

Greenbelt To Join New Super City?

By George C. Reeves

Greenbelt is on of numerous Prince Georges County municipalities which might be consolidated into "one city" or some other form of large urban unit, according to plans now in their initial stages. Promoted for several years by the Chambers of Commerce of several towns strung along the Baltimore Boulevard, the idea has resulted in the appointment by the county commissioners of a 21-member citizens' study committee, authorized by the state legislature at its last session.

The problem of local government in Prince Georges County is complicated by the growing number of town governments whose territories often adjoin each other. Gerrymandered between towns are numerous areas, under county jurisdiction, thickly built-up but not part of any town. The possibility of such a county area being developed commercially and residentially in an island partially surrounded by the city of Greenbelt was highlighted last week by The Cooperator in its account of the plans for building in the Schrom airport zone.

Harry A. Boswell, Jr., of Chillum, is temporary secretary of the 21-member committee, which has not yet held its first meeting. The group will have the professional services of Dr. Homer Hoyt, economist whose salary is paid jointly by the county and the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission. Hearings and local information meetings will be held.

Local Guard Unit Home From Camp

The truck convoy of Greenbelt's own Battery A of the 224th Field Artillery Battalion, Maryland National Guard pulled into town on Saturday behind the red guidon which they had followed for a successful two-week period of field training at A. P. Hill Military Reservation and Camp Pickett, Virginia. That Saturday night was the first night spent under a roof or in a bed by the members of the unit since leaving Greenbelt on June 27.

Rigorous Training

Their activities in training included operation under blackout conditions; participation with the rest of the Battalion in a battalion test, which was completed in a manner which would do credit to a Regular Army unit; and destruction of a concrete pillbox by direct fire. But rigorous training did not occupy all the time, and there were swimming parties, church services in the field for all faiths, and a Battery party which will be long remembered.

In addition to good coats of tan and a few chiggers, the members of the Battery bring back with them the congratulations of their Battalion Commander on a job well done and memories of the work and the fun which will be retold over many coming campfires in many future camps.

More Openings

Battery A still has opening for young men 17 to 18½ and returned veterans. It offers them opportunities for training, recreation, pay, a convenient method of meeting their military obligations, and service to the community. Eligible young men are invited to inquire at the Greenbelt Armory on Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10 p.m.

LANDSCAPER'S NOTE

The Landscape Committee of GVHC will meet Tuesday, July 21 at 8:15 p.m. in the GVHC office.

Organized as a subcommittee of the Frame House Committee, the group invited participation of any interested GVHC member, particularly those having technical knowledge of ornamental shrubs and landscaping. The purpose of the committee is to foster the planting of shrubs and trees, particularly in the Frame House area.

City Studies Way To Make Lake Pay

How to make money on the increased attendance at the lake picnic area puzzled the city council at its meeting last Monday night. They finally gave up the problem after deciding it was too late in the year to begin any plan.

City manager Charles McDonald submitted a report on the situation outlining several plans. The first called for "courtesy cards" for Greenbelt citizens, with outsiders paying an admission fee. McDonald stated this was not "fool-proof" and was costly, as experience with swimming pool cards disclosed.

Another plan included renting a concession stand for refreshments with picnic tables surrounding the area; but McDonald declared that usually citizens object to the high prices for refreshments needed to show a profit. Also, adequate and competent concession outfits are rare.

The last plan envisioned cars entering the picnic area directly through a gate where a fee would be paid. Local people would walk to the park and enter free. Parking along the road would be restricted. This, McDonald added, would be expensive. Help at the entrance gate and policing the grounds would be necessary.

Meanwhile, the council authorized the city manager to refuse permission for any group larger than 30 persons to attend the lake picnic area, unless it is solely a Greenbelt request. Lack of adequate tables and sanitary facilities made this regulation necessary, McDonald declared.

Fordham Appoints Joseph Loftus, Jr.

Joseph P. Loftus, Jr., 7-J Crescent Road, who was graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in psychology at Catholic University of America in June, has been awarded an assistantship in the Department of Psychology of Fordham University, New York City, and will begin his new work in September. Loftus received a similar grant from Duke University, but declined it. He was a technical sergeant in the Air Force ROTC unit at Catholic University, and will do advanced reserve corps work at Fordham. During the summer months he has been serving as a librarian in the Washington Bureau of the Baltimore Sun.

