDC required that in 1953 a master plan be developed for the use of the land, and that every effort be made to start a housing project as soon as possible. As a matter of fact, the Cooperative Housing Federation has already started to develop such a master plan, and will undertake to have it approved by the proper zoning authorities. A subsidiary corporation will be organized by GVHC to take title to the land and to develop it. This corporation will start soliciting members in the very near future, since it is hoped that ground can be broken in the Spring. GVHC members will be given preference in participating in the purchase and development of the vacant land. The loan from PDC must be repaid in 5 years, and the term of the mortgage is for fifteen years. The membership formally authorized the board to proceed with these plans.

Joseph Fitzmaurice was elected to fill a vacancy of the board of directors.

Local Post Office Business Booming

These are hectic days at the Greenbelt Post Office, according to Postmaster Thomas Freeman.

Last Monday the post office truck picked up 90 bags of mail at Berwyn; the usual haul is 4 bags! The railway mail clerks didn't have time to unload all the bags at Berwyn before the train pulled out, so the Greenbelt men were picking up mail bags pushed off the train along the right-of-way from Berwyn to Beltsville.

Over an eight-day period the Greenbelt post office sold over 170,000 two-cent stamps and 90,000 three's, Mr. Freeman reported.

As of yesterday, the normal staff of 18 had been expanded to forty, with mail deliveries being made "all day" by twelve carriers instead of the usual three.

"Wrap your packages securely" is the post office's reminder.

Hi folks, this is Rae Algaze pinch-hitting for Dotty McGee, who at present is busily engaged in the process of moving. Their new address is 7-D Hillside.

Was there ever a busier week this year! The joint celebrations of Chanukah-and-Christmas offer challenges to us almost daily, but there is deep satisfaction to be derived once the task of importance is accomplished. However, holiday season or not, life goes on bringing its usual share of more happiness for some, less for others. Let's start with the joyful news first:

Announcement is made of the marriage of Clayton S. McCarl, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. McCarl, to Miss Jane Drury Mooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Mooney, of University Park, on November 26. The ceremony was held at St. Andrew's Church in College Park. A reception followed at the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority house. The bride and groom were both graduated from the University of Maryland last June. Jane is teaching first grade at College Park, and Clayton is attending the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery of the University of Maryland. The couple is residing in an apartment in University City.

Miss Delpha W. Daniels, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Daniels, 24-C Crescent, was married on December 16 to Gordon E. Benson of Washington, D. C. Reverend Eric T. Braund performed the ceremony which was held at the Greenbelt Community Church. A reception took place at the home of the bride's mother. The couple will live in Greenbelt after a short honeymoon in Florida.

Mrs. Rose Rosen of New York received the supreme Chanukah gift when her son and daughter-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Isadore Rosen of 9-E Ridge, became the parents of an 8 lb. 6 oz. daughter, Martha Anne, who was born on December 12. Her arrival was also a birthday present for her daddy who celebrated his birthday December 16.
