

Greenbelt Ready For Biggest 4th Celebration; Dr. Byrd Guest Speaker

By Isadore J. Parker

Health Group Board Plans Modern Clinic

The residents of the City of Greenbelt will soon be able to enjoy the benefits of a modern Public Health Office due to the final disposition of funds of the Greenbelt Health Association. As the former members will recall, the Board of Directors were given authority to dispose of any funds which remained after all debts were liquidated.

On June 29, 1953, the Board met at the home of Mrs. Jessie Walter and the following resolutions were adopted:

1. The City Manager be requested to submit a list of needs for the establishment of a modern Public Health office to be housed in the space now used by the Public Housing Administration.

2. A committee composed of three board members was appointed to decide which items could be purchased with the available funds.

3. Any remaining funds will be used to purchase wheel chairs, crutches, etc. to be loaned to the residents of Greenbelt without charge.

The Board felt that the distribution of the funds in the above manner would benefit most of the residents of Greenbelt who at one time or another may have been members of the Greenbelt Health Association.

The Greenbelt Health Association, a prepaid cooperative medical plan, was in existence for about ten years and closed in June 1950. Members of the Board who participated in these decisions were Mrs. Opie Stage, president; Murray Ryss, vice-president; Lois Braunstein, secretary; Sidney Rubin, treasurer; Mrs. Winnie Bealor and Mrs. Jessie Walter.

PHA Dedicates Plaza To City

The Center Plaza and the parking lot behind the food store were dedicated to the city last week by Public Housing Administration. Mayor Frank Lastner was authorized to accept the property by the city council at a special council meeting called June 26. The area, 439,942 square feet, includes the mall or plaza in the Center extending from the sidewalk on Centerway back to the bottom of the hill below the statue, and one foot clearances from the commercial buildings. The parking lot includes the road between the theater and police station and the areaway behind theater and diagonally back up the path to Parkway. Also included is the garages in the parking lot now leased by Greenbelt Consumer Services, with the understanding that GCS can use the garages in accordance with its lease with PHA. GCS does not pay rent for the garages.

Officially, the dedication is for "recreation and park purposes" and "highways and parking." It is anticipated by city manager Charles McDonald that the parking area will be extended by paving until a new entrance to the lot be accomplished through Parkway.

Although the city council has been pressing PHA for the parking lot on the other side of the business area, since it borders the community building and the

CITY HONORED FOR NO TRAFFIC DEATHS

The city will receive a special citation from the Automobile Club of Maryland July 7, at the Park Plaza Hotel in Baltimore. Representing Greenbelt will be Mayor Frank Lastner who will accept the award after a luncheon at the hotel and will appear on WBAL-TV Channel 11 from 2:30 to 2:45.

The citation is rewarded to cities having no traffic fatalities during the past year. Greenbelt is one of only three Maryland cities to achieve this distinction. Director Richard Hartman will make the presentation.

Greenbelt Mother Amnesia Victim

A 34-year-old Greenbelt mother, who suffers from recurrent amnesia, has been missing from her home since June 24, Prince George's County police reported.

The woman, Helen Gerhoff, left her house, 24-J Ridge, about 3 p.m. Her husband, Nathan, a State Department property officer, said this was the third time in two years his wife has disappeared.

She has suffered from occasional spells of amnesia since she underwent a brain operation in 1948 as the result of a cerebral hemorrhage, Gerhoff said. In 1951 her memory returned after she had been gone four days and she phoned home from the Greyhound bus terminal.

Gerhoff has had to stay home to care for the couple's five children, aged 13, 12, 10, 1 and five weeks.

A police lookout described Mrs. Gerhoff as 5 ft., 10 in., 120 pounds with dark hair. She was wearing a black and white checkered dress and black shoes. Her husband said she was carrying a purse, but he did not know how much money it contained.

This was due to many members desiring the same lot. Remaining lots were chosen on a priority basis, first members getting first choice.