Lawn Social July 24 At Community Church

The annual family night ice cream social of the Greenbelt Community Church will be held Friday, July 24 beginning at 6:30 p.m. on the Church lawn.

In addition to ice cream, cake, and punch, the evening's highlights will consist of community singing, outdoor lawn games, movies, games for children, and square dancing.

City Warns Fencers On Traffic Dangers

The city is concerned with the improper building of fences and cutting walks into hedges entering directly on city streets, it was disclosed at the city council meeting last Monday night. City manager Charles McDonald stated it had placed a "double load" on trash and garbage collectors, and also violated planning commissions' zoning laws.

Many new fences interfere with driveways and walks, promoting traffic hazards. Some residents have built new walkways directly to a gate in the hedges facing the street. McDonald declared that such practice is in direct violation of the "Greenbelt plan."

Lake Home Owners Report Progress

At a Board Meeting of Lakeside Homeowners, Inc. Tuesday night Treasurer LeRoy Root reported 54 people have paid $10 membership fee, 33 members have paid $100 deposits and have selected their lots. There are a total of 65 lots.

The board approved expenditure of $250 for preliminary sewer engineering and authorized Roger Wilcox of FCH Co. to arrange for the subdivision plat.

The contract for lots which members approved with minor changes was reviewed and ordered printed. Abraham Chasanow, general counsel for the corporation, agreed to handle all signing of contracts.

Copies of the contract and a newsletter explaining details of applying for membership and signing up for lots will be mailed to all members this week.

Persons wishing to apply for membership or get further information should contact George Panagoulis, 4292; Ben Goldfaden, 2381, or Mrs. George Stricklin, 6639.

Pass Plan At Pool Costing City Extra

The city council has authorized the transfer of $1500 within the swimming pool account to cover cost of salaries and expenses derived mainly from the "resident pass" plan, which permits local citizens to attend the swimming pool at a lower rate than outsiders. Of the sum transferred, $1000 came from money originally included in the budget for rent to Public Housing Administration; since the pool was dedicated to the city at a later date that money was not needed.

City manager Charles McDonald explained that added costs resulted from the pass plan because local residents did not adhere to the original plan to sign up for passes in the two weeks established for that purpose. Citizens are still signing up for them, and that takes additional clerical work. Also, additional cashiers are needed at the swimming pool to handle the transactions. Often, non-Greenbelters are admitted first, since it takes a longer time to process passes and money for local patrons.

McDonald announced that the swimming pool received $4,535 in revenue for the month of June. Of this amount, only $959 came from local patrons. Over $12,000 is needed to run the pool this year. McDonald was instructed to submit a break-down of the cost of the "pass" operation at the next regular city council meeting.

Occupants Of Dwellings Sold To GVHC Members Receive Notice

Greenbelters living in houses that have been sold to members of the Greenbelt Veteran Housing Corporation are receiving their notices to vacate by August 31, it was announced at Thursday night's meeting of the GVHC board.

General Manager Paul Campbell told the directors that a total of about 350 notices will go out, and will be sent to those now renting sold houses. Tenants of frame houses which have been purchased by GVHC members will receive their 30-day notices by July 15, and brick house tenants by the end of July.

(Terms of the Housing Corporation's contract to purchase Greenbelt gave tenants a year's leases from the date of that contract, September first of 1952. While title did not pass till January first, 1953, those occupying houses that have been sold to GVHC members must make way for the purchasers to move in beginning September first of this year. Many GVHC purchasers are, of course, already occupying the units they bought, having kept the houses they already occupied or having moved in the meantime when their houses became vacant.)

Tax Motion Tabled

A motion to pay taxes due the City of Greenbelt on the vacant and undeveloped land was tabled until the amount of the assessment is learned. Portions of the land are now under development by several resident groups, and the board questioned whether to pay the taxes directly and collect from the subsidiaries, or to pay a share and let the subsidiaries pay directly.

The "self-help" painting program for the exterior trim on frame dwellings has begun, with scraping and puttying to occupy the self-helpers until the paint arrives. The board discussed a method of providing paint to members under an agreement to complete the work within a specified time, failing which they should either return the paint or pay for the portion used. It was pointed out that the loan of equipment, such as ladders, on a short-term basis would make it necessary for the exterior repainting to be completed quickly. Repainting the trim on the brick houses also was suggested as a possible self-help project.

Picnic Area Roped

Picnickers have been using GVHC land near the lake for recreation purposes, Campbell reported, and the board voted to rope off the area and post notices that it is GVHC property in order to preserve its title. This will be done.

CITY WILL MOW LEGION LAWN

The city will cut the grass in front of the American Legion Post home for a nominal fee, it was disclosed at the city council meeting last Monday night. Commander Clarence Anders requested the service, stating that the Post had no equipment to do the job properly and the Legion was willing to pay for the service.

Charles McDonald, city manager, declared that the city could do the job as it had the proper equipment, and the fee suggested would pay for the costs. Although $10 was proposed, the city will offer a bill each time the grass is cut, in accordance with the cost at the time.

Mayor Frank Lastner approved the plan, stating that the Legion home was the first building seen by visitors to Greenbelt, and its appearance greatly affects the impression people get of Greenbelt.

Lions Club Elects Officers For Year

Wash In Wind Again As City Headache

Only citizen request at last Monday night's council meeting came from a resident complaining of wash hanging in front of privately-owned apartments. He stated the laundry is unsightly and detracts from the appearance of Greenbelt, besides being a personal eye-sore across the front yard of his home. He asked that the city attempt to halt the display.

Mayor Frank Lastner suggested that the citizen get a petition from neighbors, have it signed by GVHC management, and the city manager will attempt to bring the matter to the attention of the apartment owners. Lastner declared he disliked regimenting citizens with this type of regulation, as was done during early PHA-ownership days, and hoped friendly arbitration could accomplish the citizen's wishes.

It was disclosed that the situation is a result of apartment owners withdrawing from use the apartment "dryers" as an economy measure, and the dark, dank, basements are no substitute for fresh air. However, city manager Charles McDonald declared, many apartment dwellers are using city property to hang out their wash near Hillside and Crescent, and he thought the city could stop that practice.

Council Okays City Traffic Code

A new traffic code for Greenbelt was passed at a first reading last Monday night at the city council meeting. Main provision in the code prohibits parking of commercial vehicles on the city streets between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m.

City manager Charles McDonald submitted a survey of commercial vehicles in the city which disclosed 56 of this type present. Of these, 17 park on the streets; the remaining are in courts or the parking areas in the center. There are 3 trailers, 24 panels, 23 pickups, 1 station wagon, 2 ice cream trucks, 2 delivery, 1 stake body.

The code will come up for final reading and passage at the next council meeting in August.

Our Neighbors

By Rae Algaze

One of the nice things about being guest writer of this column is that (like the kids on the Pick Temple program) you have a chance to say, Hi everybody. With a busy household schedule, there is often not enough time to visit people, and this is one way to greet friends.

What are Greenbelters doing these days? Lots of things, in the main, combining work with pleasure. Like folks in the rest of the country, they are planning and going on extended trips and vacations, having relatives and friends visit them, painting and renovating homes, or changing Ridge. He was stationed with the made of picnic and outing gear, also. To be more specific, however, the following is a round-up of social news gathered over the weekend:

Congratulations are in order for Martin Rosenzweig, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rosenzweig, who this week was awarded a four-year tuition scholarship to Johns Hopkins University School of Engineering in Baltimore. Young Martin received this scholarship, the only one conferred on any high school graduate in the State of Maryland, for the highest rating in a competitive examination given by the State Board of Education. Martin was graduated from Northwestern High this past June.