Approval of the contract was voted by the membership. Lot owners must give the corporation 30 days to buy back any lot before it is sold to a non-member. Financing terms were also announced; members have 90 days to pay one-third of the lot's cost, 90 days for the next one-third.

Over thirty members chose their building lots last Tuesday night at a meeting of the Lakeside Homeowners, Incorporated, new housing cooperative in Greenbelt. First 19 lots were chosen by picking numbers from a hat, it was disclosed by Ben Goldfaden, presi-

Dog Ban Relaxed For Donna Jean, Courtesy GVHC

Last week the board of directors of GVHC received its first request to waive the dog ban imposed by the membership at the last quarterly meeting on June 4. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Evans, 16-V Ridge, in a letter to the board, requested that their daughter, Donna Jean, be allowed to keep her pet collie.

In making this request Evans pointed out that Donna Jean is suffering from a malady which makes it impossible for her to play normally with other children. As nearly as her case can be diagnosed, said Evans, she is afflicted with rheumatoid arthritis, a disease which affects her bones. Her left arm is locked at the elbow joint and her fingers often swell to the point where she cannot bend them. In addition she has an eye condition particularly rare among children. She has no vision in her right eye, and her left eye is slowly deteriorating, with no apparent relief forthcoming. Under these circumstances, said Evans, it is readily understandable that the child cannot play with other children. Furthermore, she is particularly susceptible to infections, and cannot go swimming.

At present Donna Jean goes to a sight saving school in Hyatts-

GVHC Board Votes To Stop Writing Cooperator; Asks Realty Affidavit

At last Thursday's GVHC board meeting the following resolution, moved by Don Kern, was passed by a vote of 5 to 1.

"Whereas it is the responsibility of each member of the Board of Directors of GVHC to develop a feeling of confidence and trust among the members of GVHC, and

"Whereas it is a duty of each Board member to formulate and carry out the rules, regulations and policies which have been approved for the benefit of the majority of the members of GVHC, and

"Whereas it is the duty of the Officers, Committee Chairmen and Members of the Board to keep the members fully and factually informed, and

"Whereas GVHC is using time and money to publish a periodic newsletter it is

"Resolved that in order to restore, maintain and to the extent possible, improve the reputation of GVHC, the members of the Board of Directors will henceforth refrain from writing letters to the Greenbelt Cooperator concerning GVHC, and

"Be it further resolved that the Directors make their views known to the members through the Newsletter allowing fair and equal opportunity for the expression of minority and majority views on the subjects under discussion."

Long Dissents

Al Long, protesting against any attempt to curtail a board member's right to freedom of speech and to make his views known to the membership, opposed the resolution. He further declared that he did not believe his personal actions could be bound by board resolution, and that any board member had every right to use whatever means are available to communicate his feelings and opinions to the membership. Other board members, concerned with a situation which they believed to be detrimental to the best interests of GVHC, pointed out that inflammatory letters by board members in The Cooperator were confusing the membership and resulting in a lessening of public confidence in the board.

Bordenet's Resolution

Another resolution, introduced by Bernard Bordenet, was also passed, by all six board members at the meeting. (Three board members were on vacation.) This resolution read:

"Whereas certain directors of GVHC, to wit, Salzman, Webster, Bowman, Kern, and Andros, publicly have expressed the view that the real estate interests of members of the board of directors of

Local Artists Enter 1st Co-op Art Fair

Three Greenbelt artists are among the many exhibitors showing their work at the 1st Annual Co-op Art Fair now being held in the Allen Shopping Center at New Hampshire and Ethan Allen Avenues. They are Virginia P. Moser and William M. Moser, both of 5-1 Gardenway in the professional division and Elizabeth Marshall 14-y Hillside in the non-professional.

There are 281 works of art on exhibit at the fair which will run through July 12—a week's extension over the original closing date of July 3. A professional jury of three prominent Washington artists selected the pictures from over 400 entries. Included in the showing is a select group of 19 pictures on loan from the Defense Department's German War Art Collection.