Mrs. Adelaide Weidberg was selected by the Girl Scout Council of Prince Georges County to be a board representative at Camp Macy, Pleasantville, N. Y. Mrs. Weidberg attended the International Friendship Workshop at this Girl Scout Leader Training Center. Representatives from many foreign countries met there and exchanged ideas in English.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the summer conference of the Maryland State Congress of PTA was held at the University of Maryland. Attending these sessions were Mrs. C. Mullady, Mrs. I. J. Parker, Mrs. H. Hunt, and Mrs. H. Weidberg. On Monday, leader of the discussions was Bertram Beck, director of the Juvenile Protective Committee, of the U. S. Children's Bureau. The agenda for the following two days was concerned with problems connected with programming.

Happily rejoined with his wife Becky and son Ronny is Airman First Class Joseph Linkins, 36-K Ride. He was stationed with the D. C. National Guard, 113 Aircraft Control Squadron, and was discharged on July 3, 1953, after serving a tour of duty in Tague, Korea. This hitch completed seven years of active duty for Linkins, four of those years having been spent fighting World War II. One of the sights he was impressed with in Korea was the plight of homeless children, and the efforts made to care for them. Linkins' homecoming was saddened by news of the death of his father, Clayton William Linkins of Beale, Md., who passed away on June 24.

Mrs. Walter J. Moran and children Dotty and Jerry are vacationing with relatives in Baltimore. Last Sunday they attended the annual reunion of their clan at Boleys, Md., at which a total of 95 members of the Poffel family were present.

Ex-Greenbelt Dan Livingston

recently returned from an enjoyable vacation in Scotland.

Popular Greenbelt Bank Manager Henry Brautigam and family are vacationing in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bartholomew and son Tommy had a warm time in Iowa this summer with the temperature soaring to 104 degrees, and a tornado only 40 miles away.

Mrs. Walter Burns recently gave an afternoon party for Mrs. Thomas J. Callanan, who is moving to Staten Island, N. Y. the latter part of this month.

Mrs. Mitchell Cooley is recuperating nicely, we hope, after undergoing surgery at Cheverly Hospital last week.

Beula and Elliott Bukzin are back in town after a month's combined business and pleasure trip to California. They also visited Mexico and other points of interest out West.

Nettie and Morris Stein have returned from a ten-day trip to Canada, where they recorded memories with a motion picture camera.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Converse are moving this weekend to 308 Southhampton Drive, Silver Spring, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Clendaniel, Jr. announce the birth of their third child, Mary Gordon, on May 27. The couple have two other children, Susan Lynn, 5, and George Watson III, twenty-one months.

Mid-summer styles for city council members disclose a split situation. Councilman Ben Goldfaden and James Wolfe wore white shirts and ties; Councilman Tom Canning wore a white short-sleeved sport shirt open at the neck, and city manager Charles McDonald a pale yellow short-sleeved sport shirt without a tie. Mayor Frank Lastner, sitting in the center, wore a white shirt and tie, with the sleeves rolled up. The Cooperator reporter? Same as Canning.

That's all, folks. Hope you're all keeping cool and happy.

done at a time which will not interfere with weekend picnics, and only as a formality, before the land is actually under development.

Complaints that the Potomac Electric Power Company was installing poles on GVHC property were received by the board recently. Campbell pointed out that the poles were replacements for the old lighting fixtures, and that PEPCo was not trespassing.

Several members appeared at the meeting to request information or board approval for transfers of purchase. Among the problems discussed was that of fencing, especially around the frame homes. The frame house subcommittee on grounds, which is considering the boundary problem, was instructed to bring a plan to the next board meeting.

Re-numbering or Signs
 Re-numbering of Greenbelt's houses, or at least the identification by signs of the various courts on each road, was suggested as a possible recommendation to the City Council.

Maintenance superintendent David Kane received the thanks of the board for his cooperation on the GVHC float in the Fourth of July parade, and it was suggested that next year's float should be even bigger and better. The directors also commended the new table in the GVHC office, which is big enough to accommodate the whole board and a few others.

Deanna Bau Plays In Recital Here

By Maestro

Deanna Bau, 15-year-old former Greenbelt, has received a full four-year scholarship to Peabody Institute of Music in Baltimore. The young pianist, who has played for many local gatherings during the years she lived here, is a student of Mrs. William Mirabella, 35-J Ridge.

In celebration of the scholarship award, which took place last month, Deanna played a "farewell recital" for a group of friends and neighbors at her teacher's home. Her program included a Bach prelude and fugue, a Beethoven rondo, two etudes and a nocturne of Chopin, and compositions by Debussy and Villa-Lobos, ending with the first movement of Grieg's piano concerto.

Among those present at the recital were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Abramowitz, Mrs. Nelson Chapman, Mrs. Charles Cormack, Mrs. Robert Davenport, Mrs. Charles Friedman with her daughter Sonya, Mrs. Edward Kaighn, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karlin, Mrs. William L. Moore, Jr., Mrs. Thomas B. Ritchie, and Mrs. Mary Tchikoff. Mrs. David Bau, Deanna's mother, was present and assisted Mr. and Mrs. Mirabella in serving.

For the benefit of those who remember Deanna as she was growing up in Greenbelt, she is a young lady now, and was dressed for her recital in a sheer white frock with gold overprint, and wore nylons and high-heeled white pumps. Her technique and expression are already those of a mature artist, and Greenbelt can take pride in its young pianist whose future holds so bright a promise.

Fishing Lines

By Lee

Greenbelt Chapter of the Izaak Walton League is conducting a fishing school at the lake. For those who are interested and do not know of the school, one hour of basic instruction is given every Wednesday evening starting at 7:30 p.m., in all types of fishing equipment. Plenty of instructors are on hand and some valuable hints may be picked up even by experienced fishermen. Instructors in the fishing school are E. R. Hoover, E. J. Swisher, Al Dambrauskas, E. M. Weber, L. A. Lee, and Harry Millard. Actual fishing for the youngsters is conducted and last Wednesday evening they had a grand time catching bluegills on bait lines.

There will be some excellent fishing in the lake this fall, but at present you cannot expect too good results as the fish don't seem to move around very much when the weather is hot and the water comparatively warm. Come cool weather some good catches will be posted in Greenbelt lake. At present it seems the best times are early in the morning and late evening when the possibility of making a catch is pretty good. Don't forget to register your catch at the lake, so an accurate record may be kept and the lake be restocked this winter if necessary.

Come on down and join in the classes and have a little fun. Don't forget you youngsters that you are practicing for the rodeo to be held during the latter part of August and many prizes are ready for those who are able to win them.

Harry Millard, a member of the National Casting Club, is at the lake Wednesday evenings. He is quite an experienced fisherman in most types of equipment and can give most of us some very useful instructions and hints. He is always glad to answer any questions you may have about fishing. Let's take advantage of this opportunity. See you Wednesday evening.

Only Six Probable Council Candidates?

Only six petitions for candidacy in the coming city council election have been issued thus far by city clerk Winfield McCamy, it was disclosed this week. All five council members have received one in the mail, and a local citizen has requested a petition. Election day is September 15.

The 1951 election had only five residents running for the 5 seats on the city council. There was one write-in candidate who made a remarkable showing. Information on filing a petition for candidacy may be obtained by calling the city clerk.

held in the various communities to discuss the problems involved, Boswell said. The committee's final recommendation will not necessarily be the "one city" plan, but its aim is to find a more efficient and economical form of organization to eliminate duplication of town and county services and effect important tax savings. Better county-wide planning for future growth with provision for social amenities may be possible if municipal institutions are unified, some committee members have said.

Many persons have speculated concerning what name would be most appropriate for the unified suburban city. The administrative and engineering problems would no doubt be more difficult even than the choice of a name.

Besides Boswell, a realtor, the study committee consists of W. W. Lewis, also a realtor (developer of Lewisdale and Nob Hill (or Schrom property) and president of the Realtors' Association); John A. Scheibel, Camp Springs; Carlton Pyles, Silver Hill; Dewey M. Freeman, Silver Hill; John W. Sharper, Temple Hills; Mrs. W. J. Hall, University Park; Mrs. Rose Batch, Hyattsville; William W. Local Legion Nine Drops 1st Leaguer

Previously undefeated, the Greenbelt Legion nine was tagged with its first loss Sunday, 9-4, by undefeated Cissel-Saxon, and dropped into second place in the league race. The win assured Cissel-Saxon of at least a tie for the league title and produced a dim outlook for Greenbelt. Each team has one more game to play.