Both artists and their works are listed in an eight page program that carries an introduction by Leslie Judd Portner, art critic for the Washington Post. Twenty-five percent of the sale price of any work sold is being set aside to help raise funds for a CARE sponsored Philippine Community Center. Three pictures have been sold to date.

Present were many friends and also neighbors and former neighbors from their old court on Laurel Hill. Mary expects to join her husband in New York in a few weeks.

The Martins and their two daughters, Carolyn and Gaynell are long time Greenbelt residents and will be greatly missed by their many friends.

BOY MEETS GIRL

In last week's issue of Life, the article, "Life goes to a Shinto Wedding" described the wedding in Japan of Tomoko Yoshimura and Horace Bristol, Jr. whom early residents might remember as a youngster living in the 8 court of Plateau Place. Young Bristol, a photographer working in Japan, covered a beauty contest, concentrating on Tomoko whom he thought was the prettiest. However the judges gave her second place and Horace, in gallant fashion consoled her by an invitation to dinner, and soon she was first place in his heart, for in six months they were engaged. Although preparations were elaborate, the 30 minute ceremony at the shrine was simple, neither bride nor groom speaking a word. Present were the bride's mother, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bristol, Sr. Both wore the traditional costumes, the bride's outer kimono trailing magnificently.

At a recent meeting of St. Hugh's choir, the following offices were chosen for next year: director, Kathleen McFarland; secretary, Mary Hoesch; organist, Katharine Loftus; assistant organist, Kathleen Madden.

Marc Krug celebrated his fifth birthday Sunday by taking seven friends plus his brother, Steve, to see "Peter Pan." Ice cream and cake followed at 7-E Crescent.

and 90 days for the remaining one-third. After the first 90-day period, interest will be added to the remaining cost of the lot.

Several lots are still available, Goldfaen declared. Cost of the lots, he disclosed, are from $1200 to $2200. Several builders were present at the meeting and displayed plans for constructing homes on the lots.

To The Editor

Don't Fence Me In

It appears there are some people living in our community who don't want children, don't like children, in fact, have forgotten they were ever children themselves.

It has been called to the attention of the office many times by different residents that a fence has been constructed over the crosswalk which runs in front of one of the courts facing Ridge Road. This walk is of course public property and for the use of each unit and does not belong to any one home buyer. The office has promised to take action. When? After some child is hit by a car? Besides being an inconvenience to everybody, including the trashmen, the mailmen, the paper boys, etc., it is a safety hazard for small children. In that particular court it is the only walk for a small child to ride his bike. They pass out into the road to get to another child's house, making it difficult for drivers also. I wonder if this resident would attempt to put a fence across the pavement if he lived in town. It amounts to the same thing, and if he did so would it be allowed to stand for weeks swimming pool, the "west" parking lot has not been dedicated thus far. It is supposed that the "east" lot, now dedicated to the city, was presented to the city so that GCS could provide parking area for its customers; GCS is now preparing to buy the land under its food store.

An Outraged Resident.

McDonald stated that dedication of this parking lot will strengthen our case for dedication of the opposite parking area. Still up for sale is the remaining commercial property, including buildings and extensive land near the center area.

After the meeting, Lastner signed the official documents and presented them personally to PHA representative Fred Ryerse.

GCS Gathering Features Panel

The Greenbelt Consumer Services quarterly membership meeting last night featured a panel of board members in a discussion of objectives and expansion. After an introduction by general manager Sam Ashelman outlining the benefits to be obtained by increasing the volume to the $15 to $20 million mark, board members Ben Rosenzweig, Larry Oosterhaus and Harry Zubkoff led the discussion.

While no decisions were reached, the discussion revolved on the basic issue of expansion, and the form or method of expanding best suited to the GCS organization. The board invited written comments from the membership with regard to the objectives which were distributed in draft form and which will soon be publicized in the Newsletter.

Lastner Desides To Run Again

Mayor Frank Lastner has thrown "his hat in the ring". He announced his decision to run for council in the upcoming September election following a story in The Cooperator stating the requirements to vote or run for office. Lastner is the first candidate to do so thus far.