Greenbelt's downfall was shoddy fielding which produced 10 errors and 6 unearned runs, and left

Majorettes March In Balto. Parade

On Friday, July 10, the Majorettes of Greenbelt participated in the American Legion parade in Baltimore. They had the honor of marching with the drum and bugle corps who had that afternoon won the competition to represent the state at the Legion's annual convention. Applause greeted the Majorettes along the course of march as they did their snappy maneuvers.

The group wants to thank the members of the Greenbelt American Legion who made possible their marching in the parade.

BOWLERS ATTENTION

The Greenbelt Men's Bowling League (University Alleys, College Park) invites any organized team and all unattached bowlers to attend an organization meeting for the 1953-54 season. Meeting will be held at Greenbelt American Legion Hall Thursday, August 13 at 8:30 p.m.

Information regarding registration of teams or individual bowlers may be obtained by contacting league officers Les Sanders, GR. 3-6398, Wilburn Kluth, Bill Siegel, GR. 3-2161, or Andy Andrusic, TO. 9-6362.

Greenbelt's starting pitcher, Roy Henderson, in too much of a hole to pull out the victory. At the same time Greenbelt's usually potent batting attack was almost held at bay, but Paul Nystrom and young Tony Baker did keep Greenbelt in contention with their timely hitting, as did Bing Miller with fine hustle behind the plate.

With only one game to play the team's chances of taking the title look very slim, but under coaches Baker and Cockill you can bet the team won't quit. Friday evening the team plays a visiting team from Elizabeth, N. J. Game time is 6 p.m. Sunday at 2:30 is the last league game.

COUNTY GIRL SCOUTS CAMP AT THURMONT

It's "Off to Camp" for the Prince Georges County Girl Scouts.

For a five-week period beginning July 16, some 250 girls will be at Camp Misty Mount in the Catoclin Mountains near Thurmont, Md.

The camp is staffed by 26 adults, trained in their individual fields and 6 Program Aids who help with the program whenever needed. Included in the staff is a registered nurse, waterfront director, trained by the American Red Cross, and an experienced food manager. A doctor is on 24-hour call.

While there the girls will enjoy hiking, swimming, cooking over open fires, nature, handicrafts and the joy of singing around the campfire.

Visitors Sundays at camp are July 26 and August 9 from 2 to 5 p.m. Anyone interested in camping for girls will be welcome to drive up and see the camp in full swing on those dates.

Camping is such a wonderful experience that it is regrettable that Prince Georges County Girl Scouts do not have their own camp where more girls could be accommodated.

With the ever increasing growth of Prince Georges County and the increasing number of Girl Scout troops, each year more and more girls are disappointed because there is not room enough in camp to accommodate all the girls who want to go. If Prince Georges County had their own camp it could run for a longer period of time and all girls who wanted to enjoy camping could be accommodated.

Camp Misty Mount is under the direction of the National Park Service, and since it must be shared with the Washington County Girl Scouts, it is only available for five weeks. A new Pioneer unit to accommodate eight older, more experienced campers was added last year but since regulations must be met it is not possible to enlarge the camp any further.

Really in The Swim

A swimming pool pass for the Greenbelt Cooperator was voted by the city council last Monday night to facilitate news coverage.

The council stipulated that only one person may use the pass at any one time.

My Daze

NORMALLY A FAST READER, my husband is training to read like a flash in a speed-reading course he attends at his job. The resentment I always felt when he'd be ready to turn the page we'd started together while I was still plodding along half-way up, has been aggravated by his recent claim to a reading time of seven hundred words a minute. There is no loss of comprehension, presumably. In general, my husband's quite pleased with this enhanced skill, but is rueful to think how it cuts down on time spent on his favorite reading matter, the Sunday Comics. He goes through them all too quickly. They're hardly any fun any more.

LITTER HAS ALWAYS BEEN A PROBLEM HERE. No measures authorities take to correct this can wholly succeed without cooperation from every citizen in the instruction neatness they give their children — and the example they set them by their own performance. Citizens of Greenbelt would be more inspired toward neatness out side their own homes, however, if the city could, or would: 1) Cover all areas with convenient, covered trash cans. 2) Manage it so that garbage and trash collectors don't leave stuff strewn in their wake because of carelessness or the use of overflowing or broken baskets. 3) Get after broken glass along paths, in underpasses, and playgrounds. This is definitely a menace!

WE HAD A BIG JOKE AT OUR SIX-YEAR-OLD'S expense the other night, and he laughed with us. Then he looked shamefaced, and pleaded, "Don't put that in your column, mommy." I promised him I wouldn't.

IN LOOKING THROUGH his lifetime collection of books and papers since our move, my husband came across a small volume of LaFontaine's ONE HUNDRED FABLES left over from undergraduate days. They are a French poetry version of Aesop's fables. He remembered enough French to recognize the one about the Fox and the Crow (Le Corbeau et le Renard), wherein the fox swindles the crow out of a piece of cheese it's holding in its beak by flattering it into thinking it has a beautiful singing voice.

IN HUMAN RELATIONSHIPS opposites may attract, but they don't stick together.

— DAISY.

Little League's Leaders Move Up

By Bill Moore

George Preston's White Elephants are making a runaway of the National League race in Greenbelt Little League baseball. Second place Post 136 Redbirds have been beaten three times by the leaders and seem outclassed. Co-Op has a three game bulge, too, in the American League but are no cinch to outlast a bounce-back Giant squad or a surging den of Wildcats.

Pete Johnson hurled the climbing Wildcats to a 13 to 6 win over Chet Speziale's luckless Indians. Having an 11-0 lead over the Tribe, Pete eased up in the last two innings and allowed the Redskins all their tallies. Tom Bartholomew had 3 for 3 and Jim Attick added 2 for 3 to pace the 'Cat clubbers. Attick and Grady Ailstock scored twice each while Denny Moore counted three times. Mike Patrick and Mike Dye hit three-baggers for the Papooses and Paul Hyland hit a pair of singletons.

July 7th found Lou Tierney's Pirates bagging a Tiger 21-16 to move out of the National League cellar for the first time. Bob Hofstetter's Bengals scored 5 times in the first and last innings but couldn't stop the Bucs who scored in every inning. Alvin Hall's perfect 3 for 3 topped all Jolly Rogers stickmen. Lance Walden's triple and single helped. Andy Gelberg's two doubles and Dee Dee Emmert's brace of singles were no drawback to the Buccaneer cause. Johnny Moore was the winning pitcher. Tiger bat terrors were Ronnie Donley and Bob Hoffman with three hits each and Lowell Fundum with two.

Jim Ewing's Giants are still in a disastrous slump after starting the season with 4 straight wins. They lost their 4th straight when Bernie Emmert's Co-Op nine took their measure a second straight time July 8th by a 12 to 5 score. Bill Hodges and Bobby Huff led the Co-Op drive with two hits each, one of Hodges' went for a triple and Huff had a double.

Co-Op 010272 - 1284
Giants 002201 - 557
Clark and Kelly; Bussard, Vaughn, Weber and Hammond.

Roy McCauley and Bernie Emmert, Jr. led the undefeated Athletics to their eighth straight National League victory, a 10 to 2 defeat for Bob Kelly's runner-up Greenbelt Legion. Hurler McCauley limited the Redbirds to just 4 hits, one a double by Doug Endres. Second-baseman Emmert banged out 3 hits in 4 tries and tallied twice. McCauley got a double and single in three tries, scored twice and drove in 3 runs. Post 136 000101 - 243

Library Rocketeers End Flight July 31

Greenbelt's junior space men are going places!

Members of the library reading club, ROCKET TO ADVENTURE, are busy these days as time is running out.

The most adventurous space man to date is Ellen Cottington who has reached the planet Neptune by reporting on 30 books.

Joyce Cottington and Janice Derby are close seconds to Ellen. They have reached Venus by way of 20 reports.

Barbara Burgoon and Sandor Johnson are on the planet Saturn. They have 15 reports and are speeding toward Venus.

July 31 is the last day of the reading club, so some spacemen will have to pick up speed to catch the leaders.