Lastner was elected mayor in June 1951 following the resignation of former Mayor Betty Harrington when she moved from Greenbelt. He was elected to the council and mayoralty the following September. Lastner has served on the city council for ten years, excluding two years absence while in the armed forces from 1942-45. The first family to move into "C" block, the Lastners have resided in Greenbelt since January, 1938.

"I feel my past participation on council duties qualifies me to serve my city in the future. Particularly at this crucial transition period when we are moving from federal ownership to private ownership it is important to have men serving the residents who have complete background information," Lastner declared.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That each and every director of GVHC and Mr. Chasanow furnish an affidavit in writing over his handwritten signature and sworn to before a notary public for publication in the GVHC Newsletter within thirty days hereof, disclosing fully and completely, without reservation or equivocating, any and all plans each of them may have to derive any personal gain whatsoever in

The board also decided to table consideration of a proposal to renew the contract between GVHC and its legal counsel.

(Editor's Note - The Cooperator has received a letter from Adelbert C. Long, written after the meeting, and dealing largely with GVHC's lawyer. This letter is being forwarded to the editors of the GVHC Newsletter.)

Bernie Emmert's Co-Op nine moved to the top of the American League standings last week by bagging the Wildcats 16 to 7 while Jim Ewing's Giants were felled by Chet Speziale's little Papooses, 17 to 14. The National League leading Athletics trounced the Pirates to maintain their undefeated status.

Co-Op played errorless ball on June 22nd and outhit Mel Taylor's Wildcats. Jackie O'Neil led the hit parade with a triple and 2 singles. Pat Kelly, Bobby Jones and Bill Hodges followed with two safeties apiece. Denny Moore and Pete Johnson smacked out two hits each to lead the 'Cat batters.

Indians Beat Giants

Jerry Van Camp and Mike Dye led the Indians over the Giants on June 24. Each got 2 hits, Dye's going for extra bases - a double and triple. Mike Hammond was the big man on the Giants, batting in six runs with 2 singles and a two-bagger. L. Sayers and tiny Ernie Fahlfeder collected a pair of bingles apiece.

Giants 3 0 7 1 3 - 14 9 6

Byers, Doss and Dye; Hammond, Weber, Bordonet and McDonald.

THE GREENBELT'S LIKE A RESORT, BUT WITH THE convenience of home, those lucky enough to live here still need to get away from the compulsions and tensions of an inexorable daily routine. On certain types of vacations we may want to be separated from our beloved children (no sarcasm intended), just as it may be to their advantage to be away from us, perhaps in a good, reliable children's camp. However, a family group vacationing in a tent, cabin, cottage, hotel, or sightseeing with the use of motels along the road, has its own special benefits. Parents can offer their children the very best and most in patience, time, good humor, and be at their disposal day and night. All can share in wonderful, exciting times, and it becomes easier than usual to establish friendly contact between parents and children. Where children are old enough to make it feasible, there is much to be gained in human values from the cooperative, democratic venture of a camping trip. This interests and challenges all family members alike, and is of course the most inexpensive vacation a family can take. Many state parks provide facilities as fireplaces, running water, showers, and toilets for campers, as well as recreational attractions. For those who don't care to rough it in a tent, the state parks rent cabins by the week on a first applied, as they crushed Lou Tierney's Pirates 22 to 3 last Thursday evening. Preston's "big" boys Roy McCauley, Bob Cangelosi and Tommy Iveson scored 4 runs each, while chalking up 4, 4 and 3 hits respectively. Winning hurler Cangelosi, whose homer featured the game, had a no-hitter spoiled by pitching singles to Tommy Parsons and Franny Day.

THE PLAIN, "MOMMY, I'M THIRSTY", can be heard anytime, anywhere, during the auto ride, and so paper cups and a picnic-jug of water (preferably with spigot) are a necessary complement of the snack taken along for children on a trip. For other emergencies we have the indispensable aid of the ubiquitous service station. I shudder to think of what we would do without them.
